BRITISH COLUMBIA.

A New and Well Equipped Steamboat Destroyed by Fire.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 30.—The new steamboat Elizabeth Irving was burnt at Hope, on the Fraser river, at three o'clock to-day. She was full of passengers and freight, and had the mails on board. The white passengers it is believed escaped. Several Indians are supposed to have been burnt. She had a valuable cargo of general merchandise and railway supplies, which are consumed. The boat was on her second trip. She had magnificent appointment, with the electric light and other modern improvements, costing eighty thousand dollars. The value of the cargo is unknown.

BELLEVILLE.

DROWNED.—Mr. W. A. Foster, of the Bay of Quinte brickworks, formerly Mayor of Belleville, was drowned in the bay about noon today. He, his eldest boy, and a boy named Lingham, were returning from the quarries at Point Ann, in a small open sail boat, when the boat upset a short distance from shore. All clung to the bottom of the boat, which after a short time righted and turned over again in the opposite direction, the canvas covering them. The boys managed to work themselves clear, and were rescued by a schooner yawl, but Mr. Foster sank. His body has not yet been recovered, although search was made this afternoon.

Accident.

KINGSTON, Sep. 30.—An accident occurred at the cotton mill yesterday which terminated fatally. Edward Hickey, who was engaged in hoisting bricks from the ground to the high wall, received an injury from which he died this morning. When the bucket containing the bricks was about forty feet up, two bricks fell out, one striking the unfortunate man on the head, fracturing the skull so badly that the brain was exposed, and causing unconsciousness. No medical aid could save his life. Deceased leaves a wife but no children. He has been in Her Majesty's service, and went through the Crimea. He was a steady, industrious man, and his untimely death has caused much sorrow amongst his friends and fellow-workers.

Honoured by the Church.

KINGSTON, Sep. 30.—Vicar-General Farrelly, of Belleville, has been honoured by the Pope. This morning Bishop Cleary read a letter from His Holliness announcing that the Vicar-General had been made a prelate in recognition of services rendered to the Church while acting as administrator of the diocese. Monseignor Farrelly has received the highest dignity which can be conferred upon a prelate without a See. Few dioceses have been so honored, although several have received secondary degrees. He will appear in the Cathedral for the first time as a prelate on Sunday morning.

The ancient orders of architecture are the Tuscan, Doric, Ionic, Corinthian and Composite. The five leading pens of Esterbrook's make are the Falcon, Bank, Engrossing, Extra Fine and School.

LYING BULLETINS.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The Lancet condemns the surgeons for making the best of Gen. Garfield's case in the bulletins, and says a bulletin should be the truth and nothing but the truth.

SPAIN'S CONCERN.

MADRID, Sept. 30.—At a reception of the members of the Americanista Congress last night the King expressed deep concern for the death of President Garfield and sympathy for America.

THE AMERICANISTA CONGRESS.

MADRID, Sept. 30.—At the last two meetings of the Americanista Congress, which closed yesterday, several interesting papers on ethnology and linguistic data on America as compared with the Basque and other European languages were presented. Prof. Powell, of the Smithsonian Institute at Washington, drew attention to the progress made in the United States archæology and ethnology. A letter from Mr. Hoadley, of Cincinnati, explaining his absence, was then read. Before the congress broke up thanks were voted to the Spanish promoters of the meeting, especially Secretary Duro, who was the soul of the whole affair, and Duke Viragua, who presided throughout with great tact.

A COTTON CORNER.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 30.—Although yesterday was the last day but one for the production of the cotton sold to the cornerers, the exchange showed no excitement. It is stated a number of persons who sold to the chief cornerer are trying to arrange privately with him, but are unsuccessful. Meantime the cotton ships which have arrived at Liverpool are working day and night to get the staple warehoused, and it is declared before noon to-day it is expected, between 11.30 and 12, the Exchange will be the scene of great excitment, if not disturbance.

INDICTED NIHILISTS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sep. 30.—The indictment against the four Nihilists belonging to the black division, who have been in prison eighteen months, has been completed. The trial will commence in a few days, and will be held with closed doors, only Government journalists being admitted. The accused are Marie Krilova, gentlewoman, native of Smolensk, implicated in Karakasoff's attempt to assassinate the late Czar in 1866, and a friend of Vera Sassulitch; Frankoff, a merchant's son, twice previously arrested for engaging in revolutionary propaganda, having on the first occasion been pardoned, and on the second, for participating in disturbances following the acquittal of Vera Sassulitch, been exiled to Archangel, whence he escaped. The other two prisoners are Prikhodko, gentleman, and Prepletchkoff, son of an officer. The immediate charge against them all is secret printing of revolutionary papers.

THE LAND LEAGUE.

DUBLIN Sept. 30.—The Land League has issued circulars to the secretaries of the branch leagues throughout the country, requesting them to send details of the cases of leaseholders who, since the passage of the Act of 1870, have been compelled by the landlords to take out leases containing unfair conditions towards the tenants. The League has selected about four hundred test cases in all of tenants who have been evicted for non-payment of rent since February 22nd.

THREATENING TRIPOLI.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 30.—The Governor of Tripoli has notified the Porte that the agitation is increasing on the Tunisian and Algerian frontiers, and the Tunisian Arabs intend to force the military cordon and Tripolitan territory.

TURKISH REINFORCEMENTS.

PARIS, Sept. 30.—A semi-official letter is published concerning the continued despatch of Turkish reinforcements to Tripoli. It declares that the Porte is responsible for disturbances arising from persisting in this course despite repeated warnings.

A SERIES OF FIRES.

DUBLIN, Sept. 30.—To-night considerable excitement was caused about 8 o'clock by a report that the hay yard of Daniel Cleary, just outside of the town, was ablaze. While a number of people were extinguishing this, another hay yard nearer the town was fired, and this was immediately followed by the firing of a bay yard belonging to Samuel Chaplin, J. P. Two other fires followed, and further reports are coming in. The timely discovery prevented serious loss in the places named.

THE CRAR'S MOVEMENTS.

ST. PETERSBURG.—The rumour of the departure of the Emperor is generally current despite the precautions to conceal his movements. The Imperial yacht, with steam up, is stationed before Peterhof, and has already received a batch of court cooks. Her real destination will not be known here until the Emperor arrives there. To deceive the inhabitants of Peterhof the flag indicative of his presence will be floated over the chateau, which in the sovereighn's absence is contrary to all usage.

AMERICAN.

HIS EXCELLENCY'S SORROW.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The Marquis of Lorne telegraphed as follows to Secretary Blaine:—"On reaching Montana we hear with deep sorrow that our hopes are ended by the death which all Canada will have deplored with you."

MRS. LINCOLN FEARING.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The Post's Springfield, Ill., despatch says:—"Ever since the death of Garfield, Mrs. Lincoln has been suffering the most intense mental anguish. She frantically declares an assassin will soon kill her son Robert if he continues to remain at Washington. She wants him to resign and leave public life altogether. He is her only child."

MEXICO'S TRIBUTE.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 30.—The Government of the federal district and the Council of this city have decreed funeral honours to President Garfield.

REPORT OF THE AUTOPSY.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—It is stated Garfield's heart was unusually small, weighing only eight or nine ounces. It is asserted the forthcoming detailed report of the autopsy will show the heart was carefully examined, and no blood clot found. It is also said the autopsy revealed the fact that the President had peritonitis before he was shot. It had entirely healed, and was caused by chronic dysentery during the war. The report will show the peritoneum was ulcerated, and one of the arteries entering it was also inflamed and ulcerated, and gave way, letting out blood upon the weakened peritoneum, which could not hold it, and was ruptured.

CZAR AND EMPEROR.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 1.—A despatch states that at the Czar's desire, a meeting has been arranged with the Emperor of Austria, at some point on the Russian frontier. It is learned that the Czar preferred not to leave his yacht on account of the Dantzic meeting, but the Emperor's will compressed him so much to land that he could not refuse.

MOSCOW'S GREAT FIRE.

Moscow, Oct. 1.—The recent great fire here originated in the house inhabited by Hartmann, and Sophie Preowsky at the time of the explosion on the Moscow Koursk railway. As a man was seen running from the building with his hands and clothes smeared with petroleum it is probable that petroluem had been poured over the walls of the house. The incendiary is believed to be a citizen of Moscow, named Nicholas Yanow, but he has refused to say anything.

INCENDIARY FIRES.

DUBLIN, Oct. 1.—A remarkable series of incendiary fires occurred about Kildare last night. There is considerable excitement.

JONES AND CONKLING.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Senator Jones is reported as saying that his visit to Conkling was merely an accident, and was unpremeditated. He declared that Cabinet changes were not discussed.

ARTHUR'S DOINGS.

An Awkward Dilemma

The Port Huron Times says:—"One day last week a well-dressed and handsome young lady, who lives in a town a few miles from Sarnia, came to this city and purchased $12 worth of silverware, knives, forks, and spoons. In order to avoid paying the duty on the Canadian side she had the goods fastened to a piece of string which was then tied around her slender and shapely, waist, under her skirts. She made another small purchase and got on board one of the ferries. When the boat reached Sarnia the honest young lady boldly walked up to the Customs officer, asked him what the duty was on the small parcel which she had in her hand. The officer informed her that its value was too small to call for a duty. She gave him one of her most fascinating smiles for his kindness, and started away from the office. The susceptible officer gazed wistfully after her rapidly retreating figure, and thought what a true lady she was. Suddenly there was a loud jingling of silver, and the officer was dumbfounded at seeing a shower of silverware fall at the feet of the young lady, the string having broken by the weight of the goods, or else she had drawn too long a breath of relief in having so easily gulled the officer, and thereby bursted it. With an exclamation of horror the young lady gathered up her skirts and dashed up the stairway into the office of the U. S. Consul, where an investigation was made, but of which the reporter has learned no particulars more than she 'confessed all.'"

The Oyster.

The oyster is a fortunate creature, if it be fortunate to be much mentioned in history. People who have swallowed an enormous number of oysters figure in anecdotes, and are considered to have done something meritorious. The Roman who first formed oyster beds, which he did at Baiæ, is known to have been named Sergius Orato, who had the happiness to live in the time of Augustus, and who is known to have made a great deal of money by the exercise of his ingenuity. To day it is mentioned in the encyclopaedias that Apicius, a contempory of Trajan, was the first who taught the world to pickle oysters. His fame rests upon that fact. There was another Apicius distinguished for his love of lobsters; there was another who set up a school of cookery; but the oyster pickling Apicius has a distinct fame, and survives freshly in classical dictionaries. When George I. came to England from Hanover, the royal cooks could not please the royal palate in the matter of oysters until it was discovered that his Majesty liked them stale, as he had always been in the habit of eating them. When Mr. Thackery came first to Boston certain of his admirers asked him to supper. There was among other delicacies, gigantic oysters. The novelist could not comprehend that he was to swallow one in an undivided state, but being shown the way, and having accomplished the feat, he observed that he felt as if he had swallowed a baby.

THE BEST OUTLET.

THE Cleveland Marine Record says :—

"Despite the various stories and assertions in regard to the superiority of the Mississippi river as a means of transporting the cereals from the far West and North-West, facts will prove that statement to be merely an assertion based upon 'wind.' That the system of locks, canals, rivers and lakes that stretch from the mouth of the St. Lawrence over 2,000 miles inland to the very heart of the great West affords unparalleled facilities for the shipment of grain, cannot be contradicted. The St. Lawrence, the real 'outlet for our future hope' in trading direct with the nations of the eastern hemisphere, has specialties as a water-system which render it peculiarly suitable as a commercial highway for trade of the greatest magnitude. Its course is so free from minor sinuosities that though scarcely 2,000 miles in length from its mouth at Anticosti to the west end of Lake Superior, it extends as far in to the continent as the Mississippi does with its 3,160 miles; the upper part of which even were it navigable, is of insignificant capacity for transport compared with the great lakes and the St. Lawrence."

THE YORKTOWN CELEBRATION.

Elaborate Preparations for the Reception of the French Guests.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The commission appointed by the Governor to receive the French visitors at the Yorktown celebration to-day adopted resolutions to extend the courtesies of the occasion to the President of the United States, his Cabinet, and the chief officials of the United States in the State of New York, commanding officers in the army and navy, the chief officials of this State, officers of the French Legation and Consul-General, the Presidents of the great commercial bodies of the city and of the various institutions, ex-Governors of the State, Presidents of the New York Central and Erie Railways, the General commanding the First National Guard, and a few others. On their arrival on the bay on the 4th of October the French guests will be transferred from the steamer Canada to the United States steamer Tennessee, which will bring them to the landing place. They will then be escorted to the hotel, where the Governor will hold a reception. A review of the troops will be held in their honour. The following day the visitors will be taken to West Point by the U. S. steamers Van Ialia and Kearsarge.

THE CANADIAN VICE-ROYALTY.

The Marquis of Lorne's Early Return to England Talked of—Speculations as to His Successor.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—There are well founded rumours going about that the Marquis of Lorne will return to England after the close of the coming session of the Canadian Parliament, and that he will then be called to the House of Lords. Lords Rosebery and Elgin are also spoken of as likely to succeed him in the Governor-Generalship of Canada, but rumour in this respect is not so well founded, and neither of these two noblemen is likely to follow the Marquis. Other names will no doubt be speculated upon as these drop out of view.

Mr. Hickson, Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, has sailed for home. Mr. Hickson's visit this time must be satisfactory to himself in view of the half-year's success.—Globe.

MILLBROOK.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—The Messenger says that a most unfortunate accident happened to Mr. A. C. Steele, of Bowmanville, travelling agent for "Perry Davis & Co.," on Saturday last. About 10 o'clock in the forenoon, Mr. A. Lough, dentist, had got his horse rigged up for a drive, and tied up in front of Mr. Jas. Fitzgerald's store. Something frightened the animal, causing it to kick with both legs at once, throwing them over the shafts, which position threw the animal on its side. Mr. Steele, who was transacting some business in A. Leach's drug store, ran out to see what the excitement was about, took in the situation at a glance, and with a view of relieving the struggling horse, ran to undo the traces. He had no sooner touched the traces than the horse violently kicked him in the face, knocking him against the sidewalk, and ere he could get out of the way, received another kick in the face. With wonderful presence of mind, considering the terrible injuries, he got up and walked towards Mr. Leach's store, where he was met by Mr. Leach, who held his hand to the wound on his forehead, and on water being brought, poured a quantity down the wounded man's back, thus in a measure checking the flow of blood. Dr. Burnham was immediately called and the sufferer was taken across to the Dominion Hotel. It was found that the nose was frightfully mangled and there was a deep gash in the forehead over the right eye. After the wounds were carefully dressed, the patient was taken to his boarding house, "The Queen's," from whence he was taken to his house at Bowmanville, on Saturday night to his wife and family. Mr. Steele exhibited most wonderful pluck under the trying ordeal. It is to be hoped he may speedily recover.

SHOCKING DEATH.

Fatal Accident to Ex-Ald. John Smith—Instantly Killed by a Street Car.

TORONTO, Sept. 30.—A shocking accident, which resulted fatally, happened about eight o'clock last night to Mr. John Smith, ex-Alderman for St. James' Ward. The deceased gentleman was run over by a street car at the Isabella switch, on Church street, and KILLED INSTANTLY.

The facts of the melancholy circumstance, as far as they could be gathered from the excited neighbours and friends of the deceased gentleman, are as follows :—During the afternoon Mr. Smith, accompanied by Mr. P. Howland, went to Weston for the purpose of valuing some property which was about to be insured in the British American Insurance Company, of which both gentlemen were directors. Returning early in the evening by the Grand Trunk, Mr. Smith took

A CHURCH STREET CAR

at the foot of York street, and proceeded to his residence on Isabella street. Upon reaching the corner of Church and the latter street Mr. Smith was observed by Mr. Stalker, a friend of his, who was standing at the corner, to stand up in the car for the purpose of allowing a couple of ladies to pass out. He then resumed his seat, and the car proceeded toward Bloor street. Upon proceeding, however, a short distance past Isabella street, he discovered that he had reached his own street, and left the car, which went on its way to Bloor street. Some five or ten minutes afterwards upon the return of the car to the same switch the wheels went suddenly over something on the track, whereupon the conductor, Armstrong, rang the bell and called out to the driver, James O'Brien, that they had RUN OVER A MAN.

The car was instantly stopped, and the body of Mr. Smith was found on the track, where it must have been dragged by the car at least fifteen or twenty feet, badly broken up.

THE BODY WAS IDENTIFIED

in a few moments afterwards by Mr. Cooper, his late partner, and by Mr. ex-Alderman Dixon, both of whom were in close proximity to the place where the accident occurred. The body was carried into the residence of deceased, on Isabella street, and upon being examined it was found that both legs were broken above the knees, and the left side of the head, cheek, and mouth crushed. The body was also otherwise injured.

SURMISES.

It is surmised that when Mr. Smith left the car he must have been either struck and stunned by the latter end of it or by a passing vehicle, and remained there until the return of the car which passed over him from Bloor street.

The driver states that his team were such nervous animals that the least thing met with on the track startled them; and he cannot account for the fact that they showed no signs of fear before the car passed over Mr. Smith; but as the place was very dark it is quite probable that the horses did not see the deceased, whose body may have been only partially on the track.

ANOTHER REPORT.

It was Mr. Dixon's opinion that when Mr. Smith stepped off the upward car he was struck by the down car on the switch, but the driver of the latter states that he met no upward car at this switch. As an evidence of that, it seems that after the accident happened the car on the switch south waited for this car to come down, and that when it was observed that something unusual had detained it the other car came up to where it had halted.

GAVE HIMSELF UP.

The driver, O'Brien, proceeded to police headquarters, reported the accident, and gave himself up, but he was admitted to bail shortly afterwards.

AN INQUEST.

will be held on the remains at 7.30 this evening at the Burnham hotel, when it is to be hoped the fact of the case will be elicited.

THE DECEASED GENTLEMAN

was a retired merchant, and had been a resident of the city for about forty years. He represented St. James' ward in the City Council two years, and was held in high esteem by all who had to do business with him for his strict integrity and honorable business character. He leaves a widow and four sons and six daughters to mourn their loss. Mr. Smith was about sixty-three years of age, and latterly had been in delicate health, but yesterday he was feeling much better than he had for some time past.—Mail.

RAILWAY THIEVES.

An Organized Gang Broken Up and Its Leaders Arrested—A System of Spoliation Unearthed.

RIVIERE DU LOUP, Sept. 29.—For some time past the authorities of the Intercolonial Railway have been annoyed by numerous complaints from patrons of the road, that quantities of freight had been abstracted from their consignments, or shipments, as the case may be. As the thefts were reported to have been committed at various stations along the line, it was difficult to trace the offenders and bring them to justice. Two weeks ago a number of police officers were detatched to look into the case. Several days after that a quantity of Tobacco was stolen from one of the cars, and a search was made around the various tobacco stores here for it. The tobacco, which was of a peculiar quality, was traced to a certain store in the west end. The police officers were furnished with such information as warranted them in arresting two brakemen, named Delamier and Cretchier, belonging to Riviere du Loup, and a man named Cochrane, belonging to Moncton. It was subsequently learned that these men were only members of an organized gang of thieves who had been for the past three months carrying on a system of robbery from the freight cars and sheds. The thieves were in the habit of disposing of their spoils to second-hand merchants, and people who did not know by what means they had been obtained. The prisoners were committed to stand their trial at Kamouraska. As a preventative to similar depredations, a policeman and watchman have been detailed for duty at each station along the line,

A Daring Outrage.

DUBLIN, Sep. 29.—One of the most daring outrages ever committed in Ireland is reported from New Pallas. At 3 o'clock this morning the inhabitants of the village and the surrounding district of the county of Limerick were startled from their sleep by an explosion which shook the houses and shattered the windows. The people rushed out to find that an attempt had been made to blow up a large house in which were sleeping Captain Lloyd, a number of emergency men, and ten policemen. A barrel containing upwards of thirty pounds of gunpowder had exploded under the portion of the house where it was supposed Captain Lloyd was sleeping, but he had curiously enough only that night changed his room to another part of the building, and also escaped a most certain death. Some of the inmates had miraculous escapes. The back walls and doors were completely demolished, and the entire building was shattered. The greatest care and skill had been displayed in placing the explosive in the most advantageous place for doing its work of destruction. Remnants of the barrel and a portion of the fuse were found after the explosion.

Wounds by Fish Hooks, or the Fins of Fish, may be cured by bath with Perry Davis' Pain-Killer.

An Architect on the Situation.

An architect, who has done a good deal of work for speculative builders this season, is inclined to think that the marked activity seen in the last six monts, will decline gradually for the next six months.

"What about prices?" asked a representative of the Real Estate Record, of New York.

"My opinion is that the price of labour and material will fall to their normal condition, and then people will think about building again. You know that from 1865 to 1873, the market was in a see saw condition. A year of activity was followed by a year of dullness. Of course, when the panic came, everything came to a standstill for several years. It is only within the last two years that the building trade has regained its wonted buoyancy."

Don't you think there are too many high-priced houses in the market to-day?

"I have no doubt of it. As soon as prices become settled, builders will start new enterprises, and as a natural consequence will be able to place houses in the market next year at a figure lower than those who have built this year possibly can."

Somebody will lose money then?

"Yes, but the few will suffer for the good of the many. Rotten concerns will be pushed to the wall, and safer business must inevitably follow."

Feeding Horses.

The following extracts are from the essay read by John E. Russell at the Farmers' Institute, at Salem :—The horse has the smallest stomach, in proportion to its size, of any animal. Fifteen or sixteen quarts is its utmost capacity. This space is completely filled by four quarts of oats and the saliva that goes into the stomach with it. Horses are generally overfed and not fed often enough. For a horse with moderate work, six or eight quarts of bruised oats and ten pounds of fine hay a day is sufficient. This should be fed in at least three meals and is better fed in four. A horses digestion is very rapid, and therefore he gets hungry sooner than a man. When he is hungery, he is ineffective, and wears out very rapidly. Water fills the stomach, lowers the temperature, and dilutes the gastric juice; therefore a horse should not drink immediatley before eating. Neither should he be watered immediately after eating, because he will drink too much, and force some of the contents of the stomach into the large intestiner, which will cause scouring. Scouring is often caused by too rapid eating, which can be prevented by putting half a dozen pebbles half the size of the fist into the manger with the oats. Give only a moderate drink of water to a horse. A large drink of cold water before being driven will have a very quieting effect on a nervous horse. A racehorse always runs on an empty stomach. Digestion progresses moderately during the exercise, if the exercise is not so voilent as to exhaust the powers of the horse. I consider bruised oats to be worth 20 per cent more than whole. They are more completely digested. Prefer oats to any other grain for horses. Cracked corn is very good under some circumstances, but wouldn't use meal or shorts. The disease called big head is caused by feeding corn. When a horse comes in hot, I would give a moderate feed immediately. If the horse is too tired to eat, would take his food away. A heated horse is a reason against watering, and for feeding, for the system is then just in condition to begin digestion. A horse will not founder if fed moderately when hot. I prefer dry feed unless a horse has some disease of the throat or lungs. Do not consider it worth while to cut hay. I always feed hay from the floor, then the horses do not get particles in their eyes.

Having struggled 20 years between life and death with ASTHMA or PHTHISIC, treated by eminent Physicians and receiving no benefit, I was compelled during the last five years of my illness to sit on my chair day and night gasping for breath; my sufferings were beyond description. I fortunately discovered this WONDERFUL CURE for ASTHMA or CATARRH, warranted to relieve the most stubborn case of Asthma in FIVE MINUTES, so the patient can lie down to rest and sleep comfortably. Any person not fully satisfied after using one-third of a box can return the remainder to the proprietor and the money will be refunded, or send me your address for a trial package FREE OF CHARGE. "DRIFTING AWAY."

Drifting away, drifting away,
Are our childhood's happy hours;
Drifting into the distant past;
Golden moments too bright to last,
They are no longer ours.

Drifting away, drifting away,
Those sunny hours when we used to play,
Or gather at night round the mother's knee
To hear her stories with childish glee—
The mother's loved voice is now hushed for aye;
Those bright hours for ever have drifted away.

Drifting away, drifting away,
Lengthening the distance day by day;
What have they left in their stead, I say?
Some are worn out with this world's rough way,
Some are bowed down with a burden of care;
Eyes that once sparkled have now lost their light,
Hair once raven is now silvery white,
Steps once buoyant are tired and slow,
Hopes once exultant are all laid low,
There are broken hearts, there are bitter tears,
And blasted hopes for the future years;
The signs forever and always say
That childhood forever has drifted away.

Drifting away, drifting too fast
Into the irrevocable past,
All things earthly are drifting away,
All are stamped with the word decay,
But, oh! my friends, there is Christ our Rock,
Stands firm though this earth's foundation's rock,
Standing the test of time and tide,
Safe neath that shelter, may we abide,
So that in death we can smile and say,
We are drifting on to eternal day.

PRAYERS AND MR. GARFIELD'S DEATH.

One of the thoughts passing through the minds of many is, will the fact that millions prayed for Mr. Garfield's recovery, and that he did not recover, cause any to fall back into what is called skepticism? The exact significance of the question ought to be realized. If those who prayed did so only experimentally, not believing in prayers as agencies of religions, the death of Mr. Garfield leaves them just where they were before. They prayed, not believing in prayer, they have stopped praying without beginning to believe in prayer. If prayer has not done them any good, neither have they done prayer any harm. They were skeptical; they remain skeptical. There has been no "falling back" in their case. There was only a pretended advance to what they did not believe. The posture of their minds remained the same. They may be more skeptical than they were. They never were non-skeptical.

That brings the question to those who did or do believe in prayer. It is evident they have not ceased to believe in it, because they are still praying. To-day and to-morrow they will pray for the family of the late President; for the overruling of his death to the good of the land, and for the safety and right guidance of Mr. Arthur. Manifestly, far from being displaced as an agency, prayer has been increased. This statement applies to the body of prayer-employing people collectively. The statement as one of fact cannot be gainsaid. A bowed brotherhood of millions on millions is evidence of the fact now.

But what of individual cases? Will A, B. and C., hitherto, as they hope, religious persons, give up belief in, and practice of, prayer, because Mr. Garfield died? A. B. or C. knows; others do not. But others know whether A. B. or C. would be logically justified, or not, in doing so by the office assigned to prayer, in the scheme of all religions. Decidedly they would not be justified in doing so. One who believes in prayer has no warrant for also believing that he will always know the period or character of the answer. That would make him God, and render prayer superfluous. Prayer has two stages and two persons to be considered. One person is he who prays. The other is the One to whom the prayer is addressed—God. The one stage is the human one of supplication. The other is the Divine one of response.

These facts must be kept apart. A, who has prayed, must not think that the Answerer of prayer is bound to answer it according to his (A's) idea of time and kind; or that the prayer has not been answered because he does not think it has been, or that it will not be answered, because it may not have yet been, or seems not to have been yet. That is dictating to Deity. Such dictation is not prayer, though it have its form, and though those who indulge in it think it is prayer. Faith is not a conviction that God will see through our spectacles. Faith is not solicitude lest God will not see through them. Faith is not insistence that He shall see through them. Faith is confidence in God, and in God's ways. He who prays believingly, prays believingly, first, that he has done what God commands, and, secondly, that God will do His part, and that what God does, or omits, or permits, will be for the best. Furthermore, this faith allows God a duration as endless as His being, and an area as boundless as His universe, and methods as infinitely numerous as His stars, for the answering. The supposed A, B, or C, is only revolving what he would do. God may forgive his assurance, but he is, all the same, violating the principle of prayer, even while he thinks he prays.

The model prayer contains no warrant of this kind. Its requests are all generalizations, so far as the personal supplications are concerned. They are for daily bread, or life, and that which sustains it; for avoidence of temptation and deliverance from evil, and for forgiveness by God, as we forgive men. The requests, otherwise, are for the coming of God's kingdom, for the hallowing of His name, and for men as lovingly to do His will here as that will is done in Heaven. In the whole prayer there is an absence of dictation, solicitude or prescription. The Lord is let be the judge of the characters, time and methods of the answer. What does not conform to the spirit of this is not prayer. Prayer can wrightfully be as specified as human wants, but of all prayer "Thy will be done in Heaven so on earth," is the submissive test and the interpretative condition. God is asked to do His will, not our will. We are pledged to abide by it as implicitly as they do who dwell in Heaven.

In truth, prayer should be conditioned on the will of God; not on the will of him who prays. It is in the compact that God's will shall be the mould of the answer; not our wish. Our little knowledge only definitely discerns what we think is best; for that we ask, subject to the perfect knowledge of what is best, had by Him whom we ask. To doubt that God will answer is no faith. To insist on foreshaping the answer, or forcing the time of it, is essentially blasphemous. The fact that Gen. Garfield died, is proof that God's purposes towards him and the Union were not, to human ken in line with the aspirations of men; it is proof that He has reserved what His purposes were, or that the events, in which those purposes are infolded, have not yet become due. But the popular resignation to the will of God not to interfere, as men prayed He would, itself came to men by prayer. The resignation was one of the answers. Who can doubt it, who sees the nation still on its knees? Concededly those who pray most endure best, though they have often to endure most. Endurance is one of the virtues that strengthen life and sweeten character. Those who pray most doubt and despair least. Confidence and cheerfulness are cardinal tonics to bring up goodness. If it be said this is of the reflex action of prayer, that neither detracts from its excellence nor from the reasons for resorting to it. Prayer substitutes dayshine for rayless night in the soul; but it must be prayer not egotism or dictation; prayer to God, not prayer to a duplicate of ourself; prayer within the terms of God, not within those of man; prayer conditioned on faith, not on what we call "success."

Many a reader, if not every reader, knows of times in his own career, or in his household, when adversity has outwitted human skill or surpassed the power of human fortitude, and when prayer has prevailed over it. It does for the skeptic to say the reader is mistaken, that it would have been so, had he never prayed—until the skeptic gets in a like case, when he will himself confess that he wishes he had the help or the courage of those who found their help and courage in prayer.

The people prayed that he might recover, and Gen. Garfield died; but do not the people now see that they were praying themselves out of the dominion of their grief and apprehensions, and that there is no evidence that God forgot either America or Garfield or erred as to them? The man was irrecoverable by science, in the opinion of all those who had care of him. In the opinion of a few eminent others it was otherwise. They will have their chance to practice in like subsequent cases. If successful, surgery and medicine will give a victory for life during all the after cycles of disease—a victory for which a man might be willing to die to let humanity gain it. Had the President lived, he would have been liable to have been a mental or physical wreck. Would life then have been worth living, compared with the release at the zenith of love, power and fame?

India's Wheat Exportations.

India is steadily growing in importance as an exporter of wheat, and the wheat trade of the country now ranks second in importance to gold and wool. Last year the exports increased to a very considerable extent, the quantity exported from Bombay alone amounted to 195,000 tons, equal to 300,000 steamer tons, or enough to load 150 steamers of 2,000 tons each. The acreage under wheat has been nearly trebled within the last six years, having increased, when compared with last year, by some 221,000 acres. The uncertainties of weather and primitive methods of cultivation, however, causes the yield per acre to be small as contrasted with the yield in Canada. Thus the average yield this year has been only 9.84 bushels per acre, and last year when a good crop was gathered, the yield was only 13.29 bushels per acre.

Diseased Lungs.

From J. A. Abercrombie, of Brantford, Ont.

GENTLEMEN,—It gives me much pleasure to bear witness to a cure effected by DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. My wife having been afflicted for a number of years with diseased lungs I was prompted to try WISTAR'S BALSAM. I did so, and to my utmost satisfaction, for it effected a permanent cure in her for which I heartily recommend it to the public at large as a true and most reliable cure for diseases of the lungs. In conclusion I beg to ask you to accept my thanks, also my hearty wishes for your success with your valuable remedy, believing it to be the only medicine adapted to such cases. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

August Flower.

The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects; such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Waterbrash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits &c. Go to your Druggist and get a 75 cent bottle of AUGUST FLOWER or a Sample Bottle for 10 cents. Try it. Two doses will relieve you.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines.—Republican.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely an eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healing action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION. The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a description of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For e'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Or write the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man,"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard;
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The quietest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide,
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine—
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Faultless fit, splendid style, vast variety, good work and a very great saving in price will be found in M. & A's. Mantles and Ulsters.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1881.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

St. Luke's Harvest Festival.

This event, annually looked forward to with keen interest by the congregation of St. Luke's and their numerous friends, took place on Thursday last, the 29th of September. There was the usual celebration of Holy Communion at ten o'clock, at which a goodly number were present. From five o'clock in the afternoon a tea meeting took place in the town hall, where the ladies of the congregation had provided refreshments, and where for hours they dispensed good things to all comers. This was a new departure, as before it was thought the decoration of the church required every willing and available hand, but the success of this social will doubtless inspire the ready workers of St. Luke's to repeat the experiment, if spared for another year. At 8 p.m. the service, which was of a special nature, began in the church, which was well filled with an attentive and devout congregation. Numerous appropriate hymns were well rendered by the choir, and both these and the prayers were heartily joined in by the worshippers. The preacher on this occasion was the Rev. W. C. Clarke, Ph. D., of Christ Church, Belleville. His sermon was a very able and eloquent one, and was evidently well received. It would take too long to describe the decorations, which are most elaborate and tasteful. Chancel, lectern, font and pulpit—all are completely metamorphosed, and every part evinces skill and taste. The text over the chancel arch, worked in prettily tinted autumn leaves, looked particularly effective, and indeed the whole arrangement proved that the Decoration Committee knew their work, and were willing to do it. We should advise our readers to take the opportunity of seeing the decorations on Sunday first, previous to their removal—which will take place early next week.

A. O. U. W.

The Ancient Order of United Workmen held their organization meeting in the Orange hall on Friday, when a lodge was formed for this town. F. G. Inwood, Deputy Grand Master Workman, of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, performed the initiation ceremonies. The object of the society is mutual insurance, each member on paying fees being insured for $2,000. The meetings are semi-monthly. The number of the Peterborough Lodge is 135. The following are the officers:—

T. J. Gillespie	P. M. W.
Jos. McClelland	M. W.
A. Clegg	Foreman.
Jno. Lee	Overseer.
J. M. Armstrong	Recorder.
J. B. Pentland	Financier.
Dr. Richard King	Receiver.
Barton Earl	Guide.
Wm. Denoon	Inside Watchman.
G. A. Mitchell	O. W.

The lodge here starts with excellent prospects. There are ten or fifteen new members to come in at the next meeting.

Fire at Denne and Sperry's

At twelve o'clock to-day presisely the fire bell rang out. Smoke was seen issuing from Messrs. Denne and Sperry's mill, and the brigade was soon before it. On going inside the building the fire was found to be on the top story. Accordingly a branch was brought up to an upper window on the south side, but Mr. Denne, who was present, would not allow the water to be thrown in, and this and the other branches which afterwards were put in position at other points had to content themselves with watering the roof plentifully. Meanwhile a gang of men working inside with buckets attacked the flames in spite of the thick smoke, and in half an hour all was out. The blaze originated by reason of the elevator belt setting fire to the top block, which blazing up at length caught the roof when it was discovered by the smoke spoken of. The direct damage by fire and water will no doubt be fully covered by insurance as two companies have a risk on the mill. The greatest loss will however be in time, as at this particularly busy season the least delay is a great disaster to a firm of the calibre of the sufferers, who were working night and day. Much sympathy is felt for them.

The Market.

The market this morning was fairly attended in the general department in spite of the rain. There was plenty of vegetables again. They continue at prices last quoted by the REVIEW almost without exception. A little mutton was for sale, going at 8c; lamb was plentiful at 8-9c. There were some very fine snow apples at 80c. In the grain line matters were easier than yesterday, when Mr. Macdonald, of Lindsay, was present again, and bought for three storehouses here, raising the price on two occasions to $1.37, the highest point yet. $1.35 was the highest paid for wheat to-day, barley 90c, rye 90c, and oats 39c. Some 8,000 bushels were disposed of.

A Break in the Wires.

This morning when the telegraph operators attempted to call up Port Hope, the connection was found to be broken. A little search revealed the fact that the wires were down at two points about the town. Men were immediately sent to repair these, and by the afternoon everything was working like a charm. One of the breaks was found by a singular coincidence almost directly in front of the manager's gate on Weller street, the other was up on Brock street near St. Andrew's church.

Caisse's Hotel.

The Bobcaygeon Independent speaking of Peterborough says that everybody is busy. There is a boom in everything. Lots of money, lots of trade, lots to eat, lots of confidence, and all doing well. Perhaps the most remarkable boom is that at Caisse's Hotel, which is now doing most of the first class business of the town. It has picked up wonderfully of late, and will probably assume its old position as the first hotel in town. d80

A Blackguard.

Rabbits.

A party of sports took advantage of the favorable day to make a visit to swampy grounds about four miles distant, which last year yielded abundance of rabbits. They did not see a scrap of fur this time though, and report the animals absent.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

THE PETROLEUM FEVER.

HANOVER, Oct. 1.—The petroleum fever has greatly subsided, and stocks are going rapidly down. The confidence of private investors is seriously shaken.

RETRENCHMENT.

ODESSA, Oct. 1.—The Governor-Generalship of Odessa, is to be suppressed, as well as the similar post at Orenburg, which costs 3,000,000 roubles a year. The present Governor-General will succeed the Grand Duke Michael in the Cau caucus.

RIOT AT KILLMALLOCK.

KILLMALLOCK, Oct. 1.—Father Sheehy's return to Killmallock was the origin of a dangerous riot. The police were hooted and stoned, and in clearing the streets, which had to be done many times during the night, many were injured. Nine arrests were made. When the rioting began Fathar Sheehy disappeared.

A PRIEST AT HARD LABOUR.

DUBLIN Oct. 1.—No event, however, is likely to cause such excitement in Ireland as the sentence of the Rev. Father Conway, of Clondur, to two months' hard labour for assaulting a process-server. The reverend gentleman was president of the local Land League, and like all members of that organization, he thought he was not subject to the common laws. When a process-server tried to serve a paper on him at the suit of Lord Ardilaun for a private debt he struck and kicked the law officer. The prisoner was very defiant in court, while the assaulted man tried his bast to deny that he was hurt. The case was decided by a jury.

CAPT. BOYCOTT CHEERED.

LOUGH MASK, Oct. 1.—It seems strange to hear of Captain Boycott being cheered, yet such is the fact. He has returned to Lough Mask, though his presence has provoked some disturbance. He seems to be afraid, having everywhere with him an armed escort. While engaged yesterday in collecting rents from McGregor Blacker, a resident of Virginia, he offered 20 per cent. reduction and half the poor rates, which was accepted. Captain Boycott treated his tenants and they gave him hearty cheers.

THE JEWS IN RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 1.—The Russian Minister of the Interior says the Government recognized the detriment to the Christians of the commercial activity, exclusiveness and religious fanaticism of the Jews. The Minister promises the Jews protection, but says Christians must be shielded from the effects of their injurious activity.

FATHER SHEEHY'S RELEASE.

DUBLIN, Oct. 1.—The discharge of Father Sheehy and four others of the Killmallock district, together with the removal of Mr. Clifford Lloyd, resident magistrate, to a resident town, indicates that the state of feeling there is no longer considered dangerous. The papers today contain reports from seventy villages and towns in various parts of the country, of joy over the release of Father Sheehy. Bonfires of tar-barrels were lighted and bands played at nearly all these places. At Naas, which Father Sheehy visited on his way home, nearly every house in the town was decorated, including the shops of many Protestants, who would have been "boycotted" had they done otherwise.

THE NIHILIST TRIALS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 1.—It was at General Ignatieff's advice that it was decided that the approaching Nihilist trials should be absolutely secret. It was argued that it would be absurd on the part of the Government to make the Nihilists and their mischievous doctrines more popular than they are already by allowing the publication of the reports of the proceedings in the newspapers. Great interest has been shown in the indictment of the four persons who are to be tried on the 11th inst. The indictment of the twenty-three Nihilists, whose trials are to follow, is not yet complete. The woman whose arrest I telegraphed you about two months ago will be tried with this batch. It appears that she is implicated in every Nihilist crime committed for a long time past. Since the first day of this month, according to the law, all the twenty-three prisoners are liable to the death penalty, but seventeen will probably be condemned and hanged.

THE GERMAN COURT.

BERLIN, Oct. 1.—The Empress Augusta celebrated on Friday her seventieth birthday at Baden-Baden with the Kaiser, the Crown Prince and the Crown Princess. The Empress is still in a weak condition, and will not attend any court festivities this winter. Prince Bismarck is at Varzin and is ailing. He has called a homœopathic physician, Dr. Zwingenberg, to reside with him for some time. Princess Wilhelmina of Prussia is interestingly situated. On the contrary, the hopes of the Crown Princess of Austria are not to be fulfilled. Count von Hatzfield will probably return as ambassador to Constantinople. I hear that it is the express wish that he shall not be Minister of Foreign Affairs in Berlin on account of family and financial relations.

IRISH INDEPENDENCE.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—At Cork, to-day, Parnell, in supporting a resolution calling for the national independence of Ireland, said: If as the result of the land act it should happen that tenants receive any benefit, they must recollect that it is their duty to refuse that benefit unless it could be shared in by laborers and artisans of all classes. He hoped the revival of Irish industries would result in bringing plenty and comfort to the home of every Irishman. During the past two years the national cause had advanced in the proportion of twenty to one. Father Sheehy supported the resolution.

A CARGO ON FIRE.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A fire broke out in the hold of the steamer Wyoming, from New York, at sea on Wednesday, and lasted five hours. The cargo was somewhat damaged.

CENTENARY THANKSGIVING.

The Times says:—"We have as much reason as the Americans to share their centenary thanksgiving since the surrender at Yorktown forced the Government to acknowledge that the war was hopeless."

A MONSTER PROCESSION.

CORK, Oct. 1.—On the arrival of the train from Dublin bearing Mr. Parnell, Father Sheehy, Mr. T. P. O'Connor, and Mr. J. J. O'Kelly, the crowd about the station blocked the streets completely, and it was long before the carriages could get through them. A procession was formed at Wellington bridge, after much delay and confusion. When it got under way it was like nothing so much as a St. Patrick's day procession in New York. Mr. Parnell and Father Sheehy, were presented with bouquets. There were about a thousand horsemen in the procession, and altogether about 10,000 persons. Both in point of numbers and varieties of banda and banners it was altogether the most imposing demonstration yet held under the auspices of the League. At the park, where speeches were made, at least thirty thousand people were congregated.

THE YORKTOWN CELEBRATION.

BERLIN, Oct. 1.—The members of the family of Baron von Steuben embarked on Tuesday on board the North German Steamer Herder for New York. All will be in full uniform. They attended service for the President in Berlin the morning before their departure. The German Emperor is reported to have been greatly pleased on being informed of the American Government's invitation to the Steuben family to attend the Yorktown celebration.

A CONTRAST.

DUBLIN, Oct. 1.—Throughout Ireland the principal offences now seem to be of a disorderly and revolutionary stamp, such as roiting, attempted murder, and open assaults on policemen. It is a significant fact that raids for arms around Mill street have apparently ceased, while a priest of that district this week returned their several owners large numbers of arms which had been captured by "Captain Moonlight" and his gang during the past summer. The rev. gentleman gave no explanation as to how he got the arms, but it is well known that the priests have a powerful influence by means of the confessional, and he thus doubtless prevailed on the perpetrators of these midnight raids to restore the arms. He states that the parties promised not to commit any more outrages. This is a great moral victory, and does honour to the priest, the Rev. Matthew McMahon, of Borherlea, county Cork.

AMERICAN.

GUITEAU'S TRIAL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—As Guiteau's defence will probably be insanity, the district attorney is conferring with experts. If Guiteau's counsel apply for delay the court will undoubtedly grant it; but the district attorney believes that no longer than a week will be granted. It is thought the question of the jurisdiction of the court will be raised and carried to the highest court. Guiteau's fear becomes daily more and more abject. He starts at the least sound, even that of the guard, and is ever imagining a crowd watching their chance to break into the prison. The other day during the afternoon the cell door was opened so that he was at liberty to exercise in the corridor, and four or five times he came out, but he evidently was not in a condition of mind to exercise, and spent but a few moments at a time in the corridor. While fearing some outside parties he is equally afraid of the soldiers, and indeed he does not like to see one. As he is at present confined, he cannot see outside of the gaol, unless he stands on his bed, and this he never does now; even the sight of the marshes of the eastern branch having no attraction for him. The guards in special charge of him, are three of the strongest men in the force, and one of them is somewhat over six feet in height. This one seems to be a favorite with Guiteau. Thinking that the stronger the guard the more secure he will be, some days since he requested that this one be detailed for his especial protection. Though he sleeps well, the sound made in relieving guard always wakens him.

A BREAK IN THE ERIE CANAL.

UTICA, Oct. 1.—A break was discovered this morning in the Erie canal at the Nail creek culvert, at the same place where a big break occurred in April of last year. The water of the long level will be drawn off for repair, and an interruption to navigation of several days is apprehended.

LATER.—The threatened leak is under control, and there will be no delay.

ANTI-CONKLING.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—An alleged plot of a madman to revenge the death of Garfield by the murder of Conkling has been discovered. The plotter is a person residing in Utica, where he has business for fifteen years. The police's informant is a man named Jackson, a shipping merchant doing business on East River. Jackson received last Wednesday a letter postmarked Utica, mailed on the 17th, and written by a man he had known and worked for 15 years ago. The message conveyed by the letter startled Jackson very much. It was calm argument, apparently to justify the assassination of Conkling, who, the writer alleged, was the direct cause of Garfield's death, and of the elevation of Arthur, who, the writer said, was not half as big a man as Garfield. In three pages and a half of note paper he argued that Conkling deserved death, and ought to be shot. Jackson gave the letter to Police Commissioner Mason, who, after studying it carefully, was convinced that no assassination was intended.

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

CABLE.

BRIBERY AND CORUPTION.

CALCUTTA, Oct. 1.—The Commission inquiring into transport and commisariat operations during the Afghan Campaign, has discovered a vast system of bribery and corruption. Several influential national bank managers have been arrested at India.

LAND LEAGUE RUFFIANISM.

DUBLIN, Oct. 3.—The Land League organs resent the Queen's sympathy and friendliness for the American people in their affliction. One suggests that she has an eye on the American tariff. United Ireland, the League's special organ, says, with shocking taste:—"Queen Victoria has ordered a week's mourning for President Garfield. The American people, we are told, were profoundly moved by the compliment. The greatest commonwealth the world ever saw could hardly help feeling bigger because her Majesty deigned for seven days to put on the second-hand weeds that were bought in honour of the last baby of the Prince of Hohenzollern Donnerundblitzen that died of the croup."

ANTI-LEAGUERS.

DUBLIN, Oct. 3.—At a meeting at Bollinglaw, county Wicklow, Welter Hume Long, M. P., presented a petition to establish an association to protect boycotted persons and that special attention should be paid to Catholic farmers desiring to assist the dictations of the league. The loyal inhabitants of Queen's county, including Protestants and Catholics, who have bees arrested and who previously had not joined the League, are arranging to help the farmers who can't get their crops saved. A convention of various branches of the emergency league passed resolutions summoning before the court all offenders.

BURNED AT SEA.

PANAMA, Oct. 3.—The German ship Hugo was burned in the South Pacific, Aug 9th. A boat from there containing eight men arrived on Aug. 18 at Chiloe, Chili. They suffered great distress from want of food and water. Several died before leaving Chiloe. Two boats with the rest of the crew have not been heard from.

AMERICAN.

NO POLITICS YET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—It is asserted that Arthur will not allow himself to be a party to any conversation about politics.

THE ASSASSIN'S TRIAL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The witnesses in the Guiteau case come before the Grand Jury today.

PURCHASE OF BONDS.

The Treasurer to-day purchased two millions worth of bonds.

AN INDIAN OUTBREAK.

FLOODS IN MINNESOTA.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 3.—The heavy rains have caused all the rivers to rise bank-full. In some instances serious damage has resulted. Trains of various railways are delayed by wash-outs and land-slides. At Minneapolis there has been much uneasiness over a jam of twenty million logs in the Mississippi. On the Minnesota river, the scene of the floods of last spring, the low grounds in various sections are flooded, causing considerable loss to farmers. In Coon valley, where seven persons were drowned this summer, the damage is reported heavy. Bridges have been swept away, and it is believed that the valley has suffered repetitions of the spring floods. Farmers have been unable to thresh. Grain is sprouting on the stalks, and has been greatly damaged by water.

The Recent Boiler Explosion.

AN inquiry at Thurlow has been ordered, and Mr. Geo. C. Ribb, of Toronto, has been retained to make the necessary inquiries. Mr. J. G. Scott, Deputy Attorney-General, in writing to C. L. Coleman, country attorney, Belleville, said that it was very important that evidence should be adduced and the opinion of experienced men given, so that the Government may be in a position to consider what steps to take in order to prevent a repetition of similar catastrophes.

Sir Hector Langevin.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 30.—Sir Hector Langevin arrived in St. Thomas at one o'clock this afternoon by the Great Western railway. He was accompaned py his private secretary and Mr. J. J. Hawkins. He was received at the station by a number of prominent Conservatives. The hon. gentleman was escorted by several carriages to the Lisgar House, where a reception was held between four and five o'clock. A banquet is being held in the city hall in honor of Sir Hector this evening.

FIVE ACRES OF LUMBER BURNT.

The Oswego Palladium gives the following graphic account of the appearance of the recent conflagration in that city :—"We are sure that none who saw this picture when the fire was at its height ever saw a grander or more impressive of the kind. About five acres of lumber all in a blaze, fanned by a gale of twenty miles an hour, makes an elemental combination seldom seen. Seizing on a lumber pile the fire would wrap it in an instant and pour from every interstice from top to bottom a devilish looking blue flame, which streamed from the cracks in a sheet resembling molten metal forced out under high pressure. There were, as said, about five acres of these mighty forges, all flaming at once, and when they lost their individual forms and settled down into less shapely heaps they glowed and fused like ores. Apart from the sense of danger and damage going on, it was a stupendous spectacle. The reflection of the fire lighted the cloudy sky with a sickening glare which had an awful look, and for miles around the country was lighted up almost as by the sun at noon. Throughout the towns of Oswego and Scriba the people were awakened by the unearthly light, and looking toward the city believed it to be all on fire. Many hitched up their teams and drove to town, and several carriages came down from Fulton, where the fire looked as if the whole city were involved."

Higher Degrees of Masonry.

The Orillia Times says :—"We understand an important Masonic movement amongst the members of the higher degrees in Canada is at present on the tapis, being the amalgamation of the Egyptian Rite of Memphis 96° of Canada with the Sovereign Sanctuary of Canada, exercising jurisdiction over the Ancient and Primitive Rite 30°, the Oriental Rite of Misraim 90°, and the Supreme Rite of Memphis 96°. Last week Ill. Bro. Oronhyatekha 95°, representing the Dominion Sovereign Grand Council General, officially visited Dr. Ramsay 33°, 90°, 95°, Provincial Grand Master, and Deputy for Ontario for the Sovereign Sanctuary of Canada, who has been specially empowered by the G. Master, M. Ill. Bro. George C. Longley, 33°, 90°, 95°, to make all arrangements that he deems advisable for the best interest of the Order. The result of the conference was most satisfactory, and we are informed that next week a proclamation, calling a convention of all members of these rites to meet at London, Ont., on the 25th prox., will be issued, when the whole system will be reorganized, and in all probability Gen. Garibaldi, 33°, 90°, 96°, Gr. Master of Italy, will be requested to assume the Sup. Gr. Mastership 97°, of the rites of the world. England, Italy and Egypt have already requested him to do so, and he has signified his intention of accepting the same."

Dominion Exhibition Closed.

HALIFAX, Sept. 30.—The Dominion Exhibi closed to-day, and already the exhibitors are getting away to their homes. A pleasing feature of the closing day was the presentation to Prof. Lawson, Manager of the Exhibition, of an address signed by the principal exhibitors, thanking him for his attention to all. The presentation was made by Mr. O'Brien, representing the C. W. Williams' Manufacturing Company of Montreal.

The total attendance at the Exhibition was about 40,000. It is too early to speak positively of the financial result, but it is likely to turn out quite satisfactory. The general verdict is that the show was a good one for Nova Scotia, or for the Maritime Provinces, but not a real Dominion Exhibition.

THE LATEST CRAZE.

Lady Riders Making an Exhibition of Themselves for Money.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 30.—A crowd of twenty thousand assembled at a Western New York Fair in this city to-day to witness the twenty-mile running race between Belle Cook, of California, and Emma Jewett, of Minnesota, for a purse of $1,000. The contest was one of the most exciting ever seen in the Driving Park. Each rider had eight horses, and changes were made with wonderful rapidity. Miss Cook led for the first five miles, when she was passed by Miss Jewett, who kept in front for the remainder of the race, and won in 45 minutes 5 seconds, the fastest time ever made. As Miss Cook changed horses at the beginning of the 13th mile, she missed her grasp upon the reins, and the horse making a bolt, jumped the fence close to the Judge's Stand. As he went over he caught his hind foot on a picket, falling to the ground. Miss Cook managed to free herself, but was rendered unconscious by the shock. She complained of a slight pain in her back, but her injuries are not regarded as serious. Miss Jewett and Mrs. Williams, of London, ride to-morrow.

SUGG'S LAMP.

A Prediction that it will Put an End to the Electric Light Furor.

The St. Louis Gaslight company recently received from London six of the new Sugg lamps, which are now in use in front of the House of Parliament. The Sugg burner is a recent invention, and in use in London has been successful, though it has been as yet not used there except on that single street, where it comes in direct competition with the Brush electric light. Having heard very favarably of the lamp, Mr. Sacrates Newman of the St. Louis Gaslight company sent the inventor an order, in answer to which the lamps were received. They are the first ever brought to America, and results given by trial were very satisfactory. The lamps are of two sizes, 150 and 100 candle power, the former being about twice the dimensions of an ordinary street lamp. Each contains four burners arranged in a square at a distance of about three inches one from the other. The light is very brilliant, and Mr. Newman thinks that with them gas can more than hold its own against electricity.

CAMPBELLFORD.

NEARLY A FIRE.—The Herald says that Mr. Harry Williams' factory barely escaped becoming a prey to fire on Monday last, between 12 and 1 o'clock. A boy about the premises had put a quantity of the refuse of the factory into the furnace, and forgot to clear away what remained from the door. In a short time fire crept into it, and the whole of the engine-room became ablaze. Mr. Williams rushed through the fire to the water at the end of the building, and was slightly burned about the face and hands. An alarm of fire was given and there was no lack of help in a few minutes. After some exertions the fire was extinguished with only the loss of the roof of the engine room. This is the second scorching this building has had within a few months.

STEALING A DOG.—A man was summoned to face the magistrate for an alleged theft of a dog last week, but thinking, probably, the easiest way out of his difficulty would be the best, settled the matter without going to court. The little canine was left in charge of a boy who followed the culprit on learning that it was gone and that he it was who took it. It is said that the offender produced a revolver, and made use of a threat towards the boy who demanded the return of the dog.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Numerous improvements are going on in the village, but there are not many new buildings showing themselves. Many transactions in the disposal and purchase of building sites have taken place, which evidently means an increase to our material wealth in a few months. Building operations, outside of the woollen mills, however, is somewhat quiet.

THE GRAND JUNCTION.—Business in loading and unloading the increased quantities of freight concentrating at the railway station, is very lively. Trains have been moving about the station all the week.

BELLEVILLE.

AN AIRY COSTUME.—The Intelligencer says that a naked man was parading for a few minutes in the vicinity of Church St. shortly after dusk last evening, and was seen by several women and children. This is probably the same miscreant who has at intervals, for weeks past, been insulting ladies on Taylor's Hill after dark by exposing his person. The police were looking for him last night, but he did not show himself again. It is suspected that the man is a half-crazy fellow named Roe.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Our Bridgewater correspondent writes on Sept. 30th: "There was a fatal accident on Tuesday afternoon last in one of Sutherland's shanties. Alexander Lalon was sawing a log close by where two men were falling a tree, and either from them not giving timely warning or his not hearing them, the tree fell and struck him, killing him instantly. He was buried to-day."

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.—The house of Mr. Hugh Cooper, Bridge Street West, near Everett Street, was entered on Friday night by a burglar, who, by cutting through the shutter and raising the window, entered the parlor, went through the hall into the dining room, through into the grocery and thence up stairs. Mr. Cooper heard the thief at this time and spoke to his wife, and the burglar hearing the sound of voices, made his exit from the house, none the richer for his trouble.

Boiler Explosions.

A Canadian mechanical engineer, named Arpoldi, has invented a device designed to give a partial security against boiler explosions. The invention consists of an electric adjustable attachment to the ordinary steam guage now in use, to give an instant and continuous alarm, at any distance from the boilers or other pressure generators, of any excess of pressure over that at which the alarm has been set, and where there is more than one generator in operation, an ordinary "tell tale" can be attached to signify which generator is at fault. The invention possesses a great many valuable features, prominent among which may be noticed that it is extremely simple and inexpensive, and can be attached to existing arrangements at no expense beyond that of the alarm itself, and without in any way affecting the present adjustment of the guage.

Waterworks.

Here is an item which is of special interest just now to our civic authorities and to the people of the town in general: "The contract for constructing the first section of the Brampton waterworks has been awarded to Messrs. Stevens, Turner & Burns, of London, at $17,000. Their contract involves the laying of five miles of pipe, erecting forty hydrants, and constructing thirteen valves. These works are being constructed on the gravity system. The water is obtained from a lake 172 acres in extent, 175 feet above the level of the town, from which it is distant five miles. Stevens, Turner & Burns are to begin work immediately, and finish on the 7th of December. Gartshore, of Hamilton, has the contract for the pipe. It is contemplated that the whole work will be completed by the 1st of March."

IRELAND.

THE statement that the O'Donoghue intends retiring from the representation of Tralee has been distinctly contradicted.

THE Athy Land League have passed a resolution pledging themselves not to engage or participate in the sport of the Kildare Hunt Club, and to use all their efforts to suspend fox-hunting in the district until all the "suspects" at present in prison are released.

ABOUT two hundred men assembled in Loughrea on Sept. 5th, and proceeded to the farm of Mr. John Sweeny, late secretary of the Loughrea Branch of the Land League, who is at present confined in Galway prison as a suspect, and cut his corn. A similar demonstration took place in Break, on the farm of another suspect named Micheal Connolly.

A PLACARD has been posted at Ballinacraw, county Wexford, in which a farmer named Anthony Dwyer publicly asks forgiveness for having sent his mowing machine to cut the boycotted crops of Mr. Rawson. Dwyer, it appears, was for this act boycotted himself, and he states in the placard, "I have suffered considerably by it, and ask to be forgiven, and will be good in future!"

ON the arrival of the Dublin steamer, Duke of Linester, at Greenock on September 6th, it was reported that one of her firemen, a man named William Craig, had fallen overboard on the passage and was drowned. No one actually witnessed the occurence, but it is supposed that Craig had, in attempting to walk forward on the rail, missed his footing and fell into the sea. The deceased belonged to Belfast.

ON Sept. 6th, the Sheriff proceeded to Upper Ballickmoyler, the property of Miss Hovenden, who resides in the North of Ireland, and who, on three occasions, had made an effort to recover her rent. The result was again nil. The force in aid of the civil authorities was a troop of Lancers and 100 constabulary, the latter being under the command of Mr. Keathing, S.I., Bagnalstown, and the whole force under Mr. Hort, Kilkenny. The quiteness of the scene was suddenly disturbed by somebody using explosives. The cavalry rushed up to the place whence the noise came, but nothing was obtained.

IN St. John's churchyard, Sligo, near the door of the vestry-room, laying on the grass over the vault of the Gare family, was a very curious stone with two recumbent figures—a Knight Templar and his wife—said to have been members of the Lissadell family. The Templar had his legs crossed, which denotes that he was a Crusader. Altogether it was one of the finest specimens of such sculpture in the West of Ireland, but it is now broken in pieces, some of which may have been taken to mend roads with, and save "a deal o' limestone!" Sad are the ruthless ravages of time, but more to be regretted are the acts of many who call themselves "the lords of creation," and yet who wantonly destroy a venerable relic of the days of Elder Act.

ON September 9th a land demonstration took place in Belmullet. A man residing there took a farm on a 30 years lease. The tenants of the surrounding townlands become indignant, requiring the land in small lots for themselves at a reasonable rent. The man sent his four sons to cut turf when they were surrounded by about two hundred people and hooted off the farm, with a direction not to came back there again. Ten of the ringleaders were summond to the Petty Sessions at Belmullet, but the prosecutor failed to appear and the case was dropped. Between 400 and 500 men of the League, headed by a man on a bay charger, with a three-cocked hat, paraded the town four deep, and passed twice by the court-house in a quiet, orderly procession, after which speeches were delivered.

Manure Made Under Cover.

Of course all the advantages of making manure in covered yards, may be secured by box feeding, with less outlay for roofing, since more space must be allowed for a given number of animals turned loose together, than when confined in stalls; it is the protection from rain and sun, the abundant use of litter and its thorough incorporation with the excrements, and the exclusion of air by compact treading, which go to make the superior manure; all these features of the method work against the loss of valuable plant food. Nor does box feeding and constant accumulation of the manure under the feet of the animals necessarily imply offensive stalls. Mr. Lawrence, said that everybody noticed the general sweetness of his stalls; it is only essential that enough litter be used to absorb all liquids, and this absorption is more effectual if the straw is cut up.

One method or the other, box-feeding or covered yards, should be adopted by every farmer who lives where manure is worth saving, and who finds himself compelled to supplement his stable manure with commercial fertilizers. Stable manure must not be lost sight of, in this increasing interest in these concentrated fertilizere, for we cannot produce our crops and have enough for ourselves and others, without its aid; and there is nothing in all the lists of commercial mixtures, which give so good an average return for the money invested in it, as well-made stable manure.—Prof. Caldwell, for October in American Agriculturalist.

Ohio Butter Inspection.

Robert Orr, Superintendent of the newly created office of butter and cheese inspectors in Ohio, in a circular to his subordinates, says: "When butter is properly churned, both as to time and to temperature, it becomes firm with very little working and is tenacious; but its most desirable state is waxy, when it is easily moulded into any shape, and may be drawn out to considerable length without breaking, it is then styled gilt-edged. It is only in this state that butter possesses that rich nutty flavour and smell, and shows up the rich golden yellow color, which imparts so high a degree of pleasure in eating it, and which increases its value manifold. It is not always necessary, when it smells fresh and sweet, to taste butter in judging it. The smooth, unctious feel, in rubbing a little between the finger and thumb, expresses at once its rich quality; the nutty smell and rich aroma indicate a similar taste, and the bright, golden, glistening, cream-coloured surface shows its high state of cleanliness. It may be necessary at times to use the trier, or even use it until you become an expert in testing by taste, smell and rubbing." The bill which created these inspectors is part of the movement against adulterants. It provides for the inspection of butter and cheese, "and all the substances having the semblance of butter and cheese," and of dairies and other places where milk is sold or butter and cheese manufactured; this is to be done by inspectors appointed by the State Board of Health.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines.—Republican.

How to do it.

There is not a cattle raiser from Sandwich to Gaspe but can surely enhance the value of his stock twenty per cent., by mixing HARVELL'S CONDITION POWDERS occasionally with the feed of his fowls or animals. Inquire all about them! d65w16

Diseased Lungs.

From J. A. Abercrombie, of Brantford, Ont.

GENTLEMEN,—It gives me much pleasure to bear witness to a cure effected by DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. My wife having been afflicted for a number of years with diseased lungs I was prompted to try WISTAR'S BALSAM. I did so, and to my utmost satisfaction, for it effected a permanent cure in her for which I heartily recommend it to the public at large as a true and most reliable cure for diseases of the lungs. In conclusion I beg to ask you to accept my thanks, also my hearty wishes for your success with your valuable remedy, believing it to be the only medicine adapted to such cases. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. Brown's Bronchial Troches do not disorder the stomach like cough syrup and balsams, but act directly on the Inflamed parts, allaying Irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c. a box everywhere. d52w9

4—True to Her Trust.

Too much cannot be said for the ever-faithful wife and mother, constantly watching and caring for her dear ones, never neglecting a single duty in their behalf. When they are assailed by disease, and the system should have a thorough cleansing, the stomach and bowles regulated, blood purified, malarial poison exterminated, she must know that Electric Bitters are the only sure remedy. They are the best and purest medicine in the world, and only cost fifty cents. Sold by TAYLOR & MACDONALD. d5w27

Nature Makes no Mistakes.

Nature's own remedy for bowel complaints, cholera morbus, cholic, cramps, vomiting, sea sickness, cholera infantum, diarrhœa, dysentry, and all diseases of a like nature belonging to the summer season, is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which can be obtained of all dealers in Medicine.

Are You Going to Travel?

Don't forget a supply of that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is a superior remedy for sea sickness, and a positive cure for all bowel complaints induced by bad water, change of diet, or of climate. Whether at home or abroad, it should be kept at hand in case of emergency.

As a Family Medicine Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters are rapidly taking the place of pills, they are equally effectual, do not gripe, weaken, or produce nausea and are purely vegetable. In large 8 oz. bottles at 50 cents. Sold by all druggists.

D. LANGELL'S ASTHMA & CATARRH REMEDY.

Having struggled 20 years between life and death with ASTHMA or PHTHISIC, treated by eminent Physicians and receiving no benefit, I was compelled during the last five years of my illness to sit on my chair day and night gasping for breath; my sufferings were beyond description. I fortunately discovered this WONDERFUL CURE for ASTHMA or CATARRH, warranted to relieve the most stubborn case of Asthma in FIVE MINUTES, so the patient can lie down to rest and sleep comfortably. Any person not fully satisfied after using one-half of a box can return the remainder to the proprietor and the money will be refunded, or send me your address for a trial package FREE OF CHARGE. Should your druggist not keep the remedy, I can send it by mail on receipt of the price $1.00. For sale by all Druggists. Address D. LANGELL, Proprietor, Wooster, Ohio, or ALBERT HOWARD, Manager, 16 Astor House Offices, New York City.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For e'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Or write the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man,"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard;
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The sublest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide,
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine—
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Faultless fit, splendid style, vast variety, good work and a very great saving in price will be found in M. & A's. Mantles and Ulsters.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1881.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

The Rowers.

Messrs. Mercer and Stevenson, although they have not directly answered the challenge of their lately defeated opponents, say in private that they will not pull them again unless for money. This the other men do not wish to do, as it would render them professionals. They propose medals, and Mercer and Stevenson do not care about these, and so the matter stands. The little ill-feeling which was stirred up at first has almost all gone down. As the last race was not for any championship, in fact for anything except the mere satisfaction of settling who were the best men, the victorious party have a perfect right to refrain from rowing those they defeated, if they are so inclined, though at the same time it might be better to set the whole matter at rest by dividing the choice of oars and boats and rowing again on such a fair even bais that those who were left behind would have absolutely no possible chance to grumble. At the same time it might not be a bad idea to say to all parties, keep your tempers and do not let jealousies make you enemies, you are all supposed to be gentlemen members of the boating club, and it is singular if a race cannot take place among you without producing the unpleasant result of making the rivals unfriendly.

What Will She do With It?

A woman bought a goose on the market on Saturday, and had not carried it far when she discovered that it was not as good as it might have been. She carried it back in extreme disgust, and hunted for the commissioner, and the woman of whom she had got the unsavory fowl. She could not find either of these, but she found Constable McGhee, to whom she told her story. He could not help her in the matter, so she turned an angle of the building, and deposited her burden under a bench. The constable warned her to remove it again on pain of a large fine. She left declaring that she would not carry it further than she was forced.

The Assizes.

His Honour Judge Armour arrived on the noon train to-day and registered at the Huffman House. In his company are Messrs. Hector Cameron, Q. C., George F. Blackstock, J. Mulock, Toronto, L. English, of Ottawa, and J. H. Kirckhoffer, of Millbrook. There are some interesting cases coming up. The trial of Hamlin for the murder of Larocque will not come off to-day as the bill has to go before the Grand Jury first. The prisoner has secured the services of Mr. Dumble for his defence.

Autumn Leaves.

Many Peterborough English Church people went to St. Luke's, Ashburnham, for the evening service. The decorations were greatly admired. One text, that over the chancel, excited particular admiration, the words were "The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof." The letters were plain gothic formed of autumn leaves, and the effects of the varied natural tints of these was very beautiful and unique.

Returning Thanks.

At the last regular practice of the Fire Brigade Band, a vote of thanks was tendered to the gentlemen who acted on the committee for the last Promenade Concert, given by the citizens of the town to the band on their return from Ingersoll.

The Fire Brigade.

The regular monthly meeting of the Fire Brigade takes place at the Simcoe street Hall on Tuesday evening at 7,30 o'clock. As the last two regular meetings have been prevented by unforeseen circumstances, there is considerable business to transact.

Ah Me!

A young lady residing not a hundred miles from Peterborough was asked the other evening whether or not she approved of spooning. Without hesitation came the artless reply, "I don't know, I never had a chance."

Sporting.

Two parties of sportsmen left town this morning for the northern lakes for the purpose of deer hunting.

THE ASSIZES.

BEFORE HIS HONOUR LUDGE ARMOUR.

The Assize Court opened before His Honour Judge Armour this afternoon at one o'clock. His address to the Grand Jurors was as follows:

"Gentlemen of the Grand Jury:

I am pleased to be able to congratulate you on the light docket which this county has to present. There will be only one case before you, that of Hamlin who is at present confined in the gaol hear on charge of homicide." [His Honour here gave some illustrations and made some remarks on the various degrees of this crime]. "I notice that you have several vagrants in the gaol, now there are some of these who actually deserve, and cannot exist without, the charity of the community, and there are others, again, strong bodied and capable of working, a worthless shiftless class, whose opinion it is that the world owes them a living, and who are willing enough to live honestly if they can do so without much trouble, but who will not perform hard or steady work. These last looked upon gaol as a place of refuge to which they can return when hard pressed by the world. These classes from their different deserts are very hard to deal with. In some of the western counties of Canada there are poor houses, in which paupers who are in actual need of charity are domiciled, but this system is objected to by some who say that if poor houses are established there will soon be plenty of poor to put in them. Now it may be true that some extra discrimination might be necessary in determining who were, and who were not worthy of the advantages it afforded to paupers. Still all will allow that there are in every community, persons who are incapable of supporting themselves, and who are, if there are no poor horses or similar institutions, thrown upon the charity of a few private persons. Now this is unfair to these persons. I think that in cases where the County jail is not taken up completely by criminals a part should be set aside to serve the purposes of a house. I trust that you will discharge the duties entrusted to you with conscientiousnsss and thoroughness, so that the charge which is made frequently against Grand Juries in other parts may not be repeated of you, namely, 'that grand juries are more ready to draw their pay than to do their duties. This has never been said of the Grand Jury in this county, but I can assure yon that it is very frequently asserted of them elsewhere. A great many object to Grand Juries on the score of expense. This is a plea which could be with equal justice brought against all the other great institutions of our free government, from the village Council to the Legislature. Those who attack the Grand Jury make no mention of any substitute, the proper value of the institution is taken into account by few. It is the most democratic and popular of institutions. You remember its origin and its usefulness in times gone by. It was originated as the investigating tribunal which stood between the crown and the subject, and had the power of saying whether the charges made by the crown were sufficiently substantial to warrant his being put upon trial. It was then of immense value and still is, if it does its duty as intended. It goes in the place of the whole community it represents, and is an investigating and examining deputation from them. Besides this, through the necessary lack of legal knowledge of some of the Justices of Peace, the jury having the power to throw out a bill which might have been made out by a justice without sufficient cause, were a most useful and necessary check upon these commitments, and prevented any of their fellowmen from being subjected to a long trial without sufficient cause. In conclusion I will say that when you have discharged these duties which I have spoken of I will be happy to discharge you."

The jury were then sworn in, and proceeded on their rounds of inspection.

Valuing Denne and Sperry's Loss.

Messrs. Stevenson, Clegg and Rogers are appointed by the insurance company, having the risk on Denne and Sperry's stock, to fix the damage sustained in contract department. Mr. Hamilton has been appointed by the other company to compute the loss on machinery, this work is being proceeded with to-day.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto at ten a. m. to-day, by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Moderate winds mostly from the north and west, fair to cloudy, slightly cooler weather, probable local rains again to-night.

The Market.

Things are booming on the market and the total brought in perhaps run very close to being the heaviest of the season. The roads are just the thing. Prices have gone back a little in barley and rye which sell at 85c. as the highest for both, but wheat still stays at $1.35 and oats at 39c.

Laconics.

—Sunshine after shower.
—Hard, good roads again.
—Lindsay fair to-morrow.
—Big grain market this morning.
—Churches well filled yesterday.
—Deer hunting came in on Saturday.
—The assizes open with a heavy docket.

CANADIAN TELEGRAMS.

RENFREW.

Special to the Review, Oct. 3.

A YOUNG MAN named McDonnell, a teamster for McLaughlin Bros., Arnprior, was killed on Saturday morning fifteen miles from here. A tree had fallen across the road and in endeavouring to get past, he is supposed to have fallen out and the wheels past over his body. When found he was quite dead. The coroner did not consider an inquest necessary.

OTTAWA.

Special to the Review, Oct. 3.

THE OTTAWA RACING COMMITTEE has issued a very attractive programme for a two days meeting on Friday and Saturday, the 21st and 22nd inst.

SECRETARY LANGEVIN has returned to the capital. He will leave for Picton on Friday, where he will be banquetted.

A GENTLEMAN was in the city to-day with 185 small diamonds. They were found on the Gatineau, and will be sent to Montreal to be tested.

LABOUR IS SO SCARCE here that the agent of the French Phosphates Mining Company was obliged yesterday to stand at the door of the Roman Catholic Church at Hull, offering advanced rates for two hundred men to work in the mines.

AN INTERESTING lumbering case will come up to-morrow before Justice Wilson at the assizes. The interested parties are the Bank of British North America and Roderick Ryan of this city. The damages are laid at $40,000.

BUSH FIRES still continue to do considerable damage. A heavy shower of rain this morning will check them. Quite a large number of families who were burned out in Renfrew, are, it is said, in great need of assistance.

THE WATERS so low at the mouth of the Gatineau that the boats cannot arrive. The boats from this city cannot land at Walerloo.

IT IS SAID that Mr. Wendier, of Toronto, will succeed Mr. Scott as chief architect of public works.

POLICE COURT.

THE FIRST SHOT FIRED.

MONDAY, Oct. 3.—Mr. W. Lasher has determined to put a stop to the rowdyism which takes place at every performance given in this Opera House. He made a good commencement this morning by summoning before the Magistrate one Thomas Chapman, a gawky youth, who, at Baker & Farron's show, jumped the railing and took a reserved seat and would not go back when requested to.

The MAGISTRATE administered a good lecture, and as this was the first case that had come before him, he imposed a fine of 20 cents and costs $1.80, $2.00 altogether. The sum was promptly paid.

VAGRANCY.

The well known and notorious Paddy Handrigan was charge by Chief Johnston with vagrancy. He was remanded to gaol for a week.

Hanlan-Ross.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 1.—The articles of agreement, as amended by Hanlan, were received by Ross this morning. They are satisfactory, and will be returned to Toronto by to-night's mail. Ross, in forwarding the articles, requests Hanlan to name the place for the race, at the same time signifying his preference for Washington on account of the lateness of the season. Ross will probably remain here another week, when he will go to Portland, Me,, and commence training for the great race.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE

QUEEN'S BENCH AND COMMON PLEAS DIVISIONS—THE FALL ASSIZES.

The Case of Hunter vs. Sykes—$900 Damages for being Blown up in a Compressed Air Machine—A Full Statement of the Peculiar Nature of the Case.

BEFORE HIS HONOUR JUDGE ARMOUR.

MONDAY, Oct. 3rd, 1881.

The Grand Jurors are as follows:—Jno. Aunger, H. Bennett, Wm. Burgess, Jos. Borland, Thos. Bell, Jno. Clarkson, Wm. Collins, Jno. Clark, Johnston Cooney, Wm. Carter, Chas. Crawford, C. S. Dudman, J. P. Davis, Edward Foley, Robt. Fife, Jno. Garbutt, Jos. Hicks, Geo. Hocey, who answered their names and were sworn in.

HUNTER VS. SYKES.

Mr. Muloch and Kirchhoffer for plaintiff. Hector Cameron, Q. C., and Syman English for defendant. This is an action brought by one Hunter, of Millbrook, against one Sykes of Oshawa, for the purpose of recovering compensation for bodily injuries sustained by means of alleged careless negligence on the part of the said Sykes. It appears from the evidence that the plaintiff who gave his age as 22 in July, 1879, was advised by Dr. Might, who was attending him for the catarrh and a partial deafness which were the results of the scarlet fever with which he had been afflicted some time previously, to go and test the compressed air bath of Mr. Sykes, of Oshawa, in the curative qualities of which Dr. Might had considerable faith. He was at this time vigorous and perfectly healthy except for the trifling ailments spoken of. His father at the said advice of Dr. Might, accordingly took him to Oshawa and made arrangements with Mr. Sykes, the proprietor of the said bath by which it was agreed that plaintiff should receive treatment in return for an agreed sum per hour. Accordingly the chamber in which these air baths were given was made of boiler plate. There was a semi circular seat in it, on which the patient reclined when undergoing the prescribed treatment which consisted in the atmospheric pressure being increased to a high degree by means of an air pump, worked by the same steam engine that worked the defendant's planing mill. There was a valve in the chamber which was constructed to open upon being subjected to a pressure of 15 lbs. to the square inch. Of this working of the valve, however, the defendant had only hearsay to go by, the chamber having been constructed by one Dr. Stone and used by him for four years, the defendant supplying power from his mill on the conditions that at the end of four years he was to have the ownership of the chamber. When the four years agreed upon expired, accordingly, the defendant was left in full possession by the original inventor and constructor, who gave him the directions with regard to the instrument, which he afterwards followed. There was no guage on the chamber by which the actual pressure could be ascertained, so that the defendant was in ignorance, but for Stone's words whether the pressure in the chamber were fifty or fifteen pounds. The baths lasted from one to two hours, the patient reclining on the broad seat and reading, if so inclined. Opposite the seat was a little window of plate glass, through which a clock outside could be seen. When the time of the bath was expired, the patient had the power by means of a lever of opening the valve and allowing the air to rush out. This loosened the door. It was testified to by several witnesses that on one occasion in each case the valve had not worked right, a lady's dress being supposed to be the cause in the first instance, while the second was apparently unaccountable, as it suddenly ceased allowing an escape of air, which was shown when working right by a hissing sound, and when the patient sprung in alarm and by means of a lever opened the valve a slight explosion was heard and steam was generated. The plaintiff accordingly, took three baths which lasted from an hour to two hours. On the first occasion he was accompanied by his father and the proprietor, the latter of whom instructed him in the proper working of the valve. Afterwards he was left to himself. On the occasion of the fourth bath the chamber blew up without interferrence with any of its workings by the plaintiff. By this explosion he was maimed for life. The defendant was also hurt by the same explosion. The defendant was also shown to have allowed any member of his family down to the youngest child attend to the patients or the instrument, and give directions. The evidence of doctors showed that it was improbable that the plaintiff would ever be able to use his limbs again. On these grounds, the plaintiff sued for $5,000 compensation.

The defendants counsel objected that there was no evidence of carelessness or negligence shown.

The judge charged in favour of the plaintiff, and a verdict was rendered in his favour with damages fixed at $900.

MENZIES VS. T. & O. R. R.

Plaintiff claimed as assignee of W. H. Robertson of the Peterborough Times for printing and advertising done for John Fowler, while promoting the Huron & Quebec, afterwards the Toronto & Ottawa Railway. By consent of both parties the matter was referred to the arbitration of Mr. C. A. Weller, Master in Chancery. Moore & Sawers for plaintiff; D. W. Dumble for defendant.

The court adjourned at 7 o'clock p. m.

"Silence."

A laughable thing happened during the holding of the assize court yesterday, and afforded a great deal of amusement to those attending the sitting. As one of the witnesses were being examined in the case of Hunter vs. Sykes, the court was disturbed by a most unseemly interruption—by a sound which appeared to proceed from that harshest and most discordant of noise making instruments, called by the boys "a squaker." It appeared to be blown right in the court room. Once, twice, thrice at regular and short intervals with a boldness that suggested innocence of offence. The grand jurors fidgetted, the judge looked in annoyance, the lawyers looked astonished, and the crier shouted "silence." The noise kept on, however, without reference or attention to any of these, and in direct disobedience of the crier. Again and again the harsh "squak" arose as if in derision of the court. The judge's face looked stern, "Are there no constables here?" he said. Straightway a constable proceeded to investigate in apparently a boiling frame of mind. He searched high and low in the court room and still he could find nothing; then he went into the ante-rooms and passages and found nothing. Still the noise continued. Presently the enigma was solved as a great sound of "Shoo, shoo, shoo" was heard in the yard outside and then the pattering of stones and a frightened succession of squaks from the peacock as he flew off to another and more secluded part of the yard.

How is It?

A citizen wants to know how it is that the gates of the Court House green are kept locked against the people of the town, while some favored individual is allowed to pasture on public property a mare and colt. The two animals were noticed this morning, rubbing against some of the tender trees and bent them clear to the ground. The county authorities complain against children doing this, but at the same time allow horses to roam at will and destroy as many trees as they like. Will some person kindly see to this matter?

EXCITEMENT ON 'CHANGE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—There was almost a panic on 'Change to-day when it was announced that John B. Lyon, reported short eight million bushels of corn had suspended. Lyon for years has been the heaviest shipper of corn here, and some times almost the exclusive shipper. It is said that he was called upon for a million dollars margin last night after business hours and failed to respond. This fact and the action of the Board of Trade Directors in fixing the margin and the prices of corn at 62 cents, broke the back bone of the corn market and all the other grain sold went down in sympathy. At 11.30 prices were still weak and declining, and it was thought that this might help Lyon to pull through.

THE COMING CONVENTION.

NEW YORK, Oct 4.—The Sun says that the impression prevailed last night that the movement for peace and harmony in the republican party in this state, was largely the work of Arthur and Cornell's influence which was thrown the same way, still, strong friends of the Governor, state positively that there will be no trouble in the Convention.

$100,000 BLAZE AT COBOURG.

Three of the Principal Stores of the Town Destroyed by Fire.

Special to the Review, Oct. 4.

COBOURG, Oct. 4.—A disastrous fire broke out here at 5 o'clock this morning which destroyed a part of the best block of buildings in the town When the fire was first discovered it was in the third story of the Dumble block and fanned by a northerly wind it spread to J. Sutherland's grocery store, R. Mulholland's hardware store and Burnett's grocery. Over the stores were the Son's of Temperance Hall, the Hook and Ladder Fire Company's meeting room, and several law offices. The fire brigade worked well and confined the fire to these buildings which were totally destroyed. At one time it was thought the whole south side of King St. from the town hall to Divison Street would go. The loss is about $100,000.

THE SETTLEMENT OF THE NOR'-WEST.

As our readers are aware, we have contended from the first that interest, if nothing else, was certain to render the Pacific Railway Syndicate one of the best immigration agents which Canada could secure, and events are proving the correctness of our anticipations. Elsewhere we give an extract from the Winnipeg Free Press, which proves that instead of desiring to hold their lands, as was predicted by Sir Richard Cartwright during his holiday missionary tour, they are doing all they can to secure their speedy and bona fide settlement, and to prevent their falling into the hands of the dreaded speculator.

It seems to us it would be difficult to devise regulations better calculated to secure the settlement of the country than those foreshadowed in the Free Press' article. In fact, if they are honestly carried out, and a company is much more likely to enforce them than any Government, it is difficult to see how the regular speculator—the speculator who has a few thousand dollars which we can afford to do without for a few years, and who would like to buy these lands and let them lay until settlement had rendered them valuable—is to obtain an acre from the syndicate. Whatever he might be disposed to try on with Government lands, trusting to political influence to wink at a very thin compliance with settlement regulations, he will scarcely risk his money where a company has a direct interest in holding him to both the spirit and the letter of his contract, and when political influence or political crys will count for nothing. Taking these regulations in conjunction with those of the Government, the demand for labour which the present vigorous prosecution of the railway ensures, and the efforts now being put forth by both the Syndicate and Dominion's immigrant agents in Britain and the continent, there is every reason to believe that the influx of people to this Canada of ours during the next twelve months will be far in excess of anything in our past history, in spite of all that such disappointed maligners as those who find utterance in such papers as London Truth (?) may say to the contrary.

C. P. R. LAND DEPARTMENT.

Early in May the Company, having taken into consideration the organization of a land department to deal with the vast acreage to be awarded as the line progresses, decided to establish the head office in Winnipeg, and appointed Mr. J. H. McTavish, Chief Factor of the Hudson's Bay Co. here, as Land Commissioner. Mr. C. F. Kindred, formerly chief clerk of the Northern Pacific Land Department in St. Paul, was subsequently appointed Assistant Commissioner, and the organization of the department has been rapidly completed by Mr. McTavish, who secured the premises formerly occupied by the bank of Montreal here for offices. Land examiners have been in the field for some time past, and the office staff have been busily engaged recording and classifying the applications which have been made to purchase lands. Over 1,500 applications have already been received, the amount of land represented by them amounting to about 750,000 acres. On Monday, the 26th, the Department will commence to deal with these applications, and will on and after that date be prepared to sell land. In all cases in which persons have settled on railway lands in good faith and made reasonable improvements, their claims will be respected, and they will be allowed to purchase the land on the Company'y advertised terms.

The Company has decided to sell only to actual settlers or to persons who agree to cultivate and otherwise improve, and the pernicious evil of speculators buying large tracts and locking them up will thus be avoided. The price of lands will be $2.50 per acre, one sixth in cash and the balance in five equal annual instalments. The form of contract which has been prepared provides that until the final payments are completed, all improvements placed on the premises shall remain; that the purchaser will regularly pay all taxes, and that he will cut no wood or timber upon the land except for fuel and fencing and the erection of buildings thereon. It is provided that the purchaser shall, within four years after the date of the agreement, bring under cultivation, and sow and reap a crop on three-fourths of the land, but if he shall erect buildings thereon, satisfactory to the company, and shall reside thereon continuously for three years at least of the four years, then at least one-half of the land shall be by him so cultivated and cropped within four years. It is further proceded that the purchaser will be allowed a credit of $1.25 per acre for each acre cultivated and cropped during the four years, or if he erect buildings and reside on the land continuously, then the periodduring which breaking may be made and allowed for will be extended. On the completion of the payments and the performance of the terms of the agreement, the Company will give a deed conveying the land in fee simple, reserving, however, a strip or strips 200 feet wide to be used by the Company for right of way or other railroad purposes, wherever the line of the C.P.R. or any branch thereof is or shall be hereafter located over the land. If the purchaser fails to carry out the terms of his agreement, all his rights, etc., in the land will cease, and it will revert to the Company, but the Company may, in its discretion, revalue the land and make a new sale of it to the purchaser at the revaluation.—Winnipeg Free Press.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SMITH, ENNISMORE AND LAKEFIELD SHOW.

The Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Agricultural Association Fall Show, held in Lakefield on Thursday and Friday, the 29th and 30th of September, was a grand success in every particular. The attendance was large, the weather very fine (with the exception of being a little too windy on the afternoon of the second day) and the display unprecedented. The arts and ladies' departments were remarkably good. In the large hall used for the purpose of the exhibition the articles were arranged and classified by the ladies' committee of management with commendable taste and effect. The display of domestic manufacture was extensive as well as excellent. The prize articles in homemade flannels and cloths were woven by Mr. Currie, of Lakefield, and was well worthy of notice on account of the workmanship and the quality of the material. The show of fruits was not so good as last year, but the display of vegetables was as good, if not better. Mr Wright, of Douro, took the first prize for a variety of potatoes, showing five kinds of potatoes clean and well developed. The display of butter, cheese and grains of all kinds would do credit to more pretentious shows. Mr. J. H. Moore, Lakefield cheese factory, carried off the first prize for factory cheese, and Mr. Porter Robinson, of Davis's factory, the second. In the north-east corner of the hall a Wheeler and Wilson sewing machine, run by Mr. George A. Mittchell, of Peterborough, seemed to be a centre of attraction during the whole time of the show. One required to get into a close position to the machine to realize that it was working at all, so noiseless were its motions. It was being run with a ball of spool cotton No. 60, sewing a quarter of an inch in thickness of tweed and felling without the aid of the hands. As usual, Mr. George Fitzgerald carried off all the first prizes for apples. The show of agricultural implements was very poor, in fact this was the weak point of the exhibition. The display of horses and cattle was very good, particularly the latter. Mr. James Elliott, of Smith, showed some fine specimens of thorough-breds lately brought into the county, which reflect very great credit on his enterprise. The show this year, as a whole, was far ahead of that of any previous year. There are two or three reasons to account for this improvement which are worthy of note. The directorate this year threw the show open to the north of Douro on equal terms. The show being held in Lakefield every year people seem to take more interest in it. The presence of the Fire Brigade Band of Peterborough was an important element in the success of the show. This splendid band gave great satisfaction to the crowds that visited Lakefield on the show days. The discoursing of sweet music seemed to give life and joy to the visitors. The Peterborough Band stands out high in the estimation of the people in this part of the county. The boys seem to make themselves general favorites wherever they go. The committee consisting of Mr. T. J. Nelson, of Lakefield, and Mr. Geo. W. Fitzgerald, of Smith, which succeeded in procuring the services of this splendid band at considerable trouble to themselves deserve the consideration of the patrons of the show. The success of this exhibition is an augery of one far more successful next year.

SELWYN CHURCH.

The new Methodist church at Selwyn will be open for divine worship next Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Shaw will officiate in the morning, Mr. Weldon in the afternoon, and Mr. Washington in the evening. The church presents a very handsome appearance now it is finished, but it is to be regretted that the trustees allowed the partition to be erected, the money spent for it would have built a comfortable vestry at the rear of the church, and the eight feet which has been taken off would have given that much more accommodation, besides giving a far better appearance to the inside of the church, which is hardly in keeping with the view outside.

ENNISMORE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE WEATHER.—September of 1881 was a hot month on the average at sunrise and sunset, namely, 64° 30. The lowest was on the morning of the 14th, the thermometer standing at 36°, and the highest on the morning of the 5th, 80°. On the 5th it stood at 100° and on the 6th at 101° in the shade at one o'clock p.m. No doubt local bush fires had an effect to some extent on increasing the high temperature. Rain fell on twelve days making in the aggregate 2½ inches.

BUSH FIRES.—Through the late copious rain bush fires are now almost extinguished. Although wind storms may blow, the season being now so far advanced and the weather showery, it is not likely that they will gain any large dimensions for the future.

THE ELGIN ASSIZES.

An Important Railway Suit Settled The Principle Involved.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 30.—The suit of Archibald McKillop, the blind poet, against the Grand Trunk Railway Company, was to have come before Mr. Justice Burton at the Elgin Assizes at St. Thomas yesterday forenoon, but as will be ascertained below a settlement had been made before it was called. From the statement of claim filed, it appears that in May last the plaintiff purchased a ticket from London to Point Levis in the Province of Quebec; that at Prescott the conductor of the defendants, finding the plaintiff in a first class car, he having only a second-class ticket, demanded extra fare, which the plaintiff refused to give, as he said he was willing to go into a second-class car, but as there was none attached to the train he could not. At Prescott the conductor put him off the train, and in so doing the plaintiff claimed that he was injured. The suit was settled between the parties, and we understand that the defendants paid the plaintiff $1,250 in full of debt and costs. Mr. Warren Rock, Q. C., represented the plaintiff, and Mr. John Bell, Q. C., of Belleville, the defendants.

Fifty-five Thousand Acres Enclosed by One Hundred and Fifty Miles of Fence.

The great wheat field of California lies in Colusa County, which also contains one of the largest farms in the world. The county comprises a large part of the extensive Sacramento Valley, and is sixty miles in length and on the average forty miles in width. It has an area of about 1,800,0000 acres, of which a million of acres grows wheat. Of this vast tract 477,000 acres are owned by 129 men. One owns 55,000 acres; one, 24,000; one, 20,000; three, 16,000; one, 15,000; three, 14,000; six, 10,000; one, 8,000; two, 7,000; six, 6,000; three, 5,000; eight, 4,000; five, 3,000; eighteen, 2,000; three, 1,500; thirty-six, 1,000; and twenty-nine, 500. The result has been to debar immigration and choke out tradesmen and mechanics.

The largest land owner in Colusa County is Dr. Hugh J. Glenn. His farm contains 55,000 acres, and has a river frontage of 16½ miles, and is enclosed by 150 miles of fence. Wheat is grown on 45,000 acres. The labor force employed is composed of 715 men—225 in seeding and 490 in harvesting. Eight hundred horses are required. The yield of wheat from this farm will average 1,000,000 bushels a year.

THE prizes for the best kept farms in Ontario were awarded at the Provincial Exhibition on Saturday last. The gold medal was won by Mr. Wm. Donaldson, of East Zorra, Oxford county; the silver medal by Mr. James Fisher, of Hyde Park, Middlesex, and the bronze medal by Mr. James Smith, of McGillivray, Middlesex.

MY ANKLE.

Why is it that I never miss
On such a rainy day as this
To promenade the pave?—'tis this,
My ankle.

Why is it that I lift my skirt
And lightly over the crossings flirt,
All to escape that horrid dirt?
My ankle.

What is it flashes o'er the ground,
So neat and pretty, plump and round,
You all have seen it, I'll be bound?
My ankle.

And when the flowing polonaise
I with my little finger raise
What sets the boys in such a craze?
My ankle.

What is it glories in the rain
More than the greeny grass or grain?
Wait a minute—guess again,
My ankle.

Blow rainy winds and showery breezes,
No matter if the public sneezes,
It tickles me, and also pleases,
My ankle.

INTO THE LONE LAND.

Progress of the Governor-General in the North-West.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 1.—Word has arrived of the trip of the Governor-General and his party from Battleford to Fort Colgary, where they arrived Sept. 12th. The journey across the plains, so seldom undertaken, was successfully accomplished, though it took longer than was expected. A half breed and an Indian acted as guides, and took a more southerly direction than was anticipated, and as no trail existed, the long grass and occasionally bad weather were very trying to the horses. Sounding Lake was reached on the third. The weather was very cold for the next too days, with several degrees of frost at night. Recent traces of buffalo were found on the fifth, and on the seventh a herd of thirteen was seen, when a hunt was quickly got up and three bulls killed. The same day Red Deer River was crossed, and was fortunately low enough to ford, thus saving much time. The river was through a deep ravine at a spot which was so steep an the south side that the waggons had to be hauled up singly by double teams. One baggage waggon upset, but no damage was done. On the high table land a high storm of wind and rain, lasting twelve hours, was encountered after a long day's march. Many of the horses suffered from the effects of cold and rain the night before. Blackfoot crossing was reached on Friday evening, the 19th. Two thousand one hundred and fifty Sarcee were encamped here, and his Excellency held a Council early next day, old Chief Crowfoot being at the head of the Indians. About eighty of these were mounted, and went through a small field day. In many respects they seemed a more organized tribe than any yet seen. They left Blackfoot crossing same evening. Next day, about 25 miles from Colgary, his Excellency was met by Lieut.-Col. Irvine and Captain Colton, who brought some fresh horses, and by one o'clock to-day the party were camped within full view of the snowy peaks of the Rocky Mountains. A portion of the plain traversed in the long journey of 340 miles, though hardly fitted, except at intervals, for agricultural purposes, seems almost without exception adapted for grazing. For some days the route traversed was three thousand miles above the level of the sea, and thickly intersected by creeks and gullies. The conduct and the exertions of the Mounted Police escorts and drivers, under Lieut.-Col. Herchmer, have been beyond praise.

A YANKEE TRICK.

Pullman Car Conductors Being Discharged Because they are Canadian.

MONTREAL, Sept. 30.—There is much excitement among Pullman car conductors. It appears that some time ago complaint was made by a discharged conductor to General Manager Brown, of Chicago, that certain loose ways were prevalent among the conductors, the result was that several of Pinkerton's men were sent along the line between Chicago and Boston on the Grand Trunk Railway, and also between Montreal and Halifax. Some irregularities were reported by these detectives, and a score of suspensions, discharges and resignations have followed. Superintendent Clarke, very much disgusted at the petty nature of the trick, reigns owing to ill-health. Charles Robertson's assistant superintendent for ten years, has also resigned. One conductor had been found passing his wife a few miles on the road without a ticket, and was discharged. It is said that from the trivial nature of some of the offences the real cause of the discharges and suspensions is not known, but that Brown is opposed to Canadians as conductors, and wants to introduce Americans along the line. A statement that gives color to this is that Reid, Assistant Superintendent at Boston, will succeed Mr. Clarke as Superintendent of the Eastern Division. The amount of the deficit discovered by Pinkerton's men is said to be under $100.

Killed and Stripped Naked by Lightning

Yesterday Coroner Linton received the clothing and effects, or rather what was left of them, which had belonged to Thos. M. Douglas, the man who was killed by lightning several days ago at Agate. From some of the articles received it could be seen that the effects of the lightning were most terrible, and those persons who saw them did not wonder that the man had been stripped of every inch of his wearing apparel and left naked. The coat, pants and vest were almost unrecognizable, and were completely torn into strips not over an inch wide. The underware of the man was in the same condition. Indeed, one would have thought that Douglas had encountered a grizzly bear instead of a current of electricity.

The fluid must have passed from the victim's head to his shoulders, for the padding protrudes through a ragged rent. There is nothing left of the vest but a few pieces of the face; the back is missing. All that could be found of the shirt were the sleeves and a few frayed pieces of the body of the garment. The pantaloons and drawers were so mutilated that were it not for the suspender buttons on the band one could not tell what the burned torn piece of cloth had once been. The boots which the unfortunate man wore were new; there is nothing left of them but the soles with a few shreds of the uppers still sticking to them. Imagination cannot well paint more complete mutilation.

There are one or two truly wounderful things connected with Douglas's awful death which illustrates the power of the electric fluid. A buckskin purse was torn from the victim's pocket and thrown several rods. When it was picked up the body of the purse was torn and cut and burned, and bore the appearance of having gradually decayed. The clasp was broken and twisted into all sorts of shapes; and a silver coin in the purse was bent and discolosed. In one of the pockets of the vest were found four three cent stamps. One of them was torn through the center, and part of the edges had been burned by lightening; and a metal button in the same pocket was curled and twisted as though it had been doubled in a vise.

Exciting Icidents of the Forest Fires.

In Michigan the heat withered the leaves of standing trees two miles away from the fires, and seven miles off the beach at Forrester, sailors found the heat uncomfortable.

When Charles Hempstead saw his intended wife's house in flames he suggested a home of his own at once for her, and, with her consent, they sought the house of a preacher between Huron and Grindstone cities, where they were soon made man and wife.

A man leaped from a bluff into the lake and found himself close behind a large bear. They remained in company under the bank nearly all night, and the bear seemed as humble as a dog. Deer sought the companionship of cattle and horses, and paid no attention to persons rushing past them.

Twenty-eight people spent a night and a day in a cornfield above Richmondville. To windward of them was a field of peas, and when the flames got into this the party were pelted for hours with hot peas, which were shelled by the fire. Wet blankets, constant vigilence and the standing corn saved these people; but in other localities where the people sought the same refuge, they were smothered and burned.

A seven-mile ride for life under most extraordinary circumstances was the experience of a farmer near Forrester. He gathered fifteen persons in his waggon, and started for the beach. The fire was close behind them as they started, so close that the dresses of some of the women and children were on fire from the sparks. It was seven miles of up hill and down, with corduroy, nuts and roots, and the horses needed no whip to urge them into a mad run. As the waggon started the tire of a hind wheel rolled off. They could not stop for it, and yet, even on a good road, the wheel would have rushed down in going twenty yards without it. The horses pushed over that seven miles of rough road on a wild run, and the wheel stood firm. A delay of five minutes at any point of the road would have given fifteen more victims to the flames which followed on behind.

Will Shoes be Cheaper.

Shoes ought to be cheaper after this, for the patent on the McKay wax thread sewing machine has expired. It is thought that the royalties on this machine amounted to $1,000,000 a year in this country. One manufacturer, Joseph Davis, paid as high as $30,000 per annum to the patentee. The basis of the machine was an invention by Lyman R. Blake, of Abingdon, Mass., who in 1858 patented an arm working inside the shoe, and sewing directly through the upper and both soles without the use of the welt. Mr. Gordon McKay bought this invention for $8,000, and the Mathias patent, for channelling a shoe, for $9,000. Then in 1864, Blake placed an alcohol lamp in the arm or "horn," which kept the wax thread warm and made the machine capable of doing the finest sewing. The main patent was what was called a "process and product" patent, under which it was successfully claimed that no other machine could be put on the market to do the same work. One of the first lot of machines were bought by E. C. Burt and Geo. Silver, of New York, but gradually other large manufacturers came in until it is estimated that there are now 1,800 machines in use, which do the bulk of the machine shoe sewing of the country.—Inter-Ocean.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

Why will You

It is Dr. Boschee's German prescription, and it is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced their has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced. 2d1w1y

D. LANGELL'S ASTHMA & CATARRH REMEDY.

Having struggled 30 years between life and death with ASTHMA or PHTHISIC, treated by eminent Physicians and receiving no benefit, I was compelled during the last five years of my illness to sit in my chair day and night gasping for breath; my sufferings were beyond description. In despair I experimented on myself by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine thus obtained. I fortunately discovered this NONOPIUM CURE for ASTHMA or CATARRH, warranted to relieve the most stubborn case of Asthma in FIVE MINUTES, so that patients can lie down to rest and sleep comfortably. Any person not fully satisfied after using one-third of a box can return the remainder to the proprietor and the money will be refunded, or send me your address for a trial package FREE OF CHARGE. Should your druggist not keep the remedy, I can send it by mail on receipt of the price $1.00. For sale by all Druggists. Address D. LANGELL, Proprietor, Wooster, Ohio, or ALBERT AMBARD, Manager, 46 Astor House Offices, New York City.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even it it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For a'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Or write the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man,"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard;
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The subtlest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide,
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine—
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Faultless fit, splendid style, vast variety, good work and a very great saving in price will be found in M. & A's. Mantles and Ulsters.

NELSON HAMLIN TRIED.

HE IS FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

And is Sentenced to Imprisonment for Life in the Penetentiary.

THE PRISONER UTTERLY BREAKS DOWN UPON HEARING THE SENTENCE.

Its Severity a Great Surprise to all in the Court House—The Evidence of all the Witnesses—No New Light Whatever Thrown upon the Murder—The Prisoner's Good Character—Intoxication no Excuse for Crime—He is Ably Defended by Mr. D. W. Dumble—Removed from the Court Room.

Their first duty was to consider the case of Hamlin, indicted for murder. After an hour's retirement they brought in a true bill, as follows:—

COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH } Re.
To wit:— }

Jurors of our Lady the Queen, upon their oath present that Nelson Hamlin, on the fourth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one, at the town of Peterborough, in the county of Peterborough, did feloniously and wilfully and with malice aforethought, kill and murder Jos. Larocque.

(Signed) ASHTON FLETCHER.
Counsel for the Crown.

The prisoner pleaded not guilty, and asked that the case be laid over till to-morrow, (4th.) The witness subpœnaed are, Robt. White, J. G. Macdonald, Edward O'Conner. Jas. McNamara, Tenice Guerin, Odelos Lafort, R Kincaid, M.D., and Margaret Berube.

TUESDAY, Oct. 4th, 1881.

The assizes opened this morning at 9 o'clock, the first case called being that of The Queen vs. Nelson Hamlin, charged with wilful murder.

The Jurors sworn for the trial were as follows:—Washington Reid, Joshua Smithson, Geo. Elliott, Wm. Geary, Thos. Ferguson, Thos. Gordon, Jno. Stark, Hugh Duff, Andrew Davidson, Dennis Maloney, Wm. Dixon, Andrew Fowler.

The counsel for the Crown is Mr. A. Fletcher, of Woodstock, for the defence Mr. Dumble, of Peterborough, is retained.

The counsel for the Crown in his address to the Jurors after they had been sworn, warned them against being influenced by what they had seen in the papers, or any impressi ns they had formed from hearsay, telling them to devote their whole attention to the evidence, and render a verdict in accordance with it, not hesitating to convict if guilt were proven, or on the other hand to acquit if the opposite. He explained the meaning of the words "malice aforethought" as technically applied at law, and stated that it did not necessarily imply that there was a preconcerted design on the part of the person charged with the crime to perform that crime. If, for instance, a man had a horse which he knew kicked and rode him into a crowd for the purpose of scattering and frighting that crowd, and some one was kicked and killed, it would be murder of malice aforethought, although nothing was further from the mind of the rider than the killing of any one. He knew the danger and the risk he ran, and accepted it. He charged them not to pay attention to any plea of inebriety as that was no excuse, and stated that the mere use of a knife at all presupposed malice or the part of the prisoner.

The first witness called was Robt. White, senr., who was sworn and deposed,—I live on Charlotte street; remember the night of the 3rd Sept I was first awakened by my wife, who said that there was a fight on the corner of George street. I heard voices and some one call "murder." I ran down stairs undressed, picked up a rifle in the hall, and went out to the crowd. The prisoner called to me to save him; he was surrounded by a crowd. I could not tell who were holding him. It was very dark; did not see them striking him or abusing him. I told them to let him go. Some one said he had killed a man. I told them to take him to the lockup, then they took him away. I did not hear him say anything, except to call for my help.

Cross examined by Mr. Dumble,—I didn't see them abusing him. His face was all bleeding, I thought at first he was the man who was being murdered.

TENICE GUERIN sworn. I live down by the Little Lake, I remember the night of the 3rd of September. I saw deceased and prisoner, and Lefort in Mrs, Berubee's shop, at the lower end of George street. Prisoner and I were there first, with one Edward O'Conner who introduced me to prisoner. I had never seen him before. Mrs. Berubee wanted prisoner to go away and O'Conner coaxed him off. He afterwards came back. Mrs. Berubee keeps a small grocery and sold liquor on the sly. The prisoner had been drinking but had control of himself when I parted from him to go home after 12 o'clock. I did not see fight or hear any angry words pass between him or Larocque. Heard shouting when I had got some distance away, did not think anything of it.

Cross examined by defendant's counsel. Had four drinks; prisoner had four that I saw, he may have had others before I came in. He seemed perfectly sober when introduced to me, but had, I think, a little liquor in him. I think Larocque was a little the heaviest man in build.

ODELAS LEFORT'S evidence was the same as reported before at the inquest, and is familiar to our readers.

Cross examined by Mr. Dumble,—When I and Larocque went back the second time to Mrs. Berubee's we found the prisoner there. I did'nt drink with him except once. Mrs. Berubee did'nt state any reason for wanting him away. He was a little the worse of liquor. When Larocque and I left to go home Larocque made use of no threats. When on the street he said that he would ask prisoner whether he meant in earnest what he had called him, or whether he was only fooling. In the argument that followed with prisoner as to the words spoken by him when is Berubee's he did not say, "You did say it and by J——I'll make you swallow it." He and the prisoner were not shouting out loud. I don't know whether Moses Ranger could hear the dispute spoken of from his house. I did not see Larocque strike Hamlin more than once. He kicked him twice after he was stabbed. He did not kick him before. After Larocque struck him with his left hand, prisoner staggered back off the sidewalk. Larocque followed him slowly, prisoner came towards him and they clinched. In the argument before the blows were struck prisoner did'nt seem to care whether he fought or not. He did not say anything in answer to Larocque except that he had not called him a s——b——. I did not see Larocque put his arm about prisoner's neck and choke him. I only heard the prisoner call for me to separate them, once. That was after he had stabbed. I went forward and they separated. I had five glasses of liquor. Was not drunk. Am 19 years of age. Larocque did not say that he had been in a great many quarrels in Montreal, and had been very successful in them. I have heard that since the murder.

R. WHITE, JR., sworn,—I live in Peterborough, on Charlotte street. I remember the row when Larocque was killed. I was going down George street when I heard Lefort calling for help. When I got down Lefort was standing between prisoner and deceased. Lefort said that prisoner had killed a man. I called for help from some others who were following me up. I caught hold of prisoner. He attempted to run away but I tripped him up and James McNamara caught him, while I went for a doctor. When Lefort suggested going for a doctor prisoner said "Yes, and you had better go quick." Deceased was lying dead at this time. I went for a doctor, but a gentleman met me and went instead of me. I was present when the knife produced was found. It was found near the corner.

To Mr. Dumble,—I did not see any person beat or try to beat the prisoner.

JAS. MCNAMARA, sworn,—My attention was drawn to the affair by shouts of murder. I saw prisoner trying to run away. I caught him and held him until some others came up. Mr. R White, Sr., thought I was abusing him.

JAMES G. MACDONALD, sworn,—I reside in Peterborough. My attention was drawn to the murder by hearing loud cries. I was in Potvin's barber shop at the time. R. White, Jr., told me that a man was killed at the corner of George and Charlotte streets. I went down and found a dead body lying in the gutter. I lifted the head and one of the hands, but they fell back limp. The man was quite dead. I saw a crowd across the road, and upon going over found that James McNamara had hold of the prisoner, whom it was said had killed the man who was lying in the gutter. R. White, Sr., had a gun and was threatening to shoot McNamara if he did not let the prisoner go. I explained that the prisoner had committed a murder, when Mr. White desisted. With the assistance of McNamara I placed the prisoner in a cell, after searching him. On the way to the police station the prisoner admitted killing Larocque, and said, "I can't fight two to one." Prisoner told me that the knife was "over near Joe."

To Mr. Dumble,—The prisoner's face was covered with blood, which evidently came from his nose. He had a mark on his nose, where he said Larocque hit him. The prisoner was intoxicated, and although he could walk without support, still he was leaning against me all the time I was near him. I could smell the liquor from his breath very strong.

JUDGE ARMOUR—Had the prisoner any other marks?

WITNESS—He had two others, one on his right temple and the other under his left jaw.

JUDGE ARMOUR—Did he say how he received the marks?

WITNESS—I do not remember hearing him say anything about the one on his temple, but he said that he received the one on his jaw from a kick while he was down.

R. KINCAID, M.D., sworn,—I am a medical practitioner. On the morning of the 4th of September last I was called to see a man that had been stabbed. I went and found a man lying dead at the corner of George and Charlotte Streets. I saw marks of blood; the deceased was quite dead. I was present when the knife produced was found. There was very little blood on it. I noticed that it was only recently broken. The blade would only have to pass through a thin flannel guernesy. I held a post mortem examination. I found three wounds; I found the body that of a healthy, sound, well developed man, with no signs of disease. Two of the wounds were very slight but the third was a clear cutting wound, and had penetrated into the right ventricle of the heart. That would allow the blood to escape and instant death would follow. I heard a witness swear that deceased kicked the prisoner after he was stabbed, but I do not believe it. The fatal wound was caused by a sharp cutting instrument. It might have been caused by the knife produced.

Mrs. Berubee was here called and took the stand, but was not sworn as it was thought she could tell nothing new.

THE DEFENCE.

MOSES RANGER, sworn,—I live in Peterboro' on Charlotte Stteet, about half an acre from where the murder took place; I was in bed; I heard a noise and got up; I heard Larocque say "you said that." Another person said "I did not." This was repeated four or five times. The noise was very loud. Hamlin said "I never said that" and Larocque said "you did say that." This was repeated by both nine or ten times.

Mr. PETER GOYETTE was here sworn as interpreter.

Witness continuing; I did not know who the person was that were speaking. One of the persons said "you did and you will swallow it." Two of the parties then grappled and I heard two blows. I saw a cigar on fire fly on the street. I ran down stairs to tell the boarders. The boarders all went over to see the row. I went up stairs again and put my head out of the window. I heard after that that some person was killed. I did not see any kicking. One man in the crowd said "you killed him," and another replied "I did not." One of the men was then caught.

To Mr. Fletcher. I have known prisoner for about a year. He called at my place once and a while. I did not know the rest of those who were quarreling. I could see that there were two men.

To Mr. Dumble. There are two houses between mine and George street.

JOSEPH PINE sworn. I live on Charlotte street. I live nearer George street than the last witness. On the night Larocque was killed I was in bed but not asleep. Two men commenced to talk loud on the corner of George and Charlotte streets. I knew there was going to be a row. I went to the window. I heard one man say "Did you mean what you said" the other replied "I did not say it." This went on for some time, until at last one said, "If you don't own it I will lick you and if you do own it I will not touch you." The two men shortly afterwards clenched. I saw a lighted cigar fly fully ten or twelve feet. Several blows were then struck. One of the men after every blow said "I didn't say it." I did not hear any swearing. I think the prisoner was knocked down and kicked. Prisoner face was down and he was kicked when he lay in the mud. When prisoner fell off the sidewalk Larocque followed him up.

To Mr. Fletcher. My bedroom is up stairs. My house is over half an acre from where the row took place. The gas lamp at the corner was not lighted. I jumped out of bed at the first noise I heard. I could not see all that took place. I saw two men at it.

To Mr. Dumble. I just saw the prisoner a few times. I did not know the deceased.

TIMOTHY DORGAN, Emily, sworn. I am a farmer. I have known the prisoner for nearly three years. He has worked for me. I know nothing ill of him.

ANTOINE DUBOIS sworn. I have known the prisoner for seven or eight years. I never boarded a better man. The prisoner never quarrelled with any one. He was a good quiet man. He has a good character. I have never heard anything against him before.

MR. GRANDY sworn. I have known prisoner for some time. His character is good.

JOSEPH LEVINE sworn. I went to school with Hamlin. I know of nothing against his character.

Mr. DUMBLE addressed the jury in an able defence of the prisoner, urging that the act was committed in self-defence from a deadly attack.

Mr. FLETCHER, against, spoke for the prosecution.

The JUDGE summed up, explaining the difference between murder, manslaughter and justifiable homicide, and analysing the evidence he commented severely on the town authorities for not suppressing the unlicensed groggery in which the fatal altercation first arose. He thought there was evidence to make out a case of self-defence; it was for the jury to determine whether the crime was murder or only manslaughter.

The jury then retired.

A VERDICT OF MANSLAUGHTER.

At half-past two o'clock the jury filed back into the Court Room and delivered a verdict of manslaughter.

In reply to the question of the court as to what he had to say that sentence should be passed on him in accordance with the verdict, the prisoner bowed his face in his hands and said nothing.

TO THE PRISONER.

The court then addressed the prisoner on the awfulness of his crime, and said that the jury, by finding him guilty of manslaughter, had evidently taken the most merciful view of the case possible on the evidence. He would not find fault with this verdict, but if they had brought the offence in murder, the evidence would have been sufficient to support them. It was therefore his duty to pronounce the heaviest allowable sentence on the prisoner for the crime of which he had been found guilty. He accordingly sentenced him to the Kingston Penitentiary for life.

The prisoner broke down and sobbed on hearing the sentence, which was much heavier than was expected.

This being the only case before them the petit jury were dismissed and the court adjourned.

Denne and Sperry's Loss.

The compensation awarded the above gentleman by those appointed to fix the damage done them by the late fire is $1,045 on building and machinery, and $275 on stock. The Insurance companies may congratulate themselves and thank Mr. Denne that their loss was not greater. If he had allowed the water to be thrown into the burning building, as was the wish of the onlookers, the damage to stock would have been ten times as great.

The Market.

Prices on the market to-day show a downward tendency still, in everything but rye. Wheat has fallen from $1.35 to $1.32-33, this however, may be partially accounted for by reason of Mr. Denne having withdrawn from the buying till his mill gets in running order again. Barley sold at 85 as the highest and oats at 37. Rye was sold as high as 90c.

Railway Notes.

Some thirty return tickets were issued to Lindsay and return to-day at the Midland station.

The noon train for the north was an hour and a half late. Delayed for Grand Trunk at Port Hope.

New Goods.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1881.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE

QUEEN'S BENCH AND COMMON PLEAS DIVISIONS—THE FALL ASSIZES.

OCTOBER 4th, 1881.

The Grand Jury brought in the following presentment:—

We the Grand Jury of our Soverign Lady the Queen, humbly present:

That we have disposed of the cases brought before us to the best of our ability.

That we have visited the gaol as directed by your Lordship and found no complaints, and everything clean and in good order, it does the gaol officials much credit.

There were confined seven male and three female prisoners most of whom were vagrants and we would wish some employment could be found them to deter others from making winter quarters of the county gaol.

One prisoner is charged with the crime of murder, we cannot but feel that he has been brought to his awful position through frequenting unlicensed grog shops, where spirits are sold at unlawful hours. Such places ought to be vigorously put down being the cause of the majority of the crimes committed.

We regret to learn that the gaol is seldom or never visited by the ministers of religion and but for the services of two or three laymen, the prisoners would be destitute of any religious instruction.

C. S. DUDMAN,
Foreman of Grand Jury.
Peterborough, October 4th, 1881.

The Judge in reply thanked the jury for their suggestions and said that a copy of their presentment would be placed on record. He reflected on the town authorities for allowing such a place as the grog shop spoken of to flourish on the main street, and said that it was singular that they should permit so open a breach of the license laws. It was hard to legislate to restrain the tastes and habits of individuals and yet to repress a great and growing evil it was necessary that any departure from the lawful traffic which was, in all conscience, bad enough in its effects, should be punished severely. He said his views on the license question were in favour of great stringency being exercised towards those who broke the conditions. He reminded the jury that a hotel or tavern in the first place was not meant for a lounging place for residents of the town in which it stood. It was a place for the accommodation of travellers, and their beasts if they were driving, and he, if he could, would make the law so stand as to deprive of his license any hotel or tavern-keeper who permitted the young men of the town to lounge about for the mere purpose of tippling. His Honour then went on to say that it had often occurred to him that municipalities might with advantage tax themselves for the purpose of offering the young men residing in them some substitute for the tavern rendezvous, that would satisfy the craving which most feel for the society of each other, without the mournful effects brought about by the excess of liquor. It was hard for parents to keep boys at home, and if there were some institution of the kind spoken of where innocent amusement might be indulged in at no expense, and only on condition of good behaviour, it might be the means of doing great service to the morals of the community.

At the conclusion of his address His Honour informed them that there was nothing else before them and that they were accordingly dismissed.

SKATING AND CURLING.

Meeting of the Rink Shareholders at the Oriental on Tuesday Night—A Satisfactory Annual Report—Outside Ice to be Formed—Application for Sidewalk.

A meeting of the shareholders of the Peterborough Skating and Curling Rink was held at the Oriental on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. There were present Mr. G. F. Ferguson in the chair, Messrs. A. McNeal, R. N. Roddy, P. Connel, A. E. Moffatt, William, Robert, and J. I. Davidson, Robert Innis, E. B. Edwards and Colonel Haultain.

THE ANNUAL REPORT.

The first business was the reading of the annual report which showed the finances to be in a very flourishing condition. The following is the balance sheet:—

Financial statement of the Peterborough Curling and Skating Rink Co., for the year 1880—81.

RECEIPTS.

Balance from last year	$4.52
Total receipts	$739.23
	$743.75

EXPENDITURE.

Total expenses	$535.30
Balance on hand	$208.45
	$743.75

When the balance on hand is added to the amount paid on the building in addition to the stock subscribed it makes a very handsome show indeed. The following table will explain this:—

Cost of building		$2694.50
Stock paid up	$1870.00
Received from Revenue	724.50
		$2694.50

According to this then, there has been paid from the receipts, $824.50, in addition to the stock paid up, so clearing the debt on the building, this, added to the balance on hand makes $1032.50. As the original investment was only $1870, this represents a little more than 18 per cent per annum for the three years, during which the rink has been running. Next year the directors will undoubtedly be able to declare a very handsome dividend.

The report as read was adopted.

Mr. EDWARDS suggested that it might be well as an additional attraction this year to endeavor to establish outside ice.

Some discussion on the cost followed in which all showed their sense of the value of the arrangement. The matter was accordingly left as a suggestion to the directors to be dealt with at their discretion.

SIDEWALK FROM HUNTER STREET.

The Secretary was directed to write the Town Council to ascertain for what cause the appropriation granted on previous application of the Rink Co., for the purpose of laying down a sidewalk from Hunter street to the door of the rink had not been expended.

Votes of thanks to the scrutineer, and to the directors were then passed, after which the meeting adjourned.

THE COLLECTOR'S ROLL.

The following are some interesting figures culled from the Collector's Roll for 1881, which has been placed in his hands, showing who pay the taxes of the towns, a good table to silence the growlers. As usual the books show that number two ward pays the most of the taxes. In accordance with our usual custom, after considerable trouble, we present our readers with a table showing the amount of taxes payed by the different wards of the town, and the amount lavied on each ward for each particular purpose.

Ward.	Adm. of Justice.	Town Rate.	Public Schools.	Separate Schools.	Collegiate Institute.	Int. and P. S. Town Deb.	Int. and P. S. Town Deb.	Water Rate.	Sinking Fund.	Labour.	Debt.	Arrears.	Total.

FRENCH NEGLIGENCE.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—The Paris press to-day is filled with indignant comments on the negligence of the French military authorities at Tunis, which has led to the massacre and mutilation of all of the French officials at the railway station at Wadzergha.

WATCHING THE NIHILISTS.

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—Berlin advices state that on the Russian frontiner greater vigilance is exercised than hitherto. Doings in Prussia, Austria and Roumania are watched with a view to prevent the entrance or exit of Nihilist emissaries at the ports, and vessels from England, France, and America are examined for infernal machines.

HORRIBLE MASSACRE.

TUNIS, Oct. 4.—Details of the Wadzergha massacre show that the Arabs heaped up 300 sleepers, upon which they cast grease, tow, and oil, and flung the victims alive into the burning mass.

COMMERCIAL SUPERIORITY.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Sir Stafford Northcote, in his speech at Hull yesterday, said:—"There are those who think commercial superiority will, as the Premier himself has said, pass from England to America. I do not at least believe that this will be in our time if we make use of existing means to support our commercial interests. If we resort to false remedies we may do irreparable mischief. I do not believe in some of the suggestions put forward by friends of our own side, nor in the Liberal suggestion that the state of agriculture is remediable by a radical change of land laws, although they are susceptable of amendment."

THE BONAPARTIST PARTY.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—It is stated in Bonapartist circles that the ex-Empress Eugene on the occasion of her recent hurried visit to this city made a will leaving all her fortune to Prince Victor, and declaring him the head of the Bonapartist party. A clause in this curious document urges the Prince to devote all his money to the service of the cause of the Empire.

CHECKING THE REBELS.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—The Emperor of Morocco is forming two columns of troops to operate against the rebels on the Algerian frontier, thus obviating the necessity for the French entering Morocco.

ANOTHER EGYPTIAN CRISIS.

ALEXANDRA, Oct. 4.—The movements of the National party are assuming grave proportions. The natives of Alexandria are demanding the formation of a National guard for the defence of the coast.

RUSSIA ONLY A SPECTATOR.

ST. PETERSBOURG, Oct. 4.—The Journal de St. Petersbourg, the Russian official organ says:—"Russia is able for the present to remain simply a spectator of the competition aroused by the recent pronunciamento at Cairo, but the possession of Egypt is not an exclusively English or even Anglo-French question. It is too closely connected with the general Eastern status in quo to allow any Government to settle it on its own authority."

CONDEMNING GAMBETTA.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—The Socialists of Paris are to meet to-night in the Faubourg Montmartre to pass formal sentence on M. Gambetta for his complicity in the Tunisian affair.

SWEEDISH CROPS.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 4.—Letters published state that the crops in Sweeden have failed, and it is reported that a famine is impending.

THE FALLEN BRAVE.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 4.—The monument to the memory of the Russian soldiers who fell in the neighborhood of Philippopolis during the Turkish war was unveiled to-day.

UNSATISFACTORY.

ROME, Oct. 4.—The Italian Government has informed the Khedive of Egypt that the results of an enquiry into the massacre of the Calian expedition under Lieut. Gieulleti, some months ago, are unsatisfactory.

BORE VOLKSRAAD.

PRETORIA, Oct. 4.—There have been violent debates in the Volksraad, and the leaders of the opposition threatened to impeach the Triumvirate unless they consent to reject the convention with England.

MORE SYMPATHY.

MANCHESTER, Oct. 4.—The Congregational Union of England and Wales, numbering 1,600 delegates, in session at Manchester, to-day passed resolutions of condolence with Mrs. Garfield and sympathy with the American national woe.

VATICAN AND THE POWERS.

ROME, Oct. 4.—It is stated that the Pope will deliver a very important allocution on the subject of the relations of the Vatican with the powers at a consistory to be held preparatory to the canonizations on the 8th December.

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

AMERICAN.

A WRECKED SCHOONER.

OSWEGO, Oct. 5.—The schooner Richardson with barley from Canada, this morning struck the East Pier, and is a total wreck. The crew were saved.

MURDERED "JUST FOR FUN."

RALEIGH, N.C., Oct. 5.—Bud McNeil and Nathan Tripps, actors, after obtaining considerable whiskey at a still in Wilke's Company, resolved to kill the first man they met. COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH DIRECTORY.

In January last the undersigned announced that "as soon as the census and assessment returns of the current year can be made available" they would undertake the publication of a good and reliable directory for the County of Peterborough "provided they receive that encouragement which is usually accorded to such undertakings."

Since making that announcement they have endeavoured to secure such orders for their proposed directory and for advertisements therein as would justify them in proceeding with its publication. In this however they have been disappointed after a very thorough canvass. Up to the time of writing the total number subscribed for is 150 copies, including 100 by the County Council, ten by one company and three by another, while for advertisements, the order book of our agent foots up the magnificent sum of $24. No doubt these figures could be considerably increased by a system of persistant begging, but the undersigned have no desire to press such a work upon the business men of this district, when, with a few exceptions, it is apparent they neither desire or appreciate it as was anticipated. To the most cursory reader of their prospectus it must have been apparent that to cover properly the ground indicated, and do the work in a thorough and reliable manner, a considerable outlay of time and money would be necessary, and that to recoup the publishers for the same, a large subscription list and a liberal advertising patronage would be required. As this is not likely to be forthcoming, they have decided to abandon the undertaking, preferring to submit to the loss of the expenses already incurred, rather than encounter a larger one, or to attempt to recoup themselves by reducing the standard of the work, and by soliciting as a favour, that for which they believed they were offering full value. In taking this step the undersigned desire to return their thanks to the County Council and the few who were willing to do their part in securing the publication of a work which they still believe would have proved of considerable advantage to the town and county, had they seen their way to its publication as originally proposed.

A Dangerous Operation.

One of the most successful, as well as the most dangerous operations, ever undertaken in the way of submarine engineering in this country, or any other, was performed, says the Winnipeg Times, near Rat Portage, last Wednesday and Friday, by James C. Sanderson of the Atlantic Submarine Engineering company, of New London, Conn., in the lifting of eighteen cans of nitro-glycerine, belonging to the Hamilton Powder company, from the bottom of the lake of the Woods, off the shore of what is known as Glycerine Island. The difficulty as well as danger of the task may be understood when we say that the cans of this extremely treacherous material lay hidden under three feet of mud, forty-five feet below the surface of the water, and had laid in that condition since last spring, when the cargo went through the ice. The utmost care was exercised by the diver, as well as all hands engaged in the work, and succeeded in raising it without any damage being done. The submarine work of the Toronto waterworks was performed by Mr. Anderson.

An English Land Bill.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A Land Bill for England has been finally considered by a special committee of Farmers' Alliance. The bill aims at the establishment of complete security for the capital of farmers, and entire immunity from capricious eviction; the right of the tenant to sell improvements in open market, with the provision that the landlord must except as a tenant for seven years, and at the same rent as that of the outgoing tenant, the person who purchases them; and the creation of a Land Court in every district for the settlement of questions concerning rents and all other disputes.

The Pall Mall Gazette says:—"If the draft of the English Land bill is supported by a majority of the farmers throughout the country, and vigorously used as a means of agitating for reform, the day when Parliament must vote urgency for the bill is not very far off."

Commercial.

The failures in the United States for the nine months ending Sep. 30th were 3,890, against 3,477 for the corresponding period of 1880. The liabilities were $51,000,000, against $46,000,000 for the same period in 1880. Bradstreet's report is that the general trade throughout the United States has bounded ahead this week. Its present condition is an approximate of the full relization of the activity to which the reports during the past months were printed. The week's failures were 123, an increase of 13; in Canada 11, decrease 3.

SALARIES.

Mr. Stevenson said the salary of Mr. Smith was not sufficient. The whole matter of salaries should be gone into and the salaries arranged on a different basis.

FOR THE BOYS.

Inspector Stratton said the boys had no waiting room for the winter, and the provision of one was a necessity. The one used last year was now used for another purpose. Miss Graham's room was now all occupied and the Property Committee should see about the matter before the very cold weather fully sets in. He might also say that the re-arrangement of the rooms and classes should be looked into. Some teachers now had only 20 pupils, while others had 80, and in many cases some teachers were doing twice as much as others, and as a general thing those who did the most work received the least pay. Some of the teachers have more than they can do or attend to. It would be a difficult matter for the principal to undertake to change the classes without the sanction of the Board. If the Board said it had to be done the teachers could not complain. In some cases the pupils would have to be changed from one school to another. One teacher in the South Ward School was doing twice as much as two teachers in the same school. One teacher can manage and teach 50 or 60 pupils as easily as they can manage 20. The same will apply to the Collegiate Institute.

Mr. DUMBLE thought that the Inspector and Mr. Braden could carry out the proposed changes better than any committee, and he was in favor of the Board sanctioning anything that the proposed gentlemen might do.

Mr. MCCLELLAND thought it should be left to the committee with the addition of Messrs. Stratton and Braden in order to prevent grumbling.

Inspector STRATTON again favored leaving it to the committee.

ON COMMITTEES.

Moved by Mr. STRATTON, seconded by Mr. TOOLE that the name of Mr. A. P. Poussette be placed on all the Committees on which the name of Mr. J. F. Dennistoun appeared.—Carried.

PHYSICAL TRAINING.

Mr. DUMBLE thought that there was not enough attention paid to physical training in our schools. Most of the small children were stooped and round shouldered, caused by leaning over their desks. Many appear to think that if their little brains are "crammed" and if we give them lots of studies and books we are doing all that is necessary, but he did not believe it. He would favor fitting up a large room as a gymnasium, and felt that if such was done, the children would in a short time become healthy and muscular. He had no doubt that by one month's training, each of the pupils could expand their chests at least one inch. He thought that they would be making a good investment by so doing.

Moved by Mr. STRATTON, seconded by Mr. DUMBLE,—That the matter of providing a waiting room for the boys be referred to the Property Committee and the Principal of the Public Schools, with power to act.—Carried.

EQUALIZING SALARIES.

Moved by Mr. STRATTON, seconded by Mr. DUMBLE,—That the question of equalizing the salaries of the teachers in the Institute and Public Schools be referred to the Committee on Appointments, with instructions to report at the next meeting of the Board. The Committee also to consider the matter of the notice of motion submitted by Mr. Toole at the April meeting, and also to consider the communication of Mr. Smith, for an increase of salary.—Carried.—

YEAS.—Messrs. Dumble, McClelland, Robinson, Burnham, Wrighton, Toole and Stratton.—7.

NAYS.—Messrs. Poussette, Sawers and Rutherford.—3.

The Board then adjourned.

How Forests Pay in Scotland.

A writer in an English journal says that there have been forests in the neighbourhood of Darnaway for many centuries. The oak forest of Darnaway, which, by the way, is the seat of the Earls of Moray, is acknowledged to be the finest in Scotland, and there are few which can compare with it anywhere in the British Isles. For over a century the oak produced from this forest, which is over 3,000 acres in extent, has attracted attention all over the north of Scotland, and ship-builders and wheelwrights from all parts annually attend the sales. As early as the latter years of the last century the thinnings brought $5,000 per annum, and between 1830 and 1840 the sale of timber and bark ranged from $20,000 to $25,000 yearly. Owing to the low price of both wood and bark, not so much has been cut lately as in former years, but notwithstanding the way it has been reserved, it is said that after paying every expense during the growth of the timber, the revenue of the forest per acre has been double that of the finest arable land in the country. Some idea of the extent of the forest, including the oak and pine woods, may be gathered from the fact that in order to make a tour through them a walk of twenty-six miles has to be engaged in.

A Good Deal of It.

At the late bankers' convention at Niagara Falls, N.Y., the future utility of the water power of the falls was discussed, and the statement made that the conversion of the 60,000,000 cubic feet of water hourly passing down the river into horse power under a fall of 200 feet, would yield an aggregate of 3,000,000 horse power. A full utilisation of this enormous force would serve the present needs of a population four times that of the United States to-day. Doubtless the time is not far distant when it will be partly utilized, and it must be a sort of relief to the economist to know that such a wonderful natural reserve force is at hand, if the need for it should ever arise.

A HUGE SCHEME.

The Atlantic and Western Railway Company's Undertaking—A Road From Ocean to Ocean—Operations Commenced Under the Auspices of the Pacific Railway Company—A New Bridge Over the St. Lawrence—A Gigantic Undertaking.

MONTREAL, Sept. 3.—The commencement of one of the most important enterprises to the future of Montreal that has for many years been attempted was initiated to-day under the direction of the Atlantic and Western Railway. Mr. T. C. Paterson, C. E., late of the Occidental railway, with a full staff of engineers and men, commenced the surveys and soundings for the new bridge over the St. Lawrence at Verdun, near the city. The work will be prosecuted with all the vigour possible, so that the specifications for the bridge will be ready in time for operations on the structure to commence early next spring. In addition to this a survey under the same engineer will be made from Montreal to Smith's Falls, and a branch line constructed to the latter point so as to connect with the Canadian Pacific there. From Smith's Falls to Perth the old line of the Canada Pacific will be utilized, and from Perth the new Ontario and Quebec railway now being located to Toronto. This will complete the western connection from Montreal and will be an independent line in competition with the Grand Trunk. It will be the shortest and most direct to Toronto. Arrangements are now in progress for getting running powers over existing lines to the south, and building any links that may be necessary to the Atlantic coast, thus giving a grand through railway via Montreal from the Atlantic to the Pacific. This new enterprise—the bridges especially—is of vital importance to the commercial interests of Montreal. It will bring with it also the establishment of a monster depot and gigantic car and locomotive shops in the western section of the city, involving not only an immense ready money outlay, but permanent benefit thereafter in giving employment to hundreds of skilled mechanics. Such a vast enterprise under the auspices of the Canada Pacific Railway Company (which is a guarantee of its being carried out) should receive substantial and encouraging support from the citizens of Montreal. It will do more to give an impetus to the trade of the city than anything since the building of the Grand Trunk.

At a meeting held here the following permanent directors were appointed:—Messrs. Geo. Stephen, Duncan McIntyre, president and vice-president Canada Pacific railway, Hon. Bradley Barlow, South-Eastern railway, Hon. R. Thibaudeau, Hon. Peter Mitchel, Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, C. C. Colby, A. B. Chaffee, and J. Kimball, New York. Mr. McIntyre was appointed president, and Mr. A. B. Chaffee vice-president. A call of ten per cent. was made on the capital and subscribed on the spot by the shareholders present. Full instructions were given to Mr. Paterson to prosecute the surveys and procure all necessary boats for the soundings in the river.

ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.

On a Mountain Top by Telegraph—Two Fools Made Happy—Accident to the Clergyman.

For a romantic marriage, a Boston couple are entitled to the first prize. About ten days ago Mr. C. A. Dutton and Miss Nellie J. Throcmorton, both of this city, accompanied by Herman A. Throcmorton and Mrs. H. A. Throcmorton, appeared at the Manitou House at Colorado Springs, and made inquiry concerning the difficulties of ascending Pike's Peak, and in the course of the evening engaged the Rev. Dr. J. Edwards Smith to go with them to the summit of the peak for the purpose of performing a marriage ceremony. Next morning at sunshine six bronchos stood in front of the Manitou House, and in a few minutes the entire party were in the saddle. The Rev. Dr. Smith was mounted upon a particularly lively brute, which, after down the streets, from the hotel to the bridge over the fountain, wound up his performance by bucking the clergyman over the railing into the stream. Mr. Smith was rescued, and, although not seriously injured, the accident deranged the plans of the wedding party, for the clergyman declined to risk his health by continuing the trip, in spite of all persuasion and the offer of a safe and quiet animal. After much consultation the young gentleman suggested that Dr. Smith should come to Colorado Springs, and from the United States telegraph office, which is connected with the signal station on the peak, perform the marriage ceremony by telegraph. The doctor consented to this arrangement, and thus, by accident,

WALTZING ON TWO LEGS

ANOTHER ELEMENT OF ROMANCE

was added to this already romantic affair. The summit was reached about noon, and Sergeant O'Keefe was found in charge of the station. He received his visitors with his usual hospitality, and when their intention of celebrating a wedding was announced, was overjoyed, and set about making arrangements. The instrument room of the signal station was decorated with flowers and flags, and then the Sergeant seated himself at the telegraph instrument and sent a call down to the Springs office, 1,000 feet below. Officer Jones, who was in charge, replied and informed the Sergeant that the Rev. Dr. Smith had arrived and was ready to proceed with the ceremony. The

YOUNG PEOPLE JOINED HANDS

and stood before the Sergeant, the father and mother of the bride standing on either side, and the Sergeant at the instrument read off the questions of the clergyman as they came thrilling over the wires. There was a rapid clicking for a moment, and then Sergeant O'Keefe in a solemn voice, repeated the message: "Charles A. Dutton, do you take Nellie J. Throcmorton to be your lawful wife?" "I do," responded the bridegroom, with evident emotion. The Sergeant tapped the telegraph instrument, and in another moment another message came and was read by him: "Nellie J. Throcmorton, do you take Charles A. Dutton to be your lawful and wedded husband? "I do," said the bride, in a low voice. The Sergeant heard it, however, and transmitted, the reply. There was a moment's pause, and then came the solemn concluding words. Up from the valley to that small stone keep 14,000 feet above ocean came that message, making two hearts one: "Then I pronounce you man and wife."

A Quaker Wedding.

Marriage is contracted in the Society of Friends with as little ceremony as their other religious duties. The young people, have fallen in love and obtained the consent of their parents, give notice to the ecclesiastical council, who make the needful inquiries, and publish a form of banns at the following Sunday meeting to ascertain if there is any valid objection to the marriage. Then the bride and bridegroom, with their relatives and friends, attend one of the ordinary week day devotional meetings, at which the solemn contract is completed without any formal ritual, there being no clergyman and no ring.

Without parson or priest at the table they stand,
And the bridegroom says—holding his bride by the hand—
"I John, take friend Margaret here for my wife,
To be loving and faithful while God gives us life,"
No vows to the simple sweet promise lend force.
Yet who ever heard of a Quaker divorce,

RICH SILVER DISCOVERY IN DAKOTA.

A City Founded in Four Days, With Nine Saloons, Two Faro Banks, and a Daily Newspaper.

DEADWOOD, Dak., Aug. 24.—Some time ago an old prospector named Redpath found some float rock on the hills about ten miles from this city, which he thought was pure carbonate. He brought it to the city, had it assayed, and found that it went up to the thousands of ounces of silver to the ton. He also showed it to old Colorado miners, who pronounced it the pure stub, and were very anxious to discover where it came from. There was a great deal of mystery at first, in a short time it took possession of everybody, and the stampede of the season was inaugurated. The ground on which the discovery was made was in a wild portion of the country that had never been prospected. There were no roads to the point, and the first crowd of treasure hunters made their way there on horseback or foot. They came back with specimens of rich rock, and in a day or two Deadwood Central City; and Lead City were almost depopulated. A town was laid out, lots drawn by all, present rules of government agreed to, and the place named "West Virginia City." In 38 hours the town contained nearly 1,000 inhabitants, and nine saloons were in operation. On the third day two faro banks were opened, restaurants were started, and, to cap the climax, on the fourth day the first copy of a daily newspaper named the Carbonate Reporter, was issued. Forty buildings have been erected during the last week, and as high as $500 has been paid for building lots. The town promises to be permanent, as there have been many rich finds.

Something in the Eye.

One of the first things that anybody does when he gets anything in his eye is to vehemently rub the injured organ, with the vain hope of getting rid of the offending substance; and what is the result? Why, instead of making matters better they are made far worse, and the eye is left dry, inflamed, and consequently more painful, and in many cases, if the substance be at all pointed, as, for instance, a peice of iron filing, a stone chip, &c., the extraction of it is made infinitely more difficult. No matter what it is that has got into the eye (with the exception of mortar and lime), always remember this, viz., to keep the eyes closed for as long as you can, without tuching them, and in most cases you will find the tears, swelling out, will be sufficent to wash the offending substance, if not absolutely, on to your cheek, yet so near the edge of the eyelid as to be easily removed. If however, this should not answer, it is best to bathe the eyes with a moistened soft hankerchief or sponge. Should this fail, and should the substance be out of sight, it will generally be found under the upper eyelid, and to remove it from this we must turn up the lid. This is done by laying a small probe, or the blunt end of a darning needle or a thin pencil, across the upper lid, about half an inch from its margin; then, by taking the middle eye-lashes between the finger and thumb and drawing them outwards, whilst at the same time the probe is gently pressed upon the lid, and the patient is told to look down, the eyelid is easily averted. The foreign substance now comes in sight, and can be readily removed with something soft, as a camel's hair brush, a feather, &c. If, however, you find the substance is embedded and won't move, a doctor ought to see the eye as soon as possible. Mortar or lime in the eye occasions great pain and injury if not quickly removed. If immediately, the eye should be well washed with a tepid solution of vinegar and water (about a teaspoonful of vinegar to two ounces of water) and the lid being averted, as before described, all particles should be removed. A drop or two of oil afterwards dropped into the eye will often greatly soothe.—From "Little Accidents," in the Boys' Newspaper.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

Why will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's German prescription, and it is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced their has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced. 2d1w1y

D. LANGELL'S ASTHMA & CATARRH REMEDY.

Having struggled 30 years between life and death with ASTHMA or PHTHISIC, treated by eminent Physicians and receiving no benefit, I was compelled during the last five years of my illness to sit on my chair day and night gasping for breath; my sufferings were beyond description. In despair I experimented on myself by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine thus obtained. I fortunately discovered this WONDERFUL CURE for ASTHMA or CATARRH, warranted to relieve the most stubborn case of Asthma in FIVE MINUTES, so the patient can lie down to rest and sleep comfortably. Any person not fully satisfied after using one-third of a box can return the remainder to the proprietor and the money will be refunded, or send me your address for a trial package FREE OF CHARGE. Should your druggist not keep the remedy, I can send it by mail on receipt of the price $1.00. For sale by all Druggists. Address D. LANGELL, Proprietor, Wooster, Ohio, or ALBERT INGARD, Manager, 44 Astor House Offices, New York City.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS OF CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For e'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Or write the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man,"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard;
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The sublest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide,
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine—
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Faultless fit, splendid style, vast variety, good work and a very great saving in price will be found in M. & A's. Mantles and Ulsters.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

The Waterworks.

The declaration required to form the Water Works Company has been filed in the Town Clerk's office. The applicants are, Mr. James Gamble, of the City of New York, and Messrs. W. Cluxton, John Burnham, R. P. Boucher and D. G. Hatton, of Peterborough. It also bears the certificate of the Mayor so that the Company is now organized, subject to the passing of the by-law within thirty days. As soon as the by-law is passed we learn that measures will at once be taken for the construction of the works. Mr. Gamble is in town making the necessary arrangements.

Ashburnham Public School.

The following is the honor roll of the Ashburnham Public School Master, W. J. Hallett:

GRADE I, Seniors.—J. Joy 470; A. Graham 385; V. Payne 348. Juniors.—A. Smith 479; H. Bennet 396; E. Maurice 291; J. Bogan 275. Full number of marks 560 and 550 respectively.

GRADE II—(a).—George Overton; George Crowe; Maggie Pollock; Harriet Griffin. (b).—Caroline Bridgewater; Ida McGregor; Carrie Downer; Laura Young.

GRADE III—(a).—H. O'Brien; M. Pakenham; Maggie Forsythe; J. O'Brien; Stanley Matthews; Willie Heap. (b).—F. Long; M. Weigester; A. Forsythe; C. Chrowe; W. McGregor; L. Mercer. (c).—E. Beatie; A. Wells; G. Heap; Ethel Browne; G. Neithercutt; A. Bridgewater.

For Life.

The prisoner Nelson Hamlin, convicted for the murder of LaRoque and sentenced to penitentiary for life, will be removed to Kingston to-night. There is some talk among the town folk of a petition for commutition, but no one is known to be specially pushing or interesting himself in the matter. The sentence is looked upon as severe under the circumstances, and taking into consideration the previous good character of the prisoner. However as he has no relatives or influential friends to bring his case into notice he will probably serve out all or almost all his sentence.

Building Notes.

Mr. Cluxton is raising the stores which stand next to the south of his new block, one storey. This will bring them on a level with the new erection and make them uniform.

The chancel addition to the English church is already nearly built up. The whole alterations will be completed in about two months.

The Oriental is proceeding rapidly with its alterations and improvements. The empty store to the east of the bar will be taken in for offices. The billiard room is going up rapidly at the back.

The Malaria.

There has evidently been an alarming increase in the malarial fever cases in the town within the last few days, and although there is apparently a wave of this kind of sickness passing over the country, the outcome, no doubt, of the extraordinarily dry, warm summer, it behooves us to take every possible sanitary precaution.

Telegraphic.

We understand that a repairer is to be sent to this district by the Great North Western Railway Company, and that he is to have his headquarters at Peterborough. This will be a great convenience and will greatly facilitate work as in case of a break in the wire it will not be necessary to send to Port Hope for a man as has been the case heretofore.

An Outside Opinion.

The Kingston Whig correctly says that Capt. Sullivan, of the schooner Straubenzie, expressed himself as highly pleased with the despatch received at the new elevator at Midland, and also with the splendid harbour.

Subscription Books.

Agents are wanted to canvass for subscription books, bibles, albums, &c., for Messrs. Ham & Brown, who have opened their office in Henthorn's block. They require twenty agents for this purpose and to canvass for Raymond's sewing machines. d75

LINDSAY CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

The Inside Show Smaller Than That of Former Years—Something About Bees and Honey.

In accordance with the usual routine, the annual Central Exhibition for this district fell to Lindsay this year, and commenced on Tuesday last. The display of articles in the various departments falls short of that of preceeding years in quantity, owing largely, no doubt, to the unfavourable character of the past season for the production of vegetables, fruits and flowers. In Ladies' work, domestic manufactures and fine arts, the display, if not large, compared favourably with those of former years. The chief and only attraction out of the ordinary line in the main building, however, being the magnificent display of and bee keeping appliances, which very properly attracted a good deal of attention, and surpassed anything of the kind ever seen in this district before. Indeed it is questionable if the whole four counties produced as much honey five years ago as there was on exhibition at Lindsay. The total display footed up somewhere in the neighborhood of a ton, and was shown by Messrs. Corneil, Lindsay; John Calvert, A. E. Calvert, and Mr. Hickson, of Ops, and Mr. W. G. Russell, of Millbrook, all of whom with a few others seem to have taken up bee-keeping in real earnest, and with a determination to make money out of it. During the evening of Tuesday these gentlemen, with several others, met in the Council Chamber and decided to organize a Bee-Keeper's Association for this district. During the discussion which occurred we gathered the following facts with regard to the production of honey during the past season by the gentlemen named:

E. A. Calvert commenced the season with 13 hives, has now 55, and has extracted 1,300 lbs. of honey therefrom; John Calvert commenced with 9 hives, has now 28, and extracted 400 lbs; Mr. Hickson began with 20, has now 58, and sold three, and extracted 1,400 lbs., and 600 in the comb; W. G. Russell commenced with 16, has now 39, of which three were purchased and extracted 2,200 lbs., and took therefrom 30 lbs. in the comb; Arthur Russell commenced with 24, has now 52, and extracted 3,000 lbs.; Jos. Russell began with 17, has now 65, and took from them 2,000 lbs. of extracted honey; Wm. Chesterfield began with three, has now five, and took 50 lbs. of comb from them; Platt Hinman began with three, has now eight, and obtained 100 lbs. of honey in the comb; Mr. Corneil began the season with 18 hives, has now 46, and took therefrom 1,500 lbs. of extract honey.

Making a grand total for nine persons of 123 hives to begin with, 353 now, a prodce now of 12,200 lbs., (6 1-10 tons) of extract honey, and 750 lbs. in the comb, or as near as may be an average of 100 lbs. per hive, besides, nearly trebling the hives. For the information of our readers we may explain that extract, and strained honey are very different things. Extract honey is obtained by cutting off the seals of the comb, and extracting the honey therefrom and replacing the comb in the hive ready to be refilled by the bees. By pursuing this course the bees are saved the labour of making several combs during the season, and their product is proportionately increased, so much so that Mr. Russell informed us that extract honey paid better at 15 cents per lb. than honey in the comb or strained honey did at 20 cents. From the foregoing figures it will be observed that at 15 cents per lb. the value of the honey produced by these gentlemen footed up to nearly $2,000. Evidently no easier or better way exists for adding to one's income, and the wealth of the country than by a more general introduction of bee culture.

No doubt it requires a certain amount of skill to manage them properly—particularly to preserve them through the winter—but apart from this no easier way of making money exists, even if extract honey should fall to ten cents per lb., while it is equally within the reach of the townsman and the agriculturist, and requires no investment of capital beyond the cost of the first hive.

Mr. A. Sawers takes first prize for the best ten yards of twilled cloth and summer tweed, and second prize for twilled flannel sheeting and blankets.

VEGETABLES.

Mr. Watt, of Dummer, as usual, goes for unions, and has taken the first prize for white unions from seed, English potato unions, and collection of unions, and second prize for red and yellow unions. Our little friend also carries off first prize for cucumbers, and second prize for the best 6 turnips. Good for Dummer!

Laconics.

They Talk of Coming.

The Whig says the Athletics, of Kingston, talk of coming here on Thanksgiving Day. We should be glad to see them, but they had better be certain that their mothers will let them out. Nothing official has come to hand yet, so of course all remains undecided.

Body Found.

A telegrem has been received stating that the body of Mr. Patrick Walsh, of the Auburn Woollen Mills, who was drowned off the steamer Norseman, has been found near Charlotte.

JOINED BY WIRE.

Belleville and Peterborough now Connected by a Telegraph Line.

On Tuesday evening the workmen, who have been engaged on the work of constructing a telegraph line along the Grand Junction Railway from Peterborough to Belleville, completed the work by making connection with the Midland station and the town office. The line will be of great convenience to the railway authorities, and will enable them to run trains with greater regularity and precision.

Mr. H. Stewart, who has had charge of the work had eighteen men under him, and has completed his contract in a manner perfectly satisfactory to both the telegraph and railway authorities. The work was commenced on the 15th of August, and finished, as before intimated, on the 4th of October, remarkably good time being made, when the roughness of the country traversed is taken into consideration. Direct communication is now established.

Mr. Stewart informs us that he commences work at once to construct a telegraph line along the line from North Hastings Junction to Madoc. A wire will also run direct from Madoc to Belleville.

INDIAN BUTCHERIES.

Soldiers and Citizens Murdered by the Fierce Apaches—A Feeling of Terror Prevailing.

TUCSON, A.T., Oct. 3.—The Apaches attacked soldiers repairing the telegraph between Camps Great and Thomas on Sunday, killing two. A courier from Cedar Springs saw along the road the bodies of many whites, evidently murdered by Indians. Couriers from Overton's command, while examining the bodies of two soldiers and of a citizens near cedar springs, were fired on by the Indians. General Wilcox, who is accompanied by four companies of cavalry and 47 Indian scouts, is in pursuit of the hostiles, who are believed to be numerous. Accounts of the dead and mutilated bodies of white men found along the different trails are constantly coming in. A feeling of terror is spreading over the country. All the forces at Grant and Thomas are under arms.

A special from Wilcox gives the following particulars of a fight at Cedar Creek:—The Indians, numbering 75 to 100, attacked Samaniego's train about a mile east of Cedar Springs, killing Bartolo Samaniego and five teamsters. Samaniego's men made a stubborn fight. The Indians attacked Sandford's command the same afternoon three miles from the station. The fight lasted till dark, when the Indians withdrew. A telegraph operator and four soldiers who were repairing the telegraph line were also killed by the Indians. Sandford's command lost a sergeant killed and six men wounded.

WILCOX, A.T., Oct. 3.—Bartolo Sandeago and six of his teamsters were killed by Chirachera Indians at Cedar Springs yesterday. It is reported that four companies of cavalry are now fighting the Chirachuas 15 miles from Grant. The Indians are in the hills. There is much excitement here.

Wood for Fuel.

The United States Census Bureau has been gathering some facts upon the consumption of wood for fuel. After taking the figures in our last annual for the coal output, the superintendent says:—"Even with the large increase in the coal production during the last half century, wood still keeps in the van as fuel, the consumption in this country being in favor of wood against coal in the proportion of four to one. In Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont, wood is almost the only fuel. In many counties of Massachusetts coal is ahead of wood, while in the States generally, as well as Connecticut, the percentage is about equal. Thickly populated cities, like New York, and Hudson and Essex counties, New Jersey, containing the cities of Jersey City and Newark, are put down as entirely coal. In Pennsylvania, the great coal state, there are many entirely coal counties, while in others, as Crawford, in the western part of the state, not over 3 per cent. of coal is used. The same difference holds good in different parts of New York."

Mr. Geo. Stevens, President of the Canada Pacific Railway, is erecting a fine residence at Montreal to cost $100,000.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. Brown's Bronchial Troches do not disorder the stomach like cough syrup and balsams, but act directly on the Inflamed parts, allaying Irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c. a box everywhere. d52w9

Diseased Lungs.

From J. A. Abercrombie, of Brantford, Ont.

GENTLEMEN,—It gives me much pleasure to bear witness to a cure effected by DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. My wife having been afflicted for a number of years with diseased lungs I was prompted to try WISTAR'S BALSAM. In conclusion I beg to ask you to accept my thanks, also my hearty wishes for your success with your valuable remedy, believing it to be the only medicine adapted to such cases. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1881.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

AN EDITOR FINED.

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—Great interest was excited by the trial yesterday of the chief editors and reporters of Vossiche and National Zeitung under a charge of insulting the Police Commissioner who attended an anti-Jewish meeting and declined to interfere when a section of the audience attacked the Jews. The defendants accused the Commissioner of neglecting his duty. The editor of the National Zeitung and the reporters were acquitted, but the editor of the Vossiche Zeitung was fined fifty marks.

LAND LEAGUE SAYINGS.

DUBLIN, Oct. 6.—O'Donnel at the Land League meeting at Dungarvan yesterday said there were two governments in Ireland, one Mr. Gladstone's, which nobody minded, and the other that of the League, which the people would obey.

FAIR RENT.

Mr. Parnell declared at Dungarvan that his idea of fair rent was to give the landlord two shillings for every eighteen now paid.

GOLD FOR AMERICA.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—What gold there is on the London market, about £50,000, has been cleared off for despatch to America to-morrow.

THAT INTERVIEW.

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—The German party in Russia are still intriguing to prevent the interview between the Czar and the Emperor of Austria. The Czar now goes hunting almost daily. It is more than probable that some day when everyone will suppose him to be looking for bears in the forest, he will have started for the Austrian frontier.

A MYSTERIOUS MISSION.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—A Constantinople despatch to Gaulois this morning announced that Halim Pasha, with four of his nephews, the Sultan's aides-de-camp, had sailed on the imperial yacht Izzedin for some unknown destination, believed to be Egypt.

A NEW GOVERNOR.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6.—The governor-generalship of the Caucasus is to be transferred from the Grand Duke Michael to General Gourko.

THE CABINET TO RESIGN.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—The tone of the Gambettist organs this morning justifies the conviction what an important evening paper authoritatively announced yesterday. The present Cabinet will resign before the opening of the Chambers, and be succeeded by the Gambetta Ministry. It is thought that both M. de Freycinet and M. Ferry may be entrusted with portfolios in the new Cabinet. The former may be persuaded to accept the Ministry of War; the latter will probably remain at the head of the Ministry of Public Institution, for which he is in every way better fitted than M. Gambetta's humorous but intolerant protege, M. Paul Bert.

THE MALLOW LAND LEAGUE.

DUBLIN, Oct. 6.—The late secretary of the Mallow branch of the Land League was written to by Mr. Parnell denying the statement of the latter that the branch condoned evictions, and demanding a full inquiry into the conduct of the League at Mallow, otherwise the writer would regard Mr. Parnell's acts as an outrage on liberty.

THE YORKTOWN CELEBRATION.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Standard says the announcement that the English will be saluted at the Yorktown festivities will be received with satisfaction on both sides of the Atlantic.

IN ZULULAND.

DURBAN, Oct. 6.—It is reported that a serious rising has occurred in Zululand. It is believed Chief Obam is implicated.

SUPPRESSING THE PRESS.

MADRID, Oct. 6.—It is now certain that according to official information Captain-General Blanco had suppressed two Cuban newspapers, and had embarked for Spain their editors and other journalists. The Governor General of Cuba has telegraphed to the Cabinet that he sends by a mail steamer a full explanation of the weighty motives that led him to adopt so serious a determination after both the constitution and the press laws of Spain had been promulgated in Cuba. The act of General Blanco did not cause much pleasure in official circles, as it created trouble and debates in the Cortes. A strong probability exists that special committees of Congress will declare null the elections in Havana, and perhaps in Santiago de Cuba.

AN AMERICAN SOCIALIST.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Standard's Paris despatch says the American delegate to the International Congress of Socialists which opened last Sunday at Chur, Switzerland, is the secretary of the United Carpenters' Association. It is proposed to issue a Socialist manifesto to the workmen of all nations.

THE GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Grand Trunk Railway to-day the President, Sir Henry Tyler, opened the proceedings with a sympathetic allusion to the death of President Garfield. Relative to the rate competition, he said the company had no objection to arbitration, which had been suggested, but there was no prospect at present of the other lines agreeing thereto.

AMERICAN.

ANOTHER FIRE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A fire broke out afresh to-day in the half burned Continental Brewery building and the ruins were almost entirely consumed, involving a total loss of $145,000.

THE NEW CASKET.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 6.—The new casket to which the remains of Garfield were yesterday transferred is very handsome. The remains were in an unexpected good state of preservation. It is probable that plans of the Monument Committee will be changed and instead of the body being put in the ground a crypt will be erected and the casket exposed to view.

A RICH WOMAN'S WILL.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 6.—The will of the late Jeanie McCraw Fiske was filed to-day. The principle bequests are:—Professor Williard Fiske, her husband, $300,000; Cornell University, as a library fund, $200,000; to Mrs. Jane P. McGraw, her mother, $100,000; to each of five cousins, $100,000; Cornell University, in trust for the care of the McGraw building, $50,000; Cornell University, for establishing a hospital for the benefit of students, $40,000; domestic and foreign mission societies, $40,000; to a neighboring town for a library, $30,000; several relations, $25,000 each; an Ithaca Mission, $20,000; Episcopal Church, $10,000. There are also numerous bequests ranging from $2,000 to $10,000. The residue of the estate will be added to the Cornell library fund.

A LARGE FIRE.

PULASKI, N.Y., Oct. 6.—The entire business portion of this town was burned this morning; loss over $200,000. The telegraph, express, and post offices were burned. The two hand fire engines owned by the village were inadequate, and the steam fire engine from Oswego arrived too late to be of service.

LATER.—The loss by the fire to-day is now stated to be $175,000, and the insurance is $110,000.

AN INDIAN FIGHT.

WILCOX, Arizona, Oct. 6.—In their flight on Tuesday the Indians threw away provisions, blankets, moccasins, and money in buckskin bags. It is reported that another fight occurred last night.

A CARFIELD MEMORIAL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—A large and enthusiastic meeting was held here last night to promote the establishment of a national Garfield memorial hospital here. It was announced that subscription lists would be prepared, and the whole country and foreign nations be asked to subscribe. It has been intimated that Queen Victoria will probably head the subscriptions from Great Baitain, and that other European rulers will contribute.

THE PRESIDENT'S ACTIONS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—It is stated that the President thinks the extra session of the Senate will be brief, and until it is over he will remain in his present quarters. After that it is probable he will remove to the Soldiers' Home until the White House repairs are completed, coming into town daily to attend to business. A Cabinet meeting will be held next Tuesday, by which time it is expected all the members of the Cabinet will be here. The President privately declines to hear applicants for office, and thinks the vacanl minor offices should be filled by the heads of various departments. The President is looking well, and is in the best of health.

CONGREGATIONAL UNION.

MANCHESTER, Oct. 7.—At yesterday's sitting of the Congregational Union of England and Wales a letter from the Rev. Dr. Hopkins, Chairman of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, now in Paris, was read. Dr. Hopkins expected to be present at the conference and deliver an address on the foreign missionary question. The letter expressed a fraternal feeling for the Union, and alluded to English sympathy in the case of Garfield. Rev. Trowbridge, for twenty-five years a missionary, desired the work to be carried on by American missionaries. Some American delegates also spoke.

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 7.—The head quarters of the Nihilists have been discovered and several arrests made.

GREAT SNOW STORM.

VIENNA, Oct. 6.—Snow has fallen continuously for three days in the Tyrol.

SERVIA TO BE A KINGDOM.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—An article in the Journal de St. Petersburg indicates that the elevation of Servia to a kingdom is probable shortly.

STRIKE IN THE POTTERIES.

The workmen in the Staffordshire potteries have given notice of a demand for an advance of wages in November. The masters have passed a resolution resisting the demand, and a strike must ensue. Such a strike would involve from 60,000 to 80,000 men.

GREAT FIRE RAGING.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 7.—A fire which threatens the neighboring structures is raging in the exchange building, one of the four great structures of Liverpool.

AMERICAN.

ARTHUR'S INTENTIONS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Arthur's reticence has become a matter of comment. He listens patiently and now and then asks questions so carefully worded as give no hint of his real views. He informed the senators who called, that he saw no reason why the session of the senate should not be short, because the only communications as far as he knew that he would have to make, would be the appointments to fill several vacancies in the civil list. He did not intend to make any appointments excepting such as are necessary.

THE PRESIDENT'S MOVEMENTS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The President yesterday drove out with General Sherman in an open buggy unattended. The President contrary to some reports has been unattended by police or detectives, and has no fear. It is understood that the President intends to retain Garfield's private Secretary Brown.

DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS.

When the Democratic senators meet it is expected that the proposition will be urged by able and influential senators that the Republicans be tendered the presidency of the Senate, that their new members be sworn in, and that the Democrats be given such that the commissions will be equally divided between the Democrats and Republicans.

SHIPMENT OF GOLD.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 7.—A steamship from Australia brought £100,000 in gold, which has been deposited in the mint for coinage into American money. In view of the amount of gold in the bank of England, and the fact that the banks are almost independent of the supply from Australia, the shipments and importation of gold from Australia to the United States assumes marked commercial importance.

PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—A greater probability exists of trouble over the committees than of any of the states over the election of President of the Senate. A President will probably be elected pro tem.

CONSTITUTION OF THE COMMITTEE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The new Republican state committee consists of 20 half breeds and 13 Stalwarts. The committee meets next Tuesday to organize. The committee intend to make a vigorous campaign and most of them profess to believe that their ticket will be elected.

OFFICE SEEKERS AT WORK.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Office seekers are beginning to appear and worry the Senators, who are importuned at all hours and in all places.

GUITEAU'S SANITY.

The Grand Jury during the recent examination of witnesses tried to express an opinion as to Guiteau's sanity. As far as can be learned the witnesses were unable to express an opinion unfavorable.

FULL RATES ONLY.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—The lines of the South Western Railway yesterday ordered their agents at several points to accept nothing less than full rates. The Michigan Central has ceased ticketing through passengers over the Grand Trunk Railway.

NOT TO-DAY.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The indictment against Guiteau will not be presented to the grand jury to-day.

THE FRENCH DELEGATES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The French delegates to the Yorktown celebration left this morning for West Point.

SHIPPING DISASTER.

NANTUCKET, Mas., Oct. 7.—During the storm yesterday an unknown schooner came ashore at the east end of the island. The crew were probably lost. The schooner Eliza Raynor, of Boston, is also ashore at St. Petersburg.

ENGLAND AND AMERICA.

A Commemorative Gift Suggested by Mr. Chamberlain.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Benjamin Scott Chamberlain, of London, author of several important antiquarian works, writes to the Times suggesting a practical method of giving an enduring proof of English good will towards America by an act which would exceedingly enrich the Americans. There is in the Bishop of London's library, at Fulham, a manuscript in the hand writing of Governor Brantford, one of the leading Pilgrim Fathers, who in 1620 landed at Plymouth Rock, Mass., giving a diary of the proceedings of the pilgrims, and containing the compact on the constitution out of which arose the federation now termed the United States. The document was captured by a British soldier during the American War of Independence from an old Dutch church in Boston, Mass. As very many Americans consider the document a very "Book of Genesis" of their nation Mr. Scott has suggested that in token of the deep sympathy of England with America in her national sorrow, and England's desire to forget the conflict of a century ago, now attracting attention at Yorktown, England should present the document in the name of the Queen and nation to the United States.

DISAPPEARED.

The Late Treasurer of the Montreal Telegraph Company Missing.

MONTREAL, Oct. 5.—A terribly sad event has become known in Montreal, being the disappearance of Mr. Charles E. Bourne, the Treasurer for many years of the Montreal Telegraph Company. That gentleman has been very down-spirited for some time, having been among the number of officials who lost their situations by the late amalgamation. He was a genial, kindly gentleman and should any misadventure have befallen him he will be mourned by a large circle of friends. Opinions are divided on the theories as to Mr. Bourne's disappearance, some believing that he grew desperate over his altered fortunes, and that he has been rash enough to bid farewell to a life struggle. Others believe that he has left for the United States, and that he will not be easily discovered. An investigation is at present going on into his accounts, and as the safe had to be opened by a gentleman from Toronto who was cognizant of the combination lock's working, the latter-named theory may be correct. His family recently went to New Brunswick to reside, and it is not known whether they were acquainted with the disappearance or not. Some of the telegraph people cling to the hope that Mr. Bourne has merely gone off suddenly to visit his family. He was prominent as a musical amateur, and was Secretary of the Philharmonic Association. Socially he held a very high position, and was, as already hinted, very much beloved by all who met him.

The "Atalanta's" Trial Trip.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 5.—The Atalanta made her first trip under canvass yesterday afternoon. The wind blew hard and with strong squalls from the north-west, but the yacht proved very stiff, and realized the expectations formed of her. Capt. Cuthbert says she behaved more satisfactorily than any of his previous efforts had done on a first trip. This afternoon, with wind the same as yesterday, she had a race with the Norah over a 24 mile course, and the yachts finished close together, the Norah ahead.

A STRANGE STORY.

An Anglican Clergyman is Abducted on the Eve of His Marriage.

About the 5th of September the Rev. Robert Bruce-Kennard, Rector of Marnhull, Dorsetshire, Eng., aged 57, arrived in London, to be married to Miss M. M. Bade, the daughter of a merchant residing at Woodford, whose age is 37. The consent of the parents had been granted and all was fixed for the wedding, which was to take place in the parish church, Woodford. At the hour appointed all were in the church but the bridegroom, though he had ordered a carriage to take him from the hotel where he lodged to the church. On inquiring it was found that he had been taken away by three men on the previous night, apparently the doctor of a lunatic asylum and two keepers. Mr. Kennard subsequently escaped.

HIS STORY

is that a person was ushered into his private sitting-room in the inn at about 8 p.m., representing himself as bringing a message from a relative in the neighbourhood asking him to go there at once. Mr. Bruce-Kennard immediately went off in a carriage which waited at the door, and gave directions to be driven to his relative's house. The messenger and another man having entered the carriage, the reverend gentleman's suspicions were aroused. He saw he was being driven in a contrary direction to what hy had ordered, and towards London. All his attempts at getting out of the carriage were in vain; he was forcibly held down. He shouted, but was grabbed by the throat and choked into silence. He asked was robbery their aim. They answered that they were no robbers, but gave no explanation. Whenever he shouted he was temporarily gagged and seized by the throat. In order to leave some traces of his route he threw his hat out of the window and endeavored to do the same with his coat, but was prevented. He was driven on through the forest, across London, past the Angel, Islington, where his shouts to the police attracted no attention, and at last landed in front of a hovel on Hunter street. Here he struggled with all his might, and in vain cried

"POLICE! HELP! MURDER!"

Knowing that a policeman, whom they had passed a few moments before, could not be far off, he clung to the railings and cried the louder, but to no purpose. He was dragged in and placed in a front room, whence the fire irons were removed, and he was told a gentleman would explain everything. As he had had no dinner he was given some refreshment, and was then advised to go to bed in a double-bedded room. He lay down in his clothes, but did not sleep, and heard mysterious consultations in other parts of the house. At early morning the "messenger" who summoned him from the inn appeared, and threw himself on the bed also with his clothes on. He questioned the man, and found he was detained as a lunatic, and that a doctor would soon visit him. He bribed his companion to send a telegram to Woodford, which was never sent, saying he was unavoidedly detained, but that he would explain everything in a few hours. In accordance with a message received by the "messenger" he was detained till twelve o'clock, when another £5 note gave him his liberty. He found a cab at the door, drove to the railway station, and reached Woodford Church at one o'clock, an hour too late for the ceremony to be legally performed. He made his statement on oath there and then, and the next morning at eight o'clock was married by the Rev. Canon Duckworth. He cannot give any reason for his abduction, as no impediment had been put in the way of his marriage by the bride's friends. He intends prosecuting those whom he suspects to be the authors of the outrage.

TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT IN RUSSIA.

A Scott Act Urgently Needed in the Czar's Dominions.

A strong discussion has been provoked in Russia respecting the drinking habits of the people, in consequence of the appointment of an influential commission by the Emperor to report upon the best means of checking drunkness among the masses. From the statistics brought forward very little room is afforded for doubt that intemperance has increased very largely in Russia since the Emancipation. The consumption of vodky; or native corn brandy, has developed of late years by leaps and bounds; while in every town, breweries are starting up like mushrooms, and paying with ease dividends of thirty or forty per cent. Between the drinking habits of the masses in Russia and England there exists a very essential difference. In Russia the people habitually refrain from alcoholic liquor with their food, and touch only their beloved vodky on holidays and festive occasions. In England, on the other hand, as we have often pointed out, a very large quantity of the alcoholic drink yearly consumed forms an innocent part of the alimentation of the people. Thus it happens that while the average amount of liquor consumed by the English adult is very largely in excess of that taken by the Russians, drunkeness is considerably less rife in England than in Russia. With us a very large number of people habitually use strong drink without going beyond the bounds of temperance. In Russia, on the other hand, the majority of the masses never touch vodky except for the express purpose of making themselves drunk. In this manner there exists no need for sifting Russian drink statistics to see how much liquor is taken as a necessity and how much as a luxury, because nearly the whole of it comes under the latter category. There is thus a strong reason for the appointment of a commission to devise means for checking intemperance, although many people will be surprised that nothing should be done to initiate some such teetotal movement as that which has played such an important role in this country. Signs are, however, becoming apparent that the authorities will receive the cordial co-operation of the people. Already many communes have anticipated remedial measures by closing all the kabaks, or drinking houses, in their districts.

The Coal Tax.

The present price of coal in Buffalo—the great distributing centre of the coal trade—is given at $5.70. The freight is also given at 70 cents from Buffalo to Toronto. This would bring up the rate here to $6.40. The retail price here is $6.50. How then can the duty of 50c. be paid by the Canadian consumer, when, if that were added, the cost of the coal to the dealer would be $6.90, or 40 cents more than it is selling for at retail? Now, the coal dealers make money. They are not benevolent institutions selling for $6.50 what costs them $6.90. Therefore they must get a rebate on the published Buffalo prices, sufficient to cover the duty and give them a good profit. Therefore, the coal owners and not the coal consumers pay the duty. The Globe's only way to get out of the difficulty is to assert that the difference between Buffalo prices and Toronto prices should be 36 cents. What it should he is one thing; what it is, is what practical people have to deal with. Last year a prominent dealer averred that the charges were as follows:—Freight, 60c, cartage, 30; equal to 90c. This year Mr. Nairn puts the freight at 70 cents and says nothing about the cartage. Thus one important factor in the Globe calculation is shown to be just about twice what the Globe has given. The fact of a rebate or special discount being given to Ontario coal dealers is shown by the Customs trade returns, and that rebate was considerably greater in 1880 than it was in 1878, showing that the coal owners of Buffalo adapt themselves to the changed circumstances of Canada.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

RAILWAY MEETING.

A meeting of the ratepayers of the village was held in the Council Room on Monday evening last for the purpose of discussing Lakefield's present railway facilities. By eight o'clock a crowd had collected, which made the meeting at least a representative one. Mr. George McIlmoyle was elected chairman and W. C. Sanders secretary. A lengthy and lively discussion took place, during which the conduct of the Midland Railway officials in neglecting the interests of the railway and requirements of the public so far as Lakefield is concerned was criticised pretty freely and severely. The state of the railway grounds and station was said to be a disgrace to the place. The meeting complained very bitterly that after having spent so much money in helping to build the road to Lakefield only one train per day was afforded the village when it was necessary to have two or three specials every week during the summer sent to move the freight from the place. Finally a deputation consisting of Messrs. R. C. Strickland, John C. Sherin, John Hull, Dr. Caldwell and W. C. Sanders was appointed to wait on Mr. Cox, the President of the Railway, and urge the necessity of a new station and engine house being built at once and to solicit better train accommodaiion, etc.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The regular meeting of the Village Council will be held in the council rooms on Monday evening next at 7:30 o'clock.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

The Lakefield Public School Board will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Council Room on Tuesday evening next, the 11th inst. at 7:30 o'clock.

GONE TO HIRE MEN.

Mr. George Berube left for the Province of Quebec on Monday last, the 3rd inst. for the purpose of hiring men for Ross & Co. to work in their shanties back in Harvey.

ACCIDENT.

On Tuesday last while a little son of Mr. M. Thompson, who resides on Julien's Landing, was playing with a bow and arrow in which he had fixed an awl, he happened to let it slip and it penetrated the eye of his little sister some three years of age. The child at once fell in an insensible condition to the floor, and remained so for 12 hours. As soon as possible she was brought to the village and placed under Dr. Lell's care, who now considers her out of danger, but who will not as yet give a decided opinion as to whether she will lose her sight. We hope not.

Debility and Nervous Headache.

Chronic, sick or nervous headache is generally dependent on, or accompanied by, impaired digestion, by which the circulation and nutrition of the brain are deranged, and the nervous centres vitiated. The PERUVIAN SYRUP, by reinvigorating the digestive powers, lays the axe at the root of the tree; the brain is duly nourished, the nervous symptoms cease, and the headache disappears. Sold by all druggists.

My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, although I am 72, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age. It is worth a trial.—(Father.)—Sunday Mercury.

THE SUGAR BEET.

The Soil and Climate of Ontario Suitable for its Cultivation.

Some time ago a movement was made towards establishing a beet-root sugar manufactory at Eglington, a few miles north of Toronto, on Younge street. A number of farmers looked with some favour on the growing of sugar beet. A couple of meetings were held, and the question was pretty well discussed. The matter quietly died away, however, and the American gentleman who was principal mover in the scheme took his departure. There is every likelihood of the scheme being revived, and in view of this the opinion of Mr. Edward L. Cull, of Toronto, in an able article written by him to The Sugar Beet, of Philadelphia, discussing the topic of beet root cultivation, will be interesting. In Mr. Cull's opinion, and that of other experts, the land throughout Ontario, and more particularly the county of York, is peculiarly adapted for raising beetroot, and if a factory were to be put in operation for its manufacture into sugar, it would be sure to result in a financial success. The principal purpose for which the root is grown in Canada at the present time is

FOR CATTLE FOOD,

as it contains a greater amount of nourishment than mangel-wurtzel. The main drawback to its being extensively grown is the trouble and expense caused by the necessary work of having to thin out the plants by hand as the junction of the plants is too close to allow of the work being done by the hoe. Were it not for this the beet could be grown with greater ease than the turnip, not being subject to the attack of the fly, and because of its early and vigorous growth. The expense of thinning by hand is not so much felt in Europe, where the labour of women and children can be obtained for merely nominal wages, but this does not apply to America, where neither of these two classes of labour can be easily obtained to do such distasteful and disagreeable work. From numerous trials made in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec it has been found that the quality of the roots grown in these provinces

IS GREATLY SUPERIOR

to the average of European grown beets; and so much so is this the fact that several beet-sugar factories have been started in the Province of Quebec, with European funds supplied, in consequence of the favourable analysis of the root grown in Canada, which have been sent to Europe and made public among the persons well posted in beet-sugar lore. One cause assigned for the absence of the factories in this district is the requirement of a large capital. Of course, when anyone attempts the art of beet sugar-making he must not only understand the process, but be prepared to keep down his working expenses to the lowest possible figure; and if this is done, a small beet-sugar factory will succeed as well as a large one in proportion to its size. The expenses of a beet-sugar factory have been reduced since the power of diffusion has been adopted, and the well known ingenuity of the people of this world will still reduce it to a far greater extent. Another drawback is that farmers will attempt to grow beets in land which is

OUT OF CONDITION.

This is absolutely useless, as beets must have good land. They do not require fresh manure, but manure which has been put in and ploughed under during the previous year. Artificial manures, too, are necessary to a certain extent. European statistics show that wherever beets are successfully grown other crops are doubled, and the entire expense of preparing the ground for beet is got out in the succeeding crop. Mr. Cull does not wish to be understood as saying that of itself the cultivation of beet enriches the land, but to grow them requires enrichment of the soil, and that brings its reward. Wherever beets are successfully grown on the European continent there are where they are not grown the farmers are no better off than they are in the rest of the world. The new system of diffusion has completely abolished the old system of hydraulic presses and other cumbersome machinery, and factories worked with this class are a comparative loss, while the new ones are paying large dividends. this new system is sure to be adopted in this go-ahead country, and will be attended with as much success as the process in Europe.

PROSPERITY AND RICHES;

CANADIAN PROGRESS.

The entire machinery for the factory at Berthier, Quebec, arrived some time ago, and there are also factories at Coaticook and West Farnham. The farmers who followed closely the European methods have been very successful, and they are now convinced that sugar-beet raising is the most profitable of all crops.—Mail.

Arthur and Mahone.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Some of Mahone's friends say Arthur has given the senator every assurance that the readjuster movement in Virginia, as far as it represents a progress and tendency to break up the rigid democracy of the state, receives his entire approval. Mahone had frequent conversations with Arthur before the Senate adjourned. Mahone told a friend here that Arthur's policy regarding the south will be as favorable to that section as Garfield's and that the president desires above all things to see a thoroughly national spirit throughout the southern states, such as was evinced at the time of Garfield's death. If during his administration the south should cease to be spoken of as a party section, but merely as a geographical section of the country, like the east, west or north, he would be gratified, even if his administration should make no remarkable success in any other direction.

Ontario and Quebec Meeting.

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Ontario and Quebec Railway Company, it is understood that it was decided to increase the surveying parties in the field, and to commence the construction of some portion of the line this fall. The application of Mr. H. J. Hubertus for compensation as projector of the railway was taken up and referred to a committee, consisting of Hon. Peter Mitchell and Hon. Senator Thibaudeau, to report to the next meeting of the following board, which will take place at Toronto:—Mr. Duncan McIntyre, Hon. Mr. Thibaudeau, Hon. Peter Mitchell, Montreal; Mr. Adam Brown, Hamilton; and Messrs. B. B. Osler, H. S. Howland, C. J. Campbell, Lockhart Gordon, and Hector Cameron, M.P.

The Martyrs of 1634.

We hear it is rumoured that the Roman Catholic church purpose erecting a new church in Penetanguishene next summer. We also heard it proposed to make the new building a memorial of the martyred jesuits, the early propagators of the gospel amongst the Huron tribes. No more appropriate memorial could be erected to them; and their heroic conduct, and the perils and hardships they met and endured, render them deserving in ever way of some such lasting memento—and no more appropriate position for the church could be chosen than a site on the banks of the beautiful bay, the scene of their early labors.—Penetang. Herald.

The Grand Trunk Company have built a new locomotive at their shops at Montreal with driving wheels six feet six inches in diameter, the largest locomotive on the line.

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO.

The "Fair Trade" Movement.

A meeting in support of the "Fair Trade" movement has been held at Coventry. Alderman Dalton presided. The principle resolution passed was to the effect that no treaty made with France or any other nation would be satisfactory to this country unless based upon the principles of Fair Trade. Mr. Sampson Lloyd in moving a resolution, said that when the Free Trade policy was initiated a reign of universal plenty was predicted, and it was supposed that every loom in the country would be fully employed. This prophesy, however had not been fulfilled. It answered tolerably well before the foreign nations had developed their manufacturing power, and whilst France and Germany were at war with each other. But foreigners had now the same machinery as ourselves, and they had also the services of thousands of skilled mechanics who had been compelled to leave these shores. The artisans of other nations worked 72 hours per week instead of 56 as they did in England, and if things were not altered in some other way the trade of the country would have to go. No responsible statesmen in the world, he remarked, but those of our own nation had applied to their own country a system of one-sided free trade. And it was for the working men to say at the polling booths and public meetings how long the present state of things was to go on. The remedy proposed by the advocates of the "Fair Trade" movement was to have two-sided free trade with our own empire instead of selfish foreigners; to impose a duty of 5s per quarter on wheat coming from the United States, and admit that from Canada and the Colonies free. If this were done we should have corn just as cheap, and a market for our foreign produce, which we did not now possess. In the second place, the foreigner might be sufficiently anxious to get into our market to induce him to pay a duty, and the revenue would be increased in that way. In fact, we wanted free trade with all our empire in corn and everything else, free trade with any foreign nation willing to give us free trade in return; and in order to get that we ought to put a duty upon those foreign goods which threw our own labor out of the market.—London News of the World.

A Child Fatally Burned.

ST. CATHARINES, Oct. 5.—A fatal accident happened on Tuesday at the residence of a coloured man named Lindsay, who resides on Welland avenue, below the gaol. It seems that Mr. Lindsay was absent and Mrs. Lindsay left the house for a short time, leaving their three-year-old daughter alone in the house. The child appears to have got hold of a newspaper lighted it at the stove, and the flame therefrom set fire to her clothing. She was so badly burned on the return of her mother that death resulted in a short time.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. Brown's Bronchial Troches do not disorder the stomach like cough syrup and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, giving relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c. a box everywhere. d52w9

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For e'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Or write the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man,"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard;
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The sublest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide,
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine—
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Faultless fit, splendid style, vast variety, good work and a very great saving in price will be found in M. & A's. Mantles and Ulsters.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1881.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Fit for New York.

T. Dolan & Co. moved into Cluxton's new block yesterday, occupying the two last vacant stores, being the one on the corner of Hunter street and the one directly next door to the south of it. The corner store will be used as the "gents'" and the other as the "ladies'" department. The fitting up of the stores is well worth looking at, they are as elegant as any to be found in our large cities, and reflect great credit on Mr. Cluxton's enterprise. Mr. Dolan expresses himself highly pleased with his new quarters. He is opening up a very extensive and finely assorted stock of new goods in addition to what he had at his old premises, and expects to make an unequalled display when he has got everything in order.

A New Idea.

Our friend Drury, of the gas works, has hit upon a new and good plan for lighting the gas lamps. Formerly the men had to start out at an early hour to light the lamps, and by the time they had finished their work it was almost time to extinguish them. Now Mr. Drury was not at all satisfied with this plan, and after a good deal of trouble hit upon the idea of using horses. He fitted up a lampost in the gas house yard and practiced up the boys in riding and lighting the lamp with a patent non-extinguished torch, as they passed by. After a time he had them fully posted and now the lamps are lit and extinguished regularly by boys on horseback. Mr. Drury claims to be the first to adopt this plan, and talks about a patent.

Voice Culture.

As will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, Prof. Additon, has established classes in Peterborough for the purposes of giving instructions in voice building or culture, and also the art of reading vocal music at sight. The professor has had many years experience, and has been very successful in every place where he has had classes. He has very flattering testimonials from many places, especially St. John, N.B., and Picton, Ont., testifying to his abilities as a teacher. We are pleased to learn that quite a large class has been formed here. The Professor has had 20 years experience as a piano tuner and those in want of his services in that line should give him a call.

The Band.

The Fire Brigade Band will not hold their weekly promenade concert this evening, as usual, for the reason that some of the members cannot attend. If the weather is at all favorable they will give a first-class entertainment next Friday evening in the Drill Shed.

Funeral Sermon.

The Rev. E. J. Stobo will, on the evening of Sabbath next, the 9th inst. discoarse in the Aylmer street Baptist Church, on the resent losses suffered by the congregation in the death of members of the church. All are cordially invited to attend.

Happy Cal Concert.

Happy Cal Wagners' Ministrel Troupe arrived in town this morning; there are eighteen of them in all. They perform this evening in Bradburn's Hall, and will doubtless have a full house. The Lindsay Post speaks in the highest terms of the Company.

Dr. G. S. Ryerson,

Oculist and Aurist to the Toronto General Hospital, may be consulted at the Huffman House Peterboro', on Saturday Oct. 15th, with reference to all diseases of the Eye, Ear, and Throat.

Foot-Ball Match.

There will be a football match on the Ashburnham Cricket ground to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock between teams from the Peterborough football club and the Collegiate Institute.

Change of Scenery.

Mr. Sproule advertises change of scenery having introduced novelties which he procured at Chicago during his recent visit to that city. There is nothing like them in Canada.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

Autumn Sittings of the Chancery Division —Before Chancellor Boyd.

PETERBOROUGH, Oct. 7, 1881.

HALPIN VS. HALL, S. H. Blake Q.C. and H. H. Smith for plaintiff. R. H. Dennistoun for Hall. D. W. Dumble for Sullivan.—This was a suit brought by the plaintiff, Halpin against Hall, for the specific performance of an agreement to give him, the plaintiff, a lease of the hotel now occupied by Jno. Sullivan on Hunter Street. It appeared from the evidence that an agreement had been made by Hall, the owner, to grant the lease of the said hotel to the plaintiff. After this agreement had been made Hall received a more advantagous offer from Sullivan who was in ignorance of any previous agreement having been entered into. Accordingly Hall notified Halpin that he could not carry out his contract with him, and made out a lease for Sullivan. Decree for plaintiff. Defendant to pay costs of suit.

MILLS VS MILLS.—G. Edmison for plaintiff, D. W. Dumble for defendant. Suit brought by Jno. Mills against Wm. Mills for $200, being the second instalment on a mortgage of $2,500 held by the said Jno. Mills on certain real estate the property of the said Wm. Mills. It appeared from the evidence that the mortgage was made out for 11 years, dating from 1865. The first instalment of $200 was paid on the drawing up of the instrument, and it is concerning the payment of the second similar sum that the dispute has arrisen. At the end of the first year when this said second instalment fill due the plaintiff transferred the mortgage to one Bradburn. On the subject of whether or not the second instalment of $200 had been paid to plaintiff, the oral evidence produced was directly but on referring to the mortage it was shown to bear the receipt for the second instalment. The Chancellor considered that this fact together with the circumstance of the plaintiff, who was a poor man, not having before put in a claim for the money in question., was evidence very strongly in favour of the defendant. The case was dismissed with cost.

BRICK VS. HICKIE.—S. H. Blake, Q. C., and H. H. Smith, for plaintiff, D. W. Dumble, for defendent. This was a suit brought by one Morris Brick, a farmer of Ennismore, against Jno. Hickie, also a farmer, whose property joined his, the plaintiff's. The action was taken for the purpose of recoveriug for damage done by a fire set out on defendant's property, which spread subsequently to that of the plaintiff, and destroyed his house and barn. The case was settled, judgment being granted by consent to plaintiff, with damages fixed at $400, defendant to pay all costs except those of witnesses. Peter McAuliffe was added as a defendant as security for payment.

Races at Scott's Corners.

Quite a number of Peterborough men attended at Scott's Corners on Thursday in the early part of the afternoon for the purpose of witnessing the races which were announced by posters to come off there. There were two events only, a half-mile foot race and a mile running horse race. In the first event there were three entries, who came in at the winning post in the following order:—Fred. Weir 1st, R. Montgomery 2nd, J. Johnston 3rd. For the other event three entries, and three prizes. J. Newhall's horse took first place, the prize of which was a fine saddle and bridle, &c. The 2nd prize was a large cheese, and by a funny coincidence, was won by a gentleman in the cheese manufacture. The 3rd prize, a handsome carriage whip, was won by J. Montgomery.

Horse Killed.

The late train on the Midland on Thursday night killed a horse, about three miles from town. A gentleman informs us that those on the train felt but a slight jar. The train was at once stopped and some of those on board upon going back found that one of the legs of a horse had been cut off. The animal was otherwise mutilated and was dead. We have not heard the owner's name.

Non-Payment of Wages.

Pat. Richey, an employee or former employee of Irwin & Boyd, brought a suit against that firm in the Ashburnham police court yesterday, the hearing of which occupied all morning and part of the afternoon. The evidence was so conflicting that the matter had to be adjourned till Monday to allow more witnesses to be called. The amount involved is small.

Rifle Match.

We learn that the annual meeting of the county of Peterborough Rifle Association will take place on Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 17th and 18th, at the ranges which are being renovated after the recent fires. We are pleased to learn that the committee who are soliciting subscriptions, are meeting with success.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours as reported from Toronto at ten o'clock a.m. to-day by the Montreal Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Moderate to fresh south-westerly to south-easterly winds. Cloudy to fair mild weather. Occasional rains.

CANADIAN TELEGRAMS.

LONDON.

Special to the Review, Oct. 7.

YESTERDAY MARVIN KNOWLTON, the well-known temperance lecturer, was found lying in a lumber yard drunk and broken down physically. He was removed to the hospital.

OTTAWA

Special to the Review, Oct. 7.

A CABINET COUNCIL meeting is being held this afternoon.

IN RELATION to the insurance case before the assize court, it might be stated that the action is against the Canada Life Insurance Company and not the Mutual Life Insurance Company of Canada.

THE WATER in the Ottawa is very low and interferes seriously with the shipment of lumber. Many of the Canadian barges are lying idle, being unable to load in paying quantities.

SINCE THE COMPROMISE was effected between the forwarders and American bargemen, all the American boats have been picked up and there is quite an activity in the shipping business.

The Markets.

Things on the grain market this morning were much the same as yesterday, that is, extremely dull. Quite a number of loads came in in the earlier part of the day, and matters for a while looked hopeful, but the arrivals slackened visibly before half past ten, when there was quite a jam on the square, as the buyers had been proceeding very slowly in their operations and all that had come in had staid. This was all the market of the day. The prices were as follows:—Barley, 60 to 85; rye, 90; Wheat 30; spring, 32 to 33, fall. The state of the grain markets not only here but all through the Dominion and the neighboring republic presages so. The buyers say a break in prices. Others again say that it is the natural result of the sudden rush upwards. We had made a great and sudden advance and as a natural consequence when it did pause in this, there was liable to be a reaction. It is wavering now and a few days there will probably be a considerable difference from present prices.

Laconics.

—Happy Cal here.
—Cluxton's block all full now.
—Grain market brightening up again.
—Dark but milder weather.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—It is said that the cattle commission has failed in its object, having very limited means. The commission endeavored to obtain information through the State authorities regarding pleuro-pneumonia. The commission found the State authorities apathetic. It has utterly failed to obtain information of importance. An agent of the Department is investigating the pneumonia question.

Bogus Certificates,

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines.—Republican.

FIRE BUGS IN LUCAN.

The Donnelly Family to the Front Once More—Bob and Bill Arrested as Accessories.

Special to the Review, Oct. 10.

PARTIES WERE CAUGHT in the act of firing Stanley, Dight & Co's mills at 12 o'clock last night. They succeeded in boring four holes through the building and pouring coal oil in the holes, and were applying matches when they were pounced upon by a constable and posse of men lying in wait for them. One of the parties escaped to the woods, but Bill Donnelly, Bob Donnelly, Dan Carty, his son Patrick, and John Kent have been arrested and are now safe in the lock-up. Other arrests will be made before morning.

Romance of Robbery.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 9.—The pursuing party that captured the Iron Mountain train robbers, Stephens and Delaney, consisted of four persons, Huddlestone, Beloines, Moore and Dollahade. When arrested the robbers had about $9000. Huddlestone proposed to his comrades to divide the money. Beloines objected saying the money ought to be returned to the railroad company, but he finally agreed that the money should be equally divided among the officers in the presence of Stephens and Delaney in consideration of the latter keeping the matter a secret. Each officer took an oath to annually pay to the family of the train robbers $100 and leave no means untried to secure their release from Penitentiary. The reason they did not release them was that a reward awaited their delivery. The party reached Hope, turned over the prisoners to the authorities and came to this city and received the $1000 offered by the state. All the captors appeared at the trial at Washington on Friday last, when Beloine divulged the matter. Huddlestone, Moore, and Dollahade were examined separately, and each made made affidavit that he knew nothing of the whereabouts of the money. Subsequently Moore stated that the money could be procured.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

TROUBLE IN ZULULAND.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The reports announcing the rising among the Zulus will probably receive some explanation from a letter of the Bishop of Natal, dated September 4th, concerning the recent events in Zululand. He says: "I have heard from good authority that between 300 and 400 Zulu men, to say nothing of women and children, were killed by John Dunn's force. 'When we opened fire upon them,' said a white man who was present, 'they ran away.' This does not look as if John Dunn had only four guns of his own and four captured under Sitimela."

A LUCKY LEGATEE.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Charles Darwin is in luck. The Illustrated London News states that the will of Mr. Erasmus A. Darwin has been proved, the value of his personal estate exceeding $158,000. The testator leaves all his real estate and three-sixths of his personalty to his brother, Mr. Charles Robert Darwin.

ROYALTY IN IRELAND.

DUBLIN, Oct. 8.—The Empress of Austria has again announced her intention of hunting in Ireland, renting Lord Longfield's residence in Meath. A paper says:—"The Empress is the only sovereign personally known to the Irish people. Out of the period of 44 years during which the Queen has occupied the English throne she has spent about twelve days in Ireland in two visits, the last one in August, 1861. Did the Irish only understand that there was a Queen of Ireland, no people would be more loyal."

AN ANGLO-FRENCH FLEET.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—A sensational despatch says France has been asked to join England to take measures to protect their subjects in Egypt. France has consented, and England and France will forthwith despatch ironclads to Alexandria.

MOODY AND SANKEY.

Messrs. Moody and Sankey commenced their services at Newcastle-on-Tyne on Sunday afternoon. They afterwards go to Scotland, and thence to Ireland, visiting the English southern counties later on.

THE CAUSE OF IT.

It is stated that the recent uprising of Zulus was caused by John Dunn's force killing between three and four hundred Zulu men, to say nothing of women and children.

THE QUEEN AT A THEATRE.

BALMORAL, Oct. 8.—Much interest is taken in the Queen's attending a theatrical performance for the first time for twenty years. On Tuesday she drove from Balmoral to attend a representation of "The Colonel," given in an improvised theatre at Boergeldie Castle, by Mr. Edgar Bruce and his company, at the special request of the Prince of Wales. The last time her Majesty entered a theatre it was at the Adelphi, to see "The Colleen Bawn."

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Mr. D'Oyley Carte's new Savoy theatre is to be lighted entirely by electricity. He will open on Monday night, "Patience" being transferred there from the Opera Comique.

A GHOST STORY.

The sensation of the week has been a ghost story. Some time ago a young woman of Church Stretton, Shropshire, arrived at the station one evening about dusk, went toward the village, and was never heard of afterwards. A farmer asserts that a week or two ago he saw the woman's ghost standing near the mouth of a disused copper mine, which was filled up about the time of the woman's disappearance. The inhabitants of the district became excited, and other persons saw the ghost. Villagers and others subscribed money to dig out the copper hole. The last reports of two days ago were fifteen feet from the bottom, but as nothing since has appeared, it is probable that the expected skeleton has not been found. Nevertheless, the reports have created a great discussion about ghosts in the newspapers.

ENCOURAGING HOME INDUSTRY.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Ladies' Pictorial brings out a portrait of Lady Bective, who is displaying such untiring energy in advocating the claims of British industry. She is especially desirous of promoting the sale of Yorkshire lustres, Scotch tweeds, Welsh homespuns, and Irish laces. The movement is constantly receiving fresh support. Among the recent accessions are the Duchess of Edinburgh, the Duchess of Montrose, the Duchess of St. Albans, the marchioness of Tweeddale, the Countess of Lonsdale, the Countess of Galloway, and Viscountes Folkstone. One result of Lady Bective's campaign is that a London wholesale house introduces a novelty in advertising Hibernian laces and underclothing as superior to machine made and cheaper.

ON AMERICAN SHIPPING.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—In describing the injurious effects of protection yesterday Mr. Gladstone instanced the decline of American shipping as a signal example thereof and said:—"It is not because the Americans have less ingenuity and perseverance than yourselves. They are descendants and kinsmen, and fully equal you in all that human energy can supply. The genuine effects of protection have been mitigated in the case of the Americans by their own energy and the enormous field open to them.

STREET LIGHTING.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Godalming, a town of Surrey, claims the honor of being the first town lighted entirely by electricity gained from water power. Chertenfield is also going to be lighted by electricity. The reason is rather curious. The town council and the gas company quarrelling about the price and quality of the gas, the gas company suddenly cut off the supply, whereupon the council immediately concluded a contract for electric lighting.

ANOTHER BOER WAR.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Judging from the tone of the Times and the Standard on Thursday morning, renewed hostilities with the Boers seemed probable. The Times had a very blustering editorial, saying that if the convention were not ratified by November 9 the Queen's sovereignty would revive, and that Sir Evelyn Wood had 11,000 men in readiness to assert England's authority again. The Boers telegraphed directly to Mr. Gladstone. They complain that they have been treated by England as an uncivilized nation, and object to the debt created by England since the annexation by Sir Theophilus Shepstone, being imposed upon them. The Pieter-Maritzburg correspondent of the Daily News believes that if concessions are made in the direction of trusting the Boers with respect to their treatment of the natives, this would have a better effect than many victories and would remove long misunderstandings. The Pall Mall Gazette alone of the influential London papers pleads for generous treatment of the Boers, who won their liberties fairly and squarely at Majuba Hill. Miss Colenso also thinks that the English debt should not be imposed upon the Boers.

AUTONOMY FOR CUBA

MADRID, Oct. 8.—In the Senate Senor Gueil presented an amendment to the addresses in reply to the speech from the Throne demanding autonomy for Cuba, and the conclusion of a commercial treaty between Cuba and the United States on the basis of the absolute freedom of commerce. The Conservative newspapers declare that the amendment must be withdrawn.

AMERICAN.

GUITEAU'S DEFENCE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Scoville, Guiteau's counsel, who has returned from New York, said to-day he did not make arrangements in that city for counsel to asssit him. It is the intention to ask E. T. Merrick, a prominent lawyer of this city, to act with him. If he declines he will ask the court to assign either Merrick or another competent attorney to assist him. Scoville thinks Guiteau will de arrainged Tuesday morning, and says if he (Scoville) concludes the case alone he will put Guiteau on the stand in his own defence as the first witness.

SOUR GRAPES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The Commercial says there is a considerable sharp criticism of District Attorney Corkhill for permitting his stenographer to sell to a newspaper the confession of Guiteau.

KILLED BY A COLLISION.

FULTON JUNCTION, ILL., Oct. 8.—A passenger and freight train collided at the crossing here this afternoon. The air brakes of the former having given out and it being impossible to stop the train a freight car was thrown on the depot platform, killing Station Agent Flanagan, and Arthur Cudney. Lester Fisk was fatally and L. Rozenblatt and H. B. Sutherland injured.

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

CABLE.

PARNELL ON GLADSTONE.

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—In his speech at Wexford Parnell said that Gladstone was bewailing the fact that there was a moral force behind the government in Ireland, that administered the English government, but failed in Ireland.

AMERICAN.

THE NEW CABINET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The Sun's Washington special says that the names of the new Cabinet will probably be sent in on Tuesday or Wednesday. The Cabinet as now stated is ex-Senator Freelinghuysen, Secretary of State; ex-Senator Howe, Secretary of the Interior; Chief Justice Folger, Treasurer; ex-Senator Sargent, Post Master General; ex-Governor Rice, Secretary of the Navy; Lincoln, Secretary of War; Benjamin H. Brewster, Attorney General. Conkling's position as suggested by his remarks on Johnson's impeachment case favours the idea. He believes that Arthur has the right to call the Senate to order to-day, swear in three Senators and then vacate the office.

A SACRED SPOT.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 10.—Thousands of people visited the Lake Cemetery yesterday. The park where the body of the late President lay in state was thronged with visitors night and day. All the railways centering here run special trains daily to accommodate the multitude.

A REDSKIN FIGHT.

PORT KEOGH, Montana, Oct. 10.—A battle between Crows and Blackfoot Indians took place on the headwaters of Porcupine creek. The Crows were driven off by two very prominent chiefs. The Crows were badly defeated. The loss is unknown.

PANIC IN A CHURCH.

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 10.—The exercises of the Methodist Conference last night were held in the largest church here, Bishop Harris presiding. The Building was packed. Towards the close of the services a woman in the gallery fainted, an alarm was given that the gallery was falling, this was followed by a rush for the various exists in which men, women and children joined. Many were trodden under foot and seriously injured. When the panic was at its height some body yelled fire! fire! and the fire department and a thousand citizens rushed to the scene. Quiet was finally restored.

GUITEAU'S STATEMENT.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Guiteau has made a statement declaring that it was under Divine [illegible] to remove Garfield to avoid hartrending desolation and war, and that the people will recognize this fact as soon as they recover their senses.

CONKLING'S MOVEMENTS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The World's Washington special says that Conkling says that the public need not be exercised over his arrival here, as no public result will occur from it. But the feeling is strong that he has not come for nothing.

DEATH OF A GOOD MAN.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—James P. Bruce, western agent of the Children's Aid Society, who died on Saturday at Tarriffville Conn., placed over ten thousand orphan children in western homes.

THE STATE CONVENTION.

The Sun's special that it is generally understood that in making up the roll of delegates to the State Committee they will place upon it the entire county Democracy delegation from the city of New York, leaving Tammany and Irving Hall off.

Mothers will find Perry Davis' Pain-Killer invaluable in the nursery, and it should always be kept near at hand, in case of accident. For pains in the breast, take a little Pain-Killer, in sweetened milk and water, bathing the breast in it clear at the same time. If the milk passages are clogged, from cold or other causes, bathing in the Pain Killer will give immediate relief.

PARTIES WERE CAUGHT in the act of firing Stanley, Dight & Co's mills at 12 o'clock last night. They succeeded in boring four holes through the building and pouring coal oil in the holes, and were applying matches when they were pounced upon by a constable and posse of men lying in wait for them. One of the parties escaped to the woods, but Bill Donnelly, Bob Donnelly, Dan Carty, his son Patrick, and John Kent have been arrested and are now safe in the lock-up. Other arrests will be made before morning.

Romance of Robbery.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 9.—The pursuing party that captured the Iron Mountain train robbers, Stephens and Delaney, consisted of four persons, Huddlestone, Beloines, Moore and [illegible] It was arrested the robbers had about $9000. Huddlestone proposed to his comrades to divide the money. Beloines objected saying the money ought to be returned to the railroad company, but he finally agreed that the money should be equally divided among the officers in the presence of Stephens and Delaney in consideration of the latter keeping the matter a secret. Each officer took an oath to annually pay to the family of the train robbers $100 and leave no means untried to secure their release from Penitentiary. The reason they did not release them was that a reward awaited their delivery. The party reached Hope, turned over the prisoners to the authorities and came to this city and received the $1000 offered by the state. All the captors appeared at the trial at Washington on Friday last, when Beloine divulged the matter. Huddlestone, Moore, and Dollahade were examined separately, and each made made affidavit that he knew nothing of the whereabouts of the money. Subsequently Moore stated that the money could be procured.

TROUBLE IN ZULULAND.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The reports announcing the rising among the Zulus will probably receive some explanation from a letter of the Bishop of Natal, dated September 4th, concerning the recent events in Zululand. He says: "I have heard from good authority that between 300 and 400 Zulu men, to say nothing of women and children, were killed by John Dunn's force. 'When we opened fire upon them,' said a white man who was present, 'they ran away.' This does not look as if John Dunn had only four guns of his own and four captured under Sitimela."

A LUCKY LEGATEE.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Charles Darwin is in luck. The Illustrated London News states that the will of Mr. Erasmus A. Darwin has been proved, the value of his personal estate exceeding $158,000. The testator leaves all his real estate and three-sixths of his personalty to his brother, Mr. Charles Robert Darwin.

ROYALTY IN IRELAND.

DUBLIN, Oct. 8.—The Empress of Austria has again announced her intention of hunting in Ireland, renting Lord Longfield's residence in Meath. A paper says:—"The Empress is the only sovereign personally known to the Irish people. Out of the period of 44 years during which the Queen has occupied the English throne she has spent about twelve days in Ireland in two visits, the last one in August, 1861. Did the Irish only understand that there was a Queen of Ireland, no people would be more loyal."

AN ANGLO-FRENCH FLEET.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—A sensational despatch says France has been asked to join England to take measures to protect their subjects in Egypt. France has consented, and England and France will forthwith despatch ironclads to Alexandria.

Messrs. Moody and Sankey commenced their services at Newcastle-on-Tyne on Sunday afternoon. They afterwards go to Scotland, and thence to Ireland, visiting the English southern counties later on.

It is stated that the recent uprising of Zulus was caused by John Dunn's force killing between three and four hundred Zulu men, to say nothing of women and children.

THE QUEEN AT A THEATRE.

BALMORAL, Oct. 8.—Much interest is taken in the Queen's attending a theatrical performance for the first time for twenty years. On Tuesday she drove from Balmoral to attend a representation of "The Colonel," given in an improvised theatre at Boergeldie Castle, by Mr. Edgar Bruce and his company, at the special request of the Prince of Wales. The last time her Majesty entered a theatre it was at the Adelphi, to see "The Colleen Bawn."

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Mr. D'Oyley Carte's new Savoy theatre is to be lighted entirely by electricity. He will open on Monday night, "Patience" being transferred there from the Opera Comique.

A GHOST STORY.

The sensation of the week has been a ghost story. Some time ago a young woman of Church Stretton, Shropshire, arrived at the station one evening about dusk, went toward the village, and was never heard of afterwards. A farmer asserts that a week or two ago he saw the woman's ghost standing near the mouth of a disused copper mine, which was filled up about the time of the woman's disappearance. The inhabitants of the district became excited, and other persons saw the ghost. Villagers and others subscribed money to dig out the copper hole. The last reports of two days ago were fifteen feet from the bottom, but as nothing since has appeared, it is probable that the expected skeleton has not been found. Nevertheless, the reports have created a great discussion about ghosts in the newspapers.

ENCOURAGING HOME INDUSTRY.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Ladies' Pictorial brings out a portrait of Lady Bective, who is displaying such untiring energy in advocating the claims of British industry. She is especially desirous of promoting the sale of Yorkshire lustres, Scotch tweeds, Welsh homespuns, and Irish laces. The movement is constantly receiving fresh support. Among the recent accessions are the Duchess of Edinburgh, the Duchess of Montrose, the Duchess of St. Albans, the marchioness of Tweeddale, the Countess of Lonsdale, the Countess of Galloway, and Viscountes Folkstone. One result of Lady Bective's campaign is that a London wholesale house introduces a novelty in advertising Hibernian laces and underclothing as superior to machine made and cheaper.

ON AMERICAN SHIPPING.

LEEDS, Oct. 8.—In describing the injurious effects of protection yesterday Mr. Gladstone instanced the decline of American shipping as a signal example thereof and said:—"It is not because the Americans have less [illegible] than yourselves. They are decendants and kinsmen, and fully equal you in all that human energy can supply. The genuine effects of protection have been mitigated in the case of the Americans by their own energy and the enormous field open to them.

STREET LIGHTING.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Godalming, a town of Surrey, claims the honor of being the first town lighted entirely by electricity gained from water power. Chertersield is also going to be lighted by electricity. The reason is rather curious. The town council and the gas company quarrelling about the price and quality of the gas, the gas company suddenly cut off the supply, whereupon the council immediately concluded a contract for electric lighting.

ANOTHER BOER WAR.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Judging from the tone of the Times and the Standard on Thursday morning, renewed hostilities with the Boers seemed probable. The Times had a very blustering editorial, saying that if the convention were not ratified by November 9 the Queen's sovereignty would revive, and that Sir Evelyn Wood had 11,000 men in readiness to assert England's authority again. The Boers telegraphed directly to Mr. Gladstone. They complain that they have been treated by England as an uncivilized nation, and object to the debt created by England since the annexation by Sir Theophilus Shepstone, being imposed upon them. The Pieter-Maritzburg correspondent of the Daily News believes that if concessions are made in the direction of trusting the Boers with respect to their treatment of the natives, this would have a better effect than many victories and would remove long misunderstandings. The Pall Mall Gazette alone of the influential London papers pleads for generous treatment of the Boers, who won their liberties fairly and squarely at Majuba Hill. Miss Colenso also thinks that the English debt should not be imposed upon the Boers.

AUTONOMY FOR CUBA

MADRID, Oct. 8.—In the Senate Senor Gueli presented an amendment to the addresses in reply to the speech from the Throne demanding autonomy for Cuba, and the conclusion of a commercial treaty between Cuba and the United States on the basis of the absolute freedom of commerce. The Conservative newspapers declare that the amendment must be withdrawn.

A PRIZE FARM.

Our readers may recollect that some eighteen months ago the Council of the Agricultural and Arts Association for this Province devided it into districts, in one of which gold, silver and bronze medals are to be awarded each year for the best farms until the whole Province be gone over, and as the turn of the district of which the county of Peterborough forms a part is fast hastening on, it may not be uninteresting to our readers to learn what sort of a farm it is that has carried off the gold medals this year. The first prize or gold medal, was awarded to Mr. William Donaldson, who owns a farm containing 300 acres near Woodstock, and of which the judges report as follows:—

"The general appearance of this property, as seen from the road, is very fine. Grand large homestead, a fine residence, with very much of an Old Country air about it. Beautiful and extensive groves and fine garden, and with that general appearance not easily described but always noticed about every well managed farm; and what adds not a little to the attractiveness of the situation is the general appearance of the surrounding properties. On the one side is that splendid property owned by Mr. Dunlop; on the other is the well-known residence of Judge McQueen. A fine wood on the Judge's land, and flanking Mr. Donaldson's farm, forms a very attractive feature, and, situated as it is on ground rising to a considerable height, has no small share in adding to the beauty of the general surroundings. But as it was neither with the beauty of the landscape nor the general surroundings that we had specially to deal with, but with farm management, it was necessary for us to do something more than stand in the grove and admire the scenery, although the latter would have been by far the most enjoyable the day being one of the hottest of the season.

The land we found to be a clay loam, with a clay subsoil—all the arable land being either naturally dry or made so by the drainage. Besides the arable land there are flats running along the sides of a creek on the side of the farm, which are in permanent pasture, and afford a good run for the cattle. Mr. Donaldson's system of farming is that of mixed husbandry, consisting of grain growing, breeding of thoroughbred cattle and sheep, and somewhat extensively in that of fattening stock, the stock business generally as conducted on this farm being a specially noticeable feature. To commence with the crop and mode of management, we found that this year there were grown 40 acres of fall wheat of the following variety:—Clawson, Scott and Walker's Reliable. With the exception of the latter, which was a very fine crop (and which we have since been informed yielded 33 bushels to the acre), the crop was not up to the average of former years; thirteen acres of blue peas. This field had the appearance of being likely to give a very good return. Fifteen acres of barley, fairly good to the time of our first visit; at a second visit, seeing it after it was threshed, we found it to be a very nice sample. Oats good, yielded 60 bushels to the acre. Two and a half acres of corn, as well as three acres more for soiling, both lots very good, especially when the dry season is considered. This idea of growing corn for soiling we consider might be followed with advantage by farmers generally. On most farms there is often a partial scarcity of cattle food during the fall months, and when this is the case it answers a good purpose in supplementing the closly nibbled pastures, and when not required for fall feeding it answers very well for winter. Too much importance cannot be placed in keeping up all times of the year; for we can hardly fancy anything worse in farm management than to let stock lose in a few weeks, through mismanagement, what it has taken months to put on. This, however, is too often seen.

The root crops consist of twelve acres of turnips, two of mangolds and three and a half of carrots, all extra good for the season. Mangolds Mr. Donaldson uses for spring feed, chiefly for cows after calving and ewes. He finds they keep well and answer a good purpose in inducing a flow of milk. Carrots fed pretty freely to horses. Sufficient potatoes grown for home use. Forty acres were cut for hay and 60 pastured. The rotation followed is peas after sod, fall wheat on land manured and in clover, plowed under, as well as an occasional summer fallow with what manure can be spared from the root crop put on. Fall wheat followed with oats. Oat stubble heavily manured for turnips. Then comes a crop of barley seeded down. Manure in all cases ploughed under. The tillage is thorough and complete. The management of manure is good. It is drawn out and neatly piled. Considerable salt is used on the root crop, which probably had something to do with the fresh healthy look of the turnip top. Fences in good shape; most rail, but good of the sort.

The stock of cattle is twenty-one short horns, besides the bull now in use, Seraph the 5th. A Bates bull, possessing many good points as well as an animal of great substance. Besides, the females, which are a good lot, there is on hand a once yearling bull and four calves fit for service next year. Not a cull among them, all good and thrifty looking; just the sort of stock to send down to that part of Essex where we work. Besides the thoroughbreds, 25 grades are usually kept. From 25 to 30 are fattened in the winter. Those fed last winter averaged 1,416 lbs., on the 9th of May, and were sold at $5.95 per 100 lbs. The system of winter feeding on this farm is similar to that practised on all the farms that we have inspected, where winter feeding and fattening of stock is much attended to, and where we have found it successfully carried out; that is nearly all the fodder is passed through the chaff-cutter. For cattle that are wintered over the proportions are about one-third clover, and two-thirds straw. For the fattening of cattle a large percentage of hay is used. Although we have found this to be the invariable practice with the best feeders met with on these farms entered for competition, yet we are all well aware that there are many successful stock men who do not follow that plan; but there can be no doubt, where economy is studied, the former will be the plan adopted. In feeding fat cattle in the winter the usual plan is to feed first thing in the morning two quarts of meal and cut stuff; after breakfast with a little chaff and cut turnips; noon, cut turnips, chaff and meal; the same at 5 o'clock, then at 7 p.m. hay or straw. The daily allowance for each animal is about one bushel of turnips, and from six to nine quarts of meal, varying according to the animal. The summer management of calves is to keep them in the house; feed them freely with meal and a little oil cake. Bull calves are always allowed to suck the cows.

A flock of from 35 to 60 sheep are kept. These like the cattle are good. One-third of these are Shropshire Downs, the balance Leicester, with a dash of Lincolns. Taken altogether they are an extra good lot, as the prices for which they are sold would indicate. They are mostly sold for breeding, shearling ewes of both sorts bringing from $15 to $20. Some of the Downs went to Missouri last year at $16. A few are also got ready for the Christmas market. The plan of winter feeding is to give pea straw in the morning and evening, and clover and hay at noon, with a few turnips, and the addition of a little grain in the spring. A few good Berkshires are kept for home use.

A description of the building followed. They were classed as among the finest in the Province. All the stables were paved with stone and the feeding room with asphalt. The main barn was 95x74 feet, under which were stone stables for cattle and root house. Single stalls to the number of 60 were found to be the best. A watertight trough ran along in front of the cattle, into which water was pumped when desired. The stable was separate and they found it to be airy and well arranged. Large sheep houses in four divisions, with separate yards, pig-house, implement house, driving house and horse power under cover, completed the set of farm buildings. The dwelling was also praised. Three span of horses and a yoke of oxen were required for the work of the farm. Six men—married if possible—were employed in the summer.

It is only right that we should add for the encouragement of those who do not possess 300 acre farms that the second prize went to the owner of a moderate 100 acres. The medels are not awarded for the largest, but the best managed farms.

SPAULDING'S BAY AGAIN.

To the Editor of the Review:

Dear Sir,—I was much pleased to see a communication in your valuable paper a few evenings ago, calling the attention of our civic authorities to the deplorable sanitary condition of Spaulding's Bay, and I was in hopes that the writer would continue to agitate the matter until the people would wake up to a sense of their danger. The general public have not the slightest idea of the number of persons who are sick throughout the town at present of malarial fever. The cause is not far to seek. We have Spaulding's Bay in the south and one or two artifical ponds in the west end of the town. The miasma arising from these places during the late dry warm weather was sufficient to sicken a whole city, and it must be borne in mind that the malaria arising from these places is not confined to their immediate neighborhood; the air becomes impregnated with it, and is carried about all over, bringing sickness and death in its wake.

As an instance of this, I might refer to the case of a promising young man who died but a few days ago of this fell disease. How many have died from the same cause unnoticed, or whose deaths have been accelerated thereby, God alone knows. If the person who administers slow poison to his victim, is as culpable as the assassin who uses the knife or pistol, surely the town authorities are not blameless of the deaths of the victims, who have sickened unto death from breathing the poisoned atmosphere of those plague spots which they allow to exist in our midst. The "South Reserve" was given to the town for the purpose of reclaiming Spaulding's Bay with a view of improving the healthfulness of the town, but the commissioners of the Town Trust, instead of making any attempt at carrying out this part of their trust, culpably sold the high lots on the edge of the Bay, instead of levelling them into it, and by that means have two lots to sell in place of only one, while at the same time carrying out their trust and ridding the people of a nuisance. Various schemes are suggested for the advancement and improvement of the town, whilst its sanitary condition, which is the most important, is totally lost sight of. I trust it may not even yet be too late to have something done in this direction. I see that our worthy Mayor is in communication with the Dominion Government about dredging out the lake. Could some arrangement not be arrived at by which the Bay could be filled at the same time. I trust his worship will not let this matter drop, but that he will bring it to a successful issue and thereby gain the everlasting gratitude of the ratepayers.

We have before us, Mr. Editor, the terrible example of Memphis Tenn. and other cities, where property once invaluable suddenly became valueless, owing to sickness brought on by their bad sanitary conditions. I hope that such a calamity shall never happen here, but if we would avoid the evil we must remove the cause.

I am Mr. Editor,
Yours respectfully,
ANOTHER RESIDENT.

Peterborough, Oct. 8th, 1881.

The Gulf Breeze.

They were sitting on the gallery after dinner, when old Clodhopper spoke up and said: "Col. Gilhoolly, did you ever feel such a delightful gulf breeze as this in town? I just sit here every afternoon and am nearly blown away with the breeze." "I don't feel a particle of breeze," responded Gilhooly; "there is not a breath of air stirring." "No breeze! Why, man alive, I feel chilly." Just look at those peach trees being tossed by the gulf zephyrs. Every afternoon the breeze blows the limbs about that way, and I sit here and enjoy the cool air." Gilhooly looked over the fence at the peach trees, and asked, "Does the gulf breeze out this way wear a straw hat, and stuff peaches into a boy, and take big bites out of them?" In less than three seconds old granger Clodhopper was chasing two boys over the orchard fence and using the most frightful language. "Ain't it hot?" he remarked, as he came back panting and blowing. He sat down on the gallery and said, "Do you know, I've seen those trees a shaking every afternoon for a week, and I thought all the time it was the gulf breeze a shaking the limbs? I do really believe my eyesight is beginning to fail."

ACCIDENT TO THE VICE-REGAL TRAIN.

The Engine and Three Cars Thrown from the Train.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—The following despatch was received here yesterday from Sioux City, Iowa:—

"To H. P Dwight, Esq.:

"The Engine of the train from Council Bluff to St. Paul, with the Governor-General's car attached, was upset by cattle near Sioux City late last night. Three cars also went off the track. The fireman was much shaken, but no one else was hurt. We hope to have the line cleared this morning.

"WILFUL MURDER."

Verdict in the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary Case.

Montreal, Oct. 7.—The jury in the case of Hugh Hayvern, the slayer of Salter, to-day returned a verdict of "Wilful murder." The Crown counsel, Messrs. C. P. Davidson and Ouimet, are deserving of the highest credit for the able manner in which they conducted the prosecution. The prisoner had also one of the most brilliant lawyers at the local bar, in Mr. Curran, to defend him, and everything was done to get him off on the plea of insanity. Hayvern showed unconcern when sentenced to be hanged on the 9th of December, but subsequently in his conversation with his guards seemed to realize his dreadful position. He has been twenty-five times convicted of criminal offences in Montreal courts of justice.

The N.P's. Doing.

Kingston, Oct. 7.—The new building of the Kingston locomotive works will be under cover in a few days. Steam pipes, &c., are being put in all the buildings on the premises. The company propose to use the electric light instead of gas, to light their shops, and negotiations for this are now pending. It is estimated that upwards of $12,000 per month will shortly be the amount paid to the employees, and when the present arrangements are concluded, and the works running day and night this branch of industry will be an honor to Kingston and a credit to the National Policy, under the fostering care of which it has sprung from a pigmay into a gigantic enterprise.

Fatal Accident.

Bowmanville, Oct 7.—A fatal accident occured to-day on the Grand Trunk. An old lady and an old resident, Mrs. James Bertram, was killed by the up special at the railroad bridge, at Bowmanville station, this morning. She was crossing the bridge. The engineer whistled down brakes, but to late.

SUNDRIES!

The attention of Housekeepers is called to the following variety of edibles, a trial of any of which will be an attraction to the table and a gratification to the palate of the purchaser.

CRUSHED WHEAT:—Made from selected Canadian White Wheat by the new process, and is much superior to the ordinary cracked wheat, as a pleasant, light and nourishing breakfast dish.

EVAPORATED SWEET CORN:—An excellent article for the dinner table, esteemed as a delicacy and imparting pleasant variety to the tea table also. Is quite equal to green corn, and superior in the opinion of many to the Canned Corn as usually prepared.

PEA FLOUR:—Prepared in England by an entirely new process, and put up in tin cans. Is a peculiar "handy thing to have about the house." For Soups and Gravies it is simply matchless.

MIXED PICKLES:—An extra fine quality which we sell by the quart or gallon. A convenient, and for the consumer the cheapest mode of supplying the table with this appetizing condiment.

Our motto:—"Good goods at fair prices." All parcels sent free to any part of the town.

THE LASH.

Blackburn Receives the Balance of His Punishment—Twenty Lashes.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 6.—In the presence of the officials, representatives of the press and a few others this morning, Blackburn received the remainder of his whipping, twenty lashes, and like the first instalment took them without a whimper. He showed a little more nervousness than on the former occasion, his pulse marked 140 as against 120 last time. The arrangements were under the charge of Deputy-Sheriff Smith, assisted by Deputy-Gaoler Keachie, and were as complete as could be desired. Dr. Harris was the physician in attendance. The flogging which was done satisfactorily, was not by the same person who administered the first dose, as some complaint had been found with the manner in which he had performed his unpleasant duty. In about another month Blackburn will be released, and it is to be hoped that the severe lesson that he has learned will be the means of making him lead a better life in future.—Telegram.

DEFYING THE LAW.

Latest Phase of the Clarence Child Abduction—Refuses to Surrender the Children.

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—David Gardner, one of the parties concerned in the Clarence child abduction case, has been served with papers by Mr. George Ramage and other residents of Clarence, ordering the delivery of William Gardner, his son's children, to their mother, Mrs. Gardner. The papers were signed by William Wilson, J. P., of Cumberland. When he was given the papers David Gardner declared that he would "jump into the Chaudiere falls at Ottawa with the two children in his arms before he would give them up to their mother." It is surmised that the children are securely hidden in the vicinity, and not in the States as was at first supposed. William Gardner, the husband, is, however, in Uncle Sam's dominions. Meanwhile Mrs. Gardner is very much grieved over the loss of her children, and is leaving no stone unturned to regain possession of them. It is thought that the matter will be brought before the courts, David Gardner having expressed his defiance of the law.

THE MONTREAL "DISAPPEARANCE."

Mr. Charles E. Bourne Turns Up All Right in New York City.

MONTREAL, Oct. 7.—The whereabouts of Mr. Charles E. Bourne is known, he having written to Mr. James Dakers from New York City. He seems to have owed no one any very large sum of money, and has been apparently overdrawing his accounts. He expresses some sorrow that he has been compelled to leave Montreal, but seems bent upon starting life afresh. The $5,000 in the Citizens' Guarantee Company and the household property in Mr. Bourne's dwelling will likely go far to cover the shortage in Mr. Bourne's accounts.

LATER.—Further particulars of the Bourne defalcation place the amount of shortage at $10,000. It has now been determined to arrest Bourne in New York, if he can be found. Although he has written from New York, his address is not known, and New York detectives will be looking for him ere this gets into print.

THE FLETCHER MURDER.

Arraignment of the Latest Prisoner in the Police Court—Witnesses for the Defence.

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—At the Police Court this morning John Kehoe alias John McKim, was brought up and remanded till Monday. Prisoner had been brought from Brockville yesterday by Chief Sherwood. Currie, the coloured man, who was knocked off the circus train on the night of the murder, went to Brockville with the chief and recognized McKim, who had been sent to Brockville gaol from Gananoque for disorderly conduct. Authority for the removal of McKim from Brockville gaol to Ottawa was given by the Minister of Justice. No one was allowed to see Kehoe after his arrival here, and interviewing prisoners at Ottawa is apparently at an end. It is said Kehoe expects an engine driver of the Canada Pacific Railway to give evidence on his behalf. A witness is here to give evidence in behalf of Stephen Dunn.

A Big Fire at Chandos.

A correspondent writes to the Mail as follows:—At dark on the evening of the 20th ult., the large lumber shanty in the north-east corner of Chandos caught from a forest fire, and was totally destroyed, also the stable, blacksmith shop, meat house, and granary. The office was saved by a sudden change of wind. The buildings were very extensive, the stable being 120 feet long, and the shanty (which last winter accommodated over 100 men) was 80 feet in length, and all very substantially built last fall by Mr. John Gault, an energetic foreman in the employ of Messrs. Gilmour & Co., Trenton, who expected to use the shanty for lumbering another winter or two. A near settler (with his wife and family of small children) occupied the premises as caretaker for the summer, and had his little summer's grain stored in the stable, and all burnt. He had done but little else for a month previously but watch, carry water, and fight fires in the woods around, and was beginning to hope the worst danger was past. But a strong northerly wind seemed sent on purpose to consume everything in its track, and earlier in the day reached and destroyed his own private dwelling, about forty rods from the lumber shanty. Himself and a few neighbours fought the fire so long at the big stable, and the shanty caught fire so soon afterwards, that a very few of the caretaker's household effects could be saved. To make matters more serious, his wife had given birth to a child the same day, and had to leave her bed and walk barefooted to the nearest house (nearly half a mile), supported by a neighbour and his wife.

Irish Nihilism.

The following extraordinary document was recently placarded at Castlebar, in Ireland: "Irish nihilists to the front! Liberty or death! Nihilists of Castlebar, the hour has come! Cast off the hellish yoke, or die in the effort. Make sure your blows prove to the double-dyed British government and its base, tyrannical and bloody followers that nihilism is not confined to Russia. Mark well your enemies. You know them. They whose lives were doomed at last meeting. Maintain the sacred vow you made before heaven. Come, then, in the name of God and country. Remember, 'he who would be free must strike the blow himself.' Meet, you know when and where. God save Ireland. Perdition to Victoria. Freedom or blood. Now or never. To arms, nihilists of Castlebar., to arms. Shrink not from your duty. You know when and where. God save Ireland, and perdition to Victoria."

HANLAN has got down to hard work for his match with Wallace Ross. On Monday he had a practice pull. The water was in capital condition, and about four o'clock he launched his new Warin boat. Hanlan is looking well, and is rowing very fast, but appeared scarcely up to his best form. Three or four weeks' steady work, however, will see the superfluous flesh which he now carries removed, and see him rowing with that finish and vim which has made him the foremost oarsman of his day.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

August Flower.

The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects; such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Waterbrash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits &c. Go to your Druggist and get a 75 cent bottle of AUGUST FLOWER or a Sample Bottle for 10 cents. Try it. Two doses will relieve you.

D. LANGELL'S ASTHMA & CATARRH REMEDY.

Having struggled 20 years between life and death with ASTHMA or PHTHISIC, treated by eminent Physicians and receiving no benefit, I was compelled during the last five years of my illness to sit on my chair day and night gasping for breath; my sufferings were beyond description. I fortunately discovered this WONDERFUL CURE for ASTHMA or CATARRH, warranted to relieve the most stubborn case of Asthma in FIVE MINUTES, so the patient can lie down to rest and sleep comfortably. Any person not fully satisfied after using one-third of a box can return the remainder to the proprietor and the money will be refunded, or send me your address for a trial package FREE OF CHARGE. SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For e'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Or write the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man,"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard;
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The sublest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide.
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Faultless fit, splendid style, vast variety, good work and a very great saving in price will be found in M. & A's. Mantles and Ulsters.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1881.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Parish History—St. Mark's.

Parish Church Work says that the site of this church was purchased for £25 from Jane Buttery of Otonabee. The deed of conveyance is to the Honourable and Right Rev. John, Lord Bishop of Toronto, and it is dated the 10th of April, 1862. The ground contains five-eights of an acre, and is composed of part of Lot number seventeen in the Twelfth Concession of Otonabee. The church was erected and opened by Divine worship in the year 1863, and service was held in it regularly from that date until 1876, by the Rev. M. Burnham. It was then joined to St. Luke's Parish, as our readers are aware, and is still served by the Incumbent of Ashburnham. At three o'clock on Sunday, Sept. 11th, 1881, the Church was consecrated by the Bishop of Toronto. During the previous week the walls and ceiling were kalsomined, the windows were frosted, floors and woodwork cleansed, and the whole building thoroughly renovated. In addition to this a handsome stained-glass window had been erected in the chancel as a memorial to Mr. Thomas Fawcett, by his widow. These needful changes had greatly improved and beautified the church, and called forth the Bishop's hearty commendation. The usual petition for consecration was read in the church porch by the Incumbent, after which the Bishop proceeded with the consecration service. Subsequently he addressed the large congregation present, fully explaining the meaning of consecration, and drawing from our practice of the rite some useful and spiritual lessons. The offertory was in aid of the church funds.

Midland and Grand Junction Railways.

The traffic returns of the above railways for the week ending Sept. 30th, 1881, were as follows:—

MIDLAND RAILWAY.—Passengers and mails, $3413.12; freight, $13610.62; total, $17023.74, as compared with $14955.48 for the corresponding week of 1880, being an increase of $2068.26; and the aggregate traffic to date is $286556.83, being an increase of $38780.00 over 1880.

GRAND JUNCTION RAILWAY.—Passengers and mails, $838.67; freight, $3046.96; total, $3885.63, as compared with $1784.58 for the corresponding week of 1880, being an increase of $2101.05; and the aggregate traffic from 1st June to date is $41072.56, being an increase of $25516.19 over 1880.

The Saturday Night Promenade.

The number of promenaders on Saturday night was very noticeably smaller than it has been for months past. Although the evening was cool, still it was not uncomfortable, but many of the promenaders preferred to remain in the house beside a warm stove, unless they had business that required their presence on the streets.

Muddy.

The streets of the town are at present in a very muddy condition, worse in fact, we think, than have been at any time during the year. The country roads are nearly as bad, so we are informed by those who have had occasion to drive over them. A few days of warm bright sun alone would have a tendency to dry them up and put them in a more passible condition.

Subscription Books.

Agents are wanted to canvass for subscription books, bibles, albums, &c., for Messrs. Ham & Brown, who have opened their office in Henthorn's block. They require twenty agents for this purpose and to canvass for Raymond's sewing machines. d75

Lacrosse.

The Lacrosse Club have, we understand, decided to play no more foreign matches this season, so that there is no probability of a match taking place with the Kingston club for the Gildersleeve Cup.

Rain.

Surely those who have been complaining of a dearth of rain have now had sufficient. A very large quantity of water has fallen in the shape of rain during the last few days.

Fresh Oysters.

Second supply of fresh Oysters at SOANES' FISH STORE. d71.

POLICE COURT.

FOR SIX MONTHS.

FRIDAY, Oct. 7.—Adam Dobbin, well known to the large majority of our readers, was brought up on remand, charged by P. C. McGhee with vagrancy. While arresting him the officer had great trouble, as Adam, although he was homeless and complaining, preferred his liberty to being cooped up in gaol, and took up a large knife and threatened to cut his throat, but the officer would permit no such foolishness while he was around, and quickly disarmed his man and brought him before the magistrate, when he was remanded for a week.

He received six months in gaol at hard labor.

NON REGISTRATION.

SATURDAY, Oct. 8.—The first case brought for some time under the Registration Act, came up for hearing.

John Kelly, superintendent of the Little Lake Cemetery, was charged by C. D. Macdonald, Division Registrar, acting under instructions received from the head office at Toronto, with interring a body without the necessary certificate of the Registrar being shown, and also with neglecting to make the necessary return in such cases, as provided by law. The case was adjourned for one week.

VAGRANCY.

MONDAY, Oct. 10.—Patrick Handrigan, who has spent the last week in gaol, was brought up on remand, charged by Chief Johnston with wandering about the streets without any visible means of support, or peaceable employment, in fact a vagrant.

"Paddy" had a rather dilapidated look as he walked into the court room, supported on a stick. He has been suffering from a sore leg for some time, and is unable to walk without a stick. He complained greatly of the want of fire at the gaol, and notwithstanding his infirmity, he says he was compelled to carry in his own wood. He asked to be allowed to go, as he did not wish to be sent to "that hole" again, and promised to leave town and go to the country.

When asked by the magistrate if he had any means of support, he replied that he had a little money, but not much. A man owed him about $1, which he thought he could collect.

The magistrate sentenced him to gaol for six months, so that he might procure proper medical attendance.

Vital Statistics.

The number of registrations made with the Town Clerk, Division Registrar, during the month of October, show quite an increase over those of the preceding month. While the number—44—is quite large, still it does not represent all. The numbers are as follows:—

Births	17
Marriages	12
Deaths	15

It will be noticed that the number of marriages is considerably in advance of those of the preceding month, and will help to make the average a good one at the end of the year.

Registration.

As will be seen by reference to our police court report the Division Registrar in accordance with instructions received from Toronto, has commenced the prosecution of persons who neglect to registar births, deaths and marriages, as required by law. The penalty it imposes is a heavy one, and as it costs nothing to registar, and occupies but a very short time, all should attend to this important matter and keep themselves out of trouble.

The Howlers.

The streets on Saturday night were remarkably quiet. Very little howling was done. A gang from the south end did a little of it at the corner of George and Charlotte streets, but a few well directed bricks, thrown by a citizen residing in the vicinity had the effect of dispersing the crowd in double quick time.

Paying us Back.

An American exchange with characteristic spead-eagleism points out that the almighty republic is getting even with the Canadian bearer. A discount has been placed on Canadian silver, and this is looked upon as a sort of retributive action for indignities to the American coinage in times past.

An Acquisition.

We are pleased to learn that one of our boating men has purchased a small yacht, formerly owned in Keene. It will be quite an acquisition to our fleet and by the time forty or fifty similar crafts are owned here we will have to form a yacht club.

New Goods.

Use the Poland Metallic Hair Brush "for headache." British Plate Mirrors for ladies' toilet. Choice lot of those very desirable Gentlemens' Dressing Combs. TAYLOR & MACDONALD, Medical Hall, Corner of George and Hunter Streets.

Football Match.

The football match between the Club and Collegiate Institute which was to have taken place Saturday afternoon did not take place on account of the wet weather. It will probably come off this afternoon.

The Pay List.

The regular fortnightly pay list for streets and bridges, which was presented to the Town Treasurer on Saturday, amounted to $377.18, of which sum $212.90 was paid to the Dickson Estate for lumber.

Town Council Meeting

The regular meeting of the Town Council takes place this evening at the Council Chamber, at 7.30 o'clock. As the waterworks by-law will probably came up, the meeting is likely to be an important one.

Rifle Association.

The Council of the Peterborough Rifle Association meet this evening at the Drill Shed at 7.30 sharp, for the purpose of arranging the prize list for the forthcoming matches.

Oysters! Oysters! Oysters!

Fresh oysters by the plate, raw, stewed or fried, at the St. James Hotel and Restaurant.

The Weather.

The weather is cold, with a cold wind blowing. A heavy rain fell last night, and helped to make the roads worse than they were before. The weather probabilities for this district, for the following twenty-four hours, as reported from Toronto, at 10 o'clock a.m. to-day, by the great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes, strong winds and moderate gales from the northward; fair colder weather, with snow flurries in some localities. Frost to-night.

The Electric Light.

There is some talk in town of forming an electric light company. A number of gentlemen have written to the manufacturers of the best machines to ascertain full particulars with a view of lighting not only the streets but private houses. We notice that a similar company has been formed in London, Ontario, and that a town in England is now lighted altogether by the electric light, at a far smaller cost than by gas.

Runaways.

This afternoon a grey team of horses ran up Water street without any person to guide them, but were stopped before doing any harm, a little later Mr. John Haggart's "St. Julian" took a little trip without Jack, and after doing a little 2.10 work was stopped by the wheels of the buggy coming in contract with the market. Fortunately the flier was not injured or the buggy damaged.

Agricultural Show.

The annual exhibition of the West Riding Agricultural Society takes place on Tuesday and Wednesday next, at the Agricultural Grounds. We cannot yet give the number of entries, but from present appearances, we should say that the show will be a success. The exhibition will be open to the public to-morrow evening and the following day.

Deficit Removed.

We are pleased to learn from Parish Church Work, that the long standing deficit in connection with the accounts of St. Luke's Church, has been removed, and that for the last month there is a surplus on hand.

Court of Chancery.

The sitting of the above court concluded on Saturday. There were only four cases entered for trial and those were easily disposed of. An alimony case Miller vs. Miller was laid over until next spring.

Personal.

Mr. Harris, of Rochester, for some years superintendent of the Little Lake Cemetery, has been here for some days on a visit to his numerous friends. He left for home this morning.

At Carton's Fruit Store.

Fine fresh Oysters at closest prices; also a select stock of the best American Canned Goods, guaranteed fresh at Carton's Fruit Store, one door north of Wrighton's. d87

Accident.

John Bickerton had his leg badly broken between the knee and ankle, in Hilliard's saw mill, by a log rolling on it, this morning.

The Upper Lake Mine Accident.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Two Chinamen have escaped from the caving mine at the Upper Lake. Both are badly injured. The miners are pumping and digging to rescue the four white men shut in, but it is believed they will be suffocated by gas before they are reached.

UPPER LAKE, Cal., Oct. 8.—The bodies of the four men imprisoned by the caving of the shaft yesterday have been recovered. All were suffocated.

Massacred.

TUCSON, Arizona, Oct.—A Mexican family returning to their home here from Sonora was overtaken by Indians. Ignacio Volenzuedo and his wife were killed and their child wounded.

SAN CARLOS, N. M., Oct 8.—Yesterday Col. Tiffany arrested A. Shay, who, the friendly Indians say, is the murderer of Captain Henlig. The prisoner acknowledged being in the Cibicu fight. He also said he was one of the party with Turner and Moody at Middleton ranch.

5—Never Give Up.

You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by TAYLOR & MACDONALD. d5w27

In the cure of Consumption there is probably no known medicine equal to the Syrup of Hypophosphites prepared by Mr. James I. Fellows, chemist, St. John, N.B. A number of cases have come under our notice the past year when the results which have followed its use have been astonishing. We write this unsolicited by any one, and advise the afflicted to try it.—Editor Colonial Farmer. d95w16

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

They purify the System and cool the Blood. They are used to great advantage in Fever and Ague districts. In large 8 oz. bottles, at 50 cents. J. D. TULLY, special agent for Peterborough.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines.—Republican.

5—Millions Given Away.

Millions of bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have been given away as Trial Bottles of the large size. This enormous outlay would be disastrous to the proprietors, were it not for the rare merits possessed by this wonderful medicine. Call at TAYLOR & MACDONALD'S Drug Store, and get a Trial Bottle free, and try for yourself. It never fails to cure. d5w27

Destructive Fire.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The Fourth avenue horse car stables, owned by W. H. Vanderdeabilt, and occupying a block, were burned this evening. Most of the horses were taken out, but it is thought at least thirty perished. Some say two hundred were burned. The loss is estimated at $200,000. The flames spread to Morrell's large furniture storage building, across the street, which was destroyed. Some of the finest furniture in the city was stored there, including $50,000 worth of painting, the property of Vanderbilt, all which were burned. The loss is estimated at $2,000,000.

LATER.—It is estimated that the personal loss will be from a million to a million and a half. Vanderbuilt's paintings were uninsured. Mrs. Einstein, sister-in-law of the Congressman, lost her wedding presents, valued at $10,000. George Verburger lost furniture worth $60,000. Harriet Irving's picture, valued at $20,000, were burned, and Abram S. Hewitt lost $10,000 worth of furniture. An engine caught fire, and was badly damaged. The cause of the fire is believed to have been the upsetting of an oil lamp in the stables. About 100 animals perished. The loss on the stables and contents is now said to be $500,000, insured in many companies.

Seen From a Train.

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 9.—An Elpaso special says the passengers via the Southern Pacific rail road report that on Thursday night, when the train was passing Willcox, Arizona, a fight was progressing between citizens and Indians. The Indians seemed to have made an attack on the whites, who were thrown into great confusion, and retreating firing off guns, which was fierce and constant and drowning the noise of the train, and was heard for a number of miles. The bodies of five line repairers were seen near the track, shot through the heads. This is the second party of telegraph men murdered. Nothing confirmatory has been received at head-quarters.

The Governor-General.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 10.—The Marquis goes to Ottawa direct. He will take the steamer for England on the 22nd, remaining two months. The Princess Louise will not likely return, though it is possible she will in the spring. It is understood that this is owing to the state of her health. The Governor-General is delighted with the North-West territory.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

TROUBLED IRELAND.

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—Gladstone's speech brought light and hope to loyal people, who felt that the Government had abandoned them. The midland counties are still very lawless. Boycotting is still proceeding with unrelenting vigour; the incendiarism is frequent.

MR. PARNELL'S UTTERANCES.

WEXFORD, Oct. 10.—Mr. Parnell concluded his speech at Wexford:—"I trust the result of the League movement will be that, just as Mr. Gladstone by his acts in 1881 has eaten all his old words and departed from all his former declared principles, so we shall see these brave words of his shall be scattered as chaff before the united and advancing determination of Irishmen to regain their lost legislative independence." Mr. Parnell also said the movement for using articles in Irish manufacture is more likely to succeed than any of a similar kind ever started. Ireland had plenty of capital of her own, and all the Irish wanted was full and fair scope for the ingenuity and intelligence of Irishmen.

A FRENCH VICTORY.

TUNIS, Oct. 10.—Ali Bey, supported by French troops which, however, did not participate in the engagements, dislodged a large force of insurgents from a strong position. After four hours' fighting the Arabs fled. It is expected that the Bey will now go to Wadzergha to protect the railway while it is being repaired, and punish the tribes for the outrages.

ANOTHER RIOT.

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—A serious collision occured between the police and people at the village of Athenry yesterday. Severe injuries were sustained on both sides. One man lost an eye through a bayonet thrust. Five persons were arrested.

FATHER CONWAY'S SENTENCE.

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—The Ballinrobe magistrates have revised the sentence against Father Conway, the parish priest at Clonbur, condemned to two month's imprisonment at hard labour for assaulting a bailiff.

ADDRESS TO MR. PARNELL.

WEXFORD, Oct. 10.—Mr. Parnell was presented with an address in the market place today, as the town hall was not large enough to contain the enthusiastic crowds.

JUDICIAL RENTS.

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—The Land Commission announces that any tenant evicted since the 23rd of February has a right to ask for a settlement of the judicial rent of his holding.

STARTLING DISCLOSURES.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—An immense sensation has been created by the startling disclosures which a sober-minded journal, the Gazette de Medecine et de Chirurgie, has just made with regard to the sanitary condition of the French troops in Africa. The most extraordinary precautions would seem to have been for months neglected. The soldiers on landing found themselves without blankets, without water, without bread, wine, or medicine. The garison at Kef for three whole months had neither drugs nor surgical appliances nor ambulances, and the officers had at last to buy all they needed themselves. Typhoid fever and dysentery worked fearful havoc among the troops, who baked under tents in a temperature of 59 degrees Centigrade.

EXPLOSION IN SHIPBOUND.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—An explosion of petroleum occurred on the 4th inst. on the brigantine Armonia, from Barcelona for Marseilles. The vessel sank, and eight persons were drowned.

FEARFUL MORTALITY.

There is a fever ephemic at Umritsir, in the Punjub. The mortality is from 200 to 300 daily. The total deaths for the eleven days ended on the 1st October were 2,262, of whom 1,138 were children.

FRAUDULENT COTTON PACKING.

The Secretary of the Oldham Cotton Spinners' Association informs the United States Consul that thousands of tons of sand are paid for by the spinners as cotton in consequence of fraudulent packing.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF CUBA.

General Prendergast, the newly appointed Governor-General of Cuba, will leave shortly for Havana. In Madrid the Conservative papers attempt to defend the selections made in Santiago de Cuba and Havana, but the committee of Congress has discovered such illegal interference by the colonial authorities with the suffrage and with the freedom of vote in favour of the Conservative candidates that a nullity of returns is almost certain. The Minister of the Colonies and Marshall Bampos are determined in future to appoint creoles and natives of the West Indies to judicial and civil posts in the colony on a par with Spaniards.

THE CRISIS IN EGYPT.

CAIRO, Oct. 10.—The report that England and France will each send a man-of-war to Alexandria is confirmed. This, however, is not because of an apprehended attack, but in consequence of an arrangement previously made that an English man-of-war should visit Alexandria for ten days every three months. A French vessel accompanies the English as the two powers are acting in alliance. The Turkish delegates have demanded a special court of inquiry into the state of Egypt generally. The Khedive has positively refused to assent to anything constituting interference with Egyptian independence. The delegates were authorized to withdraw the demand, and an informal inquiry, to which the Khedive assents, is now proceeding.

LIT BY ELECTRICTY.

LONDON, Oct 10.—Mr. D'Oyley Carte's new theatre, the Savoy, opened to-night, "Patience" being transferred thither. The novelty was the electric lighting of the auditorium, which in every respect is a success. The lights are arranged in triplets of about a score for each tier, in pearly opaque pear-shaped globes. The electric light for the stage has not yet been completed. The light was clear, steady, and mellow. The atmosphere was exceedingly fresh, and at no time oppressive.

THE FORTS OCCUPIED.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—The forts of Tunis have been occupied by French troops. Two thousand more are encamped at the northern gates of the city. Very little excitement was caused by this important event except among the Jews in the outlying quarters, who have asked permission to carry off the old cannon of the forts—whether with a view to coining them, or to using them as weapons of defence, is not apparent.

THE BALLYRAGGET RIOT.

DUBLIN, Oct. 11.—Particulars of the riot at Ballyragget show that after the land meeting the police marching to the railway station were followed by a large hooting crowd. Near the station stones were thrown. The police charged bayonets. The people at the sight of so many bayonets were about to throw themselves upon the constabulary, but were restrained by the priests. The rioting continued all day. 250 extra police have been despatched to the scene.

WHO'LL DEFEND GUITEAU?

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Merrick says that his private business will not permit him to engage in Guiteau's trial, but if required he would argue the question of the jurisdiction of the court. Guiteau requested Scoville to ask Gen. Ben. Butler to take charge of his defence. If he declines an effort will be made to secure Col. Tatton, district attorney. Guiteau informed Scoville yesterday that he still insisted upon an immediate trial.

WATERWORKS.

THE majority of our readers will be glad to learn that the Town Council has passed the Waterworks by-law, and that the gentlemen connected with the company will at once proceed with the works. Though we still think it would have been more advantageous for the town itself to have secured the profits of such an undertaking, as the ratepayers have persistently declined to do so, it is satisfactory to know that water at least will be provided efficiently and economically. The council have guarded the interests of the town and of the individual ratepayers most carefully, as will be seen by the following alterations made by them in the by-law as formerly published:—

1. That the Company shall have no exclusive rights.

2. That extension of pipes upon petition of ratepayers shall be at the sole expense of the petitioners.

3. That the pressure shall be sufficient to throw water 40 feet high on the top of Smithtown Hill.

4. That upon failure on the part of the Company to fulfil their agreement after the main pipes shall be lain, the town may if so desirous, take the works at a valuation, but it shall not be obligatory on the town to do so.

5. That if the town shall not see fit to purchase the works at the end of ten years, it shall not be obligatory upon the town to do so, and that the right of purchase shall exist at the end of every five years, after expiration of ten years.

6. The by-law is passed on the condition that no ratepayer shall be compelled to take water, or to pay for it unless he shall sign a petition to the Council asking to do so, or shall agree with the Company to do so.

THE NEWSPAPERS.

AMONG the papers read at the meeting of the Social Science Association, none has attracted more attention than the one read by Mr. C. D. Warner, of New England, upon the newspaper. Mr. Warner is a successful editor of a daily journal of long experience, as well as a literary man of distinction, and his views on such a subject are worthy of more than ordinary consideration. In the course of his paper, Mr. Warner puts a point that is too often over-looked, with greater force than we have ever seen it put before, namely:—That a newspaper is a wholly private enterprise for the pecuniary advantage of the proprietor. This is a point of vital importance in considering the question of newspapers, and should never be lost sight of by either the publishers or the public. In fact the relation of the public to the publisher is exactly that of the buyer to any merchant. To ask a newspaper fof an advertisement or a notice of a private interest, is just as reasonable to ask a baker or butcher to give his bread and meat for nothing. The baker, butcher and lawyer earn their living by selling their wares, not by giving them away, and the newspaper publisher is in exactly the same position. The newspaper is not a public charity, the benefits of which are to be enjoyed without price, but a private business carried on for profit, not pleasure. Those who advertise do so because they think the publicity which it gives them is a return for the cost of advertising and they have no more right to "demand" a notice thrown in than the purchaser of a pound of tea has a right to "demand" that the sugar necessary to sweeten it shall be thrown in.

Another good point made by Mr. Warner is that the "buyer" of a paper has no more right to undertake to manage the publishers business for him than he has to manage that of anyone else with whom he deals. The newspaper, it is true, from its nature, necessarily establishes a moral and intellectual relationship between itself and its customers, which the baker and butcher does not, but that is no reason why they should become its dictators. Unfortunately the laws of trade, which render it necessary for the publisher to cater to the tastes of his readers, in order that he may have buyers, renders the task of the publisher, who aims at something higher than mere money making, difficult enough without the most opposite and too often selfish dictation of his patrons.

Professionally viewed, Mr. Warner says, editorial ability consists in the faculty and tact which in the first place, discerns what is really news and condenses and presents it accurately and entertainingly. Obviously what is news in one place is not in another. In the next place he says, editorial ability is shown in the skill with which the circulation of a paper is increased "without compromise in the expression of editorial conviction," and declares that it is "essential to the weight and influence of such convictions that they be known to be honest," that there can be no leadership or solid journalism "in echos and imitations," and that papers that "wobble", infallibly betray either want of ability to discern opinion or want of skill to maintain their own views.

The Poor Farmer and the Loan Society.

In his financial dealings with the Loan Societies the Ontario farmer occasionally develops, in his small way, a shrewdness that would not discredit a full-fledged Wall street speculator. An illustration of this was given not long since by the owner of a poor farm not many miles from Guelph. He bought the place not many years ago for about $1,200, and partly to enable him to pay for and stock it he mortgaged it for $1,000, to one of the Toronto Loan Societies. The interest was allowed to accumulate from year to year until, by capitalizing, the whole affair amounted to nearly double the amount originally borrowed. Meantime the land had been stripped of nearly all the valuable wood upon it; the fencing was allowed to fall into a state of disrepair, and the stock and implements were few and far between. The Society, understanding that matters were going from bad to worse and seeing little prospect of its ever turning out a profitable loan, concluded to foreclose and sell the property under the powers vested in them. A sale by public auction was accordingly held, and the place was knocked down to a neighboring farmer and friend for a mere trifle over the amount of the original loan. The shrewd farmer is again in possession, and, although a man of grave deportment, is often observed to smile abstractedly, at such movements probably when he recollects what a very low rate of interest he paid for that thousand dollar loan. Such farmers as he ought to be in request by Loan Societies. They would make good inspectors, and one of them ought to be attached to every such office, more especially in such as attempt to pay 5 to 5½ per cent. interest on deposits.—Monetary Times.

Domesticating Wild Plants.

The following useful suggestion is made by a correspondent of the Montreal Star:—

In travelling through the United States and Canada I have frequently saw the Indians feeding on wild rice, persimmon, the paw-paw and other things found in a natural state. I have, too, often wondered why no effort was made to domesticate these plants, for I know that they are good as articles of food, and could be made valuable for commercial purposes. The wild rice is particularly nutritious, and has a fine flavor. It grows in swamps and the shallow parts of lakes, and I have heard Indians and old hunters praise it as a very valuable grain much more so than wheat. I know that I always liked it and I have eaten it frequently. Then there the persimmon which I think, as a fruit, more promising than the wild apple, while the paw-paw will compare with the banana. And yet I am not aware that any effort has ever been made to domesticate any of these plants. Then again I have seen in my wanderings very many valuable grasses, but few of them have found their way down to civilization. There are, too, a number of edible roots which Indians eat in time of scarcity and they could be made valuable food for cattle. My observation has led me to believe that there is a great deal of life supporting plants in nature which, if properly developed, would be of great use to the farmer and, above all, to the settler in the North-West. It might be worth while for the Government to send a specialist out on the plains, and by living among the Indians find out by scientific research the true inwardness of things which I only saw as an unscientific observer.

The Boiler Explosion Inquest.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 8.—The inquest as to the threshing machine boiler explosion will be resumed on Monday, when Mr. Geo. E. Robb, who has enquired into the matter on behalf of the Government, will testify. Malcolm, it now appears, was blown 96 feet before he touched the ground, and the thresher 167 feet, and Malcolm rolled 70 feet further.

W. FAIRWEATHER & CO.

The Indictment.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Guiteau indictment embraces eleven counts and is drawn with great minuteness. The fifth and sixth counts are the ones upon which it is said the prosecution will mainly rely. They describe the shooting as having been done at the Baltimore and Potomac depot in Washington, of malice aforethought, with a pistol of the value of $5, inflicting a mortal would of the depth of six inches and a breadth of one inch, of which Garfield till September 19, in the city of Washington and in the county of Monmouth, New Jersey, did languish and languishing did live and ultimately died. Each count formally repeats the charge that Guiteau in the manner and by the measures described, feloniously, wilfully and of malice aforethought did kill, murder, against the form of the statute in such case made and provided, and against the peace and government of the United States of America.

Mining at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—A company of American capitalists have leased the Lawless mining property in Hull township, Ottawa county, for a period of five years. They pay 40 cents a ton on the iron ore taken out with the privilege of buying the 100 acre lot for $100,000 at any time. Mining work has already begun, but new machinery will be brought in from New York. Mr. Blanchard, of New York, is president of the company, and Dr. Carpenter of Jersey city is the treasurer.

Set back 42 Years.

"I was troubled for many years with Kidney Complaint, Gravel, etc.,; my blood became thin; I was dull and inactive; could hardly crawl about; was an old worn out man all over; could get nothing to help me until I got Hop Bitters, and now I am a boy again. My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, although I am 72, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age. It is worth a trial.—(Father.)—Sunday Mercury.

Costiveness.

This distressing complaint is not only dangerous of itself, but a fruitful source of other diseases in young and old. It is relieved immediately, and permanently cured by DR. HERRICK'S SUGAR-COATED VEGETABLE PILLS, which free the system from all pains and obstructions. d95w16

Say, maiden, with the raven hair,
So beautiful and lithe and tall,
With eyes so bright and cheeks so fair,
Why let your teeth destroy it all?
For they are dark and feel the want

Have You Tried It?

If so you can testify to its marvellous powers of healing and recommend it to your friends. We refer to Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, the grand specific for all summer complaints, diarrhœa, cholera morbus, dysentery, cramps, cholic, sickness of the stomach and bowel complaints of infants or adults. WATERWORKS.

Councillor RUTHERFORD, Chairman of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee, said he had nothing particular to report. He was happy to state that the waterworks company had been formed. He thought the by-law an unusually good one for the town. Mr. Gamble had met the Committee recently and the by-law had been amended in many respects, and he was now puzzled to know how it was that gentleman would put their money into such a scheme, especially since they received so little encouragement from the townspeople. The by-law had been published and had been freely criticized by the people, through the papers and by other means. One important amendment that had been made was that regarding the pressure. Now the water had to be thrown a distance of forty feet perpendicularly at the corner of Bethune and Antrim Streets. Mr. J. E. Belcher had been appointed to take the levels at different points and had done the work, and it was according to his levels that water had to be thrown so as to cover a building forty feet high on Smithtown Hill.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON asked who authorized Councillor Rutherford to incur any expense?

Councillor RUTHERFORD said the expense was about $15, and the public meeting had authorized the employment of a hydraulic engineer who would have cost a large sum of money, and surely no person would complain of the small expenditure incurred.

Councillor CHAMBERLAIN asked if it was intended to submit the by-law to the ratepayers?

The MAYOR said that that matter rested entirely with the Council.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON said he would support leaving the matter to the ratepayers, so that all might have a chance to vote on it.

The MAYOR explained some of the amendment to the by-law. The Committee met a number of times and had fully considered the by-law from all the various stand points, and had inserted some amendments that made the towns position even more secure. He would enumerate the amendments that had been made to the original by-law.

(1) That the words "exclusive right" had been struck out so that any other similar company had the right at any time, if they obtained permission, to lay down pipes, construct hydrants, etc., on the same streets and corners as the present company, thus there could be no monopoly.

(2) That if one-half of the residents on a particular street apply for pipes or a hydrant, the same shall be laid at the exclusive cost of the petitioners.

(3) That no person shall be compelled to take or pay for water without signing a petition or making arrangements with the company.

(4) That the town shall have the right to arbitrate for the purchase of the works at the end of every five years, after the expiration of the ten provided for in the by-law.

(5) That instead of the pressure only being sufficient to throw a stream 65 feet high at the corner of George and Hunter Streets, the pressure shall be strong enough to throw a stream 40 feet high on the top of Smithtown Hill.

The by-law was then read a first time, Councillor Chamberlain in the chair.

The MAYOR asked if the company had been fully formed?

Mr. D. G. Hatton explained that the company had been as fully formed as it could be until the Council passed the by-law now before them.

Councillor CHAMBERLAIN asked if the by-law would be legal until the necessary notice of the Company had been published in the Ontario Gazette?

Mr. Hatton read from the statutes to show that the by-law would be perfectly legal.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said the pressure provided for in the by-law would be amply sufficent. Mr. Belcher had taken the levels of the highest points in town and found that the top of the Roman Catholic Church was 36 feet 10 inches higher than the intersection of George and Hunter Streets, the Court House steps 26 feet higher and the top of Smithtown Hill 90 feet higher.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON thought the by-law should state where the water was to be procured.

Councillor RICHARDSON wanted to know how they were to tell whether the water was pure or not?

Mr. HATTON, said the water would have to pass the inspection of an analytical chemist to be appointed by the Town Council. As to where they got the water that did not make any difference as long as the water was pure.

Councillor RICHARDSON did not care if they brought water from New York as long as it was good.

Mr. HATTON,—No nor I. They can bring it from Jerusalem if they like.

Councillor YELLAND wanted citizens to take stock in the company, and make the money instead of letting foreigners take it away from us.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that time and again, efforts had been made to get the citizens to construct waterworks, but they had always fallen to the ground. Now that we had a gentleman skilled in the business, who offered to build the waterworks for nothing, he felt that he should be encouraged. He thought that a large majority of the ratepayers were in favor of the proposed scheme.

Mr. HAZLITT was not prepared to speak, as he was not acquainted with the by-law sufficiently to express an opinion on it. He had heard a councillor say that he had not even read the by-law, and it was not to be wondered at that he (the speaker) was in the dark. He had been charged before with sectional feeling, but could not be this time, as it was not known where the water was to be taken from. He felt that the public will be disappointed, unless they had a chance to express an opinion on it. He felt that the citizens would think that the thing had been foisted on them, unless they had a voice in it. He thought that Mr. Gamble and Co. were not building the waterworks for nothing, they would have, as they richly deserve a good profit. When there is such a large quantity of water as waterworks will throw on the town, there must be drainage, necessitating a very large expenditure. This would not be paid for by local, but by general taxation. He was in favor of leaving the matter over for a time in order to have it fully discussed by the people. When the present council was elected, waterworks were not mooted, and as another election will take place in about two and a half months, he favored leaving it to the people at the municipal election. He looked askance at the clause providing that only consumers would have to pay for the water. If the company or council went to the Legislature, and said that the company had constructed the works in good faith, and people that they had expected to take water had refused, and would ask the Legislature to pass an act to make the water tax general, and in all probability an act would be passed, granting the power to impose a general tax, the way in which the watering cart was paid for. He knew that 9 out of every 10 people in town thought that the question was to go before the people before becoming law. He had always favored waterworks, and had offered a free site for pump house, etc. He would not feel at all jealous if the water was taken from any other point than his mill dam. He advocated caution, and said that although it appeared cheap at present, they would find that it would cost a large sum before they got through with it. He wanted fire protection, but not such a costly scheme as was proposed.

Conucillor RICHARDSON thought that Mr. Hazlitt was throwing cold water on the scheme. He thought that Mr. Gamble's scheme was a fine one and should be encouraged. The water in many cases that was now used for drinking purposes, was unfit for use and was productive of disease, and he felt that many of the cases of malarial fever and kindred diseases now prevalent in town were traceable to this cause. As it would not cost any person anything who did not use the water, he would favor the passage of the by-law.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON again spoke in favor of submitting the by-law to the ratepayers. He was afraid of a heavy expenditure for drainage.

Mr. HATTON said the law now compelled the minority to pay for drainage if the majority in any locality were willing to tax themselves for drainage. The company had no monopoly as any other company can at any time under the by-law, as no exclusive privilege is granted to this or any other company, if the council gives them permission, lay down pipes on the same streets as this company and supply water for both fire and domestic purposes, a thing likely to be done, if the present company at any time attempt to change exorbitant rates. He thought that there should be no delay, such as would be caused by taking a vote of the ratepayers, as the engineers would want to commence work at once, in order to do as much as possible this fall before the heavy rains.

Mr. HAZLITT again spoke, favoring delay in order to let the people consider the question.

Mr. J. SAWYERS wanted waterworks, but was opposed to coercion. He wanted it left to the people. He thought that it was all bosh to say that the works would not cost the people anything.

MR. J. STEVENSON thought that the town was getting the works too cheap. He said go ahead at once. He did not see why people should vote on a thing that they were not called on to pay for. He was willing to pay more for the water than was asked. He was willing to pay for sewerage. He felt that if he was an outsider he would take a pride in seeing George street built up, and would feel exceedingly sorry to see the blocks burnt down. As the second largest ratepayer in town he favored the scheme and only hoped the works would be built.

MR. W. CLUXTON had expressed his opinions freely before. He had always advocated that the town build the works but his proposition was opposed by many. The committee of citizens and councillors of which he was a member had proposed a scheme by which the town was to take one half of the stock and citizens the remainder. This was opposed and beaten. Mr. Gamble next came along and offered to build the works for nothing, could anything be fairer than this? He did not see how any person could oppose it. Mr. Gamble would not build the works for sport but to make money out of them, a chance that has been offered to the citizens for years, but never taken up. He knew, and Mr. Hazlitt knew that no company or corporation could get an act from the Legislature if the people protested against it. It was a reproach that Peterborough, one of the finest towns in Canada, was depending on a foundered steam fire engine for protection against fire. Much of the sickness in the town was due to bad water. It was fortunate that Mr. Gamble came here, and he thought that it was the duty of every citizen and councillor, to do all they could to promote the construction of waterworks, which we should have had years ago.

Councillor CAHILL said he had read the by-law as published in the REVIEW, but had not read the by-law as amended. He made this explanation in reference to some remarks made by Mr. Hazlitt.

Some of the members wanted to adjourn for a week at this point.

Mr. HATTON then announced that he and those associated with them washed their hands clean of the whole thing.

Mr. STEVENSON again spoke warmly in favour of passing the by-law. If this scheme was not accepted, he would never exert himself in favour of waterworks again.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON was not going to be led by any person.

Councillor DOUGLAS had not changed his mind from the beginning. If this scheme was not accepted he thought the town would never get waterworks. He did not think the ratepapers could growl as it would not cost them anything. In order to help forward the scheme he would vote for the third reading of the by-law.

Mr. CLUXTON spoke in favour of passing the by-law to-night. He had fought hard for 15 years for waterworks but would never fight again if this scheme was defeated.

Councillor HARTLEY could not think of any scheme more favorable than the one proposed. If the scheme was put off to-night, we might lose the chance of getting the works at all. He would like to see the town or citizens build the works, but as neither would do it, he would favor Mr. Gamble's proposition. He knew that nearly every person was in favor of the present proposition.

Several others spoke, some in favor and others against the third reading of the by-law.

The following amendments were added to the by-law at the suggestion of members of the council:—

(1). That should there at any time be a failure in the supply of water to any hydrant or to any house, from any cause whatever, the consumers or parties liable to pay for the water, shall not pay anything for the term that the water supply may be stopped, and the consumers may deduct from the amount agreed to be paid for the water, at the rate of double the amount per day for the said water for hydrants and houses.

(2). That if at any time the town by cutting down or grading any of the streets, uncovers any of the pipes or mains of the said company, that they shall not be bound or liable to cover up said pipes or mains again, and if any of the said pipes or mains are injured or broken by the work, the town shall not be liable therefor, but the said company shall be bound to repair or replace the same at their own expense, unless the same are wilfully or negligently destroyed by the said workmen.

The by-law was then read a third time, signed, sealed and passed.

YEAS.—Douglas, Rutherford, Menzies, Hartley and Richardson.—5.

NAYS.—Cahill, McNaughton, Paterson and Yelland.—4.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

UNEXCELLED.

LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For e'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Or write the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man,"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard;
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The sublest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide,
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine—
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Faultless fit, splendid style, vast variety, good work and a very great saving in price will be found in M. & A's. Mantles and Ulsters.

Daily Evening Review

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1881.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Almost Another.

On Monday morning a young man named Frederick Russell, a resident of Peterborough, while engaged in coupling cars at the Midland Railway freight sheds in Port Hope, met with an accident that nearly cost him his life. While at work, by some means he got caught between the "buffers" of two box cars and was rather severely jammed. He was taken from between the cars in an insensible condition and carried into a neighboring hotel. A physician who was speedily in attendance, pronounced no bones broken, but as it was, Russell was rather seriously injured and will feel the effects of the accident for some days to come. He had a narrow escape from being numbered with the long list of brakemen that have been killed while coupling cars.

Spaulding's Bay.

We had expected that some of the councillors, particularly those representing number one ward, would have brought up at the council, the question of getting rid of that fever breeding hole at the south end of the town, known as Spaulding's Bay, but contrary to the expectation the subject was not broached, and will probably lie over until next summer, when attention will again be drawn to it by the large number of persons residing in that vicinity, who are down with the malarial fever and kindred diseases. Now that the cold weather has set in, there is not as much danger as formerly, but we fail to see that that is any reason why the hole should not be filled up, according to the terms agreed upon at the time the town took possession of the property.

Those Horses.

That mare and colt are still pasturing in the Court House Park and are getting fat off the young trees, that the authorities have gone to so much trouble to protect. Any citizen who feels so disposed can impound the animals, as they are running at large on public property. A citizen who has two cows to pasture wants to know who has the right to give permission to pasture animals at the public expense, as he wants to get his cows in the grounds, and as he is a heavy tax payer he thinks he has as good a right as any person else. Who owns the animals that are browzing on the maples in which the town has an interest? Will some person please answer for the benefit of the public at large?

The Council Meeting.

The Council meeting on Monday night did not break up until after 12 o'clock, lasting four hours and a half. The greater portion of the time was taken up in discussing the waterworks by-law, with the provisions of which, although it has been published in the three local papers, in full, some of the councillors appeared to be profoundly ignorant, and tried by every possible means to defeat the by-law, not openly, but by mean tactics; but despite all their efforts in that direction, the by-law received its third reading, and Peterborough will in the near future boast of having a system of waterworks surpassed by very few towns or cities in the Dominion, and far ahead of anything in this district.

Jack Frost.

The above named gentleman made his appearance on Monday night in all his warpaint and glory. A very heavy frost fell and many's the lady that lost her flowers that she treasured so long, through neglecting to remove them to a sheltered place. We are informed that ice formed on Spauldings Bay, all around the edges, and that it was quite thick. It behoves all to be on the lookout for the gentleman and give him a warm reception.

The Winnipeg "Sun."

The Winnipeg Sun says that we have secured the services of Mr. I. Harley Brock, for many years managing editor of the Ottawa Daily Free Press, in a similiar capacity on the Sun, and his staff of assistants when fully organized will comprise some of the leading specialists of the Dominion press.

At Carton's Fruit Store.

Fine fresh Oysters at closest prices; also a select stock of the best American Canned Goods, guaranteed fresh at Carton's Fruit Store, one door north of Wrighton's. d87

Personal.

The West Durham News, Bowmanville, says that on Tuesday evening last, Mr. Frank Prout who has had charge of the Central Telephone Office here for some time, was made the recepient of a gold watch. The watch was purchased by the proprietors of the different telephone branches in town, and other friends, and the presentation was made by Dr. McLaughlin, M. P. P. Frank has gone to take charge of the telephones in the towns of Lindsay and Peterborough. We wish him success in his new position. The watch was an open face American lever, and was purchased from Mr. J. Maynard.

P. C. McGhee, who has been laid up in bed for some time—he resides near Spaulding's bay—was up town on Monday for a short time. He expects to be able to attend to business as usual in a few days.

Dr. E. F. Hatton, son of Mr. D. G. Hatton, paid a short visit to his family and many friends on Saturday last. He is studying in London, but came out as surgeon on the the "National Line" steamer Holland. He left again on Monday. He looked well and was apparently enjoying the best of health.

West Riding Show.

The annual Exhibition of the West Riding Show opens to the public this evening at 7 o'clock. The greater portion of the day has been taken up with arranging and judging the exhibits in the Drill Shed. At the time of our visit the judges, in quite a number of classes were at work, and by this evening, all will be ready for inspection by the general public. The number of entries so far compares favorably with other years, and the inside show is about as good as the average. Ladies' work and fine arts, especially photographs, occupy a large amount of space and the specimens shown are unusually good. The show will be open to the public this evening and to-morrow. The Fire Brigade Band will be present from 7.30 o'clock this evening and from 12 o'clock until 4 p. m. to-morrow.

The Weather.

The weather continues cold, but at the same time it is not uncomfortable, if heavy clothes are worn. Last night was clear, cold and frosty. To-day has been cool, except while the sun was shinning for a few hours, when the atmosphere was somewhat warmer. The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours as reported from Toronto at ten o'clock a.m. to-day by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes,—Southeasterly to southerly winds. Fair weather. Rising temperature to-day, followed to-morrow by strong south-westerly winds, warm weather and local rains.

Breaking Shade Trees.

As will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, P. C. McGhee offers a reward of $10 for information that will lead to the detection and conviction of the persons who destroyed the shade trees in front of his premises about two weeks ago. One tree, a fine maple, was broken off at the box, while another, also a maple, had one of the largest limbs torn off. In many cases vagrant cows are responsible for the damage to shade trees, but in this case it is perfectly clear that it is a case of vandalism. It is to be hoped that the guilty persons will be brought to justice and receive their deserts.

Rifle Matches.

We are requested to announce that the long looked for annual rifle matches of the Peterborough Rifle Association will take place at the butts on Thursday and Friday, the 20th and 21st instants. Owing to the liberality of the citizens the Association are enabled to offer unusually valuable prizes, and they hope to have a large number of entries for the various events. The prize lists giving full particulars will be out in the course of a few days.

Football.

The football match that was to have taken place on Monday afternoon did not come off. The school team were on hand, in full force, at 4:30 sharp, but the town team failed to fill an appearance, and thus of course no game could take place. Negotiations are now pending for a match with Trinty College School, on Thanksgiving day, to be played here, but matters are not fully settled yet.

For Winnipeg.

Mr. John Benson has purchased from Mr. W. J. Devlin, a set of extra fine double harness, which are to be shipped to Winnipeg. It speaks volumes for Peterborough workmen, when such judges as Mr. Benson perfer their work to that of the large firms in Toronto and other places. We hope that this is only the commencement of a trade that will rapidly assume large proportions.

Subscription Books.

Agents are wanted to canvass for subscription books, bibles, albums, &c., for Messrs. Ham & Brown, who have opened their office in Henthorn's block. They require twenty agents for this purpose and to canvass for Raymond's sewing machines. d75

New Goods.

Use the Poland Metallic Hair Brush "for headache." British Plate Mirrors for ladies' toilet. Choice lot of those very desirable Gentlemens' Dressing Combs. TAYLOR & MACDONALD, Medical Hall, Corner of George and Hunter Streets.

In Winnipeg.

The Winnipeg Sun announces that Dr. Harvey, the veteran physician of Peterborough, Ont., arrived in Winnipeg on October 2nd, and left on the 4th for the Shell river district to visit his son-in-law, Mr. Merrick.

The License Inspectorship.

The office of License Inspector, for the West Riding of Peterborough, is now vacant, the resignation of the recent incumbents having been offered and accepted.

Fresh Oysters.

Second supply of fresh Oysters at SOANES' FISH STORE. d71.

Bad Runaway Accident.

On Saturday afternoon last Mr. Crozier, a German farmer residing a few miles from town, met with a rather serious accident on George street. It appears that he was driving a team of horses down George street, and when near Dalhousie street, one of them became unmanageable. Mr. Crozier turned in towards the high sidewalk in order to stop the animals, but his efforts were fruitless, and the horses got beyond his control. After the horses had ran some distance, Mr. Crozier was thrown from his buggy and fell on the road on his head, sustaining a nasty cut and being knocked insensible. The horses ran on, leaving the buggy near Spaulding's Bay. Mrs. Crozier, who was uninjured, stepped from the buggy as soon as it stopped, and went back to her husband. P. C McGhee took the injured man into his house, and bathed the wound and properly covered it. A physician shortly afterwards saw the wound and said it was not at all dangerous. Mr. Cruizer had a narrow escape from serious injury. The escape of Mrs. Crozier was simply miraculous. Mr. Crozier was severely shaken up, but was able to come to town to-day. The team was an extra fine one, one of the horses costing $150 only a short time ago.

Hamlin.

The Sheriff, who accompanied Hamlin to the Kingston Penetentitary, informs us that he had no trouble whatever with his man, who went along like a child. The prisoner thought that Judge Armour was rather hard on him, as he had been buoyed up with the hope that he would not receive more than four years, but when sentenced for life, he was greatly taken back and broke right down. He expects to get out at the end of eight or ten years, and thinks there will be no trouble about it if any person exerts himself in his behalf.

Peterborough Rifle Association.

A vere attractive prize list has been made up consisting of the "Maiden" "Volunteer" "Association," "All Comers" and "Company Matches," with a large number of more than usually valuable prizes in each. The "Association" match will as usual be the chief one of the meeting. In it there will be fifteen prizes of the aggregate value of $125, the first being the Bankers' Challenge Cup, valued at $25 and $5 in cash, the second being of the value of $4.00. The cash in these two prizes amounting to $22 was given by the various hotel keepers in town who all subscribed freely towards making up a handsome purse. The bankers have also subscribed for a second cup to be competed for by those members who have not up to the present time won a first prize at any of the matches. The date of the matches having been changed to the 20th and 21st October, will enable many who could not otherwise get away to take part on Thanksgiving Day. The "Maiden" match will commence at 9 o'clock on that day, the "Volunteer" match at 10, and the "Association" at 1 p.m., so that members who have been at church can compete in the latter match. Entries should be made before the opening of the respective matches, and competitors must be on the ground before the firing at the first range is concluded.

Letter Boxes.

Mr. Gilbert Griffin, of Kingston, Post Office Inspector of this district, arrived in town on Tuesday night and was driven around town this morning by the mayor, for the purpose of locating the letter boxes that are to be placed here by the Government. Mr. Griffin has decided to place four in position this year but only two are definately located as yet. One is to be placed at the south end of George street and one in the vicinity of Richardson's grocery at the north end of the town. It is also probable that one will be placed near the South Ward School and one near E. C. Hills grocery. With boxe's at these points and that already established in Ashburnham the town would be pretty well served for the present. The work will be recommended at once and the boxes will probably be placed in position in the course of about ten days.

A Broken Sidewalk.

Some time during Tuesday night some blackguards ripped up a portion of the sidewalk in front of the Bank of Commerce. Two planks were broken in pieces and holes left, into which if a person stepped, they might cause a broken leg or ankle. The whole walk for a considerable distance was also pried up, and was in the morning a first class "teeter." Not content with smashing the sidewalk, these roughs had to yell and hoot until after three o'clock. As the police know some of the members of the "gang," we may hear more about the matter.

The Weather.

The weather continues cold and damp, a drizzling rain which has been falling all day, not at all adding to the comfort of the people. The weather probabilities for this district as reported from Toronto at 10.30 a. m., by the Great North Western Telegraph company, are as follows:—Lakes—winds gradually verring to west and north west. Warm cloudy to rainy weather followed by cooler weather to-moroow.

The Agricultural Show.

Owing to the rain and dismal weather, the attendance at the show to-day was not as large as was anticipated. The show of stock of all kinds is very good. The agricultural impliment men were on hand, as are the patent churn and other nouelty vendors. The band was present all afternoon. We will give full particulars of the outside show in our edition of to-morrow.

A Good Price.

Mr. James Clarke, of Douro, has disposed of a team of horses to Mr. S. P. Wigg, of Lake field, for the sum of $300 cash. Many persons expressed a doubt as to the correctness of the amount, but we may state that we have seen the cheque payable to Mr. Clark's order.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1881.

THE "GLOBE'S" ONE POINT.

If we may judge from the reports which have been appearing in the papers during the last few days, the Quebec Government are rather anxious to sell the North Shore, or Government Railway of Quebec, to the Pacific Railway Syndicate, while the latter thinks, or professes to think, their own interests will be best served by the building of a new line from Smith's Falls to Montreal, and thence to the seaboard. Now to ordinary individuals, and especially to free trade journals like the Globe, one would suppose that this would be a matter which the Syndicate should be left free to decide for themselves, but it would seem the Globe thinks differently, and it is already at work to make political capital out of it against the Dominion Government. Commencing by telling its readers that Mr. Chapleau proposes to compel the Syndicate to buy the Provincial road, by bringing Ottawa pressure to bear upon them to that end, it then goes on to say that we will "then see whether Sir John owns the Syndicate, or whether the Syndicate owns the whole Parliament and the country," evidently intending hereafter to argue in the event of Mr. Chapleau and the Syndicate coming to terms, that such a result has been accomplished in obedience to Quebec pressure at Ottawa, and in the event of the Syndicates not purchasing the road, that both "Parliament and the country" has been sold to the Syndicate by Sir John. So you see no matter what happens, Sir John is sure to be blamed, and this latter is, in season and out of season, the Globe's "one" point.

SPAULDING'S BAY.

To the Editor of the Review:

SIR,—Your correspondent, "Another Resident," in a letter which appeared in your issue of Monday, says he had hoped that I should have continued to agitate the question of the sanitary condition of the town, "until the people would wake up to a sense of their danger." My communication, to which he refers, was written on the 27th of September, and written in the expectation that at this crisis, when we are suffering from a severe and fatal epidemic, some other inhabitants of the town would back me up in my complaint, and give expression to the indignation few can fail to feel, at the apathy evinced by the Town Council as to the health of those who unhappily are, to a certain extent, dependent upon them for a no inconsiderable portion of their comfort.

No notice, however, was taken of my letter, no further complaint was made, until that referred to your impression of the 10th inst. And now another fatal case has occurred. A most respectable young married man has succumbed to the deadly malarial influence of Spaulding's Bay.

I must confess, notwithstanding my many years' experience of the action, or rather want of action by the Town Council, I did expect that at their meeting last night some plan would be suggested, under existing circumstances by which we might be, at all events, protected from a recurrence of the epidemic from which we are suffering, and if any members of the Council might be fairly expected to take the initiative in the promotion of remedial measures, surely those members should be the representatives of the ward in which the plague-spot exists, and from which the malarial influence springs, and is defused over the length and breadth of the town. The junior Councillor of No. 1 ward, however, appears systematically to oppose everything in the shape of improvement. He opposed the removal of the wretched stone crossings on George street, he opposes the construction of waterworks, he takes no action respecting Spaulding's Bay, and why? Because he likes occupping the prominent position of a Councillor, and in order to retain that position it is necessary for him to secure the votes of a majority of the ratepayers of his ward, people who dread the imposition of an additional cent to the amount of their taxes; utterly regardless of health, cleanliness or comfort.

I say that this gentleman opposes the construction of waterworks, urging the very transparent objection that the scheme is not submitted to the ratepayers at large, who might, as he imagines, vote it down.

Another gentleman, not a ratepayer, who made a long speech on the waterworks question last night, urged the same plea, and I believe for the same reason. He said, too, that "when the present Council was elected waterworks were not mooted." He must have a very short memory himself, or he must fancy that the ratepayers are curiously oblivious of the fact that the question has been "mooted" over and over again at public meetings and in the papers. He was "in favor of leaving the matter over for a time." Why? Because he thought that the advocates of the scheme would be tired out, as I, for one, have been, and, after the manner of Messrs. Hatton, Stevenson and Cluxton, would threaten to throw the matter up in disgust.

What the town wants is health and cleanliness, the former largely dependent on the latter, and in order to secure these blessings, it wants waterworks for furnishing an abundant supply, of pure, wholesome water, and it wants the filling in of the foul, stagnant pools that are the occasion of so large an amount of severe sickness as that which at present prevails.

Oct. 11, 1881. A RATEPAYER.

THE DONNELLYS.

Their Arrest on the Charge of Attempted Incendiarism.

LUCAN, Oct. 10.—Again the notorious Biddulph township comes forward to challenge public attention with a new phase of the deadly fued which has so long raged between the vigilantes and the Donnelly gang. The bare fact of the arrest of certain members of the last named party for an attempt to burn down the mill of Stanly, Dight, & Co. has already been published by the press. The Donnellys, Bill and Bob, were not arrested in the act of setting fire to the place as many inferred from the despatch published; they were apprehended subsequently on suspicion of being at the bottom of the plot to burn the mill.

THE PRELIMINARY TRIAL

of the prisoners was fixed for this morning, and they were arraigned before Wm. Stanly, Patrick McIlhary, and J. D. McCosh. No evidence was put in against them, but they were remanded until Thursday morning at ten o'clock when the trial will be proceeded with. Kent was released on his own recognizance, but the others were sent back to Lucan lock-up, there to await their trial. Mr. Edwin Meredith, who had been called from London, appeared for the prisoners.

THE EVIDENCE

on which it is proposed to convict the dreaded Donnellys is, to say the least of it, romantic. The person who laid the information, and who is depended upon as chief witness for the crown, is a man named Frank West, who went to reside in Lucan some nine months ago. This man it is said has all along been playing the part of detective. He worked up the evidence against the accused parties in the tragedy case, but the Crown did not use it. He has been working for Kent on the farm, and having some knowledge of music he had sought to make his living by teaching it. He has a fair voice, sings a good song, and has been conducting himself as a jolly good fellow.

By his effort on their behalf in the murder trial, it is said he secured the confidence of the Donnellys to such an extent that they made him their confidant in many cases in which had they been discreet they would have remained silent. One of the schemes which they hatched out, their councils being held in Bill Donnelly's house, and at which West was said to have ostensibly connived, was the burning of the mill, Mr. Stanley, one of the proprietors, being particularly disliked by the Donnellys. West kept the police posted on the movements of his confederates, and arranged for their capture while they were in the act of setting fire to the place.

A delay of several nights took place, so that Sunday night, when the attempt was made on the mill, was not the first set by the incendiaries. West, and it is claimed by some, Bob Donnelly also, accompanied Howe, who mas agreed upon as the party to do the work. Meanwhile he had got several constables hid in the mill so that it seemed certain that Howe would be taken. Such was not the case, however, for althought, according to West, he lit several matches, delay and lack of activity on the part of the police enabled him to escape as stated. Donnelly got to a safe distancee before the match was applied, and had little difficulty in making good his escape. On the information of West, however, the officers proceeded to the residences of the other prisoners and placed them under arrest.

THE PROCEFDINGS

in the Court in the Town Hall to-day were merely formal. The prisoners were arraigned and the postponement of the trial was announced almost at once. Bail was refused for all except the old man, Kent and Carty, and the latter could not offer the necessary securities. The other were remanded without an opportunity to secure bail being afforded. Mr. Meredith wanted the trial to proceed at once, or if a postponement must take place, be asked that Wednesday be the day fixed both; these requests were refused, and the trial fixed for Thursday without an adequate explanation to Mr. Meredith or anybody else. The prisoners strongly objected to being remanded to the Lucan lockup, which is cold, close, and to the last degree uncomfortable. Both Bill Donnelly and the elder Carty said that their confinement in the cells had already made them ill, and urged that their health would be seriously prejudiced by further confinement for so long a time within such narrow and unwholesome limits. They therefore asked that they be sent to London gaol, and offered to pay their fare thither, but the Magistrate declined to interfere on their behalf, therefore they were remanded to the lockup.

The Leisure of the Farmer.

The leisure of the farmer is like Euclid's imaginary. The model farmer, as depicted by agricultural papers, is most busy while at leisure. It is then that he preforms the odds and ends of work, those many little jobs which it is so desirable to have done, and in the doing of these, his praisworthy person is supposed to manufacture into useful fabrics, all the stray threads of the web of time, which would otherwise run to waste. It is then that he mends and oils his harness, mends and paints his wagons, ploughs, harrows and other belongings; or bends with industrious weight over the rushing grindstone. It is in his leisure moments that he invents and manufactures machines of varied agricultural utility, puts into elaborate repair his barns, stables, sheds and workshop, gives "local habitation and name" to many an "airy nothing" and wild conceit of an irresponsible editor, his eye all the while in an industrious frenzy rolling. Thus improving every hour like the bee; the leisure of this assiduous person is reduced to a fine point, existing only in the imagination useful to agricultural editiors and other rustic advisors, as expressing a season for the doing impracticable, chimerical and quite unprofitable performances, but having no appreciable existance capable of being expressed in hours and minutes. This is the leisure of the model farmer, the ideal agriculturist; it never comes to an end, like the widow's cruise, through it is being continually drawn upon.

"I was troubled for many years with Kidney Complaint, Gravel, etc.,; my blood became thin; I was dull and inactive; could hardly crawl about; was an old worn out man all over; could get nothing to help me until I got Hop Bitters, and now I am a boy again. My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, although I am 72, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age. It is worth a trial.—(Father.)—Sunday Mercury.

Say, maiden, with the raven hair,
So beautiful and lithe and tall,

Have You Tried It?

If so you can testify to its marvellous powers of healing and recommend it to your friends. We refer to Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, the grand specific for all summer complaints, diarrhœa, cholera morbus, dysentery, cramps, cholic, sickness of the stomach and bowel complaints of infants or adults. SUNDRIES!

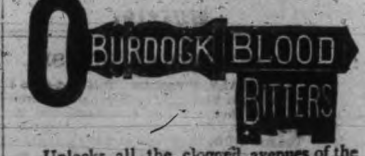
The attention of Housekeepers is called to the following variety of edibles, a trial of any of which will be an attraction to the table and a gratification to the palate of the purchaser.

CRUSHED WHEAT:—Made from selected Canadian White Wheat by the new process, and is much superior to the ordinary cracked wheat, as a pleasant, light and nourishing breakfast dish.

EVAPORATED SWEET CORN:—An excellent article for the dinner table, esteemed as a delicacy and imparting pleasant variety to the tea table also. Is quite equal to green corn, and superior in the opinion of mpny to the Canned Corn as usually prepared.



PEA FLOUR:—Prepared in England by an entirely new process, and put up in tin cans. Is a peculiar "handy thing to have about the house." For Soups and Gravies it is simply matchless.

MIXED PICKLES:—An extra fine qualiy which we sell by the quart or gallon. A convenient, and for the consumer the cheapest mode of supplying the table with this appetizing condiment.

Our motto:—"Good goods at fair prices." All parcels sent free to any part of the town.

THE APSLEY SHOW.

The ninth annual fall exhibition of the Burleigh and United Townships agricultural society was held at Apsley on Wednesday the 5th inst. The day, though rather cool, was clear and bright. The attendance was very good and the exhibition quite creditable. The town hall was well filled with fancy work, home manufactures, vegetables, fruits, grains of all kinds, &c., &c.

The display of vegetables was remarkably g ood and no doubt would surpass any show in the county. Miss Hales showed specimens of artificial fruits in wax and leather, which showed a good deal of taste in the manufacturer. Mr. Caldwell exhibited a bushel of white fall wheat, of surpassing quality, in fact some people thought that it must have been hand picked, so even and uniform were the grains in size and color.

In the domestic manufactures' department, Mrs. Wm. Hall exhibited a home-made shawl, which was greatly admired by the public.

Mrs. D. Anderson carried off the first prize for tub butter, which was of excellent quality and fine flavor.

The recent peregrinations of cattle buyers through these townships interfered considerably with the show of cattle, they having bought up the fattest and finest of the herds, which would have been available for exhibition. The number shown was large, but the quality wae scarcely as good as usual.

The show of horses was very good considering the newness of the country, as also the display of sheep and colts. Everything passed of very quietly and agreeably.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

August Flower.

The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects; such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Waterbrash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits &c. SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS OF CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For e'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Or write the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man,"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard;
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The subtlest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide,
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine—
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Faultless fit, splendid style, vast variety, good work and a very great saving in price will be found in M. & A's. Mantles and Ulsters.

THE WEST RIDING SHOW

A VERY FAIR EXHIBIT WHEN EVERYTHING IS CONSIDERED.

The Show in the Shed Superior in Some Respects to the Central—Ladies' Work and Fine Arts Extra Good—Outside Show.

The annual exhibition of the West Riding Agricultural Society opened on Tuesday, at the Agricultural Grounds, and gives promise of being a success in every respect.

While the show in the Drill Shed is fully up to the average of the shows that have been held during the last few years, still it cannot compare with the shows held eight or ten years ago, or even at a later period, and the cause is easily discovered—we have too many shows. Between the Industrial, Provincial, Central, riding and township shows, the agricultural fair business is greatly overdone, and at this rate of going on, in a few years many of the shows will dwindle down to mere family affairs, or mutual prize taking exhibitions, not worthy of the name of fairs.

On Tuesday evening the show was open to the public and the attendance was very fair, although there was not the slightest crush. The first thing that strikes the eye of the visitor upon entering the shed is the display of quilts, "log cabbin" and otherwise. Among the exhibitors we recognize several old stagers that have been on exhibition at all the shows ever held in the drill shed. They appear but little changed since we first saw them, except that they have been washed several times, probably to impart a look of newness about them. The large pumpkin—without which all agricultural shows would be a failure—was of course on hand, but not in such profusion as in former years, and the size is evidently deteriorating, as a comparatively small specimen carried off the first prize this year. We always had the idea that it was the largest pumpkin that took the prize, but seemingly this year the judges overlooked that fact and awarded the red ticket to the prettiest. A new kind of pumpkin, greatly resembling an overgrown tomato, was ruled out on the ground that it looked too much like a squash.

THE LADIES' WORK.

The display of ladies' work is exceedingly good, far surpassing the exhibit at the Lindsay Central. All the different classes are fully filled, and as will be seen by reference to the prize list, a very large number of extra prizes are recommended. The ladies who acted as judges in this section had their hands full, and did not finish until a rather late hour, but they have the satisfaction of knowing that their awards have in every case given satisfaction. It is impossible for an uninitiated being like ourselves to attempt to describe all or any of the many handsome pieces of handiwork on exhibition, and those interested will be well rewarded by an inspection of the many exhibits. We are pleased to notice that our country cousins are rapidly coming to the front, and this year they have carried off a goodly number of the prizes.

HONEY, ETC.

The exhibit of honey at Lindsay was the feature of the inside show, but here it is not by any means. It comprises a few boxes of honey in the comb, and a few jars of strained and extracted honey. Although the display is small the quality is said to be excellent. Beeswax is also shown, and a small quantity of good maple syrup and sugar.

FINE ARTS.

The exhibit of fine arts was the best ever seen here, and far surpassed the show at the Lindsay Central. Many of the daubs, called by courtesy, paintings and drawings, that have for many years occupied places in the fine art's class, were conspicious this year by their absence, and some really meritorious work was shown. In photographs of all kinds the display was large and excellent, one that can be surpassed, as far as quality goes, by very few exhibitions in Canada. Mr. G. B. Sproule, and Mr. T. Esterbrook exhibit photographs in all the latest styles, while Mr. Little confines himself to enlarged photographs and Indian ink work, showing in the latter class an exceedingly fine and life-like portrait of the Hon. Sidney Smith, father of our worthy Mayor. A life size oil portrait by Mr. Workman was much admired. Two china plates, hand painted by Miss Campbell, attracted much attention. Taken altogether, the show in this class was a decided improvement on that of former years.

FRUIT AND FLOWERS.

In apples the display was large and the apples of fine quality. The show of grapes was small as was that of pears. No plums were shown. The show of cut flowers was very meagre. Mr. J. Wallis had a fine display of hot house plants that attracted much attention.

DOMESTIC MANUFACTURES.

The exhibit in this class was far ahead of the usual show. Yarns, tweeds, blankets, flannels, carpets, etc., both factory and home-made, are shown, and the judges had considerable difficulty in awarding prizes.

FARM AND DAIRY PRODUCE.

In the above class the show is not very large, but what it lacks in quantity it made up by the superior quality of the exhibits. In cheese, three factories are represented, and the same number of farmers exhibited. The quality of all was excellent. Five entries of butter in rolls, one in crock and two in tub, were made, while five ladies competed for the prizes offered to breadmakers.

GRAIN AND ROOTS.

The show of grain of all kinds was extra good, and the number of entries extra large. The wheat was especially noticed by the judges. Considering the bad season the show of roots was splendid, and ahead of the Central show. Pumpkins, squashes, potatoes, turnips, mangolds, beets, etc., were shown in profusion and of a large size.

SEWING MACHINES, ETC.

As usual, at all agricultural fairs, the sewing machine men monopolize a lot of room, and draw crowds by extolling the many merits of the various machines they sold. This year we miss several familiar faces, but those present have apparently as much nerve as their predecessors. Mr. J. E. Murray, the general agent of the Genuine Singer Machine, has a fine exhibit of the different styles of machines he sells, showing five machines of different workmanship, all serviceable looking. He has two lady operators who are kept continually busy replying to the various questions that are asked by the crowds of people that continually surround his stand. Heaped on all sizes are specimens of the work done, and an inspection rarely fails to draw forth words of praise. Among other novelties, he shews a lump of lead which has been sown through; pieces of leather and a wet shingle, on top of which are sixteen pieces of thick tweed, through which the needle passed apparently with ease, are also shown.

Mr. G. A. Mitchell is also on hand with the Wheeler and Wilson Machine, and shows many handsome specimens of the work performed by this well known "sewer." He also exhibits an organ and an orguinette, with music from which he filled in the intervals, between the playing of the band, on which occasion he never failed to draw a crowd, as he churned out music by the hour just "as easy as rolling off a log."

Mr. D. Pentland exhibits four organs, two made by Doharty & Co., of Clinton, and two made by Harn & Co., of Woodstock.

Messrs. Fitzgerald & Stanger show a finely finished, canopy topped, basket phaeton, which has been purchased by Mr. F. Winch for his private use.

Mr. T. Fitzgerald shows a splendid open phaeton which attracted many persons, who all pronounced it a beauty.

The band of the fire brigade was present during the evening, and played some fine selections adding much to the enjoyment.

Dangerous.

We are informed that a forged bill was offered by a party making purchases at a dry goods establishment in town puporting to be a ten dollar bill of the Exchange Bank of Toronto and bearing the signature of J. H. Roper, which of course is bogus, there being no such bank in existence. Merchants and others beware.

5—Never Give Up

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any other disease of a bilious nature, thy all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by TAYLOR & MACDONALD. d5w27

In the cure of Consumption there is probably no known medicine equal to the Syrup of Hypophosphites prepared by Mr. James I. Fellows, chemist, St. John, N.B. A number of cases have come under our notice the past year when the results which have followed its use have been astonishing. We write this unsolicited by any one, and advise the afflicted to try it.—Editor Colonial Farmer. d95w16

In the month of October Typhoid, Bilious, and Malarial Fevers are very prevalent. For a sure preventative take, according to directions, DR. CARSON'S STOMACH BITTERS. They purify the System and cool the Blood. They are used to great advantage in Fever and Ague districts. In large 8 oz. bottles, at 50 cents. J. D. TULLY, special agent for Peterborough.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines.—Republican.

5—Millions Given Away.

Millions of bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have been given away as Trial Bottles of the large size. This enormous outlay would be disastrous to the proprietors, were it not for the rare merits possessed by this wonderful medicine. Call at TAYLOR & MACDONALD'S Drug Store, and get a Trial Bottle free, and try for yourself. It never fails to cure. d5w27

TORONTO.

Special to the Review, Oct. 7.

A LAD NAMED FLETCHER fell off the platform of a street car and was run over by a buggy. There is not much hope of his recovery, he having been trampled upon by the horse.

THREE WIFE BEATING worthies appeared in the Police Court this morning. In capturing John Meehan the Constable had to use his baton freely. This and the other cases against H. Miller and Capt. Blackwill, will not be disposed of owing to the absence of the Police Magistrate.

THREE MILES of water main are already laid.

JAS. MCALLISTER was to-day fined $30 and costs, or forty days, the extreme penalty under the railway act for breaking into a sealed car and trying to make away with goods.

THE HON. G. W. ALLAN writes to the Mail that the Don improvement scheme was not put through the Senate last year, because the city council, harbor commissioners and private citizens objected. The G. T. R. has generally been blamed for the delay in carrying through the bill.

THE Montreal Gazette, in an article on forest fires, writes as follows:—We want more bush than we have. We want not only protection for what is left, but a system by which tree planting may be regularly prosecuted wherever it is needed. We want, in fact, what almost every State in Europe has long found the necessity of, a complete scheme of forest management, including schools of forestry, where young men may be trained for that purpose. These should be established at once. There is no lack of experience on the subject to our hands. Why should we wait until some sudden wave of destruction sweeps all before it, and leaves us nothing but helpless regret? With a regular system of educated forest officers and police, adapted both for preservation and creation, we could in a few years do much to atone for past neglect; otherwise, we may some day be reduced to the position of Madeira, which received its name from its magnificent and varied wealth of forest, but which has long been dependent on foreign supplies for even the materials of native construction.

DUBLIN, Oct. 13.—A later account represents Parnell as having been arrested by detective superintendent Mallins, at Morrison's hotel, on two warrants signed by Forster, charging him with inciting the people to intimidate others from paying interest, and intimidating tenants from taking the benefit of the Land act. Parnell was taken to Kilmainham gaol in a cab.

A FATAL FIRE.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—Up to noon eleven bodies had been recovered from Landenburger's mill, burnt last night. A large number are wounded, many fatally. The coroner this morning learned that the means of escape from the building were inadequate.

CABINET CHANGES.

Mac Veagh is closing up his personal as well as public matters in view of leaving the Cabinet. Since Blaine has resolved to leave the Cabinet his name soon will be sent to the Senate for confirmation as 3rd assistant Secretary of State.

CONFEDERATE BONDS.

MEMPHIS, TENN., Oct. 13.—A New York broker has bought $250,000 worth of Confederate Bonds at $2 per thousand dollars. Many persons in Memphis have thousands of dollars of Bonds but are not willing to part with them. The only reason given for this speculation is that the Confederate Government during the war deposited seven million dollars in gold in England, and this has never been touched. If the Bonds can be collected they will probably entitle the holders to this deposit. The English Government refused to recognize the right of the Federal Government to the money.

MRS. LINCOLN ILL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The widow of the late President Lincoln is ill at a hotel here.

FOR YORKTOWN.

GREENBACKERS IN COUNCIL.

At a meeting of the Greenback State Committee yesterday, it was stated that forty counties in this state have Greenback tickets in the field. A committee adopted an address declaring, among other things, that the use of coin is a relic of barbarism.

AN ENGINEER KILLED.

WATERLOO, Iowa, Oct. 13.—A passenger train on the Burlington, Cedar Rapids, and Northern Road was ditched near here yesterday. Engineer Hardy was killed. It is suspected that an unknown party misplaced the rails.

A SILVER FIND.

FORT KEOGH, Montana, Oct. 13.—Valuable silver mines have been discovered at the head of Clark's Fort, near National Park, on the brow of the Indian reservation. The Indians are anxious to sell this land, and consent to have the mines worked until congress can act.

POISONOUS PORRIDGE.

HAUMBUL, Mo., Oct. 13.—Hiram Westfall, wife and daughter, were poisoned by eating mush containing arsenic. Mrs. Westfall has died and the others are recovering. A colored cook with which the family had had trouble, has been arrested.

THE ASSASSIN.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Guiteau manifests great uneasiness as the day of his trial approaches. He feigns sickness in order to have it postponed as long as possible.

A LUCKY HORSE TRADER.

WARSAW, Oct. 13.—By the death of an uncle in California, Valney Warren, aged 27, farmer and horse trader in this place, fell heir to one sixth of an estate of seven million dollars.

JUDGE EDMUNDS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—It is reported that Edmunds will be tendered the vacancy in the Supreme Court, caused by the death of Clifford.

DYING OUT.

WILCOX, ARRIZONA, Oct. 12.—The Indian excitement is reported as dying out.

SPORTING NEWS.

THE "ATALANTA" SAILS FOR NEW YORK TO COMPETE FOR THE CUP.

KINGSTON, Oct. 9.—Yesterday the sloop yacht Atalanta arrived here with a crew of six. She anchored off the Queen's Wharf, and since then has been constantly under the inspection of hundreds. She is certainly a most beautiful craft, and and will undoubtedly win a good place in the races. This afternoon Capt. Cuthbert made a trip around the harbour. Some sixty persons were aboard, nearly all of whom were in the stern, thus throwing her out of trim, yet she made about sixteen miles an hour, with only mainsail and jib. She will remain here part of to-morrow, when the sailmakers will make a few necessary alterations. She will go to New York by way of Oswego and the Erie Canal. Among the crew is Mr. Timothy Sullivan, an old and experienced yachtsman, who numberless times has been sailing master in races in opposition to Captain Cuthbert. The captain is greatly pleased to have such a sailor along with him. The yacht when in full racing order will carry 5,280 square feet of canvas. Capt. Cuthbert takes the yacht to New York in full anticipation of bringing back an emblem that will be an honour to this country. He wrested one cup given by Her Majesty from American clutches in 1876 at Detroit, and will endeavour to do the same thing at New York. During the trip down the yacht, under mainsail with four reefs and jib, made nineteen miles in one hour and six minutes. The flags presented by the Belleville corporation were placed on the boat. They look fine. The largest is a St. George's Cross in red on a white ground. In the upper corner is a black anchor and chain surrounded with a maple wreath.

THE AMERICA CUP IN DANGER.

Nothing but the small tonnage of the Madge has saved us the loss of the America Cup. The deed of gift of that international trophy demand for competitors yachts gauging 30 tons or over. We are spared the spectacle of seeing the cup carried back to England by a technical stipulation. "Morally" the cup has been lost. Will it be lost in fact as well? If our private advices turn out to be true, Saroena, Vanduara, and Latona are likely to throw down the gauntlet next year. Have we anything to oppose such flyers? Candidly, we believe not. Matching a schooner against the cutters, or even the yawl, is out of the question. Have we a sloop fit to beat out to sea, perhaps in the teeth of an autumn gale, with such grand ships, such thorough wind-jammers, as the Saroena or the Van? Have we a machine that could hope to cope with honest vessels? It is our deliberate belief, and we put it on record, that bar flukes, accident, and foul sailing, the retention of the America cup on this of the ocean is at the pleasure of any of the above-named British cracks. To meet them we must throw aside our musty traditions of beam and light draught, we must advance a quarter of a century at a bound. We must build large cutters. Can the most successful modellers of our best sloops and schooners rise to the occasion? Can they in their first attempt whittle out a block the equal of Britain's long experience? That remains to be seen.—Forest and Stream. Our contemporary evidently never dreams of danger from the Atalanta. How amusing it would be if Captain Cuthbert were to do the trick after all?

YOUNGS' POINT

(From Our Own Correspondence.)

LARGE CLEARANCE.—At the invitation of Mr. Geo Chalmers, your correspondent took a drive one day last week to see how things were getting on at the large clearance of 100 acres, which was lumbered on last winter on the road to Burleigh Bridge. This spring Mr. Chalmers engaged the services of Arthur Dugan as foreman, and really he deserves great credit for the way he has cleared up this large fallow, being so very rough he has had from 12 to 14 men working under him. It is all sown with fall wheat, and indeed down with timothy, and looks remarkably well. There is a splendid board fence on the front of of the lot, and rail fences on the other end and sides.

WILD GEESE.—Mr. Angliay, while working on his farm, saw one day last week, a large flock of wild geese on their way south, and flying so low that if he had a gun near him he could have brought down one or two.

SHANTIES.—Mr. Geo. Chalmers intends having three shanties this coming winter. One in the township of Smith, Mr. A. Dugan as foreman, and two in the township of Burleigh, Mr. P. Phalen, jr., and A. Wynn as foremen. He has large contracts for stove wood, ties and cedar, hemlock and pine to be delivered next season.

HOUSE BUILDING.—The large semi-detatched house belonging to Mr. Geo. Chalmers, is now approaching completion, and when finished will be a great house to the village, tenants being plentiful and accommodation scarce.

DEER HUNTING.—Some of our local sports have been away deer hunting this last week—success only middling.

THE DAM.—Nobody from the Local sent yet to repair the dam here. Where is the boss? If the control of the water here should belong to the Dominion Government, then something would be done, and at once.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.—Mr. Geo. Ranney, sr., and staff, passed through here on the steamer Cruiser on Saturday last—destination, head of Stony Lake. This looks like business, if the canal ain't built it won't be for the lack of surveying and surveyors.

Symptoms of Dyspepsia or Indigestion, a dull heavy feeling in the stomach with a frequent disposition to vomit, Heartburn, loss of mental and physical force, DR. CARSON'S STOMACH AND CONSTIPATION BITTERS is the certain Remedy for this distressing complaint. In large bottles, at 50 cents. J. D. TULLY, agent for Peterborough.

Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters are in every sense of the word a worthy family medicine, and we are glad to learn that they are rapidly taking the place of those nauseous little Pills. J. D. TULLY is agent for the Bitters here.

THE WEST RIDING SHOW

A VERY FAIR EXHIBIT WHEN EVERYTHING IS CONSIDERED.

The Outside Exhibit a Success—The Horses, Cattle, Sheep and Swine—Marked Improvements—The Horse Ring.

The second day of an Agricultural Show is generally looked forward to as the great day. On Wednesday, the threatening aspect of the weather during the morning made the managers very dubious of success, but as the day wore on without rain falling and farmers crowded into town, their faces commenced to look more cheerful, and when the people commenced to crowd into the grounds, they actually smiled and the receipts at the gate exceeded their most sanguine expectations. Considering the weather the attendance was good.

SCENES AND INCIDENTS.

The large gathering of farmers afforded the tax collectors of the various townships an admirable opportunity of getting rid of their tax bills without much trouble, and these gentry might have been seen in all directions handing out the unwelcome tickets.

It is wonderful, the great interest that some of our citizens who have recently returned from Manitoba, have suddenly developed in farmers and farming pursuits. Two or three of those gentlemen spent the whole day inspecting the roots and cattle, and seemingly, it was with great satisfaction that they punched the fat cattle in the ribs, just as much as to say I know all about it.

The man with the "old plug" that could not make a mile under fifteen minutes, was on hand as usual, and afforded great amusement to the boys, and chagrin the judges, as he would persist in following the "fliers" around the horse ring.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

The show of Agricultural Implements did not differ much from that of former years, with the exception that a few novelties were introduced. As will be seen by reference to the prize list, our local manufacturers held their own and carried of all the prizes.

Mr. P. Hamilton was by far the largest exhibitor showing a Midland harvester reaper, a power straw cutter, a hand straw cutter, a gang plough, a combination plough, one of his new I.X.L. ploughs, a tiger horse rake, and a turnip drill. He carried off three first prizes.

Messrs. J. Whyte & Co., show a double mould board plough, a pair of iron harrows and two of Whyte's patent No. 3, sod ploughs, the latter being too late for competition were not judged. This firm won one first and one second prize.

Mr. Wm. Graham, as agent, shows a spring tooth harrow, a champion sod plough, made by J. G. Cockshutt, of Brantford, a combined seeder, and drill and a Larsen rake.

Mr. T. E. Fitzgerald exhibits a good serviceable looking farm wagon.

Mr. Peter Straith, of Toronto, shows the King mower knife grinder, a self adjusting machine, that does its work well. It is a very simple and effective looking machine.

CATTLE.

The show of cattle was somewhat better than usual in all the classes. A great improvement is noticeable, in the grades especially.

SHEEP.

The show of sheep is about the same as usual. An old and experienced sheep raiser informs us that there is but very little improvement in sheep, and that there will not be any until the farmers breed more carefully.

SWINE.

In this class there is also an improvement, better breeds and larger pigs being shown, the effects of more care and judicious breeding.

POULTRY.

The show was poor and rather meagre. Although some good birds were shown, many were not full bred and hardly deserved the prizes awarded.

THE HORSE RING.

As usual the horse ring was the great centre of attraction for both male and female spectators. The competition in all the classes was very strong and some really first class animals were shown. The enclosure was surrounded by a large crowd, and as the animals were speeded around the ring, the onlookers busied themselves pointing out the good and bad points of the horses, and guessing as to the probable prize winners. The band which was stationed on the stand in the centre played lively tunes, as the horses pranced around, evidently knowing that they were expected to do their prettiest, the drivers anxiously watching every movement with a jealous eye.

The following is the prize list:—

PEGS.

The New York Mail says:—It was the privilege of the writer to visit the picturesque little town of Arlington, Vt., which at the time boasted a population of 2,500, three churches, five stores, two hotels, an extensive car works, sash and blind, and chair factory; also a "peg factory," which, by the courtesy of the foreman, Mr. L. E. White (who had been employed there twenty-nine years), he was shown through and received valuable information. The timber used is black and yellow birch, which is cut into pieces four feet in length, varying in diameter from eight to fourteen inches. These logs are placed in a building in winter and the frost extracted by steam. They are then run in on a tram railway to the circular saw department, and cut into slices or blanks of the thickness desired for the length of the pegs. These are sorted and the knots cut out, and are then passed on to a long bench which contains six machines composed of fluted rollers. The blanks are then run between these rollers, which creases both sides. They are then run through again to cross-crease, or mark out the exact sizes of the pegs. Then they go to the splitting machines, which are set with double knives, and cut the blanks into pegs. As they pass the last machine they are sorted, and all knots and discoloured ones removed as they are brushed off into large baskets. These machines are under the care of young women, who appeared much more happy and useful than do many of those who, thumping at their piano, would consider such employment menial. The next process is bleaching, which is accomplished by the fumes of brimstone, which is unhealthy, (those who labor here shorten their lives). They are then placed in large cylinders, which hold eleven barrels, and have six hundred steam pipes running through them, and revolve one and one-half times to the minute, drying two charges per day to each cylinder. They are then passed into large wooden casks, or cylinders, which revolving rapidly, polish them by the friction, the refuse falling through wire sieves or screen openings, after which they are again passed into a sifter, which separates all the single pegs and drops them into tubs, or boxes, leaving those which have not been separated in the machine. They are then put in barrels ready for market. The factory running on full time turns out 150 bushels, or fifty barrels, per day. The sizes go from eight up to sixteen to an inch. The lengths go by eighths, two and one-half to twelve. Twenty-six hands are employed, half of them being women. The products of this factory are mostly shipped to Germany and France, and enter largely into the manufacture of toys and fancy goods, as well as into the shoe manufactory. Thus the "genii of mechanism" converts, as by magic, the trees from the Vermont mountains into articles of use, which, floating off through the channels of commerce to far away lands, anon return to sparkle the eyes of happy children in toys, in which these pegs have become important factors.

Effect of Removing Mountain Forests.

Attention has long been given to devising means to limit the ravages of these torrents, which ruin the land, threaten estates, destroy roads, and sometimes even compromise the existence of villages. Walls have been built along the banks to protect them, or across the streams to allay the force of these waters. The most efficacious means, however, as yet discovered, has been to maintain the woods on the slopes of the mountain. The effect of cutting away the trees in promoting the formation of torrents has not been doubted by the inhabitants of mountainous regions, and is clearly set forth by M. Surrell, who says:—"When we examine the tracts in the midst of which torrents of recent origin have been formed, we perceive that they have in all cases been despoiled of their trees and bushes. If, on the other hand, we examine hills whose sides have been recently stripped of wood, we observe that they are cut up by numerous torrents, which have evidently been formed very lately. Here is a remarkable double fact: wherever there are recent torrents there are no longer forests, and wherever the ground is cleared these torrents are formed; and the same eyes that see the woods fall on the declivity of a mountain, may see appear there immediately a multitude of torrents."

THE BOILER EXPLOSION.

Conclusion of the Corner's Inquest—Verdict of the Jury.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 11.—The following is the verdict of the coroner's jury in the Thurlow boiler explosion case:—

"We the jurors empanelled to enquire into the death of Lizia Caldwell, find that it was due to the explosion of a boiler engaged in driving a threshing machine on the farm of George Caldwell, lot 13, 17th concession of Thurlow. And we are of the opinion that the said explosion was principally caused by defects in the material and construction of the said boiler. Said boiler and engine were sold to Mr. Reid by a Mr. Sandycock, who represented himself as being the agent of the Joseph Hall Manufacturing Company of Oshawa. In view of the appalling calamity that has taken place here, we cannot close the inquest without asking and strongly urging the Government to take such action in the matter as will prevent boilers in future from being sold that are defective in construction and material. And we further think that none but competent men should be allowed to act as engineers."

Of these who were injured by the boiler explosion Henry Garvin is still in a critical condition. It is feared that he was injured internally. Helen Caldwell and Charles Gaskin have entirely recovered.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

Arrival of the Vicergal Party at Winnipeg—Departure For Ontario Fixed For Tuesday.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 9.—The Marquis of Lorne passed rapidly through this city yesterday, having been delayed by trains, and being very anxious to reach Winnipeg, where he proposes to rest after his long and arduous journey. His two special cars were transferred to the St. Paul and Manitoba road, and forwarded by special locomotive, for which arrangements had been made. The Marquis will return to Ottawa in about ten days, by way of St. Paul and Chicago. He will probably stop here a day or two, but is desirous that no formal demonstration be made in his honour.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 9.—The Marquis of Lorne arrived to-day. He will be banquested tomorrow night by the Manitoba Club whose new building he will formally open. He leaves for Ontario by special at 10 o'clock after the banquet.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Destruction of Crops by Snow and Rain—An Extensive District Affected.

VICTORIA, B.C., Oct. 11.—Advices from the interior state that in some valleys the barley and oats are safe, and other grain of all kinds destroyed. The disaster is a serious one for the country, as all the grain required for the railway works must now be imported from California and Oregon. Rain and snow fell alternately till the rain completed the damage. The district affected extends from the boundry line to the Thompson river.

FROM ALL OVER.

SIR LEONARD TILLEY will in all probability, start for the east in a few days.

RUMOUR has it that Secretary Windom and Attorney-General McVeagh will retire from the Washington Cabinet.

KINGSTON capitalists are talking of organizing a joint stock company for the purpose of constructing a graving dock, to cost seventy thousand dollars, at the Limestone City.

THAT was a happy suggestion of our friend Jones' four-year-old hopeful, who instantly prescribed St. Jacob's Oil for his grandmother, who was limping around with rheumatism.

TWENTY millions of francs, or four million dollars, have been subscribed in Paris for the construction of the St. Lawrence tunnel and South Shore railway, and a staff of engineers will be immediately despatched from France to make surveys, and report on the scheme.

A MAN NAMED PEACOCK, employed in Messrs. Hellyard Bros. saw mill, Indiantown, New Brunswick, while at work Monday afternoon, became accidentally entangled in a driving belt, and before he could be extracted, one of his legs were torn from the socket and severed completely from his body. The man will die.

A YOUNG MAN named Edward Grimmerman was oiling a threshing machine at Black Creek, South Bay, on Satarday evening when by some means his arm was caught in the machinery and was so badly lacerated that it had to be amputated near the shoulder, by Dr. Evens, of Picton, and Dr. Bredin, of Milford.

THE CORNER'S JURY in the case of the fatal boiler explosion at Thurlow have returned their verdict, finding that the boiler in question was defective in material and construction, and recommending the Government to take measures for the proper inspection of boilers, and for the employment of duly qualified engineers only.

TWO LIVES were lost by the burning of the steamer Elizabeth Irving on the Frazer River. The passengers saved themselves by jumping into the river. The freight burned was worth $70,000 and the railway contractors had $50,000 in the steamer's safe, which may yet be recovered.

THE BRITISH REVENUE for the quarter just ended is $1,121,000 greater than the revenue for the corresponding quarter of last year, the increase being chiefly in excise. This is taken to mean that the consuming power of the country is rapidly increasing, the increase bringing with it greater trade activity.

THE celebrated suit of McLaren v. the Canada Central railway, for one hundred thousand dollars damages, was called at the assizes in Toronto, on Tuesday, before Mr. Justice Cameron. Several of the jurymen claimed exemption, owing to sickness and other causes, and finally when the panel was exhausted it was found that only eleven jurymen had been secured. The trial was therefore postponed until the next assizes. Some fourteen witnesses had been brought up from the Ottawa district to testify at the trial.

BELLEVILLE.

MORE BURGLARIES.—The Intelligencer says, following the announcement of burgulars entering the premises of Mr. Cooper and Mr. Vormilyea, as detailed in previous issues, comes the statement that two houses near the outskirts of the city were entered on Sunday night by, probably the same person or persons who committed the previous burglaries. Mr. J. Miller, in the vicinity of Albert College, states that shortly after 11 o'clock on Sunday night he heard the sound of footsteps in his kitchen, the door of which is left unfastened every night. Thinking it was some one of his children, he called out to the child (as he supposed) to go to bed, on pain of a whipping. The footsteps retreated, and Mr. Miller going down stairs found the door open and closed it. On Monday morning his neighbor—the Rev. Sheldon Young—informed Mr. Miller that his house had been entered by a burglar, who had entered through a window, had entered his bedroom and had taken a pocket book and a silver watch. The pocket-book contained nothing of value to the thief, but a number of papers, whilst the watch—a silver one—was valued highly because it had been presented to the owner. It is to be hoped that the police will discover the daring burglar, who is doubtless the same person who entered Messrs. Cooper's and Vermilyea's premises. So far he has got little to reward him, but unless his career be checked he may be more fortunate in a future venture.

ZOPESA.

(FROM BRAZIL.)

The New Compound, its wonderful affinity to the Digestive Apparatus and the Liver, increasing the dissolving juices, relieving almost instantly the dreadful results of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and the TORPID LIVER, makes Zopesa an every day necessity in every house.

It acts gently and speedily in Biliousness, Costiveness, Headache, Sick Headache, Distress after Eating, Wind on the Stomach, Heartburn, Pains in the Side and Back, Want of Appetite, Want of Energy, Low Spirits, Foul Stomach. It invigorates the Liver, carries off all surplus bile, regulates the Bowels, and gives tone to the whole system.

Cut this out and take it to your Druggist and get a 10 cent Sample, or a large bottle for 75 cents, and tell your neighbor about it.

August Flower.

The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects; such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Waterbrash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits &c. Go to your Druggist and get a 75 cent bottle of AUGUST FLOWER or a Sample Bottle for 10 cents. Try it. Two doses will relieve you. 2d1w1y

Cholera Infantum.

That terrible scourge among children may be speedily cured by Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. All forms of bowel complaints, nausea and vomiting, from an ordinary diarrhœa to the most severe attack of Canadian cholera, can be subdued by its prompt use. It is the best remedy known for children or adults suffering from summer complaints.

Debility and Nervous Headache.

Chronic, sick or nervous headache is generally dependent on, or accompanied by, impaired digestion, by which the circulation and nutrition of the brain are deranged, and the nervous centres vitiated. The PERUVIAN SYRUP, by reinvigorating the digestive powers, lays the axe at the root of the tree; the brain is duly nourished, the nervous symptoms cease, and the headache disappears. Sold by all druggists.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

Mothers! Mothers!

Are you disturbed at night or broke of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and gives rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. d52w9

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For e'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Orwrite the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man,"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard;
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The sublest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide,
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine—
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Faultless fit, splendid style, vast variety, good work and a very great saving in price will be found in M. & A's. Mantles and Ulsters.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

The Ploughing Match.

The committee entrusted with the duty of making arrangements for a County Ploughing Match, have at last been successful in obtaining from John Tully, Esq., a field adjoining the boundary line between North Monaghan and Smith, suitable for their purpose, and the match has been fixed for Wednesday, 26th October, instant, when prizes of $30, $20, $15, $10 and $5, in articles and money will be offered for competition, in three classes, divided as follows, viz:—No. 1, open to all comers; No. 2, open only to those who have not won a prize in any ploughing match since the 1st January, 1874; and No. 3, open only to boys under 18 years of age. Competitors in all the classes, will, of course, be limited to residents within the limits of, or bona fide occupants, or sons of bona fide occupants of farms within either of the electoral districts of the east or west ridings of the county of Peterborough. We may mention that the committee have experienced considerable difficulty in obtaining a suitable field for the match, owing to the fact that most persons owning suitable fields do not care to have them cut up in the way necessary in such competitions, but chiefly owing to the unnecessary custom which has been introduced in this county, of those upon whose farm the match is held, keeping a sort of open house for the day. This is a practice which should be stopped. It is quite enough for any man to give his choicest field for such a purpose, without imposing upon his wife and family the trouble and himself the expense of catering for all comers. Those who take part in, or have to do with the getting up of such contests, are under the compliment, not him who gives the field, while onlookers should be particularly careful, as they generally are, to give neither trouble or annoyance. With regard to the judges we may state, that if the committee are successful in obtaining the gentlemen whom they have selected, they will all be non-residents of the county and strangers to most of its people.

For Winnipeg.

On Wednesday evening five more of our young men left for Winnipeg to push their fortunes in the Prairie Province, where so many of our Peterborough people, have already carved out fortunes for themselves. The party comprised Messrs. D. Jameson, formerly of this office, W. J. Larmour and family, Robert J. Menzies. and Messrs. Ball and Brown, two young farmers. A large number of people assembled at the Midland station to see them off, and gave them a hearty cheer as the train left the town behind. Mr. Jameson, who was Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of the Young Men's Protestant Benevolent Association, formerly the Young Britons, was entertained at a social dance and supper on Tuesday night, at which an exceedingly pleasant evening was spent. While sorry to lose so many of our young men, we are glad to know that they prefer to live under the British flag, and have chosen a British Province in preference to an American state. We wish the boys unbounded success in their new home.

No Connection.

Owing to an accident on the Grand Trunk, in the vicinity of Toronto, the Midland train did not make connection as usual on Wednesday night. The "Local" from Toronto, with which the 6.40 train usually connects, did not reach Port Hope until a late hour, and the "express" from the east was three hours late, so the train turned right around and returned to Peterborough, arriving here on time with a very small number of passengers.

A Fortune.

It is currently reported in railway circles that a conductor on the Midland railway has fallen heir to $200,000, by the death of a relative across the lines. We only hope that it is true, and that he may live long to enjoy it.

Peterborough Rifle Association.

In our local yesterday in regard to the prizes of the Rifle Association matches, we incorrectly stated the value of the first and second prizes of the Association match, which amount to $40 and $24 respectively.

POLICE COURT.

A HARD "NUT."

THURSDAY, Oct. 13—James Reardon, was marched from the cells to the Police Court, by Chief Johnston, to answer to a charge of disorderly conduct. The prisoner, was not altogether sober and appeared to think that he had been imposed on. "Jimmy" is well acquainted with the police and the officers are well acquainted with him. He is a bricklayer by trade but will not work as long as he gets whiskey. The magistrate was about to impose a fine on him when it was discovered that he already owed the town, not having paid his last fine. The Magistrate then talked of sending him up, but "Jimmy" promised reform and to pay the fine, and told the Magistrate he could do what he liked with him if ever he was caught again. The Magistrate after giving the prisoner a good lecture and a promise of Central Prison, of which institution "Jimmy" has a great abhorrence, imposed a fine of $3 and $2 costs, to be paid within two weeks.

Gaseous.

As many persons are unaware of the terms of the contract between the town and the gas company, we may state that the street lamps are not to be extinguished until eleven o'clock p. m., and as to the lamps that are to be lit all night, the following extract from the agreement fully explains that:—

"And the said, the Peterborough Gas Company, in consideration of the premises, hereby covenants, to light and keep lighted, from dark to daylight on each and every night during the said term, without further charge, the following street lamps, that is to say, one street lamp situate at the corner of George and Brock streets, one at the corner of Hunter and George streets, one at the corner of Hunter and Water streets, and one at the Town Hall, provided that the said street lamps need not be lighted on moonlight nights."

There are many complaints about the lamps being extinguished before the hour agreed upon, and we can bear testimony to the fact that lamps almost in the centre of the town are extinguished shortly after ten o'clock. If that is not robbing the town we do not know what robbing is. Only last night the chief of police and two other gentlemen saw the lamp at the corner of George and Hunter streets extinguished at 10.30 sharp, before the moon had shown up at all, and the saucy youth on horseback, charged with the business of extinguishing the lamps, when spoken to, returned a saucy answer and rode on. The people in the outskirts complain, and they have good reason for so doing, that the lamps are not lit over an hour before being put out. As a new contract will soon have to be made, we hope that the councillors will see that its provisions are fully carried out.

Rather Ugly.

Chief Johnston had some difficulty in arresting Reardon last night. The man has been boarding for some time with John Newton, who resides on Smith Street. Reardon got on one of his periodical sprees last night and commenced to raise particular "cain" around the house. Chief Johnston was sent for and quickly nabbed his man who refushed at first to go, but an application of the "nippers" and a blow across the hands from a good stout cane had the necessary effect, and "Jimy" was lodged in durance vile, after a bottle of old rye had been taken from one of his pockets.

A Handsome Picture.

There may be seen in one of the windows of Mr. H. LeBrun's clothing store, a very handsome oil painting entitled "An Oatfield" by C. Davidson. It is the prize won by Mr. H. LeBrun at the last drawing of the London Art Union, for which Mr. J. H. Roper is agent in Peterborough. The picture is a regular gem and is well worth seeing.

A Correction.

In our Council meeting report, the levels of the different places in town referred to by Mr. Rutherford, got rather mixed up. The correct figures are: the Roman Catholic church hill, in front of Mr. Lech's dwelling, is 27 feet higher than the corner of George and Hunter streets, the Court House steps are 63 feet higher, and the top of Smithtown hill 91 feet higher.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for this district as reported from Toronto at 10.30 a.m., by the Great North Western Telegraph company, are as follows:—Lakes—Strong winds and on the upper lakes gales from the northward. Partial clearing, decidedly cooler weather.

Subscription Books.

Agents are wanted to canvass for subscription books, bibles, albums, &c., for Messrs. Ham & Brown, who have opened their office in Henthorn's block. They require twenty agents for this purpose and to canvass for Raymond's sewing machines. d75

New Goods.

Use the Poland Metallic Hair Brush "for headache." British Plate Mirrors for ladies' toilet. Choice lot of those very desirable Gentlemens' Dressing Combs. TAYLOR & MACDONALD, Medical Hall, Corner of George and Hunter Streets.

East Riding Exhibition.

The Annual Exhibition of the East Riding Agricultural Association, takes place at Keene to-day and to-morrow. Quite a number from town left to-day to visit the show, and if the weather is fine a far larger number will go down to-morrow.

The Trains.

The Grand Junction train was nearly two hours late at noon. The Toronto papers did not arrive at noon on account of no connection being made with the Grand Trunk, which was very late.

St. Paul's.

The Rev. J. M. King, of St. James' Square Presbyterian Church, Toronto, will occupy the pulpit of St. Paul's, next Sunday evening.

Fresh Oysters.

Second supply of fresh Oysters at SOANES' FISH STORE. d71.

PRIZE PHOTOGRAPHS.

To the Editor of the Review:

DEAR SIR,—There seems to be a misunderstanding among a few persons here regarding the prizes awarded to photographers at the Peterborough Exhibition, caused no doubt by the removal or hiding of the second prize ticket, and the display instead of two red tickets (first prize). The judges awarded the first prize to me and the second to Mr. Esterbrook. The first prize tickets exhibited by Mr. Esterbrook, were not gained at Peterborough, but where won by him in competition with the Lindsay photographers. I would take no notice of this if the second prize ticket had not been removed, so as to convey a false impression to the public. Will you state who won the first prize?

Yours respectfully,
G. B. SPROULE.

[As shown by our prize list, the first prize for photographs at the West Riding of Peterborough Exhibition was won by Mr. Sproule, and the second by Mr. Esterbrook.—ED. REVIEW.]

The Market.

The market was rather dull to-day on account of the farmers being busy with their fall ploughing. The supply of grain was small, compared with some of the days of last week. Wheat brought $1.31½, the highest we heard of; oats 39; rye, 85 to 92. Butter is now coming in, but not in any great quanty. It sold from 19 to 21. Some pork, purchased by a merchant, brought $9.

Vandalism.

We are told that a gang of roughs again made night hideous last night, by yelling and hooting in the western part of the town. We are also told that a picket fence in front of a house on Murray street, was torn down and strewn about the road. It is about time that a stop was put to such work.

New Sidewalk.

The Corporation men are now at work laying a new sidewalk in front of Cluxton's new block on Hunter Street. The men complain that the building is too low and state that when the road is gravelled or macadamized that it will be several inches higher than the sidewalk.

Fine Fresh Oysters.

A Favorable Notoriety.—the good reputation of "Brown's Bronchial Troches" for the relief of Coughs, Colds, and Throat Diseases, has given them a favorable notoriety.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines.—Republican.

In the cure of Consumption there is probably no known medicine equal to the Syrup of Hypophosphites prepared by Mr. James I. Fellows, chemist, St. John, N.B. A number of cases have come under our notice the past year when the results which have followed its use have been astonishing. We write this unsolicited by any one, and advise the afflicted to try it.—Editor Colonial Farmer. d95w16

Mothers will find Perry Davis' Pain-Killer invaluable in the nursery, and it should always be kept near at hand, in case of accident. For pains in the breast, take a little Pain-Killer, in sweetened milk and water, bathing the breast in it clear at the same time. If the milk passages are clogged, from cold or other causes, bathing in the Pain-Killer will give immediate relief.

In the month of October Typhoid, Bilious, and Malarial Fevers are very prevalent. For a sure preventative take, according to directions, DR. CARSON'S STOMACH BITTERS. They purify the System and cool the Blood. They are used to great advantage in Fever and Ague districts. In large 8 oz. bottles, at 50 cents. J. D. TULLY, special agent for Peterborough.

The old Reliable.

The remedy that has stood the test of time is Dr Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Almost infallible to cure dysentery, cholera morbus, and all manner of fluxes, cholic, cramps, cholera Infantum, and every form of summer complaints.

A General Defeated.

A Mrs. J. G. Robertson writes:—"I was suffering from general debility, want of appetite, constipation, etc., so that life was a burden; after using Burdock Blood Bitters I felt better than for years. I cannot praise your Bitters too much.

Must say it is the nicest thing I ever used for the teeth and breath," says everyone having tried "TRABERRY," the new toilet gem. Get a 5 cent sample.

POLICE COURT.

BREACH OF A BY-LAW.

FRIDAY, Oct. 14.—George McCombe appeared to answer a charge of committing a breach of the building by-law, by erecting a wooden shed within the fire limits.

Case was brought by P. C. McGhee, building Inspector.

The defendant pleaded not guilty, and stated that he had received permission from the building committee to proceed with the work.

The case was enlarged until the 24th instant, in order to obtain further information.

DAMAGE BY BUSH FIRES.

As Ascertained Through Inspection by Superintendent Smith.

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—On the 29th ult., Mr. Smith, Superintendent of colonization roads for Ontario Government, was sent out in response to numerous and urgent requests from the township authorities to inspect the colonization roads and see what damage had resulted to them from the recent bush fires with a view of repairing them. Mr. Smith, who returned on Saturday, says that he went through the greater part of the Haliburton district in the county of Peterborough. On the Kinmount and Bobcaygeon roads he found that considerable damage had been done; also on the Victoria, Miners' Bay, Monk, and Burleigh roads. Cameron, Snowdon, Monmouth, Minden, and Haliburton roads were not injured to any extent. The settlers have suffered very much from the destruction of their fences. Before leaving he had arranged for such repairs to the colonization roads as were absolutely necessary, but none others.

MUSKOKA DISTRICT.

The Superintendent also visited the Muskoka district just previous to this. Here he found that Macauley road and Macauley road south were much damaged. One settler had suffered a loss of $1,500, but no other instance, he believed, presented a case of utter destitution. The burnt districts in Muskoka were almost entirely confined to Macaulay township. In Muskoka also great damage to fences had resulted. The fires, however, were, he thought, confined for the most part to sparselysettled districts.

THE BRITISH REVENUE for the quarter just ended is $1,121,000 greater than the revenue for the corresponding quarter of last year, the increase being chiefly in excise. This is taken to mean that the consuming power of the country is rapidly increasing, the increase bringing with it greater trade activity.

AYOUB KHAN DEFEATED.

QUETTAH, Oct. 13.—Abdul Kudas Khan reports two defeats of the forces from Herat. In the first fight in the Herat valley he took prisoner the father-in-law of Ayoub Khan. In the second he repulsed the governor of Herat, and captured two guns. The governor is treating for terms. Ayoub Khan has fled into Persia. Herat is probably now in the hands of the Ameer's officers.

THE EMPERORS' MEETING.

WARSAW, Oct. 13.—The interview of the Emperors of Russia and Austria will probably take place next Tuesday, by which time all the precautionary arrangements will have been completed. The Russian journals have received a circular from the press censor prohibiting the publication of anything about the impending movements of the Czar.

THE FIRST NEWS.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—While Mr. Gladstone was proceeding to the Guildhall at noon to receive the freedom of the city of London, the first editions of the papers announcing the arrest of Mr. Parnell just appeared, and the Premier was cheered and groans were given for Mr. Parnell.

FRENCH AFFAIRS.

PARIS, Oct. 13.—M. Gambetta's accession to office in a few days, or a few weeks hence, is morally certain. The present Ministers will, it may be presumed, continue to direct the affairs of the country until the opening of Parliament, and will then make way for the long-talked of and expected Grand Ministere. Such, at least, is the general impression to-night.

THE ELECTRIC CONGRESS.

To-night there was a grand rehersal of the gala performance which is to be given at the Opera on Saturday in honour of the congress of electricians. The facade and interior of the opera were brilliantly illuminated with several kinds of electric lights. Viewed from the Avenue and the Palace thee ffect was very beautiful. The Opera facade has never before been seen to such advantage.

AT THE GUILDHALL.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The official telegram announcing Mr. Parnell's arrest was received at the Premier's official residence in Downing street two minutes after his departure for the Guildhall. A messenger was despatched in haste after him, and handed him Mr. Forster's telegram during the reception, so that he was able to announce as a surprise that "the resources of civilization" had been applied to Mr. Parnell. A reporter thus describes the scene:—"The vast audience assembled in the Guildhall seemed for a moment startled and breathless. Then with a common impulse the whole audience rose and waved their handkerchiefs, and sent forth a ringing cheer which was again and again renewed."

A RESOLUTION.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—At a private meeting of Irish members of the House of Commons held in this city last evening, a resolution was arranged, which will be proposed at the great meeting to be held at the Rotunda in Dublin to-night. The resolution is as follows:—"Resolved, that no Government taxes henceforth be payable throughout Ireland."

EXCITEMENT AT LIMERICK.

LIMERICK, Oct. 4.—An order has been received at Limerick to consign troops to barracks until further orders, as great excitement exists owing to Parnell's arrest.

TROOPS FOR DUBLIN.

DUBLIN, Oct. 13.— The Government have despatched special trains to the Curragh, which is the great military headquarters for Ireland, to fetch troops to the city to-night to prevent any possibilty of a disturbance. A battery of Royal Horse Artillery with two guns, in charge of two officers, have been drafted into Dublin castle from Portobello, and a company of foot soldiers, fully accoutred and armed, have also been sent to strengthen the garrison. It is rumoured that a troop of cavalry will also arrive at the Castle so that the garrison may be ready for any emergency. Extra police and constables are also on duty at the different entrances to the Castle.

SIGNIFICIENT WORDS.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Gladstone speakiug at the Guildhall, after hearing of Parnell's arrest said: The present agitation is not in any degree connected with what was called in Ireland Home Rule, or with the local self-government of that country, which latter system he should delight to see established, provided that it should not brake down or impair the supremacy of imperial control.

MR. PARNELL'S SUCCESSOR.

DUBLIN, Oct. 13.—At a private conference of the League executive held this morning I understand it was decided to put Mr. Dillon at the head of affairs. It is generally understood that a warrant has been issued for Mr. Healy's arrest, but he is not yet taken. He was last seen in Cork. There will be a meeting of all the Land League branches of Dublin at the Rotunda to-day, presided over by the Lord Mayor-elect, Mr. Dawson. Aside from the League demonstration the city was as quiet as ever. This is greatly due to the torrents of rain which have been falling all the afternoon and all to-night. The streets are rivers of water. This has had the effect of keeping in doors the idle classes, who, had they been abroad, might have been led into disturbance.

THE STATE CONVENTION.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The Star says that Tramany cannot annihilate a packed convention. The Herald says the whole political history of the State does not contain a record of a more respectable day's work than yesterday's convention. It has put strong nominations on a strong platform.

Say, maiden, with the raven hair,
So beautiful and lithe and tall,
With eyes so bright and cheeks so fair,
Why let your teeth destroy it all?
For they are dark and feel the want
Of a soft brush and SOZODONT.

A General Defeated.

A Mrs. J. G. Robertson writes:—"I was suffering from general debility, want of appetite, constipation, etc., so that life was a burden; after using Burdock Blood Bitters I felt better than for years. I cannot praise your Bitters too much.

"NO RENT."

DUBLIN, Oct. 14.—One or two excited League meetings in Ireland resolved to raise the banner of "no rent" until Parnell and the other suspects are released. In many places the shop shutters were put up.

NIHILISTS SENTENCED.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 14.—The trial of the four Nihilists concerned in the publication of a revolutionary organ has been concluded. Maria Keriloff was sentenced to five years transportation. Prankoff was banished to Siberia. Kislenkar received a month's imprisonment and Perpietchekoff was acquitted. The last three were men. During the trial Keriloff made an able speech in her own behalf. Prankoff also defended himself.

FROM THE ARTIC SEAS.

Prof. Nordenskjold telegraphs from Stockholm that captain Johannesen commanding the Lena of the Nordenskjold expedition, has just returned. A Jakut reports having seen a steamer at the mouth of the Lena, on the 30th September, 1879. It is supposed to have been the Jeannette. The steamer Louise, which returned on the 19th of September from Jenisia, reports that last winter her sailors found twocorpses of Europeans and a barrel of whiskey. This information is remarkable, as no European crew have been known to have been lost there during the last year.

LEAGUE RESOLUTIONS.

DUBLIN, Oct. 14.—At a hastily summoned meeting of the Branch League, resolutions condeming the cowardly action of the vile Government, of that base Gladstone, and expressing undoubted confidence in the leaders of the League, were passed.

"REJECT WITH SCORN."

At Wexford, Redmond M. P. said they had been prepared to give the Land Act a fair trial, but now they must reject it with scorn and contempt.

CHOKING OFF THE LEAGUE.

DUFLIN, Oct. 4.—It is thought that hence forth all public meetings and processions of the League will be prohibited.

BALL FOR BUCKSHOT.

It is stated that the constabulary hereafter will be supplied with ball cartridge instead of buckshot.

IN DURANCE VILE.

Immediately after entering Kilmainham gaol, Parnell sent the following telegram to Mr. Leary, M.P., who in his absence presided at the Kildare Convention:—"I cannot be with you, but, I rely on you as true sterling men to act as if I were with you. Act manly, steadily and prudently, without disturbance and without fear, completely maintaining your organization, under these coercion laws. Trust on the justice of our oaths and certainty of our ultimate triumph." Telegrams are being received from all parts of the south and west. The news of Parnell's arrest in every section of the country, is received with the greatest indignation.

PREPARED TO MEET IT.

DUBLIN, October 14.—Twenty-five hundred troops all armed are at Naas, in case of a disturbance.

SYMPATHY FOR PARNELL.

The Kildare convention yesterday adopted a resolution of sympathy with Parnell.

THE SAME AS OTHERS.

Parnell on being arrested intimated his desire to avoid any demonstration and to be subjected to the same rules as the other suspects.

THE GUARDS TREBLED.

DUBLIN, Oct. 14.—The guards all over this city were trebled yesterday and the police patrols doubled, and dragoons rode through streets in all directions.

WATCHING THE LEAGUERS.

The detectives narrowly watch the movements of the Leaguers. A passe of police occupy the premises close to the League offices.

AT KILMAINHAM GAOL.

A special force of foot and horse artillery has been detailed for duty at Kilmainham gaol.

ATTACKING THE GAOL.

The Evening Mail says that the League has resolved to attack Kilmainham gaol.

GUARDING FORSTER.

Forster was guarded by dragoons in going from the castle to his residence.

QUITE A FIRE.

CAKAMA, Col., Oct, 14.—A lamp exploded at the summit house last evening. The flames spread rapidly and every house within reach was consumed. Less than twenty houses are left standing. Two powder magazines were burned by the fire, causing several terrific explosions. Eighty families are homeless and destitute. The loss is over $400,000. Whiskey is free and hundreds of men are now intoxicated.

GUITEAU IN COURT.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The court room was crowded to its extreme capacity. There was a great feeling of interest to see Guiteau. There was no display of police force, although a large muster of detectives were present, but not in uniform. At a quarter to 11, Scovell, counsellor for the prisoner, came in. Immediately afterwards the door of the witnesses and court room opened, and Marshall Henry and two deputy marshalls entered, hustling along the bowed and cowering figure of the assassin to a seat beside his counsel. Then one of the guards entered and took his handcuffs off, giving the prisoner the use of his hands, which he continued, however, to hold crossed, as if that was their usual position. He looked broken in health his hair being closely cropped and his whiskers worn thick, but not long, his dark, rusty clothes and whole person presented a miserably neglected condition.

A TICKLISH QUESTION, INDEED.

UNDER the heading of "a ticklish question," the Mail of Monday last devotes a column to giving its version, (i. e. a Toronto version) of the position which the Industrial and Provincial Association takes with regard to their relative claims upon the Toronto exhibition grounds for next year's show, and wonderful to relate, concludes with the statement that "both have a strong case."

When a Toronto paper, no matter of what politics, concedes that the Provincial has a strong case, and inferentially suggests, without proposing, that the Industrial and Provincial had better hold a Union exhibition next year, the reader may be sure that the Torontonians have discovered that thay cannot afford to ignore the Provincial Association in the way they at first proposed doing. Judging by the Mail's article it would appear that somebody has been giving them a hint that the Provincial Association has claim upon their grounds which even Toronto cheek cannot afford to ignore, for on this point it says :—

The Provincial Association, moreover, claims an interest in the grounds, and a right to their use in virtue of the grants of money which they have made for their completion. When the show was first opened on the old King street grounds in the rear of the Asylum, the Association spent a large sum in preparing it for exhibition purposes and in erecting the necessary buildings. Indeed the larger share of the expence of erecting the old Crystal Palace was borne by the Agricultural and Arts Association. Then, when the new grounds were required, the Provincial people assisted the city to acquire them, and voted no less than $4,000 for building purposes. These grants, and the joint interest of the Association with the city in the grounds, gives the Provincial Association, in their opinion, a right to their use.

The fact of the matter is, it cannot be disputed that the Provincial Association has both a moral and an equitable "right" to the use of those grounds in 1882, no matter what may be the terms under which the Industrial Association may hold them from the city, and if they have not a legal right, as well as a moral and equitable one, it is only because the Board thought they were dealing with, we will not say any gentlemen but honest men, that they abandoned their hold on the old ground and buildings in order to facilitate the city's obtaining the new grounds, and gave the city, after their last exhibition, $2,000 towards levelling and improving these very grounds, and $1,500 to enable them to erect permanent machinery without legally securing to themselves power thereover, against such contingencies as they now find themselves face to face with. Alderman Withron and his Toronto friends, may consider it a piece of justifiable sharp practice to induce the Provincial Association to pay these sums for the improvement of the grounds, and then lease the same to President Withrow of the Industrial Association, to the future exclusion of the donors, but outside of Toronto it will certainly be characterized as a fraud upon men whose only fault was that they supposed they were dealing with men whose word was as good as their bond.

One thing we do hope, and that is that the council of the Agricultural Association will consent to no drawing of a red herring across the scent—no arrangement for a Union exhibition—until their position with regard to these grounds is finally and definitely settled. The directors of the Industrial Association, the press of Toronto, without reference to politics, and not a few of its people, have done all that in them lay to misrepresent and strangle the Association, and this sudden holding out of the olive branch, which the Mail's article indicates, may be taken as an evidence, not of love, but of a feeling that even on their part discretion may be the better part of valour, and that more may be accomplished by Alderman Withrow's "sharp practices," than by a stand up fight which cannot fail to become one of Toronto vs. the Province.

THE HEALTH QUESTION.

To the Editor of the Review :

SIR,—I see in your well appreciated daily considerable correspondence on the health question, particularly in connection with Spaulding's Bay. Now I have not the slightest interest in the filling in of Spaulding's Bay, rather the reverse, as I live at nearly the opposite end of the town, but if your correspondent's conclusions are correct that the place in its present condition is highly detrimental to the health of the whole town, then it becomes a question that should interest everybody, and I would say by all means fill it up. But bad as the Bay no doubt is, I question if it is chargable with all the malaria cases in town, I think there is positive evidence that looks in quite another direction for a large proportion of the cases, for instance the sickness already referred to in your columns of the men in Mr. Wm. Hamilton's foundry. I understand that fully one third of their number are now or have been seriously ill, and there has been one death, which I think your correspondent attributed to the effects of Spaulding's Bay. But I would beg to call attention to the fact that it is the men who are sick, not their wives and children, which would be the case were the famous Bay the cause. If the cause was at their homes the women and children would be the first to suffer. Now I do not presume to localize or define the cause of this peculiar malady, but simply call attention to the self evident fact that there are other likelier sources of malaria than Spaulding's Bay, and that it is a highly proper subject for our Board of Health, if we have such an institution to inquire into. If we have not, by all means let one be appointed with power to obtain evidence from the physicians and other persons in regard to each particular alleged case of malaria and its probable cause and report to the council, which could then act, somewhat intelligently in the matter, and even if our council should not act, or should move very slowly, as corporate bodies are said to do, we would at least have the advantage of the information, and as far as were able could act upon it for ourselves. It would be a piece of meddlesomeness for any private person, or any number of private persons to undertake this duty. Our representative body, the Town Council, is the proper party to act in the matter, and it is greatly in the interest of the public that something should be done. Your correspondent, "Ratepayer," is right on waterworks. A good system of waterworks and a good sewage system have made some of the previously unhealthy small towns of England quite equal to the open country. There is a period in the history of every town when this question must be faced and this time is evidently now with Peterborough.

Yours, etc.,
ANOTHER RATEPAYER.
Peterborough, Oct. 13th, 1881.

A HOLOCAUST.

A Mill Burned by Sparks From Electric Lights—Several hands killed.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—Chas. H. Landerberger's mill was burned to-night. The fire broke out about 9.45. An officer noticed something peculiar about the electric lights, and in a moment the three upper floors seemed to become a mass of smoke and flame. The neighbors rushed to the building, and saw the operatives at the windows on the the third and fourth floors. They called to the girls not to jump, as a ladder would be brought, but several sprang from the windows. Mattie Conlin, Fred. Kreh, Geo. Dougherty, Henry Mormon, J. Reynolds, and an unknown girl were dangerously burned about the face and arms. Two of the girls will probably die. Matilda Shultz, Annie Miller, Samuel Lapham, Geo. R. Hutton, Kate Shafer, Lizzie Franks, Annie Brady, Michael Larkin, and an unknown man were also injured, but not so severely. Joseph Glaiser is missing. There were no fire escapes. Loss $70,000. The shrieks of the poor creatures in the building when their escape was cut off were heartrending. Most of them jumped to the sidewalk, and a few escaped by the elevator rope. There were some thirty-five persons in the building. It is believed some of the operatives are buried in the ruins.

LATER.—It is supposed the fire originated from sparks of the electric light firing a lot of material on the second floor. One girl is reported to have been killed out right by striking the iron steps. At least twenty employees are injured, and it is believed half of them will die.

TRENT VALLY CANAL.

The newspapers of the Midland district of Ontario, more especially the REVIEW and Times in the enterprising town of Peterborough, are actively urging on the Dominion Government the construction of the works necessary to complete the chain of navigation direct from the head of Georgian bay to the bay of Quinte. Government engineers are now examining the route with the professed object of locating the work for construction. This is an enterprise of moment to the grain producers of the North-West. It is claimed that by barge navigation on this route grain can be carried from Thunder Bay to Montreal, in two and a half days' less time and at a cost of five cents less per bushel than by the Welland route, and at the same time effecting a saving in insurance of cargoes and avoiding the dangers of a long lake circumnavigation. Of course a reduction in the cost of transportation of one, three or five cents per bushel of grain, means just that much more profit for the grower here and it can be satisfactorily demonstrated that such saving in despatch and cost of transportation can be effected in that way, the western settlers will be as deeply concerned in this enterprise as those in more immediate proximity to the route. The practicability and economy of overcoming long distances, where water communication is available; by tows of barges carrying several train loads of grain or several times the capacity of the largest steamers, has been amply demonstrated in the experiment of moving grain in this way from St. Paul to Liverpool, by way of the Mississippi River and New Orleans. The cost of the projected work is only $3,000,000 which would be a small sum to pay for a grain-forwarding route that during a large portion of the year would ensure rail railway freights, for grain being kept down to a rate that would give the producer the greatest profit.—Winnipeg Sun.

The Feehleys.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 12.—Last night Patrick Whalen, sr., James Maher, sr., John Cain, and Martin Dorsey offered themselves as bondsmen for the Feehleys. Dorsey was accepted in $1,000, but the others were rejected on account of financial disability, and the brothers were not released. It is likely that substantial bondsmen will be secured.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ACCIDENT.

On Wednesday last, the 12th instant, Mr. Alex. Hill, of this village, met with a remarkably painful accident in the Lakefield saw mill. It seems that he was engaged working at the lath machine, and while doing so a piece of lath struck the saw and split in two, one piece about half an inch square striking Mr. Hill on the fore part of the arm a little back of the wrist, and passing between the bones and protruding the skin about an inch from the back part of the arm. Mr. Hill endeavoured to pull the stick from his arm, but broke it off close to the arm where it had entered. Dr. Caldwell was at once called upon and extracted the remaining part of the stick from the arm, about 3½ inches in length. Strange to say, that notwithstanding the piece of lath having passed through the arm, no serious damage seems to have been done to any artery or tendon, and so far the patient is doing very well.

UNABLE TO RUN.

The steamer Cruiser has for two or three days been unable to run on account of the water being shut off at Buckhorn. We understand the matter has been remedied, and that the boat will again begin to run on Monday. She has a large amount of work to do before the season closes if sufficient water is afforded.

CAMPING PARTIES.

Our respected Reeve, Mr. R. C. Strickland, with a number of friends, left the village on Monday last for the purpose of rusticating for a time on the Islands of Stoney Lake. Two other parties of considerable size and importance from Lakefield shouldered their packs for the purpose of sport. One party containing a couple of professional men, started before midnight on Tuesday, and consequently must have travelled most of their journey through a very heavy rain. They certainly have the heartfelt sympathy of several of our citizens. The Rochester party, according to custom, arrived in Lakefield on Tuesday last and proceeded at once for the back countries.

FREIGHT BLOCKADE.

During the present week everything here in the shipping business has been at a standstill, on account of the scarcity of cars. Large quantities of ties, lumber and grain await shipment here, and it seems impossible to obtain anything like the requisite number of cars.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines.—Republican.

In the cure of Consumption there is probably no known medicine equal to the Syrup of Hypophosphites prepared by Mr. James I. Fellows, chemist, St. John, N.B. A number of cases have come under our notice the past year when the results which have followed its use have been astonishing. We write this unsolicited by any one, and advise the afflicted to try it.—Editor Colonial Farmer. d95w16

Mothers will find Perry Davis' Pain-Killer invaluable in the nursery, and it should always be kept near at hand, in case of accident. For pains in the breast, take a little Pain-Killer, in sweetened milk and water, bathing the breast in it clear at the same time. If the milk passages are clogged from cold or other causes, bathing in the Pain-Killer will give immediate relief.

Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters are in every sense of the word a worthy family medicine, and we are glad to learn that they are rapidly taking the place of those nauseous little Pills. J. D. TULLY is agent for the Bitters here.

A Favorable Notoriety—the good reputation of "Brown's Bronchial Troches" for the relief of Coughs, Colds, and Throat Diseases, has given them a favorable notoriety.

SUNDRIES!

The attention of Housekeepers is called to the following variety of edibles, a trial of any of which will be an attraction to the table and a gratification to the palate of the purchaser.

CRUSHED WHEAT:—Made from selected Canadian White Wheat by the new process, and is much superior to the ordinary cracked wheat, as a pleasant, light and nourishing breakfast dish.

EVAPORATED SWEET CORN:—An excellent article for the dinner table, esteemed as a delicacy and imparting pleasant variety to the tea table also. Is quite equal to green corn, and superior in the opinion of mpny to the Canned Corn as usually prepared.

PEA FLOUR:—Prepared in England by an entirely new process, and put up in tin cans. Is a peculiar "handy thing to have about the house." For Soups and Gravies it is simply matchless.

MIXED PICKLES:—An extra fine quality which we sell by the quart or gallon. A convenient, and for the consumer the cheapest mode of supplying the table with this appetizing condiment.

"HOW THE MIGHTY ARE FALLEN."

PRESIDENT GARFIELD DIED SEPTEMBER 19TH 1881.

Hush he is dying! Let not bitter tears
Break on his last long sleep,
Soon shall his ransomed spirit soar away
Out from its batter'd tenement of clay
Up to the portals of eternal day,
Then and then only weep.

Hush, he is dying! Check the moan of anguish,
Surely for him there comes a grand release,
Week after week in pain and weakness thus to languish.
Oh let the closing scene be perfect peace.

Hush, he is dying! See those faint eyes closing—
His wasted fingers loose their clasp on hands so
dear,
She in the strength of christian faith reposing
Sheds in her heart's deep agony no tear.

God alone knows the bitter storm of sorrow
Sweeping so fiercely o'er her faithful breast,
Still she looks onward to a long to-morrow,
That glorious meeting in the land of rest.

Yet not alone, for in the heart of nations
A wave of sympathy from shore to shore
Rolls out to greet the dreaded proclamation,
Garfield is dead! His fight for life is o'er.

An earthly sovereign, too, with deep and tender feeling
Weeps o'er that death bed's sadly solemn scene,
Those gracious so wonderfully revealing
The loving heart of England's widow'd Queen.

There stands no home in all our broad Dominion
Where tears have not been shed
Or Christian prayers oft wafted on faith's pinion
For him who now lies dead.

Long may the words of sympathy now spoken
Gleam like fair sunshine o'er his sorrowing land.
Long may the cord of sympathy unbroken
Bind two great nations in one loving band.

THE ONONDAGA MURDER.

After Five Hours the Jury Returned With no Verdict.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 12.—Jonas Froman, an Indian residing on the neighbouring reserve, was put upon his trial to-day on the charge of having murdered his wife on the 3rd of last month. The affair occurred so recently, and the particulars were so fully given to our readers at the time, that only a brief recapitulation of the horrible details it now called for. On the evening of the day in question the deceased, the prisoner, his son, and two other persons set out from the city for home in a waggon together. On the way out different persons heard the husband and wife in altercation, and finally in the middle of the night the wife was found dead in the bottom of the waggon, her body covered with bruises, her head cut in various places, about half the scalp torn from her cranium, and the bone of one side of her head shattered. The waggon with the woman in it was left on the road, the persons who had ridden thus far having gone off and left it, and the prisoner and his wife with it. The reason alleged by them for this abandonment was that the prisoner was threatening them all with violence. The next day an Indian detective arrested the prisoner at his own house, and, stuffed up a stovepipe there, found a lot of clothing belonging to him, which was almost dyed with blood. It appeared that when the party left the city they were all provided with whiskey, and that along the homeward journey they all partook of it. All the witnesses who spoke on the subject, however, said that the prisoner did not appear to be under the influence of liquor. A remarkable feature of the case was that every one of the three persons who were in the waggon with the deceased and the prisoner declared that they had not seen the latter give his wife any ill-treatment. Two Indian women, who lived near where the waggon was left, deposed that they were awakened by the screams on the night in question, and one of them heard a voice saying, "Jonas, Jonas, how could you do that?" On going to the road they found the prisoner lifting his wife into the waggon and one of them heard her giving what sounded like a last, expiring groan. Looking at her a few moments afterward they found her to be dead. The next day a set of steel knuckles was found in the neighbourhood of the waggon, and to-day these were identified as belonging to the prisoner by his daughter. The jury after being in deliberation for five hours told the Judge at 8.30 that they could not agree, and were discharged. Warren Rock, Q.C., of London, appeared for the Crown, and R. C. Smith for the defence.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

Mothers! Mothers!

Are you disturbed at night or broke of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and gives rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. d52w9

August Flower.

The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects; such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Waterbrash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits &c. Go to your Druggist and get a 75 cent bottle of AUGUST FLOWER or a Sample Bottle for 10 cents. Try it. Two doses will relieve you. 2d1w1y

Are You?

Are you a Dyspeptic? Have you Indigestion? Is your Liver sluggish? Does your food trouble you? Does sleep fail to refresh you? Is your appetite and energy gone? ZOPESA (from Brazil) will cure you, tone you up, and invigorate your whole system. It is a gentle purgative, acts as a wonder upon, and gives strength and energy to the Digestive apparatus. It is strongly anti-billious, carries off all surplus bile, tones the Liver, gives sound Digestion and speedy health to the Dyspeptic and the Billious. Try a 10 cent sample at least of J. D. TULLY or T. RUSTON. d96w24

6—Worthy of Praise.

As a rule we do not recommend Patent Medicines, but when we know of one that really is a public benefactor and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric Bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure Biliousness, Fever and Ague, Stomach, Liver and Kidney Complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know whereof we speak; and can freely recommend them to all.—Exch.—Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald. d5w27

6—Given Away.

We cannot help noticing the liberal offer made to all invalids and sufferers by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. You are requested to call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store, and get a Trial Bottle free of cost, if you are suffering with Consumption, Severe Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Loss of Voice, Hoarseness, or any affection of the Throat and Lungs. It will positively cure you. d5w27

Debility and [illegible]ous Headache.

Chronic, sick or nervous [illegible]che is generally dependent on, or accompanied by, impaired digestion, by which the circulation and nutrition of the brain are deranged, and the nervous centres vitiated. The PERUVIAN SYRUP, by reinvigorating the digestive powers, lays the axe at the root of the tree; the brain is duly nourished, the nervous symptoms cease, and the headache disappears. Sold by all druggists.

Cholera Infantum.

That terrible scourge among children may be speedily cured by Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. All forms of bowel complaints, nausea and vomiting, from an ordinary diarrhœa to the most severe attack of Canadian cholera, can be subdued by its prompt use. It is the best remedy known for children or adults suffering from summer complaints.

Have You Tried it?

If so you can testify to its marvellous powers of healing and recommend it to your friends. We refer to Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, the grand specific for all summer complaints, diarrhœa, cholera morbus, dysentery, cramps, cholic, sickness of the stomach and bowel complaints of infants or adults. Let its merits be known to all who have not used it.

In the month of October Typhoid, Bilious, and Malarial Fevers are very prevalent. For a sure preventative take, according to directions, DR. CARSON'S STOMACH BITTERS. They purify the System and cool the Blood. They are used to great advantage in Fever and Ague districts. In large 8 oz. bottles, at 50 cents. J. D. TULLY, special agent for Peterborough.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For e'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Or write the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man,"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard;
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The sublest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide,
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine—
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Faultless fit, splendid style, vast variety, good work and a very great saving in price will be found in M. & A's. Mantles and Ulsters.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

The October Sky.

An exchange says that one marked event stands in the October planetary annals. This is the opposition of Saturn, the most interesting object for study during the month. When the full moon has taken on its waning phase, the moonless nights will be glorious with starry and planetary beauty. Saturn will lead the brotherhood that will shine among the clustering stars throughout the serene October nights. Trooping after him with unswerving step bright Jupiter, and ruddy Mars will follow, with unseen Neptune and Uranus to fill in the line. On the 9th, two days after the full, the moon is in conjunction with Saturn and Neptune. The October full moon is sometimes called the Hunter's moon, as her consecutive early rising was supposed to be a help to the sportsman in continuing the light to help him on his way.

An Important Movement.

The following from the Kingston Whig will be read with interest by a large number of our subscribers;—

"It is understood that the Bishop of Kingston takes important action towards relieving the diocese over which he resides of the debt of $20,000, and with that end in view will have each parish assessed for a reasonable contribution towards the liquidation fund. He is evidently desirous of continuing up and completing the good work of the late Bishop O'Brien in this respect and that he will succeed with his commendable scheme we have not the least doubt. A further rumour has gained currency, and we have no reason to doubt its accuracy—that once the Cathedral and diocese is freed of debt steps will be taken to re-open Regiopolis College, from which graduated some of the most active and successful clergymen now in the service of the Church in this and other portions of Canada, and whose silent halls have long been regarded with regret. The statements we give as we recieve them, believing them to be founded on fact and that they will be read with interest by every Kingstonian."

A Thief's Reward.

The other evening the Hon. R. Hamilton's hired man noticed a young man in the orchard stealing apples. The man at once gave chase and the thief ran towards the river and tried to cross on some logs, but suddenly a splash was heard and the thief was floundering in the cold water of the river. The pursuer followed him to the bank of the river, but did not venture any further. The man in the water, who, for some time was unable to get on a log, kept crying out, "Oh mister please leave me alone, and I will never steal any more apples." It is to be hoped that this will prove a lesson to him.

A Handsome Floor.

Mine host Choate is making many improvements at the Caisse house. Among the latest and most noticeable is the handsome floor just laid in the front hall. The design is in squares, and the woods used are black walnut, black cherry and bird's eye maple. The job is unique and finely finished. We are pleased to learn that the floors of the office and bar are to be laid in the same manner. It will add much to the appearance of the house.

Subscription Books.

Agents are wanted to canvass for subscription books, bibles, albums, &c., for Messrs. Ham & Brown, who have opened their office in Henthorn's block. They require twenty agents for this purpose and to canvass for Raymond's sewing machines. d75

Home Again.

The genial and obliging conductor Riley has returned after a month's trip across the lines, and has taken charge of the train on the branch and the night express. He feels and looks considerably improved after his holidays.

In Working Order.

The Grand Junction telegraph wires have been placed in the head office of the Great North-Western Combany, and connection is now made with Belleville, and all the stations along the line.

Mackerras' Monument.

The Kingston Whig says that in Queen's College lot, near the last resting place of Dr. Machar, a monument of Aberdeen granite has been erected in memory of the late Professor Mackerras.

A Wise Provision.

It is gratifying to learn that with the resumption of good times a marked improvement in the Life Insurance business has already manifested itself. This is a result which should be of interest to every reflecting person, as it is an evidence of our ability to improve our social status by making a careful provision for after years. Married men with families, becoming more alive to their responsibilities, are now more frequently to be found cogitating upon some scheme they can go into whereby they can have something laid away for an evil day. And young men without any present responsibilities of any account, begin to concern themselves more about the affairs of after life, and to see in the case of others who have got themselves comfortably "fixed" with a Life Insurance policy, an example they would like to imitate. To such as may be inquiring for a good company to insure in, the Confederation Life Assurance Association of Canada, affords many advantageous inducements, which it would be well for applicants to become informed upon. This company is represented in Peterborough by Mr. D. H. Moore, through whose indefatigable energy, a large portion of the Life Insurance business transacted here has been taken by this company. Mr. Moore will always be found ready and willing to talk business with applicants, and being well posted, and painstaking, has the knack of explaining the various schemes of his company so that they become quite clear and intelligible to everyone.

Worthy of Consideration.

The Belleville Intelligencer says that it has been suggested—and the suggestion is worthy of consideration—that the City Council should hold its session on Friday afternoon instead of on Monday nights and Tuesday mornings. The municipal councils of a number of cities and towns in the Province have adopted this plan, and have found it worked admirably. It affects a great saving in gas—of course we mean the gas which is furnished by the Gas Company. We suggest the advisibility of our council taking up this matter as we feel confident that it would be to the advantage of all concerned to hold the meetings in the afternoon.

The Weather.

Probabilities has been hitting the weather pretty well during the last week or so, and his predictions are generally borne out. Last night was rather cool, and to-day has been somewhat the same, requiring the pedestrians to keep moving to keep warm. Rain has been threatening all day, but so far none has fallen. The weather probabilities for this district as reported from Toronto at 10.30 a.m., by the Great North-western Telegraph company, are as follows:—Lakes—Wind increasing to a gale from the eastward, increasing cloudiness rain to-night.

Late Again.

The regular noon train on the Midland did not reach here until about two o'clock, two hours late, the detention being caused by waiting for the Grand Trunk at Port Hope. This delay business is getting to be a nuisance, but we suppose we will have to put up with it until the Grank Trunk see fit to make a change.

TRIP OVER THE GRAND JUNCTION.

To the Editor of the Review:

DEAR SIR,—For the information of your readers and the public in general, I will give you a few notes concerning the running of the Grand Junction. They left Belleville on time, in fact the hurry was so great, two passengers and baggage were left behind. We arrived at the Grand Trunk Junction on time, then we stopped to make up our train; this was the first detention. On arriving at Stirling all hands were called on deck to handle freight, which detained us about twenty minutes. We passed Hoard's on the fly, arriving at Campbelford where we remained one hour and twenty-eight minutes, crossing the express going east. The train hands proceeded to business, putting off reapers, mowers and merchandise, all mixed up promiscuously in four cars, Commodore Stanton giving the word of command, and the veteran H. Kelly at the wheel. After finishing the freight the boys commenced playing checkers with the cars on the siding to get them into line for a start, and the passengers meanwhile basking themselves in the sun to pass away the time, some smoking their pipes, others regaling themselves on Hall Bro's. biscuits, through the kindness of their agent, Mr. Ackerman. The Conductor shouted "all aboard" when one of the officials suggested to blow a horn to call the passengers together. We left Campbelford about 10.45, being one hour and forty-five minutes late, and proceeded on our journey arriving at Hastings in due course of time. Had we the Great Bruce to accompany us on our pilgrimage he would have given us some important facts in connection with the immense amount of business now being done by the line. Hastings at last was caught sight of, a beautiful little place on the Trent River, when we called at the Royal for refreshments. I then met Messrs. Fowlds and McDonald, grain merchants, and had a chat. They represent things "booming," the latter being from Cobourg. Our genial friend, J. Peters, is looking well. When I suggested the great demand for the Toronto and Ottawa R. R., I found that I quite agreed with his views. All this time I was over the river in the village, and fearing I might be left I started for the train when my attention was called to the fact that one of the passengers was ordering a suit of clothes. At this place four cars of freight were opened and the requisite amount left, occupying about one hour. I then met an old friend of mine, Mr. A. M. Patton, station agent, whom I had not seen him for fully ten years, and I must confess he looked well, undergoing such severe pressure. "All aboard" was shouted, and we were moving again. Leaving Hastings at 12:05 we proceeded on our journey, slow but sure, and called at Keene, a flag station, at 12:32, when we met a one horse shay to convey passengers. I saw no station, the only place of refuge in case of storm being a bridge over the Indian River, where the weary traveller might seclude himself from the tempest. A short and we were off again. The only redeeming feature in connection with the road is the politeness of the train hands; most of them carry their lunch in pails, and in case of detention they are generous enough to divide the last morsel. In conclusion I would suggest to the General Manager the advisibility of a way freight and not delay a car of passengers two hours over a run of sixty-six miles. Peterborough at last is reached after a delay of two hours, and the porter of the "Oriental" Hotel calls out for passengers. On arriving at the hotel we found Messrs. McIntyre & Bond prepared for the occasion, and the dainty viands are disposed of to the utter satisfaction of the guests.

Truly yours,
A TRAVELLER.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1881.

THE ONTARIO BANK.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Ontario Bank held in Toronto yesterday, the report of Mr. Holland, the newly appointed manager, was submitted. Mr. Holland recommends that the capital of the bank be reduced one half, to cover past losses, provide for future contingencies and place the institution in a thoroughly efficient position, and the Directors have decided to call a meeting of the shareholders for November 30th, to consider the said report and take such action as may be deemed advisable.

While this report cannot prove otherwise than very unsatisfactory to the shareholders, it should not cause the slightest alarm on the part of the public. When it is remembered that this report is made by a gentleman of high commercial standing, who has no responsibility for past mismanagement, and whose future reputation would be injured by taking a too sanguine view of the bank's resources at the present time every creditor of the bank should feel that he, at least, is perfectly safe from loss, and that he should, not by neither word or deed, do anything that would militate against the interest of the shareholders.

The Market.

Notwithstanding the wet weather the attendance at the market to-day was good and a large amount of produce was disposed of. Grain was very dull, only a very small quantity being offered, but in the other departments business was brisk. Vegetables of all kinds were on hand in large quantities and appeared to meet with ready sale at our quotations. The farmer who has raised a large crop of potatoes will this year, have a regular bonanza, as they sold quite readily at 85 to 90 cents per bag. Chickens, spring and otherwise, sold at from 30 to 60 cents per pair, ducks brought 40 to 60 cents, geese 40 to 50 cents and turkeys 60 to $1.00. Butter was sold at from 22 to 25 cents, the latter figure being asked by many who were forced to sell for less or carry their butter home with them again. Eggs brought from 15 to 17 cents and a few sold higher and some lower. First class beef sold at $6.50 per cwt. Mutton 6 and 7 and lamb the same. Tub butter was not offered in any quantity and buyers appeared to be cautious, fearing that the butter is heated. Prices remain about the same with a downward tendency except for a superior article.

PARNELL'S NEW OCCUPATION.

Dublin Oct, 14.—Mr. Parnell states that during his imprisonment he proposed to obtain leave from the governor to work in the carpenter's shop, which work he was fond of during his youth. O'Halloran, one of the suspects, was a carpenter, and from him he proposes to learn the details which he may not know.

MR. SEXTON ARRESTED.

Dublin, Oct. 14.—The excitement over the arrest of Mr. Parnell has sensibly abated. There is not here the slighest outward show of feeling to-day, notwithstanding the fact that the other steps which were predicted yesterday have already been taken. Mr. Sexton was arrested in the afternoon at his lodgings in Upper Fredrick street by Superintendent Mallon. Mr. Sexton was ill in his bed, from which he had risen the night before to attend the League meeting. He refused to ask consideration on account of his health, although Superintendent Mallon offered to refer the matter to his superiors if Mr. Sexton thought that removal would endanger his life. He dressed, and was immediately taken to Kilmainham in a cab. The charge against him is the same as that against Mr. Parnell.

SIGNIFICANT ARREST.

Dublin Oct, 14.—At seven o'clock this morning Mr. P. J. Quinn, secretary of the League and Mr. Brennan's successor, was arrested by Superintendent Mallon while in his bed. This is a significant arrest, as Mr. Quinn never speaks but is simply an official of the League. The arrest is regarded as an indication that the Government intends to declare the organization illegal.

BUSINESS SUSPENDED.

Cork, Oct. 14.—Business is partially suspended in Cork in consequence of the arrest of Mr. Parnell. The Cork butter market closed to-day as a mark of indignation, for the first time in a hundred years. The closing means a sacrifice of thousands of pounds.

THREATENING LETTERS.

Since the arrest of Mr. Parnell threatening letters of an unusual character have been received by Mr. Gladstone and Sir William Harcourt.

SHOCKED.

Mrs. Parnell, now here, was taken very ill yesterday on receipt of the news of her son's arrest, but has partially recovered. She believes Mr. Parnell will be imprisoned six or nine months. She will leave for Dublin shortly, in order to be near him.

A TERRIFIC STORM.

Dublin, Oct. 14.—A terrific storm divides attention with the Government's activity. Immense damage has been done here by the hurricane. Dozens of houses and hundreds of trees have been blown down, and several people were killed. The roof of the Gaiety theatre, where Mr. Irving and Miss Ellen Terry were acting, was partially raised. All telegraphic communication with London is completely suspended.

VENTING ITS RAGE.

Dublin Oct, 14.—United Ireland, the organ of the Land League, publishes an article headed "Parnell Garrotted," which states that Saxon cowardice has done its worst.

THE ROTUNDA MEETING.

Dublin, Oct. 14.—The meeting at the Rotunda to-night was attended by ten thousand people. Messrs. Dillon, Grey, Oakely, and Biggar, spoke in language cooler and quieter than yesterday night. Three hundred police and many mounted men surrounded the building. There was some unruly conduct among the people at first, but the meeting broke up in an orderly though enthusiastic manner.

THE LEAGUE DOOMED.

Now that the Government has begun the work of the suppression of the League that body seems doomed. All the usual meetings announced for Sunday are "proclaimed." "Boycotting" is declared illegal by a special proclamation, and all who practise it are threatened with arrest. The League rooms and property are to be seized to-morrow. The The proclamation against boycotting is accepted by everyone, including the Leaguers, as a virtual proclamation of the League itself. The documant says:—"Whereas in many parts of Ireland an organized system of intimidation is practised whereby persons are under apprehension of violence to person or property, or of deprivation of the necessaries of life, or of loss of business, and are coerced to abandon their lawful employments and become members or subscribers to the fund of an association known as the Land League, all persons are warned that such practices of intimidation are criminal, and that those engaging in them are liable to arrest and imprisonment.

AMERICAN.

THE PRISONER'S PLEA.

Washington, Oct. 14.—After Guiteau had been brought into court and arraigned, the Clerk asked:—"Are you guilty or not guilty?"

The prisoner, in place of a response, fumbled in his waist coat pocket, and drew out a soiled crumpled scrap of paper.

The District Attorney (imperatively)—"enter your plea of guilty or not guilty."

The Prisoner—"I enter a plea of 'not guilty' if your Honour please, and I desire to make a statement."

The Court—"At some time. It would not be appropriate just now. Sit down."

The prisoner thereupon took a seat.

The District Attorney—"In this case I ask that the trial be set for next Monday morning peremptorily. The Government is ready for trial now."

Affidavits were then filed by Scoville the prisoner's counsel, and the trial fixed for November 7th, and the argument as to jurisdiction will take place next week.

THE ASSASSIN'S TERROR.

New York, Oct. 14.—The Post's Washington special says:—Guiteau exhibited great excitement and terror, and had to be lifted from the carriage to the pavement. When the assassin was brought into the court room he was deathly pale, and walked with weak and faltering steps. When seated, Guiteau looked anxiously around to see if any avengers were present, but seeing no evidence of a hostile demonstration appeared relieved. During the proceedings he conversed with Mr. Scoville in a most rational manner. All through the arraignment detectives, marshals, and gaol officers seemed oppressed with the grave duty with which they were charged in the safe-keeping of the prisoner.

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

OUR TELEGRAMS.

Again we are compelled to apologize to our readers for our lack of telegrams. The only reason we can give is that we are informed by the operators that the lines to Buffalo are working badly, and they are unable to receive any report. This thing has occurred rather frequently of late, but we hope, now that the amalgamation of the companies is complete, that it will not occur again for some time to come.

THE PHILADELPHIA TRAGEDY.

Harrowing Scenes During the Burning of the Building.

Philadelphia, Oct. 13.—The fire at Landenburger's mill last night originated in a finishing room on the second floor, and spread upwards through the building with amazing rapidity. Fifty hands, twelve of whom were girls, were at work, the majority engaged in the sewing and weaving departments on the upper floors. The wooden stairways on either end of the building were soon ablaze, and the bridge connecting the building with another mill was shut off from approach by fire proof doors, and in the absence of any fire escape a panic ensued. Men and women rushed to the windows, crying frantically to the crowd below to save them. It was proposed by the crowd to form squares in the street and catch the men and girls as they leaped out, but before anything could be done one young woman

JUMPED FROM THE FIFTH STOREY.

It seemed every bone in her body was broken, for she never breathed again. After this the imprisoned people seemed to become frenzied, and though the crowd outside sought to encourage them by shouting that help would speedily be there they began jumping from the windows like sheep. One man apparently bereft of reason, flung himself headlong into the street; and while his body was still in the air others followed; now a man, then a woman or a half grown girl, until in a few minutes eleven persons, all unconscious, with

FRACTURED SKULLS AND BROKEN LIMBS

were carried to a neighboring saloon and laid on the floor until vehicles were procured to convey them to the hospital. By this time the relatives of the victims began to gather outside the building, and the cries of mothers to their children still in the burning rooms, and their lamentations over those who jumped out, were heartrending. When the firemen were able to enter the building they found on the third floor the bodies of two females burned almost to a crisp, and a man badly scorched and dead; but before they could search more, the fourth floor with its heavy machinery came crashing through, and they barely escaped with their lives. The firemen were compelled to desist from their labours because the floors had gone through to the ground, and machinery, charred wood, and what remained of the unfortune operatives were mingled in one unrecognizable mass, which was sending out columns of steam as the cold water was poured on it. The following is as far as can be ascertained now:—Dead, Annie Brady, Mary Kelly, Henry Mormon, an unknown girl who died at the hospital, two unknown girls aged 13 and 18, and an unknown German dead at the morgue. Injured, Mary Kloss, aged 16, fractured leg; Geo. W. Doughty, 21; Joseph Reynolds, leg broken; George R. Hutton, 21, leg broken; Wm. Cooper, 25, back broken; J. F. Burns, 25, breast crushed fatally; David Lapham, 38, fractured skull; Michael Larkins, 25, fractured leg; Fred. Krehr, injured internally; Mattie Lincoln, 23, injured in the spine; Harry Armstrong, jumped from the fourth floor; Thomas Edwards, 25, shoulder blade broken by striking a stone in falling; Lizzie Frank, Mary Brady, Samuel Loughlin, Annie Miller, Matilda Senuitz, Kate Schaeffer, George Lapham, David Hutton, Annie Staub, and Mary Kelly. The victims were carried off in all directions, some to their homes, some to houses close by, and others to various hospitals, so that their exact number cannot yet be staied. The physicians say that nearly every case admitted to St. Mary's hospital has ended fatally. The total deaths will probably exceed twenty. George Dougherty who jumped from the fourth storey, died in the hospital this morning.

THE LIST OF VICTIMS

The coroner gives the number killed at the fire at Landenberger's mill as eleven. All have been identified with one exception. The injured, number twenty, and it is thought that several will die. Annie Straub, aged 16, is still missing.

GARFIELD'S MEMORY.

The Appeal of the Committee on the Memorial Hospital.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The appeal of a Committee for aid in the erection of a Garfield Memoriel Hospital says:—Reflecting on the late President's wishes, as far as they may be inferred from his career and character, the memorial designed is that of a National Hospital to be located in the District of Columbia, to be known for ever by his name. It will be provision for the relief of human suffering, from the cup of which he drank the bitterest drugs, and in the breadth of its human charity it will fitly typify the noble nature and exalted aims of the hero and martyr. The hospital is designed to be as wide in its scope of beneficence as was the kindly heart of the dead President in its outstretch of human sympathies. It will be open to those needing its aid and ministration without regard to class, taste, creed, or colour. To be a sufferer in need of help will be the only passport required to enter its door and secure its aid. Such an institution, founded in the cause of charity, and bearing the name of "Garfield," appeals to the generosity of everyone, and to everyone the appeal is made. Contributions, small and great are solicited, and may be remitted to James Gilfillan, Treasurer.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1881.

SPAULDING'S BAY.

To the Editor of the Review:

SIR,—Indulge me with sufficient space for the purpose of making a few remarks anent the strictures passed upon my previous communications by "Another Ratepayer," in your issue of this evening.

He observes that "it is the men who are sick and not their wives and children, which would be the case were the famous bay the cause. If the cause was at their homes the women and children would be the first to suffer." I am not a medical man, and I therefore am not prepared to say whether or not this corollary is correct. But this I do know, that women and children have suffered, and are suffering from typhoid fever, as well as men.

He goes on to "call attention to the self-evident fact that there are other likelier sources of malaria than Spaulding's Bay." If this statement be correct, all I have to say is, so much the worse for the sanitary condition of the town, and so much the worse for the intelligence and the credit of the councillors. But until this "self-evident fact" is proved to be a fact, I must beg leave to doubt its correctness.

My critic goes on to intimate that it is the duty of the Board of Health, if we have one, "to obtain evidence from the physicians and other persons in regard to each particular alleged case of malaria, and its probable cause, and report to the council." He thus implies a doubt whether we have a Board of Health: suppose we have not, what then? or, admitting that we perhaps have a Board of Health, and that they report to the council, suppose, as he suggests, "our council should not act, or should move very slowly, as corporate bodies are said to do," what then? Why, we are to "grin and bear it," for he is good enough to warn us, I presume, for my special guidance, that "it would be a piece of meddlesomeness for any private person," myself for instance, "or any number of private persons," including, of course, the friends and relatives of those now dead or of those still lingering on a bed of sickness, "to undertake this duty." Rather cool this! I maintain that if the council fail in the performance of their duty, especially in a matter of such vital importance as the public health, those who complain of such failure, being the very persons who elevated them to the prominent position they occupy, who are, in fact, their constituents, deserve the thanks of their fellow-townsmen, and not a sneer such as that implied in the letter of "Another Ratepayer."

I may add, in conclusion, although I shall probably trouble you again on the subject, undeterred by the charge of "meddlesomeness," that your correspondent is incorrect in his conjecture that the person I referred to as having just died of the fever was one of Mr. W. Hamilton's men; he resided, until poisoned by miasma, in the south ward of the town.

Yours, etc.,
A RATEPAYER.

Peterborough, Oct. 14th, 1881.

A DISHONEST FOREMAN.

A Large Quantity of Goods Found in Samuel Price's Possession.

NAPANEE, Oct. 13.—Samuel Price, the foreman arrested for stealing goods, etc., from W. H. Snider's boot and shoe store was up for examination yesterday. The examination of witnesses lasted from 2 p.m. until 12 o'clock midnight. The evidence was very clear, and Price was remanded to gaol to stand his trial at the assizes. The Chief of Police of Deseronto has charge of three boxes of leather claimed by Price, composed of French kip, calf and sole leather, cut material for boots and shoes, ready to put together. The one box is filled with ladies' and children's boots and shoes. Mr. Allen, Chief of Police, has charge of the two black satchels now filled with harness trimmings of all kinds which are supposed to be stolen property. The goods claimed by Snider were as follows:—Six pairs long kip and calf boots and four pairs women's kid, also a large quantity of French kip and calf skins, and a quantity of skins cut and partly manufactured into boots and shoes. Price has received boxes by express at different times, and it is believed he has confederates in other towns west who ship stolen goods to him to dispose of and vice versa.

Coal on Fire.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 13.—About 700 tons of coal stored under a shed at the gas works, has taken fire from spontaneous combustion, caused by the leakage of water through the roof. Men are engaged removing the coal from the shed and spreading it in a field to-day.

Deros Watkin and Alex. Rapson, who were imprisoned by the police magistrate for refusing to testify in a liquor case as to where they got liquor on a Sunday, after testifying that they had got none from the party charged, they intend to bring an action for false imprisonment against the magistrate.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

LATE SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

The late special meeting of the Lakefield School Board has been since a thing of discussion, and there seems to be some misapprehension concerning the matter, especially the calling of the meeting. The follwing correspondence will explain how the special meeting was called:

OCTOBER, 7th, 1881

DEAR SIR,—Mr. Isbister has arranged to leave home next week, consequently he is unable to attend Board meeting on Tuesday evening. Some of the members advise holding the meeting to-morrow evening (Saturday) say at 8.30. Kindly advise by return.]

Yours truly,
W. H. CASEMENT,
G. J. Galvin, Chairman, P. S. B. Secretary.

To which the Chairman, Mr. G. J. Galvin replied as follows:—

DOURO, October, 7th, 1881

DEAR SIR,—Yours of to-day received and contents noted. Under the circumstances, I approve very much of holding the meeting on the date mentioned. You will please explain the matter fully to Messrs. Cox and Wilson, and urge them to be on hand, as it is necesary to have all the members, the question under consideration being an important one.

Yours respectfully,
G. J. GALVIN,
W. H. Casement, Secretary L. S. B. Chairman.

Upon the receipt of the above, the Secretary served a notice on each member of the Board in the following form:—

LAKEFIELD, October 7th, 1881.

DEAR SIR,—I am directed by the Chairman of the L. P. S. Board to call a special meetting of the Board for to-morrow (Saturday) evening at 8.30 o'clock, and to request you to be present. The question under consideration is a very important one, and the chairman hopes that every member will be present

Yours truly,
W. H. CASEMENT.

It will be seen by the above correspondence that the meeting referred to was called formally and regularly in the plan of the regular monthly meeting, which was to have been held on the Tuesday evening following, and on account of Mr. Isbister having "arranged to leave home." As I have said before, the same thing occurred with the council meeting, the Reeve having arranged to leave home on Monday last; the Village Council met on Saturday evening instead of Monday evening.

COBOURG.

NEW RINK.—The Sentinel Star says that the new rink is being peing bushed rapidly to completion. Its frame is nearly up, and looks an immense affair. The rink is 190 feet long, and 28 feet wide. The centre will be for skaters alune. This rink is 160x47 feet. At each side of this is a curling rink 160x15 feet. Over each of the curling rinks there is a long gallery, from which spectators can look down upon the curlers and skaters both. At the north end there is also a gallery, and another, a wide one, at the south end. There will also be dressing rooms for the skaters, and a club room above. There will be no lack of facilities the coming winter for those who delight in either curling or skating to enjoy themselves to the fullest extent.

DISTRIBUTION OF TOOL FUND.—The committee of the Town Council appointed to collect and dispense a fund in aid of the workmen who lost valuable setts of tools at the car shop fire, completed the work on Thursday afternoon. The total amount raised by the committee was $448, which was distributed as follows: $20 each to 14 workmen, $17 each to 7, and $49 to one, whose, circumstances and loss commanded the largest interest and sympathy. Total number aided by the committee, 22. In addition to these four others were liberally aided by John Field, Esq., M.P.P., who distributed his contribution personally.

WHEELED HOME.—A fine illustration of woman's devotion was witnessed in town recently. A certain resident became so helplessly drunk that he lay down in the ditch at the roadside, being powerless to proceed any further. His wife found him, and procuring a wheelbarrow from one of the hotels, placed him on it, and then wheeled him home.

HE COULDN'T HANG ON.—A young lad named Weir, one day last week, went into the saw mill at Harwood, and attempted to hang from some shafting while in motion, by taking holt with his hands, but the machinery was running too fast for hanging on, consequently the lad was thrown heavily against the side of the building, injuring him considerably,

ACCIDENT AT HARWOOD.—About two weeks ago a young man named Cochrane, while engaged moving lumber on a hand-car from McDougall & Ludgate's saw mill, Harwood, had his foot caught in a frog of the railway, and the carstriking it, injured it very badly. The wound was dressed, and it was at first thought that amputation would not be unnecessary, but as the injury grew worse it was resolved to have the foot amputated, which was done on Thursday last by Drs. Clarke, Craig and Day, and the patient is now progressing more favourably.

CAMPBELLFORD.

NEW-BRIDGE.—The Herald says that the old pile bridge on the Grand Junction Railway, in the neighborhood of Stirling, is to be a support for the rails no longer. Seeing the insolidity of such a structure for railway purposes, the managers have concluded to remove the rails and place them upon a new and solid bridge to span the deep gap at this point of the road. This is now in course of erection, and will be completed soon. All along the line improvements in the form of new culverts, new rails, new ties, increased ballast, repairs to the burned fences, prove that the road is under thorough management. Better and safer improvements, in fact, could not be expected upon any road during the short period the present managers have had control.

HER FIRST RIDE.—An old lady on the borderland of seventy years of age, a resident of Seymour township, stepped into a car on the Grand Junction, and had a ride over the road—the first she has ever had on a railway during that long period of three-quarters of a century allotted to man. This is scarcely equal to the case of a young woman of this village, 24 years of age, who never saw Lake Ontario and a steamboat and shipping, until she visited the county town a few days ago. The sight was as novel and attractive to her as anything one could suggest.

A SIGN OF WINTER.—A flock of wild geese, numbering about twenty, were seen flying southwards last week. They made no stops to take notes, and seemed, from their great attitude, to be flying direct into Terra del Fuego. Better indications of approaching cold weather than these birds are few in number.

RICE HARVEST.—The rice harvest on Rice Lake—a very plentiful crop—has been harvested. The poor children of the forest have thus provided themselves with something to eat during the winter.

THE END OF THE WORLD.

Programme of that Interesting Event as Recorded by an Italian.

Leonard Aretine, an Italian of the 14th century, predicted the end of the world for the 15th of November, 1881. Behold the exact programme of this catastrophe which will happen in a few days:—

November 1.—The ocean will overflow its shores.
November 2.—The earth will be soaked with water.
November 3.—The fish in the rivers will die.
November 4.—All the water fowl and fish will die.
November 5.—The birds in the air will die.
November 6.—The houses will fall down.
November 7.—The rocks will fall down.
November 8.—The earth will tremble.
November 9.—The mountains will fall.
November 10.—The men will become speechless.
November 11.—The tombs will open.
November 12.—The tombs will fall.
November 13.—All the men and all the women will die.
November 14.—The heavens will disappear and the land will be no more.
November 15.—A general resurrection and the last judgment.

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had half a bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough.—B., Rochester, N. Y.—American Rural Home.

A General Defeated.

A Mrs. J. G. Robertson writes:—"I was suffering from general debility, want of appetite, constipation, etc., so that life was a burden; after using Burdock Blood Bitters I felt better than for years. I cannot praise your Bitters too much.

The Public are Cautioned against imitations of Perry Davis's Pain-Killer, and to be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good"; many of these they make a little more profit upon, but which have no qualities in common with the Pain-Killer.

Many clergymen who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergyman's Sore Throat," have fully recovered by using Fellow's Syrup of Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters are in every sense of the word a worthy family medicine, and we are glad to learn that they are rapidly taking the place of those nauseous little Pills. J. D. TULLY is agent for the Bitters here.

A Favorable Notoriety.—the good reputation of "Brown's Bronchial Troches" for the relief of Coughs, Colds, and Throat Diseases, has given them a favorable notoriety.

THE McRAE ABORTION CASE.

The Story of the Alleged Crime—Doubts of the Case Ever Reaching a Jury.

BUFFALO, Oct. 13.—The trial of Archibald W. Browne, charged with murder, was begun this morning by District Attorney Hatch, who briefly reviewed the case, and told to the court and audience the sad story of Cynthia McCrae. As more than a year has gone by since the death of this poor girl, the readers of this paper may not readily call the several acts in the tragedy by which one life was sacrificed, and one more through the law may be. The McCraes are a well known family in Chatham, and the father, Wm. McCrae, was at one time collector of customs, and widely known in Toronto and other Canadian cities. Browne was deputy clerk at Chatham, and a frequent visitor to the McCrae residence. The parents welcomed him, and seemed not to have mistrusted the harm he sought to work. In January 7th, 1880, Browne came to Buffalo, accompanied by Cynthia, without the knowledge of her parents. So far as yet shown, and established by the coroner's inquest, the object of the visit was to procure an abortion of their illegitimate child. They registered at one hotel as C. M. Clark and wife, Detroit, and a day or so later at another as J. Maynard and wife, Toronto. Through the assistance of Dr. Pynchon, Cynthia found board with a Mrs. Newell, on Pearl street. Browne returned home, leaving the girl in the care of Dr. Pynchon. He gave her two treatments at his office. She was taken sick at Mrs. Newell's, and gave birth to a seven month's fœtus, and died on June 27th. During all this time Browne and Pynchon kept up frequent communications by blind telegrams. Browne would ask, "how do the courts stand?" and Phynchon would wire back, "courts ready, come down," or other preconcerted messages. Mr. McCrae came to Buffalo the day after his daughter died, and found her body in an undertaker's receiving rooms, and caused Browne's arrest. These facts the district attorney briefly reviewed.

OPPOSITION FROM THE DEFFNCE.

Mr. Clinton, on behalf of the defendent, objected to the introduction of any evidence by the prosecution tending that a criminal abortion had been committed, but the objection was overruled, for the time being. The counsel for the defence has all day long constantly been interposing objections to the questions and methods of the prosecution, and seems resolved to yield no point, however trivial, which he can legally hold.

MEDICAL EVIDENCE.

Doctors Edward Little and Charles H. Wetzel testified as to the result of the post mortem which they attended. The leading points were that a surgical examination revealed a swollen abdomen, pus in the bowels, adhesion of the peritoneum, an abscess in the left Fallopian tube, and general inflamation produced by the expulsion of a fœtus, and which resulted in death. The testimony of Coroner Fowler corroberated the foregoing.

THE VICTIM'S FATHER.

Mr. William A. McCrae, father of Cynthia, was then sworn, and related his connection with the defendent. The witness and his daughter did a good deal of copying for him. Cynthia, was very intimate with Browne until she went to Dunnville in March to see her sister. The defendant was absent from Chatham on the 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 17th and 24th of June. Photographs of Cynthia and of the defendant were identified by the witness.

OTHER WITNESSES.

John W. Witbeck, proprietor of the Franklin house in this city, where Browne and Cynthia first stopped, also testified, as did Anna Lemand, a domestic in the said house, Mr. and Mrs. Newell and two hack drivers. Their testimony did not bring out anything in any way new or unexpected.

There is little or no interest shown in the case by the general public here, and the trial to-day but brought out the same evidence as has already been made public at the inquest. The only feature of interest connected with the day's proceedings was the pertinacity with which counsel for the defence interposed objections addressing the court for this purpose no less than nineteen times. It is understood this evening that on the completion of the testimony an effort will be made by the defence to quash the indictment. The indications are that if the case goes to a jury a verdict of guilty as indicted will be found, but it is very doubtful if the case will reach a jury.

"THANKSGIVING DAY."

"Thanksgiving day" has now come to be regarded in Canada, as it has long been in the United States, a fixed institution. It is felt that every year whatever, may be the character of the harvest and whatever the general condition of the times, there is always abundant reason at once for humiliation before God, and a solemn general expression of thanks to Him for all His mercy, forbearance and grace. No doubt it is quite true that thanksgiving is not to be confined to any particular day, and that it is equally unquestionable that while thanksgiving may be good, thanksliving is a great deal better. But after all this has been granted, it remains to be said that it is a good and proper thing for the people of a country on some particular day, universally agreed upon, to recall with devout thankfulness the mercies of the year, to deplore the sins and shortcomings, and to seek from a higher source grace and guidance for the time to come. Nor can any one reasonably object when the Government of the country fixes upon some particular day on which all may have opportunity of engaging in such a service of praise with the greatest amount of convenience and quiet. Such a proceeding is not at all an intrusion into the realm of conscience. There is no command either expressed or implied in it. There are no pains or penalties threatened in case of disobedience. Every one is left at perfect liberty to follow his own inclination in the matter, but those who think that it is a good thing to "give thanks" have the desired leisure and the needed freedom from distraction and business. It used to be that each Church fixed upon a day for itself, and the results were by no means satisfactory. We have no wish to see the Cæsar, whether in the shape of King, President or Governor, stepping out of his sphere and ordering or regulating the religious worship of the people. But so long as all that is done is simply for general convenience and his giving effect to a general wish for such general thanksgiving and prayer, there is surely nothing which need stagger the most keenly sensitive in reference to the spiritual independence of the Church, and the necessity there is for Cæsar keeping exclusively to his own secular affairs. We know, besides, that many will not observe such a day, for they recognize no mercies bestowed, and therefore can see neither the necessity nor the reasonableness of anything like thankfulness. Others may also make the day a mere holiday time, and may even take advantage of its leisure the more thoroughly to dishonour God and degrade themselves. But after all this has been allowed for, in the fullest degree, there will remain a very large number of all classes and of all Churches who will gladly avail themselves of the opportunity provided for rejoicing before God with the voice of praise and thanksgiving, for the many great and precious blessings with which the people of Canada have been favoured during the year that is now rapidly drawing to a close. Some may, if they please, say that all such seasons of professedly religious service have to be more traditions received from the fathers, to observe, with no life, no reality about them. Multitudes, however, of the very best in the land know that the facts are different, and that a large amount of the thanks rendered on such occasions is not promoted by a cold respect for their fathers' feelings or their fathers' faith, but is the simple and heartfelt utterance of their own.

While we say this, we are free at the same time to acknowledge that many, from whom better things might have been expected, are at such seasons very indifferent; very ready to receive the blessings, yet very backward to acknowledge it with thanksgiving. We trust it will be very different this year, and that on the 20th we shall have increasing intimations of God's hand being generally recognized among us in human affairs, and of the people's gratitude being equally conspicuous.—Canada Presbyterian.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

Mothers! Mothers!

Are you disturbed at night or broke of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and gives rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. d52w9

August Flower.

The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects; such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Waterbrash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits &c. Go to your Druggist and get a 75 cent bottle of AUGUST FLOWER or a Sample Bottle for 10 cents. Try it. Two doses will relieve you. 2d1w1y

Consumption Can be Cured.

In this changeable climate of ours, every one should remember that DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY has proven itself to be a positive cure for consumption, asthma, bronchitis, and all lung diseases. It has saved the lives of many even after all hope had fled. Many of the most intelligent families would as soon be without woolen clothing in winter, as to not have WISTAR'S BALSAM always on hand, for it never fails to immediately relieve all soreness of the throat and lungs. A single dose taken at bed time will gently warm the blood, cause refreshing slumber, and by morning an ordinary cough or cold will be gone. Ask your druggist and your friends concerning the merit of WISTAR'S BALSAM, and be wise. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

A Wise Deacon.

"Deacon Wildes, I want you to tell me how you kept yourself and family well the past season, when all the rest of us have been sick so much, and have had the doctors visiting us so often." Bro. Taylor, the answer is very easy, I used Hop Bitters in time; kept my family well and saved the doctor bills. Three dollars worth of it kept us well and able to work all the time, I'll warrant it has cost you and the neighbors one to two hundred dollars apiece to keep sick the same time." "Deacon, I'll use your medicine hereafter."

6—Worthy of Praise.

As a rule we do not recommend Patent Medicines, but when we know of one that really is a public benefactor and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric Bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure Billiousness, Fever and Ague, Stomach, Liver and Kidney Complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend them to all.—Exch.—Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald. d5w27

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them, It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For e'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Or write the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man,"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard;
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

'Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The sublest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide,
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine—
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Faultless fit, splendid style, vast variety, good work and a very great saving in price will be found in M. & A's. Mantles and Ulsters.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1881.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Sanitary Matters.

The writer of the following from the Lindsay Post evidently knew what he was about, as he hits the nail on the head exactly, every time:—

"The gentlemen who are urging forward the proposed waterworks in Peterborough are doing a thing for which that town will thank them in years to come. If the cases of malaria fever and such sickness as we see referred to by the REVIEW of that town are as numerous as represented, then the water supply of that locality, derived at present from wells and cisterns, is indeed bad. While the need of water for fire purposes is pressing, the public health demands it as being placed within the reach of all for domestic use. It is stated that out of one foundry in that town no less than fifteen of the hands were at one time prostrated by sickness brought on by drinking impure water drawn from a well in the vicinity of the foundry. Indeed one of the hands, a promising young man, succumbed to the attack and died. Several very interesting letters, written by intelligent people, have appeared in the REVIEW, directing attention to the baneful influences of the stagnant pool in the south end of the town, known as Spaulding's Bay. If Peterborough does not wake up to some sharp sanitary work, what with these evils and the presence of the decaying mass of sawdust lying in the river there will be a boom in the direction of the doctor's services and undertaker's requisites that will carry sorrow into many a family. The heat of another summer like that just passed through will put this miasmatic feverbreeding refuse into activity. Peterborough does not appreciate the advantages it has in the matter of practically pure water. That taken from the river at any point proposed to be reached by the main is as clean and sweet as possible to procure. Certainly there can be no question as to its being immeasurably more healthful than that now being used from the drainage wells of the most popular part of the town. And the lesson should not be wholly lost on Lindsay. Let us take care by observance of the decencies and common laws of health by keeping clean streets, yards and tenements that sickness is derived from amongst us."

Toronto and Ottawa R.R.

An Ottawa telegram says that work on the division of the Toronto and Ottawa Railway between Perth and Sharbott Lake is progressing, and other contracts have been let. Mr. Charles has taken the precaution to place men at all points where it is necessary to divert creeks or water courses, as owing to the unusually dry season the work can now be done for a minimum cost. As soon as the chopping and clearing is more advanced the grading gangs and rock workers will be put on. A large gang of men are now at work on the shores of McGowan's Lake. Mr. Campbell, the right-of-way agent for the Toronto and Ottawa, was in Perth last week, and deposited money with the Company's solicitor to pay for the land purchased in that vicinity.

The Midland Grain Trade.

Some eight vessels from Chicago have already discharged their cargoes at the Midland elevator and a larger number will arrive before the season closes. The local traffic of the road is so great that the President of the road had to telegraph to Chicago to stop the shipment of grain for a time, as the road could not supply rolling stock sufficient to carry the grain that was offered. By next season, however, the road will be in a condition to carry a far larger amount than they are able to carry at present. Messrs. Gooderham and Worts will fill the elevator this winter with corn. It will hold a large quantity, and makes an excellant store house.

Nearly an Accident.

As the regular Midland train was leaving the station on Friday evening, a lady who was late, ran to catch the train just as it was moving off. She had a youngster in her arms which was taken charge of by a bystander. The lady caught the end railing of the car, and, as was to be expected, she swung around and would have fallen had not Mr. R. White, Sr., who was standing near by, caught her and helped her on the platform of the car. She exhibited great concern about "her baby," and would not rest contented until the youngster was placed in her arms as the train sped on.

"THE BESOM AND STANES."

Annual Meeting of the Curling Club—Election of Officers and Other Business.

The annual meeting of the members of the Peterborough Curling Club took place at the "Oriental" on Friday evening last. The attendance of members was only fair, owing probably to the inclemency of the weather, but those present were imbued with the proper spirit and if we mistake not, matters in curling circles will be exceedingly lively this winter.

The chair was occupied by the President Mr. W. G. Ferguson.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and confirmed.

THE ANNUAL REPORT.

Mr. A. McNeil, Secretary-Treasurer read the annual report as follows:—

PETERBOROUGH, Oct. 14th, 1881.

To the Officers and Members of the P.C.C.:—

GENTLEMEN,—In submitting this, the annual report of the P. C.C., it affords me much pleasure to state that the club is in a prosperous condition with the sum of $13.15 in the Treasurer's hands.

Our total membership is 45.

During the season our club visited the following towns, viz.: Lindsay, Cobourg and Port Hope, where they played a friendly game with the respective clubs, coming off victorious in each match.

We were visited by the Lindsay and Port Hope clubs, and participated in a friendly game (the former for the Caledonia medal), which resulted in our defeat in both instances.

The novel event of the season was a visit of two rinks from the Belleville club, they not being accustomed to playing stone the game resulted in an easy victory for the home club. Our club played them a return match with iron at Belleville, which resulted in an equally one sided victory for Belleville.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

(Signed) A. MCNEIL,
Secretary-Treasurer.

THE RETIRING OFFICERS.

Moved by Hon. R. Hamilton, seconded by Dr. Boucher, that a vote of thanks be tendered to the retiring officers for the zeal and ability they have displayed in managing the affairs of the club during the past year.—Carried.

Mr. W. G. Ferguson, the retiring President, returned thanks for the honor they had done him by electing him president. The year had been a very successful one, although they suffered some defeats. He hoped that the President for this year upon retiring would be able to show a better record.

The President elect then took the chair.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A member asked if anything had been done to place the west rink in good condition? It wanted a drain underneath.

Another member said it was the business of the directors of the Rink Company to look after the matter.

It was agreed to offer a cup and medal for competition among the members, the former for the "point game" and the latter for the "13 point game." A list was at once opened and a handsome amount subscribed, which will be considerably augmented, and will enable the club to offer two handsome trophies for competition. The cup and medal will have to be won three years in succession before becoming the property of any individual. The details were left in the hands of the managing committee.

It was suggested that the skips form their rinks at once, so that each man will know his place.

After some minor talk those present separated.

The Weather.

Probs. was correct again yesterday, hitting the mark exactly. Rain fell in the evening, the night and this morning. It cleared up before noon and in the afternoon the sun tried hard to shine. The weather probabilities for this district as reported from Toronto at 10.30 a.m., by the Great North-western Telegraph company, are as follows:—Lakes—Wind gradually shifting to south west and west, increasing to a fresh gale; warm rainy weather, followed by cold fair weather to-morrow.

Subscription Books.

Agents are wanted to canvass for subscription books, bibles, albums, &c., for Messrs. Ham & Brown, who have opened their office in Henthorn's block. They require twenty agents for this purpose and to canvass for Raymond's sewing machines. d75

Two Runaways.

Runaways are becoming quite fashionable now, and hardly a day passes that we do not hear of one. On Thursday evening a team of horses driven by Mr. J. Johnston, who resides on the river road a few miles from town, bolted at the south end of the market square, throwing out the driver near P. Hamilton's foundry. The horses ran on and did not stop until they reached the Little Lake Cemetery gates. Mr. Kelly, the suptrintendent, heard the noise and took the team in charge, and drove them up town and placed them in one of the hotel stables, where the owner claimed them shortly afterwards.

On Friday night a horse driven by Mr. W. Kennealy, rrn away on Charlotte street. The buggy struck a phaeton standing near Fitzgerald's livery stable, breaking the shafts of both vehicles. Kennealy's horse then commenced to kick but no further damage was done.

Worth Seeing.

A handsome wedding cake is just now on view in the large show windows of Long Bro's., confectioners, which cannot fail to attract the attention of passers by, especially the ladies. The icing is very rich and pretty piece of workmanship will calculated to cause many pleasant compliments to be paid the happy couple for whom it is ordered. It is a circular pyramid six stories high, ornamented with delicately tinted flowers and bridal sprays, and surmounted with a representation of a female figure holding a large bouquet overhead. Apparently there is no need of sending away for bridal cakes when such good ones can be obtained at Long Bro's.

The Kennedys.

We are pleased to announce that the great Kennedy family, Scottish vocalists, will visit Peterborough about the 12th of November, and will remain here two nights.

RELIGIOUS NOTICES.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1881.

TORONTO.

Special to the Review, Oct. 17.

THIS YEAR there were 633 appeals against assessments.

HALF A DOZEN of the congregation could not overpower a drunken rowdy who strayed into St. John's church last night. The police handcuffed him and took him to the station.

MR. HILL AND WIFE have gone to Ottawa on their way back to England. He will recommend Englishmen of limited means to go to the North-West.

THOS. MALONEY, aged 14, till tapper, was sent back to Pentanguishene reformatory for three years. Young Murphy, a lad of respectable parentage, but an incorrigible young rascal, was sent for four years to the same institution. M. Powers, a lad, and companion of Murphy in his depredations, was sent to the reformatory for three years.

THE WIFE BEATER to-day turned up in the person of Wm. C. Webster, who threatened to blow his wife's brains out. The pistol was found upon him. His case was remanded.

MONSEIGNOR FARRELLY.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 14.—St. Michael's Church was thronged last night, when Monseignor Farrelly was installed as domestic prelate. The church was filled as early as six o'clock, but owing to the lateness of the train it was nearly nine o'clock when the Bishop, Monseignor Farrelly, and about twenty-five of the clergy of the diocese arrived. Biship Cleary addressed the clergy at length, stating that he had been instrumental in having this dignity conferred upon their priest because of the kindly feeling which he entertained towards the people of Belleville and the superior abilities of Monseignor Farrelly. Several addresses were presented to the Monseignor, who replied briefly, asknowledging in feeling terms the kindness of his parishioners, and his appreciation of the dignity which had been conferred upon him. The services, which were of a highly impressive character, concluded at about 10.30. Monseignor Farrelly entertained Biship Cleary and a number of his friends after the installation.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

ORLOFF TO RESIGN.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 15.—Prince Orloff's visit to the capital is not connected with politics. He has expressed the wish to resign the post of Ambassador to Paris, wishing to devote himself to the education of his children in Russia.

FREE TRADE IN SPAIN.

MADRID, Oct. 15.—It is stated that the Minister of Finance will present to the Cortes a bill for the reform of the Customs' duties in a free trade sense; also a proposition for the reduction of the tariff on stamped papers, letters, and telegrams, and the territorial tax.

ANGLO-FRENCH CONCERT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 15.—The Porte has asked the British and French ambassadors to explain the despatch of iron-clads to Alexandria.

KILLED BY A WATERSPOUT.

A waterspout which passed over the district of Milah, Algeria, killed sixty-five persons.

FOR IRELAND.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The armour-plated corvette Penelope has been ordered from Harwich to Ireland immediately.

PROTESTANT CHURCH ATTACKED.

DUBLIN, Oct. 15.—A mob here attacked a Congregational church on York street and smashed the windows. The service was stopped and the congregation dispersed.

THE GREAT STORM.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The hurricane in England was the most disastrous for years. But few continental or provincial telegrams were received. Considerable damage was done to the shipping in the Mersey. The parks are strewed with fallen timber, many boats are aground in the Thames, and steamboat traffic is suspended. Very few places in England escaped damage by the storm. Four hundred trees were blown down southward. Shipping casualties were numerous, but no great disaster is reported.

FOR HAVANA.

MADRID, Oct. 15.—General Pendergast, the new Governor-General of Cuba, has had a brief interview with the King, and he says that he will start for Havana by the next mail steamer if he can get ready, or at the latest on November 10th.

CHARGED WITH TREASON.

DUBLIN, Oct. 16.—It is an important phase of the arrests that all of the late ones were made on warrants charging treason. Mr. Parnell was served to-day with a warrant for treason. It is believed that a certain not unimportant member of the League, now in Kilmainham, has divulged all the workings of the organization, and it is on this informtion that treasonable practices are charged. The informer is a person who was previously suspected of speculating with the League funds. Mr. Parnell was rigidly investigating the matter when arrested.

SHOT AT.

LEEDS, Oct. 16.—There was a rumour at Leeds this morning that one of the Premier's unexhausted "resources of civilization" for Ireland, namely, Mr. Herbert Gladstone, who was sent to Dublin to assist Secretary Forster, had been shot at, but the rumour is not verified.

A PAPAL RECEPTION.

ROME, Oct. 15.—The Pope to-day, seated on the throne in St. Peter's cathedral, received two thousand Italian pilgrims. His Holiness was enthusiastically greeted. Replying to an address, he renewed his declaration that he could never accept accomplished facts without failing in his duty. Eleven thousand were present at the reception. The Pope referred to the coming Masonic Congress as an assault upon the Church's corner-stone. He said the promises in favour of religion and the Pope had been contradicted by facts. He asked Catholics to watch and pray. The liberty and independence of the Pope were necessary for the welfare of the universe, and the Pope would not cease to fight for that object. "Our arms," he said, "are spiritual and we shall conquer." He blessed the pilgrims.

THE COMING MEETING.

VIENNA, Oct. 15.—A Russian correspondent in a high position states that the Czar is suffering from extreme nervous excitement since his journey to Dantzic meeting. He is said to be constantly changing his resolutions, reproaching his Ministers and intimate friends, and charging them with egotistical and interested motives. Among those against whom Alexander III. is more especially embittered are M. Pobedeoszeff and the Grand Duke Vladimar. The Czar's physicians pronounce his nervous condition such as absolutely preclude all idea of travelling, and will therefore remain in seclusion for the present. As soon as the nervous excitement is allayed he will make a trip to Warsaw.

STEAMER WRECKED.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—During the height of the gale yesterday the British steamer Cyprian, from Liverpool for Genoa, was wrecked on the Welsh coast. Only eight of the crew of 30 were saved. The steamer Olympia, from Glasgow for New York, grounded in the Clyde, was run into and returned considerably damaged. The steamer Helvetia, from Liverpool for New York, was compelled to put back.

LOSS OF LIFE.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Upwards of 950 Berwickshire smacks were at sea during the storm, and it is feared most of them will be lost. It is reported that twenty fishermen were drowned at Dunbar, and three pilots were drowned in the Tyne. By a falling roof at Stockton-on-Tees five persons were killed.

FENIAN ETHICS.

Mr. Dillon was visited yesterday by a well-known Fenian, who called his attention to the old national theory that there was no use in trying constitutional means of coercing England. He advised a return to the previous policy. Mr. Dillon definitely stated that if the League was broken up, and their cause a failure, he would go to the United States, and try to unite all the national Irish Societies under the ancient and honoured banner of physical force.

EXTENSIVE FIRE.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—A fire at Shapwick, Dorsetshire, destroyed sixteen cottages, with barns and ricks, rendering one hundred persons homeless.

HERAT CAPTURED.

ROME, Oct. 16.—The city at Herat has been captured by an army from Turkestan. This army, commanded by Kudas Khan, was reported to have crossed Central Afghanistan from Turkestan some weeks ago and to be rapidly marching on Herat.

FIGHTING IN TUNIS.

TUNIS, Oct. 15.—A severe engagement occurred on Friday between Gen. Sabatien's column and the Arabs in the neighbourhood of Zaghouan, resulting in the retirement of the Arabs to the mountains. The French troops occupying the city of Tunis have been largely reinforced. They are repairing the fortifications. The French flag is hoisted on the citadel over the Tunisian standard. A French sentry was shot on Wednesday night close to the gates of the city. Since the French occupation all the mosques have been closed. A French column starts on Sunday for southern Tunis. All the railway stations are fortified.

Twenty or thirty persons are reported as having been injured on Saturday night.

ARTHUR AND CONKLING.

It is reported that Arthur was anxious to have Conkling accept the treasury. Conkling, while not absolutely declining, convinced the President that he had better appoint somebody else. It is reported that the President has been approached upon the subject of the light money market in Wall street. He said the condition of affairs in Wall street in no way concerned the administration. The Wall street transactions are merely betting transactions.

AN IMPORTANT ARREST.

ST. PETERBURG, Oct. 17.—A female nihilist, formerly an intimate friend of Jelikoff and known to have been implicated in two attempts on the life the late Czar, has been arrested.

A BAD OUTLOOK.

PARIS, Oct. 17.—In an interview, Mr. Egan stated that the tide of revolution was rising high in Ireland, where there was a disciplined, merciless revolt of hungry men against the bloated rich. The prolonged incarceration of Mr. Parnell might produce a general insurrection. The Land League was prepared for every sacrifice, and ready to die to the last man.

Labour on the Farm.

As the labour problem is one of the most difficult that the farmer has to deal with, the plans of the farm should be arranged with reference to it, so that the greatest economy, consistent with efficiency, can be practised. The order of the crops in rotation, and the system of feeding and care of the live stock, will determine, to a great extent the importance of a distribution of labour. This is one of the great advantages of a mixed husbandry, that cannot be so readily practised in an exclusive system of special culture. It would be desirable, under favorable conditions, to arrange the details of management, so that work could be profitably provided for a fixed and uniform force throughout the year. By this means it would be possible to avoid paying high prices for extra labour during the harvest, and it would at the same time be for the interest of the farm laborer, who could thus obtain steady employment. Under a well planned system, it would not be necessary to make any marked increase of working force on the average farm at any season of the year, if full advantage is taken of the improved farm machinery that can be readily obtained for a variety of purposes. In the cases where it is not possiple to secure an exact uniformity in the distribution of labour, it will be best to make as close an approximation to it as possible.—Dr. Maney Miles, in American Agriculturist.

THE FAIR-TRADE LEAGUE.

ALTHOUGH our readers are already tolerably well acquainted with the nature of the Fair-Trade movement which has been inaugurated in Great Britain, yet, we have no doubt but that the following statement of its meaning, purpose and and aim, as set forth by its promoters, will prove, as it should do, particularly interesting to them :—

MEANING AND PURPOSES.

Convinced of the practical failure of the present system of "Free Trade" (so called), which consists of the free admission into the United Kingdom of foreign manufactures and food products, notwithstanding the exclusion of British Manufactures from Foreign States through the operation of heavy, and in some instances prohibitive, tariffs;

Convinced that this refusal of foreign nations to receive British manufactures in exchange for our purchases from them is working most injuriously to the welfare of and prosperity of the nation, and endangering the steady employment, fair wages, and future wellbeing of our working classes;

This League is formed to promote, by every means at its command, an extension of trade with all countrits, and especially with our colonies and dependencies, prepared to deal with the United Kingdom upon the principal of reasonably free interchange, and to agitate for such fiscal readjustments as shall prevent the products of foreign States, which refuse to deal with Great Britain in Fair-Trade, from unduly competing with the products of home labour.

POLICY ADVOCATED.

The special policy advocated by the League is fully set forth in a programme issued from the central office (which may be obtained on application to the hon. secretary), together with a resume of the reasons or arguments urged in its favour.

Broadly, and as only possible within the limits of a newspaper advertisement, this policy advocates :—

(a) The abandoment of entaglements in the shape of long-enduring commercial treaties, which prevent us adopting such fiscal arrangements as the action of foreign nations may from time to time render needful in the general interests of our Empire.

(b) It insists upon the encouragement of our home industries by the free importation of raw materials needed by the labour interests of our manufacturing centres, and the levying of import duties upon the manufactures of foreign States which refuse to receive the products of British labour in fair exchance.

(c) It also aims at the full development of the resources of our Empire, by the imposition of a moderate tax upon food from foreign States refusing to trade with us on equal terms, but admitting it free from every part of our own Empire, such policy afforded—

(1) A measure of justice to our own heavily burdened agicultural industry, and

(2) Transferring the great food-growing industries which we employ (outside our own islands) from protective nations, which refuse to give us their custom in return, to our colonies and dependencies—these latter being already our best customers, and the only parts of the world that do not show a gradually diminishing area of trade open to the British artisan.

Whatever revenue may be derivable from the adoption of this policy the League considers should be devoted to the reduction of local taxation, urban and rural alike.

Unquestionably the policy here foreshadowed is one of very great importance to Canada, in common with every British colony, and one which we need scarcely say, we believe should receive the hearty sympathy and support of every leal hearted son of the British empire. There can be no reasonable doubt but that nothing could be done which would so rapidly and so effectually populate our great west as the "imposition of a moderate duty" upon American grain, while that from Canada was admitted "free" into the mother land. Nor would such a step long materially affect the price of bread to the British consumer, inasmuch as our "wheat-field" is large enough and to spare, to supply Britain's entire demand, while the result would be that instead of buying her grain from those who now refuse to buy from her, she would have thereby created an immense population who would be both ready and willing to buy from her in return. The truth of the matter is, if the British people desire to see a real, not a jug-handled policy of free-trade carried out upon the largest scale possible within at least the present generation, they will act upon the principles of this Fair-trade League. We have "looked to Washington" in the past for a "reciprocity treaty," while Great Britain is even now "looking to Paris" for a "commercial treaty." Would it not be infinitely better and more advantageous to "look to London" for some kind of a treaty which could and would do much more for both, in time of war as well as in time of peace, than it is either possible or desirable to accomplish by looking to any foreign capital?

THE ONTARIO BANK.

The Report of the General Manager of the Bank in Full.

A meeting of the directors of the Ontario Bank was held at Toronto on Friday, when it was agreed to send the following circular to the shareholders:—

To the President and Directors of the Ontario Bank:

GENTLEMEN,—In assuming the position of general manager of the bank, I have now, in accordance with our understanding, to lay before you my revaluation of its entire assets.

The task has been undertaken with much diffidence and in an uprejudiced spirit, and solely with the object of gaining a knowledge of the true position of the bank, in order that such remedial measures might be adopted as would place it in a position of substantial strength, and would, under proper management, coupled with new and increased facilities for business, command for it a more prosperous and more satisfactory career.

Before requiring from the several managers full and explict statements of the various assets and liabilities of their branches, I personally visited the offices, familiarized myself with the working of each, and formed my own estimate of their current and overdue debts.

The result of my examination, however disappointing, has been reached only after the most careful analysis—the whole with explanations and details has been submitted to the president for his full and independent consideration.

From the statements appended you will observe that it has become necessary to charge the capital account of the bank with $1,500,000, representing a reduction of 50 per cent. to provide for :—

Irrecoverable debts	$646,262 22
Appropriation for doubtful debts and deficiencies in accounts still in course of liquidation	756,503 99
	$1,402,766 21
Less at credit present rest of	100,000 00
Less at credit present profit and loss	154,309 17	254,309 17
Total reduction of capital for losses.		$1,148,456 04

In addition to which the following are provided for :—

Reduction in actual value of bank premises	$88,590 76
Rebate on current paper	70,000 00
Profit and loss (providing for all possible contingencies in debts current and past due)	92,952 00
Rest account	100,000 00	351,542 96
		$1,500,000 00

In my special report, made to you, I have given all necessary information as to the origin and nature of the losses which have occasioned so large a writing off, and I do not here propose to enter into any further particularization or criticism.

That errors have been committed in the past is obvious to all, but since their result has become known to me my efforts have been directed towards remodeling the business of the bank and erecting safeguards for the future, rather than in contrasting what has been done in the past with what might have been, to the avoidance of these serious losses.

I trust that it is sufficient to assure the shareholders that only sound banking principles will hereafter direct the policy of the bank, applicable not only to its dealings with the public, but to the internal conduct of its affairs as well.

Besides writing out every known bad debt, and making full appropriation for those of a doubtful character, I have created a reserve fund of $100,000, equivalent to 6.66 per cent. upon the capital still left intact, and have carried to profit and loss a sum of $92,952.20. For the next year this amount will not be available for purposes of dividend, but will be held as applicable to old business in regard to which new contingencies may develop themselves.

I have reduced the bank premises account to its actual value, and I have further set aside $70,000 to represent unearned interest on current paper. This will be of the nature of a permanent fund, and is based on a six per cent. per annum rate on an aggregate of six millions of advances. The amount is adequate at the present, and I propose at all times to keep it fully maintained.

I have observed with pleasure in my visit to the branches that the bank possesses an excellent earning power, and a large and remunerative business, which it shall be my effort to conserve and extend. Due regard will be paid to the experience of the past, for, notwithstanding that the present general outlook of trade in the Dominion is encouraging, it is evident that a mania for speculation still exists, and an undue expansion of manufacturing interests may become apparent ere long.

A vigilant oversight of affairs will be maintained, and fuller and more practical information sought, enabling the management to deal promptly with the first indications of unsoundness wherever apparent.

The cost of the management must be reduced, the staff reorganized and strengthened, several unprofitable offices must be closed, their capital directed to more enterprising neighbourhoods, and the operations of the bank generally should be concentrated and brought into a more available and more active condition.

It will be obvious to the shareholders that the impairment of the capital will prevent the payment of a dividend in December, but there is every expectation that under a judicious selection of investments, and economy of expenditure, it will be resumed at an early date. With this end in view, the profits to the present date are reserved.

The circulation and general business of the bank suffer no restriction, and the reduced capital still gives opportunity for its development. Legislative action must be sought in due time to confirm the reduction of capital, and resolutions to that effect should be submitted at the forthcoming special meeting.

It is well to note that the bank's ability to do business is in no wise curtailed by this reduction from what it has been for a length of time past. On the other hand, serious and long disquieting drawbacks have been removed, and renewed confidence on the part of the public can be unhesitatingly asked for.

The general manager believes he possesses the fullest confidence of the Board, and will have their cordial co-operation.

Something also rests with the shareholders to make the future career of the bank a success, and I heartily invite their support.

Respectfully submitted.

C. HOLLAND,
General Manager.

Ontario Bank, Head Office, Sept., 1881.

Interviewing the Agitator.

DUBLIN, Oct, 14.—The prisoners in Kilmainham gaol are only allowed one visitor each day, but they may choose the one whom they wish to see. Mr. Parnell elected to-day to see a representative of the Freeman's Journal. It says :—

"Mr. Parnell's cell is a small, boarded apartment, having no furniture beyond a medium-sized table and a few plain chairs. There was a good fire in the room, which was fairly well heated. Mr. Parnell was sitting at the table when the reporter entered. The tablecloth had been removed, and some fruit was on the table, and also four or five books. Having obtained from him the particulars regarding the arrest, the reporter asked him if Mr. T. P. O'Connor, who had declared his readiness to return to Ireland at any moment, would be recalled. Mr. Parnell replied that his arrest would in no way interfere with Mr. O'Connor who would remain in America until the completion of his mission. When asked if his arsest was likely to cripple the organization of the League, Mr. Parnell said, 'I do not think it will have any prejudicial effect upon the movement. I had been able before the arrest to make complete arrangements for having the test cases brought into court, and also for a proper organization in the country. I think everything connected with the movement is now in a most satisfactory condition.'"

REPORTER—Have you contemplated the probability of the Government taking wholesale measures for the suppression of the League?

MR. PARNELL—I do not think they contemplate the suppression of the League. They could only suppress the League by arresting everybody connected with it, and this (he added with a triumphant smile) they would hardly undertake.

REPORTER—Could they not proceed by issuing a proclamation in the Gazette, and by seizing the Land League offices as they seized the Irish People in Parliament street?

MR. PARNELL—They could; but if they should do so the people will be driven back upon secret organization as in former times, which would be much more dangerous for the Government than the present organization, which is perfectly open.

The Best Outlet.

The Cleveland Marine Record says :—"Despite the various stories and assertions in regard to the superiority of the Mississippi river as a means of transporting the cereals from the far West and North West, facts will prove that statement to be merely a statement based upon 'wind.' That the system of locks, canals, rivers and lakes that stretch from the mouth of the St. Lawrence over 2,000 miles inland to the very heart of the West affords unparalled facilities for the shipment of grain, cannot be contradicted. The St. Lawrence, the real 'outlet for our future hope' in trading direct with the nations of the eastern hemisphere, has specialties as a water system which render it peculiarly suitable as a commercial highway for trade of the greatest magnitude. Its course is so free from minor sinuosities that though scarcely 2,000 miles in length from its mouth at Anticosti to the west end of Lake Superior, it extends as far into the continent as the Mississippi does with its 3,160 miles; the upper part of which even were it navigable, is of insignificant capacity for transport compared with the great lakes and the St. Lawrence."

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had half a bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough.—B., Rochester, N. Y.—American Rural Home.

A General Defeated.

A Mrs. J. G. Robertson writes:—"I was suffering from general debility, want of appetite, constipation, etc., so that life was a burden; after using Burdock Blood Bitters I felt better than for years. I cannot praise your Bitters too much.

The Public are Cautioned against imitations of Perry Davis's Pain-Killer, and to be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good"; many of these they make a little more profit upon, but which have no qualities in common with the Pain-Killer.

Many clergymen who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergyman's Sore Throat," have fully recovered by using Fellow's Syrup of Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters are in every sense of the word a worthy family medicine, and we are glad to learn that they are rapidly taking the place of those nauseous little Pills. J. D. TOLLY is agent for the Bitters here.

CHILL OCTOBER.

Lo! through the vapours gray
Brown autumn hies away,
And leaves her blood-red banners lying scattered,
torn, and sere;
The days have dwindled slowly,
And now the wind sobs lowly
A melancholy farewell to the glory of the year.

Now scowling Winter's seen
Forging his arrows keen,
And the old man and the children soon will fade
before his bow;
The birds and patient cattle
Will flee before his battle,
And the mole and timid dormouse will hide in terror low.

But soon the radiant Spring
Will spread her golden wing,
And melt the tyrant's fury with the softness of her eye;
The little child will bless her,
The young child skip to press her,
And the lark sing loud her praises as he mounts
the sunny sky.

And shall I be alive
To hail the merry hive
Of bees and birds and children in the lovers'
lealy lane?
How many plans are broaching
For the New Year fast approaching,
For whom no happy Spring-tide will ever shine again!

THE CHARIVARI MURDER.

Acquittal of the Prisoners on Trial at Ottawa—The Court on Charivaris.

OTTAWA, Oct. 14.—In the Weatherell murder case his Lordship, in charging the jury after reviewing the evidence given, showed the jury that the annoyance given by the charivari parties to the people in Mrs. Cooper's house was great, and that custom was no excuse for the rowdy conduct which then took place. He condemned the whole practice in strong terms, and said there could be no doubt of the household being in considerable fear. Had Weatherell fired on the crowd, and killed some one, he no doubt would have been acquitted. Parties who took part in such proceedings as charivaris, if life was lost in them, were responsible for that loss of life. His Lordship pointed out that the conduct of the whole of the parties about the house of Mrs. Cooper on the night in question was most unwarrantable, and held that Weatherell did not exceed his rights in going out and giving chase to any of them that he thought he could apprehend. He also held that the evidence pretty clearly showed that violence had been used to him, but that there was nothing to show that he had been guilty of violence to anyone. He mentioned this because one of the pleas set up by the defence was that if the old man had been killed it might have been done by the parties whom he was pursuing in self-defence.

The jury retired, and were absent from the court room nearly two hours, when they returned with a verdict of "not guilty." The verdict was a great surprise, his Lordship having charged so strongly against the prisoners. The general opinion is that a mistake was made in not indicting them separately. The four prisoners were immediately liberated.

The remaining cases on the criminal docket have been laid over until Mr. Justice Wilson returns from L'Orignal.

SEVERE ACCIDENT.—The Times says that a severe accident, which almost resulted in the death of a fine little boy, the son of Mr. D. B. Deering, occurred on Saturday morning last. The little fellow, in company with another boy, of similar age, had climbed into a farmer's waggon and was riding down street. When nearly opposite the residence of Mr. B. O'Neil, Mr. Hewson's boy got out of the waggon and ran to the sidewalk, and on reaching it he called to his playmate to come too. Mr. Deering's boy immediately began to climb out over the back of the waggon; after getting out he started for the sidewalk on the run, not having noticed a team which was coming on close behind; as he was running as hard as he could he found it impossible to stop himself, and threw up his hands for protection, in doing which he struck the shoulder of one of the horses. The horse shied, and just as it was passing, kicked, striking the little fellow in the forehead with one of his hind feet. An examination of the wound showed it to be of a very serious nature, the cut being about two inches in length and an inch in depth. In order to raise the skull, which had been completely caved in, it was found necessary to saw a small portion of the bone off, the child having first been placed under the influence of chloroform. After the skull had been raised to its proper place, a silver plate was placed over the wound, and the necessary bandages and appliances arranged. It is a marvel that the child was not instantly killed, but the physicians have now every hope of saving the little fellow's life. "Misfortunes never come singly," is an old saying which has often been verified, and this instance is no exception. Mr. Deering having just two days previous, buried an only daughter.

AN ABSCONDER.—The latest sensation in the township of Hope is the mysterious disappearance of one of the hardy tillers of the soil of that section. Mr. Henry Byam made a very sudden exit on Wednesday morning last. It appears to have been a preconcerted dodge with him, and he had all his plans well laid. On a promise that he would call and settle when he had sold his barley, he had got into the good graces of quite a number of our merchants, and had likewise got into their books to a considerable extent. He had drawn in all his barley and received cash for the same to the amount of about $600. But instead of calling around to settle his honest debts, he purchased a steamboat ticket, and is now non est as far as Hope is concerned, as is also a team of horses which he took along to keep him company.

AN ENCOUNTER WITH A LUNATIC.—The monotony of police circles has been seriously interfered with this past week. On Monday last, constable Gamble, in company with county constable Reynolds, was summoned into the county to arrest a lunatic who had escaped from the Hamilton Asylum. The scene at the arrest was beyond description, and the constables say that the way the poor fellow tore around when he knew their errand was a scene most horrible to behold, but they finally managed to get him bound securely and brought into town; after getting out a warrant for his committal, he was taken to Cobourg gaol to await the arrival of the proper authorities from Hamilton to remove him from thence to the asylum.

RESCUED.—Two boys were rescued on Monday from what would undoubtedly have proved a watery grave, by the timely arrival of the tug W. Ross. The boat which they were in was partly filled with water, and they were at the mercy of the waves. When rescued the boys were in a half frozen condition.

FIRE.—On Thursday morning last, a fire broke out in the shed attached to the residence of Mr. James O'Neil, King street, but it was discovered and put out before doing serious damage. The alarm was given by St. Mark's church bell.

The police are after him, and a reward of two hundred dollars is offered for his apprehension. Farmer Gruff and His Boys.

Old farmer Gruff was one morning tugging away with all his might and main at a barrel of apples which he was endeavouring to get up the cellar stairs, and calling at the top of his lungs for one of his boys to lend him a helping hand, but in vain. When he had after an indefinite amount of sweating and puffing, accomplished his task, and just when they were not needed, of course the boys made their appearance. "Where have you been, and what have you been about, I'd like to know, that you could not hear me call?" inquired the father in an angry tone, and addressing the eldest. "Out in the shop, settin' the saw," replied the youth. "And you Dick?" "Out in the barn, settin' the hen." "And you, sir?" "Up in Granny's room settin' the clock." "And you, young man?" "Up in the garret, settin' the trap." And now, master Fred, where were you and what were you settin'?" asked the old farmer of his youngest progeny, the asperity of his temper being somewhat softened by this amusing category of answers, "come, let's hear." "On the door step, settin' still," replied the young hopeful seriously.

Why will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's German prescription, and it is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced their has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced. 2d1w1y

Consumption Can be Cured.

In this changeable climate of ours, every one should remember that DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY has proven itself to be a positive cure for consumption, asthma, bronchitis, and all lung diseases. It has saved the lives of many even after all hope had fled. Many of the most intelligent families would as soon be without woolen clothing in winter, as to not have WISTAR'S BALSAM always on hand, for it never fails to immediately relieve all soreness of the throat and lungs. A single dose taken at bed time will gently warm the blood, cause refreshing slumber, and by morning an ordinary cough or cold will be gone. Ask your druggist and your friends concerning the merit of WISTAR'S BALSAM, and be wise. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. Brown's Bronchial Troches do not disorder the stomach like cough syrup and balsams, but act directly on the Inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c. a box everywhere. d52w9

A Wise Deacon.

"Deacon Wildes, I want you to tell me how you kept yourself and family well the past season, when all the rest of us have been sick so much, and have had the doctors visiting us so often." Bro. Taylor, the answer is very easy, I used Hop Bitters in time; kept my family well and saved the doctor bills. Three dollars worth of it kept us well and able to work all the time. I'll warrant it has cost you and the neighbors one to two hundred dollars apiece to keep sick the same time." "Deacon, I'll use your medicine hereafter."

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For e'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Or write the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man,"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard;
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The sublest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide,
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine—
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Faultless fit, splendid style, vast variety, good work and a very great saving in price will be found in M. & A's. Mantles and Ulsters.

Midland and Grand Junction Railways.

The traffic returns of the above railways for the week ending Oct. 7th, 1881, were as follows:—

MIDLAND RAILWAY.—Passengers and mails, $3377.23; freight, $11654.63; total, $15031.86, as compared with $11141.85 for the corresponding week of 1880, being an increase of $3890.01; and the aggregate traffic to date is $301588.69, being an increase of $42670.01 over 1880.

GRAND JUNCTION RAILWAY.—Passengers and mails, $1023.69; freight, $1919.19; total, $2942.88, as compared with $1227.10 for the corresponding week of 1880, being an increase of $1715.78; and the aggregate traffic from 1st June to date is $44015.44, being an increase of $27231.97 over 1880.

Rather Good.

The Norwood Registrar says that "a telegraph operator in a post office not one hundred miles from here, has been in the habit of monopolizing a spare mailbag to convey his underwear from his boarding house to his room in the said office. Judge his surprise when the other night he received from Peterborough the aforesaid mailbag containing his "dry goods" with the words returned for better address. He had sent the wrong one." We believe the facts as stated are correct. The aforesaid young man will probably use some other receptacle for his dirty linen in the future.

Disgraceful.

The crossing on Aylmer street across Hunter, to which we drew attention some time ago, is now in a really disgraceful condition. On Saturday night the mud was some four or five inches above the remnants of the planks that once formed a crossing at this point, and pedestrians found themselves almost mired while endeavouring to cross. The citizens who have occasion to use that portion of the sidewalk naturally complain. The Street Inspector and a couple of his men should take a trip around that way and make the necessary repairs, to prepare for the muddy fall weather.

Burglary at Bethany.

On Friday night another burglary occured at Bethany, the place entered being the International Hotel kept by Mr. Laing. It appears that a large pane of glass had been put in one of the bar-room windows during the day, and the putty being fresh, the burglar shoved in the glass at one end and then removed it, effecting an easy entrance. The cash box, containing a considerable sum of money, was carried off. There is no clue to the thief or thieves.

Football.

The Secretary of the football club informs us that he has received a definite answer from the Trinity College School football club, stating that they will be unable to play here on Thanksgiving day. As there are no other "Rugby" playing clubs in this vicinity, it is probable that a scratch match will take place. A match with the Port Hopers may be arranged later on in the season.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, at 10.30 a. m., are as follows:—Lakes—high, easterly to southerly winds. Unsettled rainy weather to-day, followed by a cold, northerly blow late to-night.

Subscription Books.

Agents are wanted to canvass for subscription books, bibles, albums, &c., for Messrs. Ham & Brown, who have opened their office in Henthorn's block. They require twenty agents for this purpose and to canvass for Raymond's sewing machines. d75

Difference in Time.

There is now about twelve minutes difference between town and railway time, the latter being much slower than the town time. Some arrangement should be made to have the two the same, as at present it causes much annoyance.

Paying the Pensioners.

Major Milligan, of Toronto, Staff officer of pensioners of this district, was in town on Friday and paid the pensioners their quarterly allowance, for service rendered in days gone by.

FIRE BUGS AT WORK.

Two Incendiary Fires in Less Than Two Hours is Saturday Night's Record.

It would appear that Saturday night cannot pass in Peterborough without some lawless act being committed. For months we have complained of the gangs of roughs that have made night hideous by their hooting and blasphemous language, and the matter has been brought before the council in the shape of a communication from one of the sufferers, but the councillors treat the matter with the greatest apathy and the thing goes on, growing worse and worse until the time has come that action will have be taken or the citizens will take the matter in their own hands. Our police force is not sufficient. The very idea of a town of the size of Peterborough, with rather a large share of the lawless element, not having a police officer on at night is ridiculous, and should force the councillors to reflect. It has been suggested, and we are inclined to think that the suggestion is a good one, that another officer be added to the force and the chief relieved of the street and bridge inspestorship, which takes up all his time. With the three officers on duty for eight hours each every day, there would be some guarantee that order would maintained. Hooting, singing, yelling and dancing have heretofore been the offences chargeable against the Saturday night brigade, but now incendiarism is added to the category, as every right minded citizens believes that the two fires which occurred on Sunday morning were set by some of those midnight prowlers, who paraded the town in full force shortly before the first fire broke out.

THE FIRST BLAZE.

The first alarm was sounded about 2.10 o'clock for a fire in the third ward. The alarm was a very short and feeble one, and was heard by but a small number of persons who hastened up George street, in the direction of a great blaze which illuminated all the buildings in the vicinity of the George Street Methodist Church, and made many people suppose that that splendid edifice was falling a prey to the fire fiend, but happily such was not the case, as a closer view showed that the shed commonly known as the "old pump factory," between McDonell and Murray Streets, opposite the agricultural grounds was on fire and was rapidly being consumed. The structure being of frame and as dry as tinder made excellent food for the fiend and burned with great rapidity. The building has been untenanted for years and must have been set on fire. Happily, the wind, which in the earlier part of the evening had been blowing rather strongly, had ceased altogether, and consequently scarcely a breath of air was stirring, or we are afraid that we would be called upon to-day to chronicle the burning of the greater portion of the block, if not the whole of it. As it was Mr. Charles Cameron's brick residence, situated just south of the burned building, had a very narrow escape and if it had not been for the determined efforts of a few citizens, who with pails kept the windows from burning, the house would undoubtedly have been destroyed. About thirty-five minutes after the alarm was given the steamer got to work and two lines of hose having been laid, a mixture of mud and water from the tank in front of St. Paul's church was thrown on the flames, which had by this time almost extinguished themselves. By the efforts of the small number of the members of the brigade who were present, the fire was kept from spreading to the roughcast terrace and sheds immediately adjoining. After two hours work the fire was pretty well drowned out, and the firemen packed up and returned to their hall. The building destroyed was a very old one and has been used for a variety of purposes. We understand that it was erected for an axe factory and was used for that purpose by one Mocock, who is said to have sunk over $28,000 in the business. It was afterwards used for the same purpose by a man named Burrell, and then by Dennis as a pump factory, and Owens as a pump factory and Fady and Holdsworth, who used the engine and boiler on the premises for sawing and splitting wood. Of late years it has not beed used and being open was very inviting to the incendiary. It was not insured. It was worth probably $600 and was owned by Messrs. McKellar and Cameron. The damage to Mr. Cameron's house is slight and is fully covered by insurance.

FIRE NUMBER TWO.

The firemen had just put their apparatus in the hall and the secretary of the brigade was callling the roll about 4 o'clock when the fire bells again pealed out an alarm. At first the general opinion was that some person, had just discovered the other fire and sounded the alarm for it, but a look towards the western end of the town dispelled that idea, as the whole heavens were illuminated. The apparatus was quickly on the way and a run along Simcoe to Aylmer street, brought them to a spot from which it could be seen that the large shed used for storing tanbark, owned by Messrs. W. Paterson & Son and situated at the corner of Aylmer and Brock streets, was all on fire. The steamer was placed on the bridge just across the street from the fire, and in quick order three streams were playing on the flames, which threw out an intense heat, and made onlookers keep at a respectable distance, but the attempts to subdue them were futile and the fire burned on just as fiercely as ever. A large quantity of wood was piled at the north and south ends of the fire, but willing hands soon removed the piles to the street, thus lessening the loss to a considerable extent. The firemen remained at work until 1 o'clock p. m., having been on duty for nine consecutive hours and as may be imagined, they were pretty well tired out. The shed, which was a large open one, contained about three hundred cords of dry tanbark, nicely piled. The fire worked its way into it and it will probably continue to burn for a week. During the afternoon, the flames rose up again and two streams were turned on them for an hour or two and had the effect of subduing them somewhat. The total loss, on which there is no insurance, is about $2,000 made up as follows, 300 cords of tanbark $1,800, shed $100, wood $100. Mr. W. Denoon also loses about $100, having had two wagons, which were stored in the shed, destroyed. This fire was also incendiary as there is no other way that it could catch, being isolated. A gentleman who resides in the neighborhood states that there was not a sign of fire near the shed fifteen minutes before the alarm was given.

POLICE COURT.

MALICIOUS INJURY TO PROPERTY.

MONDAY, Oct. 17.—Michael Phelan was charged with malicious injury to the property of George Hilliard, M. P., by destroying a mill cart.

The prisoner pleaded guilty.

Judgment fine, $2.00; and costs, $3.00; to be paid forthwith or two months in gaol.

Who Did It?

During the progress of the second fire on Sunday morning, a messenger ran up in haste and summoned a police officer to Ormond and Walsh's drug store, stating that the premises had been broken into, and that an attempt had made to fire them. The officer at once proceeded down street followed by quite a number of George Street merchants. It was found upon inspection that the door of a shed in rear of the store, had been kicked open, as the mark of a man's foot was plainly visible. A heap of boxes and barrels of straw lay piled up just as they had been left by the clerks, and this fact gave rise to the story of attempted incendiarism.

Repairs Wanted.

If the Street Inspector will take a walk on Aylmer street, from Brock to Hunter, he will find that a large number of planks have been removed and thrown in the road. The sidewalk is in a very dangerous condition, and an accident is liable to occur at any time. While on this subject, we might also say that there is a plank out on Brock street west, near George.

Wood-Preserving Process.

A new wood-preserving process has been invented in France by M. Jacques. He first impregnates the timber thoroughly with a simple solution of soap, mixed with an acid—preferably phenic acid. This causes the fermentation, in a few days, within the wood, of a fatty acid, which is insoluble in water, and impregnates the remotest fibres. The reaction of the acid on the soap does not take place until a portion of the water has evaporated. It is claimed that more perfect impregnation can be had this way than with creosote, and there is no danger of the washing out of the preservative from the exposed surfaces, as when sulphate of copper is used. The government commission on technical railroad operation in France is said to favor this process.

Special to the Review, Oct. 18.

A LADY has contributed $50 to aid the bush fire sufferers, being the heaviest amount yet subscribed.

JACK COULTER, who outraged a 16 year old girl, at Kingston, in September last, has received the first half of his 48 lashes at the Central Prison. He made a great screeching and his back was horribly cut. To-day he is doing light work.

A MAN named Simpson alias Hoseac, was found dead on the G.T.R. track at Bathurst street this morning. During the night he had evidently fallen into the culvert and in crawling out had been struck by a locomotive, his head being split open.

BELLE COOKE, the Western equestrieune, is rusticating at Weston. She was hurt by an accident at Rochester. John Paull, her husband, belongs to Weston.

POWELL MARTIN appeared in the Police Court this morning to answer a charge of discharging firearms on the street. The only evidence is that of a boy who says that Martin said he would fix him.

PETER BLACK, aged nine, full faced, fair hair, thick lipped, stout and big of his age, has been lost. His people have been able to gain no trace of him.

Pickled Railroad Ties.

If as many railroads are built in this country in the next five years to come as have been built during the last half decade, it will be difficult to get timber for ties. Oak and cedar are the varieties of wood used, all other available kinds of timber lacking durability or firmness. The Lake Shore Company has purchased a tract of timber land near Wickliffe, paying about $120 an acre for it. It is the only timber land between Cleveland and Buffalo, and the supply will soon be exhausted. The N. Y., C. & S. L. road was obliged to use beech, maple, and other varieties of hard lumber. The majority of the ties used on the new line, however, are cedar from northern Michigan. Shortly, when the oak and cedar are exhausted, it will be necessary to use hardwood timber, put through a pickling process such as is used in preserving the wood blocks of pavements. The process is a patent belonging to a company of gentlemen, most of whom are Clevelanders. It is easy to see that they have a profitable invention. Ties made of beech and maple and other varieties of by no means durable wood, put through the pickling process, have been laid on the road at Defiance, and although they have been in place five years, they show no indications of decay. The pickling is done by placing the ties in a large boiler, costing from $15,000 to $20,000, and soaking them in a solution of creosote and other ingredients, which are known only to the inventors. In England blocks of stone are used as ties, but the concussion of such a solid foundation is hard on the rolling stock and rails of the road.

A CHINESE TYPHOON.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—A Yakohama despatch, dated September, 28th. says that the recent typhoon did considerable damage in the interior and along the coast. Hundreds of houses were blown down and bridges carried away. Many lives were lost.

THANKING THE U. S.

ROME, Oct. 17.—Signor Mancini has conveyed to United States Consul Mosley the thanks of the Italian Government for his energetic and intelligent co-operation in securing the arrest of a band of Italian and other forgers now awaiting trial in gaol at Turin.

BRITISH CO-OPERATION.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—It is stated that there is some likelihood that the British Government will co-operate in an international expedition in search of the Artic steamer Jeannette next year.

THE FRENCH CRISIS.

PARIS, Oct. 17.—According to one of the evening papers the Ministerial crisis is likely to be brought to an end for the present by the mere elimination of General Farre, M. Barthelemy de St. Hilaire, and M. Sidi Carnot, who are to be replaced by three more energetic Ministers. M. Gambetta will not be in the Cabinet, but will assure it of his support. The so-called mass meeting of Socialists, convoked to demand the impeachment of the Ministry, and which alarmed so many timid people, passed off yesterday in the quietest manner.

THE PAPAL RECEPTION.

ROME, Oct. 17.—The Pope, in his address to the Italian pilgrims at St. Peter's yesterday, stated that the deplorable state of affairs placed before him the alternative of enduring continual captivity, made harder daily, or of going into exile. He therefore asked Catholics to watch and pray for the liberty and independence of the Pope. He concluded by saying that he was no longer secure in his palace. He was outraged in his person and dignity in a thousand ways. The gravity and earnestness of the Pope made a powerful impression. He closed his address with his arms raised to heaven, as though imploring help.

MORE RIOTING.

LIMERICK, Oct. 17.—The rioting has recommenced to-night. The police have again fired on the people. Wm. Abraham was escorted to gaol by three companies of the 57th Regiment and 90 policemen. They were groaned at, and stones were thrown, whereupon the police charged the people several times, scattering them, but they again collected and renewed the attack. The police and military, under a continuous fire of stones and other misales, proceeded to the gaol, where they lodged their prisoner. They then returned, and when in the rear of Milgrove street they were stoned again by the mob, which had greatly increased. The military halted and the police again repeatedly charged the people. The constabulary who formed the vangurad forced the mob into High street, and fired into them with buckshot. A woman was struck, but the firing had very little effect upon the mob. One shot struck a young lady named Maloney in the arm, but the wound is not dangerous.

MR. BIGGAR'S FLIGHT.

DUBLIN, Oct. 17.—Mr. Biggar left Dublin last evening for Holyhead. He fully expected to be arrested, but resolved no longer to wait the action of the authorities. It is believed that his destination is Liverpool, where the local League has placed its premises at the disposal of the Central executive. He may at first go to London to confer with Mr. Healy.

THE LAND LEAGUE.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The head office of the Land League has been transferred to Liverpool, where Mr. O'Connor is conducting business.

THE FUGITIVE LEAGUERS.

It is stated that the Government, in view of the cases of the Land Leaguers who escaped to England, consulted the English and Irish law officers, who consider that any attempt to encourage intimidation from England could be made a subject of indictment.

FATAL SHOOTING CASE.

TRALEE, Oct, 17.—A man has been mortally shot near Tralee during an affair between the police and a party of armed men.

A CHINESE STORM.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Hong Kong advices of September 14th, state that the village of Shetosha, in the Kow district, has been swept away by floods. All the inhabitants were drowned. Upwards of 200 bodies have been recovered. The typhoon at Foochow did great damage.

GREATLY EXAGERATED.

LIMERICK, Oct. 17.—The first reports of the Limerick affair were from the same hand that invented the siege of Greenlands Castle. It is stated that shooting occurred all over the city, and that many people were killed. It now turns out that only one person was wounded with buckshot. The fact that the Scots Greys left in the evening is a sufficient evidence that the affair was not serious.

AFFAIRS IN TUNIS.

TUNIS, Oct. 17.—The insurgents lost 800 killed after six hours' fighting in the engagement on Friday between General Sabatier's column and the Arabs in the neighbourhood of Zaghouan. The Arabs have attacked Mornak, close to the city of Tunis, pillaging the neighbouring farms. General Sabatier has defeated the insurgents in a second battle.

THE TERRIBLE STORM.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—One hundred and thirty British and foreign vessels were wrecked last week. The approximate value of the property lost is £8,000,000, of which £6,000,000 represents the British loss. 85 vessels principally British, were lost off the coast of the United Kingdom during the recent gale. One hundred and thirty-eight persons were reported lost or missing. Accounts received subsequent to the circulation of these statistics show that down to last evening fifty-nine fishermen belonging to Burnmouth and Eyemouth are known to be drowned, and one hundred and forty others belonging to both places are missing.

GERMANY'S LOSS.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—Great damage and loss of life throughout North Germany has resulted from the late gale. The Elbe rose 12 feet above its normal level, and is covered with wreckage. Several vessels were stranded at Altona, and, the loss of petroleum is enormous. Five German vessels were wreckod at Bremen, and some of their crews drowned.

THE EAST RIDING SHOW.

The West Riding Show Eclipsed—Roots that Would Beat Those at London.

In accordance with the perambulating system in vogue east of the Otonabee, the annual exhibition of the East Riding Agricultural Society was held this year at Keene on Thursday and Friday last. More fortunate than their neighbors in the west, the Keene show was favored with fine weather, and therefore proved a success. The accommodations at Keene have been added to, so as to enable the whole exhibition to be held within one enclosure, and thus places it in this respect ahead of either of its rivals—Norwood or Warsaw. As usual our eastern friends eclipsed the west, and indeed the central in their exhibit of domestics. Some how or other they always take hold of this department better than elsewhere in any part of this district, while one only requires to look at the articles to realize that they are what they are represented, and not chiefly in reality "factory made." It may be the smaller capacity of the buildings at Keene, as compared with those at either Peterborough or Lindsay, made their indoor exhibit look so well, but certainly it did look so well that it appeared ahead of both. In roots the display was an uncommonly fine one for this year. In response to many enquiries as to how he managed to grow such roots this season, Mr. Birdsall stated that he attributed his success to the fact that the field upon which they were grown, although a high one, had been pastured for the five or six preceding years, nearly altogether by sheep, and that it had in this way been more evenly manured than would have been the case had it been pastured with other stock. In the dairy department we may mention that the factory cheese (Fairdale), which carried off first prize at Peterborough, only came out second at Keene, the latter prize going to the Welbeck factory at Westwood. The ladies department too, was highly credible to the exhibitors. In wreaths there was a large display, the seed wreath shown by Mrs James Moore being worthy of special mention for the taste displayed in its arrangement, and the same remark applies to the cone house with a family in it shown by Mrs. T. Walsh, and the autumn leaves shown by Miss Maggie Armstrong, and indeed to a great majority of the exhibits, but we must refer the reader to the prize list for further information. The stock department too was encouraging. Although the aged horses were not up to the usual standard of Keene exhibitions, yet the pair of farm horses (4 year olds) shown by Mr. James Moore would be hard to beat anywhere. That this class of stock should not be up to former years at all our exhibitions is not to be wondered at, when it is remembered that our stock of horses has of late been culled again and again for exportation. Among the foals and colts, however, were many promising specimens, proving that it is to exportation, and not to the carelessness of breeders that the apparent deterioration is attributable. In cattle the East Riding is showing a steady and general improvement. By the prize list it will be seen that Mr. J. J. Carter is preparing to enter the lists as a breeder of Ayrshires. The bull calf exhibited by him was really a very fine animal of the kind, and worthy of a first prize at any exhibition—more than can be said of all "thoroughbreds." In Durham bulls the display was good and numerous—Mr. W. J. Miller's being a particularly fine animal, while it will be observed the Dummer Agricultural Society sets a good example by entering the ring as an exhibitor instead of frittering away its money in york shilling prizes. The following is the prize list:—

A Wise Deacon.

"Deacon Wildes, I want you to tell me how you kept yourself and family well the past season, when all the rest of us have been sick so much, and have had the doctors visiting us so often." Bro. Taylor, the answer is very easy, I used Hop Bitters in time; kept my family well and saved the doctor bills. Three dollars worth of it kept us well and able to work all the time, I'll warrant it has cost you and the neighbors one to two hundred dollars apiece to keep sick the same time." "Deacon, I'll use your medicine hereafter."

A General Defeated.

A Mrs. J. G. Robertson writes:—"I was suffering from general debility, want of appetite, constipation, etc., so that life was a burden; after using Burdock Blood Bitters I felt better than for years. I cannot praise your Bitters too much.

The Public are Cautioned against imitations of Perry Davis's Pain-Killer, and to be suspicious of persons who recommend any other article as "just as good"; many of these they make a little more profit upon, but which have no qualities in common with the Pain-Killer.

Many clergymen who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergyman's Sore Throat," have fully recovered by using Fellow's Syrup of Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

THE GREAT WESTERN.

A Surplus of £45,000 for the Half Year—The Dividends Recommended.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The report of the directors of the Great Western Railway was issued to-day. It shows that the receipts for the half year were £470,000, and the surplus £45,000. The directors recommend a half-yearly dividend of five per cent. on the preference stock, and one and one quarter per cent. on ordinary shares.

The direction of the stream of emigration towards the Canadian North-West has resulted in the formation of a company entitled the Canadian North-West Land Corporation, whose prospectus will be issued next week. The capital of the company is £1,000,000. They have taken offices on Lombard street, and mean to enter the colonization field with vigour. They have secured 2,000,000 acres of land from the Canada Pacific Railway Company, and they have every prospect of successfully floating their shares. Captain Wyatt will take charge of the land department.—Globe.

Riot at Limerick.

LIMERICK, Oct. 16.—Great riots occurred here to-day. The Coldstream Guards arrived from Dublin by special train about eleven o'clock to assist the local authorities in preserving order, and in suppressing the meeting which was called to express sympathy with Mr. Parnell and the other imprisoned suspects. It was a complete surprise to the people. The ground designed for the meeting was occupied by a squadron of dragoons, Scots Greys, and about two hundred of the Royal Irish Constabulary. In the afternoon the crowd moved toward Bank Place, where the meeting was first intended to be held. The Mayor and several other prominent citizens met Colonel Knox, commanding the Scots Greys, in the Mechanics' Institute. The Colonel cautioned the Mayor against holding the meeting, saying that he would not have his men injured and wounded. In addition to the proofs already mentioned the 57th Regiment and the artillery were standing ready in their barracks to march out at a moment's notice. Shortly after four o'clock the troops and police began to move off from Bank Place. Stones were immediately thrown at the police, who were hooted and groaned at. The troops were thereupon ordered to fix bayonets. The police were then directed to charge the mob, which they did, particularly clearing the streets. The mob closed upon the force again, when the police once more charged. They were then ordered to load, and having done so with fixed bayonets they again charged the people, scattering them in various directions, only, however, to see them gather together and renew the disturbances. Subsequently a squadron of Scots Greys charged the mob down George street, and repeated the charge up the street amid showers of stones. Later a party of constablulary, under the command of Major Rolleston, R.M., fired on a mob in Denmark street. One man was wounded by a bullet in the side. The city still continues in a fearful state of disorder, many houses having been wrecked. The prisoners will be brought before the petty sessions to-morrow.

THE HEALTH QUESTION AGAIN.

To the Editor of the Review:

SIR,—Your correspondent, Ratepayer, seems to think that I wrote specially against his advocacy of the filling in of Spaulding's Bay. Nothing of the kind. We are after the same object, only he is for a part and I am for the the whole, and my method of proceeding, is, I think, the only one that is natural and right under the circumstances. First investigate and deliberate, then report, then let the people themselves, or through the Council, act. If a money grant is required, let it be made. If Spaulding's Bay should be filled, by all means let it be done. But Ratepayer thinks we must act on his version of the matter.

He appears to think that I charge him with meddlesomeness, when there is not any intimation of the kind. He may expose all the horrors of Spaulding's Bay, and by means of the press ventilate all the sewers in town, if the press will stand it, but let he and I, or either of us, go to the premises of other people, and go poking our noses in holes and corners in search of fever breeders, we should soon face the wrathy countenance of the proprietor, and hear the question, "What brought you here?" We would explain in the most polite way possible. He would ask, "Who sent you?" We would reply we came on our own account for the sake of the public good. His answer would be, "Now, get out of this or I'll——." I think Mr. Ratepayer would be apt to conclude that such service would be better performed by properly authorized persons.

There is in my letter one typographical error that excuses my friend's conclusoins. It reads there are other likelier sources of fever than Spaulding's Bay, whereas the copy reads there are other likely sources, &c. Let me conclude by hoping that the proper steps will be taken to obtain full and correct information about this whole momentous matter, and whatever is found should be done, let it be done most thoroughly.

Yours, etc.,
ANOTHER RATEPAYER.

AN AFFAIR OF HONOR.

Senator Mahone Arrested at Washington—The Dispute With General Early.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Late to-night Senator Mahone was waited on at his residence by detectives and taken into custody. The arrest was made at the instance of Samuel Strong, of Washington, who received information which he believed to be from a reliable source, that General Early had challenged Mahone to fight a duel and that the latter had accepted the challenge. Mahone denied before the judge that he had received a challenge from Early, saying the latter was too old and feeble to fight, and adding that all their differences had been harmonized. After a brief delay the Senator was released on his personal bond. He will appear in court on Monday to answer to the charge.

See to It?

Zopesa, (from Brazil) will cure the worst case of Dyspepsia. A single dose will relieve in a degree that shows its wonderful curative powers, and its peculiar action on the Stomach and Digestive Organs. It is a positive and absolute cure for Costiveness and Constipation, acting in a remarkable way upon the system, carrying off impurities. As a LIVER REGULATOR its actions are most remarkable. It tones and stimulates the Liver to action, it corrects the acids and regulates the bowels. A few doses will surprise you. Sample bottles 10 cents.

Why will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's German prescription, and it is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced their has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced. 2d1w1y

Consumption Can be Cured.

In this changeable climate of ours, every one should remember that DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY has proven itself to be a positive cure for consumption, asthma, bronchitis, and all lung diseases. It has saved the lives of many even after all hope had fled. Many of the most intelligent families would as soon be without woolen clothing in winter, as to not have WISTAR'S BALSAM always on hand, for it never fails to immediately relieve all soreness of the throat and lungs. A single dose taken at bed time will gently warm the blood, cause refreshing slumber, and by morning an ordinary cough or cold will be gone. Ask your druggist and your friends concerning the merit of WISTAR'S BALSAM, and be wise. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. Brown's Bronchial Troches do not disorder the stomach like cough syrup and balsams, but act directly on the Inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c. a box everywhere. d52w9

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

They cured me of Ague, Bilousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had half a bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough.—B., Rochester, N. Y.—American Rural Home.

Have You Tried It?

If so you can testify to its marvellous powers of healing and recommend it to your friends. We refer to Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, the grand specific for all summer complaints, diarrhœa, cholera morbus, dysentery, cramps, cholic, sickness of the stomach and bowel complaints of infants or adults. Let its merits be known to all who have not used it.

Dairy Produce.

It is now an ascertained fact, that where HARVELL'S CONDITION POWDERS are mixed with the feed of cows, the quantity and quality of their milk are vastly augumented and improved, while their health is rendered all but impregnable. These great specifics are sold everywhere.

In the month of October Typhoid, Bilious, and Malarial Fevers are very prevalent. For a sure preventative take, according to directions, DR. CARSON'S STOMACH BITTERS. They purify the System and cool the Blood. They are used to great advantage in Fever and Ague districts. In large 8 oz. bottles, at 50 cents. J. D. TULLY, special agent for Peterborough.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcules which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For e'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Or write the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man;"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard:
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

'Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The sublest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide,
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine—
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Faultless fit, splendid style, vast variety, good work and a very great saving in price will be found in M. & A's. Mantles and Ulsters.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Dogs vs Sheep.

Sheep raising is by no means the least important branch of Canadian farming, and yet one would suppose it was either not of very much importance, or at least of less importance than the raising of dogs, were they to draw this natural inference from the frequence with which we are called upon to chronicle the destruction of the former by the latter. On Tuesday and Wednesday nights of last week, Mr. F. Birdsall, of Asphodel, had some thirty sheep so badly worried by dogs that the majority of them might better have been killed outright. Now, this sort of thing is too much for human nature to endure patiently, and the result must be that either the sheep killing dogs or the sheep must go to the wall. We know that the dog tax question is a vexed one, but surely a dog that is worth keeping is worth paying a tax for—especially if the tax goes in reduction of other taxes. A great deal has been said about taxing the poor man's dog, but we imagine there is about as little in this poor man's cry as there is in many others of the same kind.

Pink Eye.

An exchange says that it is reported that the disease among horses known as pink eye has appeared in Toronto and elsewhere, but as yet has not assumed any proportions and is not known in this section. The first symptom of this disease is a running of the eyes or a swelling about the nose. Then the legs swell, a high fever sets in, the horses becomes very depressed and refuse food. As soon as the fever is broken the equine patient recovers rapidly. With proper care and treatment the disease is rapidly controlled. Dr. E. S. Brown, Veternary Surgeon of the Chicago Fire Department, has had a large number of cases in charge and has not lost a single animal. He uses aconite, belladona and arsenicum and sweats the horse about the head and throw to draw out the inflammation. He encourages them to eat, giving them bran, oats, or, if they do not tempt the appetite, ears of corn. He also administers cold water freely and frequently. He does not advise giving them warm food of any kind. The disease lasts from three to ten days.

Bible Society.

Public meetings in advocacy of the claims of the Bible Society, will be held on the evening of the 24th inst., commencing at 7 o'clock as follows, when addresses will be delivered by the Rev. Gentlemen and others, whose names are respectively appended:—

STEWART'S SCHOOL HOUSE, (River Road,) Rev. Mr. Torrance and Dr. Fife.

SALEM, Bible Christian Church, Rev. Mr. Shaw and William Wand.

TOWN HALL, NORTH MONAGHAN, Rev. Mr. Bell and Jas. Edwards.

ROBINSON'S CHURCH, SMITH, Rev. Mr. Joliffe and Col. Haultain.

SECOND LINE SMITH, Rev. Mr. Stobo and J. B. Nicholls.

NASSAU, TEMPLE ROOMS, Rev. Mr. Workman and J. Carnegie.

SWAN'S CORNERS, Rev. W. Bennett and J. Stratton.

That Bad Sidewalk.

The types made us say yesterday that the bad sidewalk referred to in our local, was on Aylmer street. It should have read Bethune street. The Street Inspector informs us that the sidewalk is the worst in town, but at the same time he cannot repair it at present, but hopes to be able to do so before the snow falls.

A Challenge.

The Secretary of the Football Club has received a challenge from the Secretary of the Toronto club, desiring to placing a match with our club in Port Hope, at an early date. The matter will be considered at the next meeting.

The Rifle Matches.

Unusual interest appears to be taken in the forthcoming rifle matches. Quite a large number of persons are practising almost every day. Some good shooting and close contests may be expected.

POLICE COURT.

VAGRANCY.

MONDAY, Oct. 19.—Jennie Fair, an old woman, hailing from Millbrook or vicinity, was arrested on Saturday evening by P. C. McGhee, on a charge of vagrancy. She was remanded to gaol until this morning, when she appeared before the magistrate.

She was allowed to go upon promising to leave town, which she did at once.

Springville Church.

We take the following from the last number of the Canada Presbyterian:—

"On Sabbath, the 23rd January last, the congregation of Springville in the Presbytery of Peterborough, lost their church by fire. On Sabbath, the 2nd October, a new and much more beautiful edifice was dedicated to God's service. The day was most propitious. There were three diets of worship in connection with the opening exercises. MR Blain, the former pastor, preached in the morning; Mr. W. M. Roger, the son of Mr. Blain's predecessor, in the afternoon; and the Rev. T. Manning, of the Methodist Church, in the evening. In the morning Mr. Roger preached in the village Hall to those who could not find entrance into the church, and Mr. Blain in the afternoon, so that altogether there were five services at Springville on the day mentioned. On the Monday evening following there was a most successful tea-meeting in the drill-shed. After tea the friends adjourned to the church, where they were addressed by the Rev. Messrs. Blain, Roger, Manning and Torrance, the chair being occupied by Rev. Mr. Bennett, the pastor of the congregation. A very efficient choir, led by Mr Galletly, of Peterborough, discoursed sweet music to the great delight of the meeting. The collections on the Sabbath amounted to $111, and the proceeds of the tea-meeting and the social, on Tuesday evening, to about $130. The church is completely finished, and almost free of debt. The new church has been opened under the most auspicious circumstances. Shortly after the burning of the old church, which took place on the morning of the communion Sabbath, a religious awakening was experienced in the congregation and neighbourhood. Meetings were held in the hall in the village, night after night for three weeks. Many declared themselves on the side of Christ, and thirty-five, a gain of fifty per cent., united with the Church at our communion in May last. Old members have been greatly revived. Some who formerly lived in the neglect of ordinances are now regular in their attendance upon the Sabbath services, so that not only the membership but the number of the worshippers has greatly increased. May the text of the morning on the opening day be abundantly realized: "The glory of this latter house shall be greater than the glory of the former."

More Honors.

For many years the Peterborough schools have taken a high place among similar institutions in the Province, and judging by the record of the scholars this year, the school has not only maintained its prestige but has taken a step onward. At the Queen's College, Kingston, matriculation examinations, three ex-pupils of our Collegiate Institute carried off three of the principal prizes, viz:—

(1) Leitch Memorial No. 1, awarded on matriculation examination in mathematics, $57, won by J. J. Wright.

(2) Rankine Scholarship, awarded on matriculation in English, $55, won by John Douglas.

(3) Redden prize, awarded on matriculation examination in Latin, $20, won by Max. Dennistoun.

The results of the Toronto University examinations held last June show that of the pupils from our school, two took first class honors and six second class. The results referred to above cannot be but gratifying, not only to the able staff of teachers but to the citizens at large. We extend our congratulations to the young men and wish them even greater success at future examinations.

A Strange Occurrence.

Owing to the N.P. or some other cause the leading carpenter shop in Ashburnham has under gone a cleaning up. A person is now able to pass through and have his feet touch the floor. The absence also of that painful expression to be seen on the faces of the employees as they climbed up one side of a heap of debris and decended down the other, is one of the results that may be particularly noticed. The patrons of the establishment may now go in without any hesitation, there is no longer to be seen dismay depicted on their countenances, as they contemplated the desperate undertaking before them. These are important matters, and have effected such a revolution that it indicates that there has been a reform initiated which it would be very desirable to see carried out.

A Complaint.

We have been asked to call the attention of the General Manager of the Midland Railway to the continued inconvenience occasioned by trains being left standing on the track across Charlotte street. We are quite sure it is impossible to avoid this sometimes, especially when the freight traffic is heavy, but it is complained that this obstruction frequently occurs when no other excuse seems to exist than that the train men will not take the trouble to shunt the cars off the street into the siding, when there is plenty of room for them.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, at 10.00 a. m., are as follows:—Lakes—Fresh to strong, northerly to westerly wind. Clearing cool weather.

Nearly Out.

The fire in the tanbark near Paterson's tannery burned up quite highly last night, but today it is pretty well burned out. The small quantity of bark saved is good only for fire wood, as it cannot be used for tanning.

Fixed.

One of the corporation men to-day laid some new planks on Brock street, to replace those torn up. The stagnant pool which for some time has ornamented Brock street east, has also been let off.

An Improvement.

The building just south of Cluxton's new block is being raised a storey higher, making it uniform with the buildings at the south end, vastly improving the appearance of the stores.

Cattle In South America

A correspondent referring to the cattle raising in South America says: In all these countries the life of the cattle is wholly free. The stock raiser, or estancier, is the owner of a very extensive tract of pasture land, and he leaves the animals to live upon it, feed themselves, and multiply at their will. The stock even in the wildest and least populous regions, form small herds of 100 to 150 head, which are made up of steers, cows, calves and bulls; but are always composed of the same individuals, and always inhabit the same very limited region of the campo, and the animals pass their lives within this region without being confined by any interclosure. The distinctive character of the groups is especially curious in the more populous regions, as the southern part of Rio Grande of Montevideo, where herds may be seen almost in contact without mixing coming together and making themselves up generally without trouble, and they live thus side for years without becoming acquainted with each other. Each herd is so coherent that when one of its members takes fright and runs away all will follow it. In consequence of this habit it is very difficult when cattle are sold to separate them from the herds and to get them along for the first few leaguer. If they are not watched they will escape, pass by thousands of other animals without noticing them and join their companions.

TRAPPED AND MURDERED.

How a Winghan Man Lost His Life in Dakota—Led to the Slaughter.

Mitchell Hadwin, a farmer resident of Wingham, whose father carried on business as a drug. gist in this town for many years, was arrested a few days ago and lodged in the Fargo gaol on the charge of murder. His alleged victim is James McAdams, formerly of Lucknow. The crime was committed on the 28th of September last in a saloon at a place called Wheatland, twenty seven miles west of Fargo, in Dakota. The murdered man was about 25 years of age, both strong and powerful. He entertained an insane aversion against Roman Catholics, which he could not hide when under the influence of liquor. Mitchell Hadwin, knowing this, and entertaining towards him a deep hatred for some maltreatment he had received at his hands when both were residents of this neighborhood entrapted him in a saloon frequented by Roman Catholics, where he knew from his outspoken remarks, being then in liquor, that he would soon get into difficulties. Hadwin's calculations were correct. Twob rothers named McDonough attacked him, he had them both down. At this conjuncture "Mich.," it is alleged, pulled from his pocket a pair of heavy steel knuckles, and used them four of five times on the back part of the head as McAdams was on the floor pummelling the McDonoughs, who were beneath him. He was instantly killed, and in the presence of many witnesses, who have sworn that the saloon-keeper with two drawn revolvers prevented any interference until the slaughter was effected. He also is in prison, and will be tried at the same time that Hadwin undergoes his trial.—Globe.

The Female Agitator.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Miss Anna Parnell, secretary of the Ladies' Land League, of Dublin, telegraphs:—"A young girl was deliberately shot in her parlour by constables in Limerick yesterday. The Government has established a reign of terror in the streets of Dublin. Secret information has been received that the Government is trying to create an opportunity to let loose six thousand troops on the citizens. Thousands more arrests are expected, though already the gaols are overflowing." She appeals to the brethren in America for aid for the widows and orphans, and for the homeless and starving and wounded victims.

DUBLIN PROCLAIMED

DUBLIN, Oct. 18.—At a meeting of the Privy Council just concluded, it was decided to proclaim the city to-night under some Police Act, the exact terms of which have not yet been learned. The proclamation will be issued at four o'clock, ordering all good citizens to remain at home, and warning them that all who go abroad do so at their peril.

FROM THE FROZEN SEAS.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Captain Adams, of the Dundee whaler Arctic, just returned from Davis Straits, says he visited the scene of the loss of the Erebus and Terror of the Franklin expedition. He found the house and store of provisions near the Franklin monument in a wretched condition. In Fury and Hecla strait the Esquimaux gave him particulars which appear to clear up the fate of the last survivors of the Franklin expedition. After the loss of the ships seventeen men started overland, hoping to reach Hudson's bay, but only three survived the journey to the house of the narrator's father. One of these is supposed to have been Lieut. Crozier, who died first, and the death of the others soon followed.

FORCE MET BY FORCE.

LONDON, Oct 18.—Lord Carlingford (Liberal) who as Mr. Chichester Fortecuse was twice Chief Secretary for Ireland, said at Radstock last evening that there was no ground left for an agreement between the Government and the people on one side and the Land League and its leaders on the other. Ths Land League had unhappily chosen to carry the issue into quite a a different field of force. He trusted there would be no armed insurrection in Ireland, and that no excited body of men would compel an armed force to shed blood; but still, the methods of the League were such as could only be met by force in some shape.

FRENCH STATISTICS.

PARIS, Oct. 18.—The imports into France have decreased 138,000,000 francs during the first nine months of 1881 compared with the same period in 1880, and the exports have increased 31,000,000 francs. The decrease and increase were principally under the head of food.

EFFECTS OF THE GALE.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—It is estimated that 43,670 tons of produce, including 20,494 tons of coal were lost at sea during the gale. The majority of the wrecked vessels were colliers, but the general produce, as well as the building materials, petroleum, herring, tar, and oilcake lost aggregate 13,257 tons. The balance of the losses consisted of salt, iron, and timber. The crew of the British barque Snowdonia, Captain Roberts, which foundered off North Sunderland, were all lost.

PAPAL TROUBLES.

ROME, Oct 18.—The Italian pilgrims were assailed yesterday evening with cries of "Death to the Pope," and "Down with the Vatican." A tumult ensued, and the police arrested several persons.

THE LEAGUE MANIFESTO.

DUBLIN, Oct. 18.—The following is the text of the League manifesto issued yesterday:—

"FELLOW-COUNTRYMEN,—The hour has come to test whether the great organization built up during years of patient labour and sacrifice, and consecrated by the allegiance of the whole Irish race the world over, is to disappear at the summons of British tyranny. The crisis with which we are face to face is not of our making. It has been deliberately forced upon the country while the Land Act is yet untested, in order to strike down the only power which might have extorted any solid benefits for the tenant farmers of Ireland from that Act, and to leave them once more helplessly at the mercy of the law invented to save landlordism, and administered by the landlords' minions. The executive of the Irish National Land League, acting on the spirit of the resolutions of the national convention, the most freely elected representative body ever assembled in Ireland, was advancing steadily in its work of testing the Land Act. At the same time they took measures to secure (in the event of the Land Act proving to be a mere paltry mitigation of the horrors of landlordism in order to fasten it more securely upon the necks of the people) that the tenant farmers should not be delivered blindfolded into the hands of hostile law courts, but should be able to fall back upon the magnificent organization which was crushing landlordism out of existence, when Mr. Gladstone stepped in to his rescue. Blow after blow has been struck at the Land League in the mere wantonness of brute force. In the face of provocation which has turned men's blood to flame, the executive adhered calmly and steadily to the course traced out for them by the national convention. Test cases of a varied and searching character were with great labour put in trim for adjudication in the Land Courts. Even the arrest of Mr. Parnell and the excited state of feeling which is evoked did not induce the executive to swerve in the slightest from that course. But the events which have since occurred, the seizure of almost all the members of the executive and chief officials of the League upon preposterous pretences, and the violent suppression of free speech, put it beyond any possibility of doubt that the English Government, unable to declare the Land League an illegal association, defeated the attempt to break its unity, and afraid to abide the result of the test cases, has deliberately resolved to destroy the whole machinery of the central League with a view to rendering the experimental trial of the Act impossible, and of forcing it upon the Irish tanant farmer on the Government's own terms. Only one constitutional weapon now remains in the hands of the League. It is the strongest, swiftest, and most irresistible of all. We hesitated to advise our fellow-countrymen to employ it until the savage lawlessness of the English Government has provoked a crisis in which they must either consent to see the Irish tenant farmers disarmed of their organization, and laid once more prostrate at the feet of the landlords, and every murmur of Irish public opinion suppressed with an armed band, or appeal to our countrymen to at once resort to the only means now left in their hands of bringing this false and brutal Government to its senses.

"Fellow-countrymen, the hour to try your souls and to redeem your pledges has arrived. The executive of the National Land League, forced to abandon its policy of testing the Land Act, feels bound to advise the tenant farmers of Ireland, from this day forth, to pay no rents under any circumstances to their landlords until the Government relinquishes the existing system of terrorism, and restores the constitutional rights of the people. Do not be daunted by the removal of your leaders; do not fret yourselves by threats of military violence. It is as lawful to refuse to pay rents as it is to receive them. Against the passive resistance of the entire population military power has no weapon. Funds may be poured out unstintingly for the support of all who may endure eviction in the course of the struggle. Our exiled brothers in America may be relied upon to contribute, if necessary, as many millions of money as they have thousands to starve out landlordism, and bring English tyranny to its knees. You have only to show that you are not unworthy of their boundless sacrifices. One more crowning struggle for your lands, your homes, your lives—a struggle in which you have all the memories of your race, all the hopes of your kindred, and all the sacrifices of your imprisoned brothers.',

ANOTHER INVESTIGATION.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—A private investigation has been ordered by the Emperor into the charges made against M. Walewieff, President of the Council of Ministers, in connection with the diversion and sale at nominal prices of 80,000 hectares of Crown lands. M. Walewieff is deeply compromised. He loses the office of President of the Council.

WHAT THE LONDON PAPERS SAY.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Post says we consider the insane manifesto by the Land League a direct forernner of civil war. We understand it to say that war to the knife is proclaimed. So far there is no flinching on either sides. The Telegraph says that nothing can be more explicit than the determination of the Land Leaguers to force the conflict with the Government.

HESSY HELFMANN.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—The report of the accouchement and transportation to the fortress of Schlissalbourg of the prisoner Hessy Helfmann is untrue. She is still in the fortress of Petropaulovski. She will be confined this month or next.

DUBUQUE, Oct. 19.—The Levee is almost submerged. The railways on the river front are twenty feet under water. The water is now far above high water mark and a foot more is expected.

UP AMONG THE CLOUDS.

LERATA, Wis., Oct. 19.—King's balloon has been traced several miles north-west of Metore, and all trace at the latter place was lost. King there threw out anchors which touched the water in a mill dam, when the balloon was less than 500 feet high. The people indistinctivley heard King ask the people if they saw him throw out a package of letters which he asked them to mail for him. Several saw the package thrown out, but could not find it afterwards. The balloon then shot upwards at a rapid and fierce velocity and disappeared behind the bluffs.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1881.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

It has become so common a practice for publishers of weekly newspapers at this season of the year to hold out some special inducements to subscribers for the ensuing year, and especially the new ones, that our readers will easily understand that it is only after mature consideration, and for what appear to us good and sufficient reasons that we have determined to abandon all such devices to catch a few stray subscribers. It is quite true that larger papers can be had for less money, but we dispute the correctness of such a test in the case of papers any more than that of books. No one of any intelligence thinks of valuing a book by the quantity of paper it contains. It is valued by the "brains" that have been put into it and so should it be with the newspaper. Instead of looking for the cheapest paper, the question should be, which is the best paper? Best, consisting in quality, not quantity. In adopting the policy which we have decided upon, and to which we intend to adhere strictly, we are well aware that the judiciousness of our course will be questioned, and that our price will be compared with the big Toronto weeklies. The way to cope with them is not, however, by cutting prices or clubbing, but by raising the standard of the country press. So far as clubbing is concerned, our experience is that it is of much greater advantage to the city paper than the country one. If the country paper is not worth taking by itself, it is scarcely worth taking as an appendage to either the Globe or Mail, while the placing of it in such a position is calculated to lower it in the estimation of the public. At the price for which these big weeklies are issued, it is obvious to any one acquainted with the cost of their publication that taken by themselves they can yield little or no profit to the publishers. If this be so then the object of their publication can hardly be other than to weaken the country press and increase their own power—a result anything but in the interest of the country, however much it may be in that of their publishers, through the power which, if successful, it would enable them to wield over their political friends. The true policy of the country press is not to lower the price of their papers—the reader who will throw up a paper on the question of half a dollar per annum is of little value to the publisher or the advertiser who patronizes him—but to increase as far as possible the amount given in return to the subscriber for his money. A half dollar is very little to the subscriber, but to the publisher it is hundreds of dollars per annum, and affords the means for many expenditures in the interest of his readers, which would otherwise be impossible. At least this is our conviction, and we propose to act upon it.

THE DYNAMITE GANG.

An Attempt to Burn the Cunard Steamship "Bothnia"—A Timely Discovery.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The News says:—"Excitement was created at police head quarters to-day on recipt of information from the inspector and captain of police that an attempt had been made last night to burn the steamship Bothnia, of the Cunard line, lying at her pier on the North River. The fact was communicated to the police officials by the agent of the Cunard line and the officers of the Bothnia that it was believed the attempted incendiarism was the work of Irish revolutionists. Captain McNicholas, of the Bothnia, stated that some parties came aboard and scattered a fluid which burned over the runners of the passage way between the state rooms. The flames were discovered in time, and extinguished by the chief steward with assistance. Phosphorus was used and gasoline or other inflammable stuff. The parties left four bottles which contained phosphorus. Visitors are allowed aboard on Sundays, and there is no clue to the perpetrators."

It is said explosives have been offered as freight and been refused by the Cunard line and other English steamers.

Death from Paralysis.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 17.—John Cox, who was found in a barn on Friday suffering from a paralytic stroke, died this morning. He was a farmer living on the Hastings road, and had come to town for supplies.

In the cotton mill of which Mr. Cross, M. P., is the principal proprietor, at Bolton, is a thirty-foot-fly-wheel which runs a belt at the rate of a mile a minute. On the ends of the fingers of persons who point at the belt pencils of electric light are seen.

A Wise Deacon.

"Deacon Wildes, I want you to tell me how you kept yourself and family well the past season, when all the rest of us have been sick so much, and have had the doctors visiting us so often." Bro. Taylor, the answer is very easy, I used Hop Bitters in time; kept my family well and saved the doctor bills. Three dollars worth of it kept us well and able to work all the time. I'll warrant it has cost you and the neighbors one to two hundred dollars apiece to keep sick the same time." "Deacon, I'll use your medicine hereafter."

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and a complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

BUDDIE McRAE'S DEATH.

The Prisoner Browne Acquitted on Saturday—No Criminal Agency Proved.

BUFFALO, Oct. 15.—The trial of Archibald W. Browne for the murder of Buddie McCrae came to a close this evening.

Wm. H. Sparling, telegrapher at Chatham, testified to the receipt of telegrams at his office.

William A. Campbell, Clerk of the Court of County Kent, knew that Pynchon telegraphed to Browne. "The Courts are ready; come soon." The witness asked Brown to explain his connection with Miss McCrae. This matter the prisoner explained satisfactorily. Browne was the best man witness ever had in his office.

Mr. McCrae was recalled. He said that "J. Maynard and wife, Toronto," on the hotel register was written by Browne, though somewhat disguised.

Judge Beckwith stated that he must exclude the testimony given by Dr. Pynchon at the coroner's investigation.

The prosecuting attorney announced that his case was closed.

The counsel for the prisoner, Mr. Clinton, asked the Court to direct the jury to find a verdict of not guilty. He made the motion on the grounds that the corpus delicti had not been established, and that the connection of the prisoner with the supposed crime had not been shown. The counsel continued—The evidence facts go to show that if any murder has been committed there can be no conviction for abortion, because that is not even homicide, and under the indictment the conviction must be for murder in some of its degrees. The accused has been extradited from Canada to stand trial for murder, and the conviction, if any, must be for that offence and none other.

The prosecuting counsel said that his theory was that the evidence adduced might lead to a verdict of manslaughter in the fourth degree.

Mr. Clinton continued that this theory was evidently indulged in on account of the death of Cynthia McCrae. He reviewed the evidence and quoted the Court of Appeals in support of his statements. He said that the only proof was that Miss McCrae died from unknown cause.

Prosecutor Hatch argued that when he showed the death he could circumstantially prove its cause.

Mr. Clinton reiterated the points of his motion.

At 2:30 this afternoon a recess of half an hour was taken. At the expiration of the recess, Mr. Clinton continued his argument, which he concluded at 4:30. The argument in response on behalf of of the people was then begun by District-Attorney Hatch, who made a brief though animated review of the cardinal points of the evidence for the prosecution, and concluded by asking for a ruling of the Court that the case go to the jury for them to find a verdict of manslaughter in the fourth degree.

Judge Beckwith at six o'clock stated that he had listened to the arguments with great interest. He always hesitated about taking a civil or criminal case from the jury unless plainly justified in doing so. In this case duty and safety required him to direct a verdict of acquittal for the defendant. In this case the corpus delicti was not proved. The death of Cynthia McCrae was not disputed, but it was not shown by direct evidence that any criminal agency was used in bringing it about. Browne was then acquitted and discharged from custody. Judge Beckwith decided that the first indictment against Browne and Pynchon, for abortion, was quashed, so far as Browne was concerned.

The District-Attorney, at the request of Mr. Clinton, stipulated to try Dr. Pynchon at the beginning of the next term of the Criminal Court, to be held in November.

Browne left to-night for his home in Chatham, where his wife is very sick. A juryman stated to-night that at the time the prosecution closed nine were for acquittal and three were uncertain. The result was not a surprise to lawyers here.

AN AFFECTING SCENE IN COURT.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 17.—An evening paper publishes the following affecting interview as a sequel to the McCrae case against A. W. Browne:—

"When the verdict was rendered William A. McCrae, the father of the unfortunate woman, burst into tears and wept like a child. 'It's too bad, it's too bad,' sobbed he, 'for God knows I am entitled to better justice at His hands. I have spent time and money to bring this person to his proper punishment; I have traced him high and low; I have hunted his tracks like a hound; I have done everything possible that his crime against our household might be properly expiated, but all for naught. Poor, poor Buddie! I tell you, sir' said he with falturing voice, as he turned to a reporter, 'she was the pet of of our family, and I honestly believe there was not a better dispositioned girl, there was not a kinder, more womanly girl on the continent, and when I came to Buffalo and learned under what circumstances she died, my first impulse was to rush to a gun store and obtain a weapon for the instant destruction for the base betrayer, but District Attorney Titus and Surrintendant Wolf quieted me, and advised me not to do any violence, but to allow the law to take its course. I followed their advice, and have done everything to assist justice to a speedy reward. Alas! My sons have shared my sentiment in regard to this person, and have frequently threatened him. Often have my relatives in Chatham telegraphed me at Dunnville, at all times of day and night, 'Come down quick, or Allie (that is my youngest, a fiery fellow) will kill Browne;' and I have been obliged to go, and had to beg on my knees that he would do nothing of the kind. I pleaded, 'My son, don't do that; if any shooting is to be done let me do it. I am old, and hav'nt long to live, and can easily bear the ill results of such an action.' But now that we have failed to obtain justice, owing to the insufficiency of evidence, only the Lord knows what Allie will do. I feel outraged at my want of success in the courts. But next time if any one of our family is led astray, I shall take the law into my own hands and try the effect of lead. But, sir, if nothing else results from my efforts I hope it will be a warning to some poor girl who has a tendancy to step into the wayward path. If it prevents her from going astray I shall feel fully compensated. In looking up this case I have come across many similar ones, which I know have never been whispered publicly and never will be known.

PAPER MAKING IN NORWAY.

If pine trees might have preference among all the strange destinies of transformation to which they are born, one could easily fancy their choosing to be wrought into paper. It takes but five minutes to do this in one of the Honefos mills by that brace of confederate prestidigitateurs, steam and water. The roar, and fizz, and clink with which they do it sound weird enough in the heart of the fir forest, where the mill stands, and the change is swifter than the eye can well follow. The logs are sawed in lengths of fourteen inches, split into quarters, smoothed, piled into a huge iron wheel, revolving in water, grinds them into pulp, and tosses the pulp into troughs and pipes. Here it is sifted and strained, then carried up into a huge revolving hopper, it is ground still finer; then poured out and rolled in layers on huge iron rollers covered with woollen cloth. Off these rollers it comes in solid sheets, is folded, and put into presses to drip and dry, like newspapers. Just five minutes from the time the logs go into the iron wheel at the upper end of the mill they come out at the lower end in thick sheets. These are shipped to England, to be there mixed with linen and made into thinner paper.

Seven thousand dollars a year the pine forest makes in this way for its owner; but to do it wheels run and men work night and day all the year round, except from six o'clock to six o'clock on Sundays.

The overseer, who seemed an enthusiast, said that his one ambition in life was to have such a mill of his own. "But I shall not get one," he said, sadly, "I am paid but forty dollars a month, and it takes that to support my family. Norway is a hard country for a man to rise in. He must go to America for that."

The mill stands on the edge of, almost over, a grand waterfall, the spray of which fills the air and makes still stronger the aromatic odor of bruised pine. On every side stretch away forests of trees awaiting their turn to die into new life. The spot is full of wild and poetic significance. Allied to secrets, from first to last, is the tree that goes from the realms of the upper air, solitude of night and stars, birds, and the winds of morning, to become voiceless messenger, faithful hoarder, of the purpose, power, passion, worship of men. From papyrus to pine, a long lineage of honor. The Mohammedan is right when he reverently treasures the smallest fragment of paper, because it may have borne or bears the name of God.

The Cedars of Lebanon.

The once famous and extensive cedar forest of Lebanon, according to a writer in the Vienna Politische Correspondenz, has dwindled down to the dimensions of a mere thicket, numbering about four hundred trees. To save it from complete destruction, and preserve it at least in its present extent, Rustem Pasha, the Governor-General of the Lebanon, has issued a special ordinance, containing a series of stringent regulations calculated to check, if not quite put a stop to, the vandalism and carelessness of most travellers. It is expressly forbidden to put up tents or other kinds of shelter in the district of the trees, or to light fires or cook any provisions in their vicinity. No one is allowed to break off a bough or even a twig from the trees. It is forbidden to bring any beasts of burden within the district. Should oxen, sheep, goats or other pasturage cattle be found within the prescribed limits, they will be irredeemably confiscated.—Scientific American.

Consumption Can be Cured.

In this changeable climate of ours, every one should remember that DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY has proven itself to be a positive cure for consumption, asthma, bronchitis, and all lung diseases. It has saved the lives of many even after all hope had fled. Many of the most intelligent families would as soon be without woolen clothing in winter, as to not have WISTAR'S BALSAM always on hand, for it never fails to immediately relieve all soreness of the throat and lungs. A single dose taken at bed time will gently warm the blood, cause refreshing slumber, and by morning an ordinary cough or cold will be gone. Ask your druggist and your friends concerning the merit of WISTAR'S BALSAM, and be wise. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying: "However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. Brown's Bronchial Troches do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the Inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c. a box everywhere. d52w9

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had half a bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough.—B., Rochester, N. Y.—American Rural Home.

LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For e'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Or write the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man,"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard;
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The sublest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide,
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine—
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Faultless fit, splendid style, vast variety, good work and a very great saving in price will be found in M. & A's. Mantles and Ulsters.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1881.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

A Cool Theft.

On Monday evening a millwright who has been working for Mr. G. C. Rogers lost his tool chest and tools, in a rather peculiar manner. It appears that the millwright got a man to draw his chest to the Midland station, some time before the night train started. The chest was taken to the station and left on the platform, no person imagining that any harm would come to it. Shortly after the chest was left, a stranger came along and had it checked for Toronto along with some other baggage. When the real owner came along and made inquiries for his chest, he soon found out that an unknown man had taken possession of it, but the baggage-man was unable to give a description of the man. The rightful owner at once telegraphed a description of the chest and tools to Toronto, but so far has not heard anything of it. The chest and tools were worth about $1500.

Building Notes.

Dr. Geo. Burnham's new residence on water street is fast approaching completion. Mr. J. J. Hartley has made a first class job of the brickwork. The house, when finished, will be an ornament to the street. The doctor is evidently bound to ward off fire, as his buildings are surrounded by a brick fire wall on the west side, a wise precaution, in this case.

Mr. W. Cluxton's addition to his block will soon be ready for occupation. It is one of the handsomest blocks in town.

In all directions new roofs are being put on buildings to prepare for the rain and snow of the approaching fall and winter.

Here's Your Weather.

Vennor predicts for Great Britain a severe winter, preceded by a cold wet autumn. This cold weather will set in unusualy early, and the Clyde, Thames and other rivers, are likely to become firmly ice-locked. The heavy snowfalls this year bid fair to keep on the other side of the Atlantic. On this side the winter is likely to be, to a very considerable degree, open and mild, but between the mild periods there will in all probability be a few brief but intensely cold "dips," the first of these probably occuring toward the close of November and entry of December.

Football.

Endeavours are being made to arrange a match with the Toronto Football Club, to take place about the 11th of next month, or at an earlier date if it can be so arranged. The members are turning out well at the practices and a very good team can now be selected. There are however a few good players that do not turn out as often as they should.

Open Air Concert

We are requested to announce by a member of the Fire Brigade Band, that an open air concert will be given to-morrow afternoon at the Post Office corner, commencing at 2 o'clock. An excellent programme of new music will be rendered.

Pressed for Cars.

The Midland Railway authorities are just now greatly pressed for cars and cannot by any means supply the demand, although constant additions are being made to the rolling stock. May they ever continue to be pushed as hard.

Rather too Steep.

The Toronto papers state that the Messrs. Patersons' loss by the fire on Sunday morning is $20,000. As $2,000 are the figures, it is probable that the telegraph operators are responsible for the additional 0.

Lord Lorne's Medal.

The Governor-General's bronze medal, awarded to the candidate standing highest at the Intermediate examination, held at our Institute, was won by Mr. Orr. Last year it was won by Miss Smith.

No Issue.

Thursday being Thanksgiving day and a statutory holiday, the DAILY EVENING REVIEW will not make its appearance on that evening.

Ontario and Quebec Railway.

A Kingston telegram says that Mr. H. D. Lumsden, Chief Engineer of the Ontario and Quebec Railway, was in that city on Monday. He says the survey of the branch connecting the Kingston and Pembroke Railway at Sharbot Lake with the Canada Central at Perth will be completed about the beginning of December. The work is already done from Perth as far as Moberly, eight miles. Rock cutting will be done during the winter. The country to be traversed is pretty rough, but the grades are not excessively heavy. The townships of Oso, Bathurst and South Sherbrook will be crossed, and Sharbot Lake at a point somewhere at Allen's, near the K. and P. R. R. The engineering staff beside Mr. Lumsden, is composed of Messrs. G. L. Cumine, W. E. Yarnold, and D. G. Noble, and assistants, numbering in all sixteen. The road from Perth to Ottawa will not (at present) be built direct. There will be a kink in the line in order to take in Smith's Falls, but as it is the distance to the capital from Kingston will be about the same as via Brockville. Mr. Lumsden returned to Sharbot Lake on Tuesday afternoon.

Thanksgiving Day.

As far as we can ascertain Thanksgiving services will be held as follows in the various churches of the town to-morrow:—

St. John's, Episcopal, service at 11 a. m., Rev. J. W. R. Beck.

St. Luke's, Episcopal, 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m., Rev. Mr. Bradshaw.

St. Andrew's, Presbyterian, 11 a. m., Rev. A. Bell.

St. Paul's, Presbyterian, 11 a. m., Rev. E. F. Torrance. A collection will be taken up in aid of the poor of the congregation.

George street Methodist, 11 a, m., Rev. John Shaw.

Charlotte street Methodist, 7 p. m., Rev. Mr. Workman.

The Weather.

The weather to-day has been remarkably fine, and up to the time of writing the rain promised by probabilities has not made its appearance. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, at 10 a. m., are as follows:—Lakes—Fresh to strong winds from the south and south west, for the remainder of to-day. Fair to cloudy weather, higher temperature with rain to-night.

Personal.

Mr. R. Jaffray, of Toronto, one of the Directors of the Midland Railway, was in town on Tuesday.

Mr. Thomas Donnelly, of Belleville, formerly a resident of Peterborough, is in town.

Captain Howard, of the Hastings Star, was in town this morning.

Lumbering Operations.

Large gangs of men are leaving for the shanties almost every day. Messrs. Irwin & Boyd recently brought up over one hundred French Canadians, some of whom went to the Nassau Mills, and the remainder to Haliburton. Wages are ruling higher than for years past.

New Goods.

Use the Poland Metallic Hair Brush "for headache." British Plate Mirrors for ladies' toilet. Choice lot of those very desirable Gentlemens' Dressing Combs. TAYLOR & MACDONALD, Medical Hall, Corner of George and Hunter Streets.

Subscription Books.

Agents are wanted to canvass for subscription books, bibles, albums, &c., for Messrs. Ham & Brown, who have opened their office in Henthorn's block. They require twenty agents for this purpose and to canvass for Raymond's sewing machines. d75

All Quiet.

The police report that the town is unusually quiet, nothing of any moment having occurred for some days. The police court calendar for the last two days has been a blank and there are no summonses issued for any cases ahead.

Oysters! Oysters! Oysters!

THE FIRE BY-LAW.

(To the Editor of the Review.)

DEAR SIR,—I wish you, Mr. Editor, would insist upon our fire inspectors doing their duty. They take no notice of complaints made to them or to the Mayor. Their attention has time and again been called to the breach of the fire by-law by Mr. George McCombe, but still the thing goes on, and his sheds are being all built up again. By and bye there will be another great fire and perhaps then the rain will not come to our relief as it did before. When half the central part of the town is burnt up, it may be that then our officials will try to do their duty, a thing they will not do now.

Yours truly,
CITIZEN.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

MEAN THIEVES.—On Tuesday night, the 11th inst., after Mr. P. Young, senr., had retired to rest, sometime after 12 p.m., (having had to lock through some Lakefield sports with their canoes, en route for the back lakes,) some mean thief or thieves entered his garden at the rear of his dwelling house, where his bee hives are, and stole two boxes of honey from two hives, and also robbed part of a patent hive and injured it very much. Mr. Young feels grieved at his loss, and would willingly give a reward of twenty dollars to find out such miserably contemptible thieves. It is a pity the bees did not leave a lasting impression of their stings on them, as a token of their disgust at being robbed in the dark.

SHANTIES.—The steamer Tiger brought up from Lakefield 20 men, on Monday last, who arrived per noon train from Peterborough, at which place they were hired by Mr. P. Phalen, jr., for one of Mr. Geo. Chalmers' shanties, at Jack's Creek, head of Stoney Lake. They are indeed a fine orderly lot of fellows, strong and healthy looking. Mr. Chalmers' intends starting two more shanties next week.

REMOVING.—Our old friend Mr. L. G. Fobert intends leaving this place (where he has resided for over 15 years) for Bridgenorth, having leased the well known hotel known as Pope's hotel, for a term of years from Messrs. Rush & Elliott the proprietors. Mr. Fobert has been connected with lumbering for over twenty years in this section of country and Georgian Bay district, for the lumbering firms of Campbell and Hewson, and lately with McDougall and Ludgate. He is a shrewd business man and will make a capital landlord, therefore the travelling public will always find him at his post, and attentive to all their wants in his line of business. We bespeak for him a large share of public patronage in his new sphere of business, and hope he will do well. We are sorry to lose him as he is a good neighbour and an obliging citizen.

FENELON FALLS.

ACCIDENT.—The Gazette says that on Tuesday last Mr. John Kerr, Sr., of this village, met with an accident which we are glad to learn was much less serious than was at first reported. Mr. Kerr, who is bailiff of the 2nd Division Court, drives a sober looking black horse of mature age, and it is always well fed and occasionally has but little to do, it is apt to be playful at times, though never vicious. While quietly jogging along the road beyond Rosedale, some colts in a field passed along at full speed just inside the fence, and the old horse probably thought he would have a race with them. At any rate he started off at a gallop, and by some means the buggy came in contact with a fence, which tore two or three spokes out of one of the wheels, and came so near upsetting the vehicle that Mr. Kerr was thrown out. The horse after runing a short distance further, either repented of his misdeed and stopped of his own accord or was caught and brought back, and Mr. Kerr was helped into his buggy by a farmer who saw the accident from his doorway and went to see if he could be of any assistance. Mr. Kerr drove to his destination and then returned to Rosedale, but by the time he got there felt so unwell that Mr. John McIntyre, Sr., brought him home. Dr. Bryson was sent for, and rumour had it that his patient was very badly hurt, but such proves not to be the case. There are several bruises, especially on the right leg, and drawing a long breath causes a slight pain, but that is the worst, and we hope to hear in a few days that Mr. Kerr, who has nearly completed his 79th year, is as well and strong as ever.

THE NEW MILL.—The smoke-stack on McArthur & Thompson's new mill was put up last Monday, and those who assisted in its erection say it was one of the largest they ever saw, though none could give us the exact length and circumference. We expect every day to hear that the mill is in operation, and it is time it was, for the proprietors have been put to great loss and annoyance by repeated delays in the fulfilment of contracts for machinery, &c.

Symptoms of Dyspepsia or Indigestion, a dull heavy feeling in the stomach with a frequent disposition to vomit, Heartburn, loss of mental and physical force, DR. CARSON'S STOMACH AND CONSTIPATION BITTERS is the certain Remedy for this distressing complaint. In large bottles, at 50 cents. J. D. TULLY, agent for Peterborough.

It Toughens.

SOZODONT toughens the gums and makes them healthy, so that they hold in the teeth firmly. It removes the tarter, gives comfort, is economical of health and money, and when once used will never be given up. Try SOZODONT.

Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters are in every sense of the word a worthy family medicine, and we are glad to learn that they are rapidly taking the place of those nauseous little Pills. J. D. TULLY is agent for the Bitters here.

A Favorable Notoriety.—the good reputation of "Brown's Bronchial Troches" for the relief of Coughs, Colds, and Throat Diseases, has given them a favorable notoriety.

SUNDRIES!

The attention of Housekeepers is called to the following variety of edibles, a trial of any of which will be an attraction to the table and a gratification to the palate of the purchaser.

CRUSHED WHEAT:—Made from selected Canadian White Wheat by the new process, and is much superior to the ordinary cracked wheat, as a pleasant, light and nourishing breakfast dish.

EVAPORATED SWEET CORN:—An excellent article for the dinner table, esteemed as a delicacy and imparting pleasant variety to the tea table also. Is quite equal to green corn, and superior in the opinion of many to the Canned Corn as usually prepared.

PEA FLOUR:—Prepared in England by an entirely new process, and put up in tin cans. Is a peculiar "handy thing to have about the house." For Soups and Gravies it is simply matchless.

MIXED PICKLES:—An extra fine quality which we sell by the quart or gallon. A convenient, and for the consumer the cheapest mode of supplying the table with this appetizing condiment.

Our motto:—"Good goods at fair prices." All parcels sent free to any part of the town.

THE STEAMER Fawn from Fredrickton for St. John caught on the bar in the St. John river opposite Hamstead yesterday afternoon. A tug then attempted to pull her off with the result of starting some planks. The steamer filled with water and is still in that position. An attempt will be made to raise her. The Fawn is a side wheel steamer of 400 passengers capacity, is owned by Small & Hathway, and is insured.

This morning Mrs. Burke produced a paper parcel alleged to contain hair torn from her head by her daughter Kate, against whom the complaint was laid. It turned out that the hair was torn from the scalp of the daughter by the mother, whose husband described her as an habitual drunkard. The daughter was discharged and was advised to cleave unto the father.

CONDUCTOR LEAIER, of the G. W. R., was arrested this morning for embezzling the funds of the Company by collecting tickets, neglecting to punch them, and selling them to scalpers. Other arrests will follow.

NORWOOD.

LYNX SHOT.—The Register says that Mr. John Drain from the neighbourhood of Stoney Lake, while on his way to Norwood, the other day, down the ninth line of Dummer, shot a lynx which measured 6 feet in length.

Tin Cans.

Who can assign bounds for tinned or canned oysters from Baltimore, lobsters from Maine, salmon from Alaska, peaches from Florida and Maryland? One petroleum firm in the city of New York is said to cut up 600 boxes (30 tons) of tin plate daily. No less than 1,600,000 boxes are already absorbed yearly by the United States, more than three-fourths the consumption of the continent of Europe, of which quantity a full tenth goes to pack sardines at Nantes. Australian meat craves an ever increasing supply, while British biscuits, mustard, and gunpowder range in bright canisters all over the world. The home consumption is variously estimated at between 500,000 and 750,000 boxes per annum; but the returns to Government have not been ample and unreserved enough for any accurate figures to be laid down.—The Saturday Review.

ARCHBISHOP CROKE'S OPINION.

LIMERICK, Oct. 19.—Archbishop Croke strongly protested against the manifesto of the Land League.

FURTHER ARRESTS.

DUBLIN, Oct. 19.—Michael Power, a member of the Tralee branch of the League, was arrested on a charge of intimidation and treasonable conduct. Goodsell, a publican, has been arrested under the Coercion Act.

RENTS COMING IN.

Two hundred tenants of a large estate near Nenagh, county Tipperary, paid their rents today. The police tear down the "no rent" notices wherever pasted.

"NO RENT."

DUBLIN, Oct. 20.—Yesterday was one of suspense. The Land League had fired its last shot. Throughout Ireland had gone the cry "No rent." By yesterday morning's mail went to every corner of Ireland, to every member of the League, a large white placard printed in black-bodied type as follows:—

"NO RENT!

PARNELL, DAVITT,
DILLON,
SEXTON,
KETTLE,
BRENNAN,
EAGAN."

To-day there will not be an eye in Ireland which has not seen the last decree of the League.

A LARGE FUND.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The £500,000 given by the late Geo. Peabody in 1882 as a fund for building lodging houses for the poor at London, now amounts to £500,000.

SHIP WRECKED.

QUEENSTOWN, Oct. 20.—A heavy gale prevailed at Queenstown throughout the night and it is reported that a large unknown ship sunk outside of Roche's Point, and that the crew were lost. A schooner was wrecked off Dundee and six lives lost.

RUSSIA WILL CONSENT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 20.—The Russian ambassador at Constantinople informed the Porte that Russia does not object to the conclusion of an arrangement with the bondholders. It is believed Russia would consent to reduce her claims one-half, provided Turkey offered a reasonable rate of interest with substantial guarantees.

FACTION FIGHT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 19.—Two factions of Mecca fought outside the town, when several were killed and wounded on both sides.

MR. GLADSTONE'S HEALTH.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Mr. Gladstone is still confined to his rooms at Hawardon, but this afternoon he was better. He took cold while timber felling on Saturday.

DAMMED WITH FAINT PRAISE.

DUBLIN, Oct. 19.—The Freeman's Journal, in reference to the manifesto of the League, says: "We foresee dire confusion, ruin to individuals, possible strife and bloodshed. However opinions may differ as to the propriety or legality of the advice tendered to the people by the imprisoned leaders of the League, there can be no difference as to the eloquence and ability in which the case of the League is stated. We do not beleive the tenants will follow the consul not to pay rents. We believe a better and wiser spirit is springing up. There is shown in many districts an extreme desire to terminate this fruitless controversy. We have no proof yet that the land act will not be carried out otherwise than the most honest way.

LIBERTY.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—An interesting ceremony will take place on Monday, the 6th inst., in the workshops of the founders of the gigantic statute of Liberty destined for New York. The welding together of the different parts of the statue is to be done on that day. The first bolt will be knocked in by Minister Morton.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The lastet infernal machine, discovered by a Glascow postman, turns out to be made of springs and wheels, constituing the mechanism of a large movable toy shop.

THE LAND COURT.

DUBLIN, Oct. 19.—So intensely has public attention been concentrated on the crisis that the people read with surprise to-day that the Land court would sit to-morrow to hear cases under the new Act. The Commission has received notification of 350 cases, principally from Ulster and Connaught. No cause will be disposed of at present, the court intending merely to hear applications. The sub-commissions will then be sent on to the various districts to take evidence.

THE "JEANNETTE."

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Pall Mall Gazette prints a letter from B. G. Jenkins, commenting on the probability that the Hudson Bay Company will ask to send a small body of men down the Mackenzie river to search for the Jeannette crew. He says:—"I think it possible that in the summer of 1881 the Jeannette made her way north through some fortunate opening in the ice ring which encircles the polar region into comparatively mild quarters; and that she is now on her way home, or, being provisioned for three years, that she will spend another winter there."

MR. GLADSTONE'S HEALTH.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Some uneasiness prevails in London as to the health and safety of Mr. Gladstone. A gentleman who has just returned from Hawarden informs me that the Premier is still confined to his house with a chill and a sore throat he cought in the woods surrounding his castle for the purpose of ascertaining what damage the late gales had done to the trees. He did not rise to-day until past one. No one was admitted to the castle, and those approaching it are closely scanned by the policemen, of whom there are four on duty. The gentlemen met there the chief clerk of the police of the district, who said that the measure was a precautionary one, undertaken with the idea of deterring any attempt to molest Mr. Gladstone. Hawarden park has a placard at the entrance stating that it is "Free to visitors from sunrise to sunset," and the sombre uniform of a policeman is strangely out of keeping in the beautiful pleasure grounds of Hawarden, a typical English country gentleman's estate. It is a most unusal sight in England.

He will decide in the Chambers as to the number of witnesses to be allowed.

GUITEAU'S STRATEGY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A Washington special despatch to the Herald says that a prominent lawyer, who has known Guiteau for years, and who visited him yesterday, says "The assassin is either totally insane or plays madness with more remarkable precaution than would be possible for any one to do." Scoville will appeal for a continuation of the case for at least 30 days.

THE LOST AERONANTS.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Oct. 21.—King and his companion have arrived safely. The baloon descended in the woods sixty-five miles from here. The men were lost in the swamps for five days and suffered a great deal.

A LONG FAST.

NEWTON, N.J., Oct. 21.—Terrance Connolly yesterday ate a hearty meal, his first solid food for 107 days. He is suffering from consumption and claims that fasting improves his health.

THE MURDERED PRESIDENTS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—District Attorney Corkhill is about to publish a history of the assassination of President Lincoln, on which he has been engaged for years. He has also gathered material for a history of the assassination of President Garfield.

INTERNATIONAL COURTESIES.

YORKTOWN, Oct. 21.—The entire fleet yesterday saluted the English flag which was hoisted at the foremast of each vessel. Each vessel fired 21 guns. The batteries on land honored the British standard and the French displayed friendly sentiments towards the English by joining in the American salute. This was seconded by hearty cheers from the crowds on the cliffs.

CARDIFF.

THE WEATHER.—We are having very heavy rains now. There was quite a heavy fall of snow on Monday, the 10 inst., and very severe frost on Tuesday morning.

THE BUSH FIRES.—A correspondent says that the Superintendent of Colonization roads paid us a visit the other day to see what damage was done by the fires. He ordered two new bridges to be built, one on the Monck and one on the Burleigh Road; also that the burned crossways be repaired.

A BEAR.—Mr. Alex. Southworth, while exploring through the woods the other day, came unexpectedly on a very large bear, which rose up close to him in the thick underbrush. He was so close upon the brute that he had to stand back to fire at it. The ball penetrated the bear's heart, causing him to fall back quite dead.

THE MAIL ROUTE.—It was understood when the Hon. Billa Flint was out to Cheddar that he would get a change made in the route, so that the mail from Kinmount via Gooderham would run through to Cheddar and connect with mails from Bancroft and Peterborough, Wilberforce to be supplied from Cheddar. But the forms for a new contract have come out the same as the old, Cheddar being still left without any direct communication to the west, which is a great inconvenience to Cardiff. As Minden is our county town there is only five miles to make up and the route would be complete and also a great public benefit, as it takes about three weeks to get an answer from Minden and other places west. At present all correspondence goes by way of Peterborough.

"VEL, mein frent," said an old Jew in London, who, after having recovered from a fit which, it was thought, would terminate in death saw a crucifix that had been thrust in his face by a pious Catholic summoned to assist him home, "I can lend you only two shillings on it."

TO ADVERTISERS.

The efforts which are now being made so successfully to push the circulation of the Daily Evening and Weekly REVIEW make these papers at this time, either separately or jointly, very desirable mediums for advertising purposes. Shrewd and practical advertisers will readily see the advantage and profit to be derived from a circulation of this character.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1881.

THE MIDLAND GRAIN TRADE.

The Peterborough REVIEW states that some eight vessels from Chicago have already discharged their cargoes at the Midland elevator and a large number will arrive before the season closes. The local traffic of the road is so great that the President of the road had to telegraph to Chicago to stop the shipment of grain for a time, as the road had not rolling stock sufficient to carry the grain that was offered. By next season, however, the road will be in a condition to carry a far larger amount than they are able to carry at present. Messrs. Gooderham & Worts will fill the elevator this winter with corn. It will hold a large quantity, and makes an excellent store house. This is a very promising opening of this new trade for the Midland, as it shows that the western shippers are better acquainted with the merits of the new route and more ready to take advantage of it than the railway authorities had supposed. In order to meet the requirements of this traffic the managers of the Midland will find it necessary so build the branch line from Peterborough to Omemee, thus giving direct communication to Belleville; to go on with the erection of a large elevator in this city, and to make a large addition to their rolling stock. With two outlets for grain, namely, at Belleville and Port Hope, and with a sufficiency of rolling stock, the capabilities of the road will be very great, but not greater, we believe than will be the demands which will be made upon them, as the route is the shortest and cheapest from Chicago to Montreal. These improvements in facilities which we have indicated ought to be completed for next season's trade, and the management of the Midland and Grand Junction is sufficiently vigorous and enterprising to warrant the belief that they will be so completed.—Belleville Intelligencer.

SHANTY SERVICES.

A Bracebridge correspondent of the Christian Guardian appeals to the Toronto Conference to establish missions in the Muskoka lumbering district. He says:—

"Previous to the last May meeting of the Bracebridge district, one of its members accompanied a lumber merchant, who is thoroughly familiar with the Muskoka region, in an imaginary tour over that section of the country comprehended in the the Bracebridge district, and discovered that, allowing twenty men for each camp, there would be close on three thousand men within that section, engaged in lumbering, who, for more than half their time very rarely, if ever, hear the word of God preached, and this by no fault of theirs. In the camps little or no reading is to be found. Here is a good field for the Tract Society's operations. The little time that is left between supper and bed, which is the only time for recreation, is passed in singing songs of a doubtful, or decidedly profane character, playing cards, smoking—in any way but that which tends to profiting. When these men visit for a day or two the adjacent villages they act like sailors come ashore, and even worse, spending their money in strong drink, engaging in fights, and making an offensive babel about the cars of peaceful inhabitants. Of course there are many happy exceptions to this among the lumbermen, but the majority fall into this evil way. Mr. Wesley's merciful rule was to go first to those who need us most. If we are willing to act on this we will, without further unnecessary delay, put forth some direct effort to reach and bless the poor "shanty men." As a class they are free and generous, open-hearted and open-handed. The "boss" of a shanty has in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred a hearty welcome for any man who calls to conduct a religious service for the benefit of the camp; and invariably the rough, good-natured men themselves show marks of respect for the messenger of the truth."

A Baggageman's Blunder.

The following appeared in Thursday's Globe:—Miss G. Winters entrusted the baggageman at Peterbrough Tuesday morning with the checking of her trunks to Emerson, Manitoba, the place of her destination. The checks were handed to her, and when she arrived in Toronto she was accosted by a detective and requested to show her checks. She was then asked to step out on the platform and identify her trunks for which she held checks. She was surprised to find the first one pointed out was a carpenter's tool-box instead of her "Saratoga." The detective explained that a telegram had been received from George Walter, of Peterborough, stating that his tool-box had been stolen from the railway station, and as this one answered the description the lady was informed that she would have to give up the check. Word was sent back to Peterborough and a telegram was received stating that the baggageman had in mistake checked the wrong piece of baggage. Walter has since got his tool chest.

The Mississippi "Boom."

KEOKUK, Ia., Oct. 18.—The Mississippi continues to rise. At 10 a. m. the water was two inches above the great rise last spring, which caused immense damage in this vicinity. At Alexandria, five miles below, the water is backing up over the prairie. The prospects are that the town will be inundated. Railroad shops and lumber yards in the southern part of the city are completely surrounded and operations suspended. It is feared that the river will rise at least another foot and very disastrous floods result.

A Poisoned Well.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 18.—A few days ago a cloth containing strychnine was found in a well on the premises of Mr. Archibald Grier, lot 17, 3rd concession of Thurlow. No evil results had followed the use of the water, the poison being probably insufficient in quantity to have any serious effect. Mr. Grier blames a neighbour, who has sworn vengeance against him, and to whom he attributes the killing during a few years past of several horses and cattle.

The Murray Canal.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 18.—Mr. Rubidge, the Government engineer, will shortly inspect the harbour and make preparations for the commencement of work on the Murray Canal, for which the contract will be let and the work commenced this season.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

HUNTING PARTIES.

The Messrs. Crowe, of Dummer, brought the first venison to the village on Tuesday last for sale. It was a fine lot and brought good prices. They shot six deer in three days. Mr. John Isbister and party returned from their hunt on Saturday, the 15th inst., having taken two very fine bucks, but we understand that they had a very uncomfortable time on account of the wet weather, which has interfered considerably with the pleasure and sport of all the parties back hunting.

NO CARS YET.

On Wednesday last the 19th inst., a special came to Lakefield for wood, and of course having a number of flat and box cars in tow. It was soon seen that a number were anxiously awaiting for cars, as no less than six different shippers at once rushed to the station and it was quite amusing to hear the enquiries addressed to the station master, Mr. W. Dixon. At least 200 cars are required at once to move the freight awaiting shipment at Lakefield, and at the same time it seems almost impossible to get even small number. The parties interested complain very loudly of this neglect of Lakefield shippers.

"CRUISER."

The steamer Cruiser has not been able to run since May last on account of the low water. The water of Mud or Chemong Lake has been gradually rising during the last two weeks, this is caused by the tightening and repairing of the dam at Buckhorn, consequently the water is dammed back at that place, and the waters below are allowed to drain away because nothing has been done to repair the Lakefield dam, which is in a very leaky condition and should be gravelled. A few scows of gravel at a very small expense would have kept the water between here and Young's Point navigable.

STARTING A SHANTY.

Mr. Giles Stone, jr., foreman for Messrs. Ross & Co., started for their limits in Harvey on Monday last with a gang of men to begin the winter's operations getting out sawlogs, etc. This is the second shanty started this year by the same firm.

TRUSTEES' MEETING.

Court Lakefield, No. 43, C.O.F., will meet in the Forester's Hall, on Queen street, Lakefield, on Thursday next, the 27th inst. The hall is situated at the corner of Burnham and Queen streets, and is occupied conjointly by the Foresters and Good Templars. It has recently been thoroughly overhauled and refurnished, and presents a very comfortable and inviting appearance.

NOTHING DONE YET.

The deputation appointed to visit upon Mr. Cox, President of the Midland Railway, in reference to railway matters, are still patiently waiting, not having been successful as yet in obtaining an interview. The reason assigned is, that Mr. Cox could not get time, but we understand an interview is expected in a few days. In the meantime the new station, new engine house, and better train accommodations remain in the back ground.

RESIGNED.

Miss Duff has resigned her position as teacher of the 3rd department of the Lakefield school. Miss Duff is an excellent teacher and has a very large number of ardent admirers among the parents of the children taught by her for years past, who sincerely regret the loss the school will sustain by her resignation.

TIMBER FOR OSWEGO.

Mr. Geo. Cochrane has lately been engaged here with a number of men getting out bill stuff for Messrs. Irwin & Boyd, to be used in building their dock at Oswego.

LAKEFIELD MARKETS.

On account of the recent fall in wheat the quantity brought to market here this week has not been as large as last week. It being almost impossible to get cars to ship grain and flour has had also the effect of making the shippers less anxious to buy.

HIRING MEN.

Mr. George Berube, proprietor of the Midland Hotel, Lakefield, returned home on Wednesday, Oct. 19th, by the noon train, with a gang of fifty men for Messrs. Ross & Co. Mr. Berube had been away about ten days and was successful beyond expectations, having hired the required number of men for wages averaging $18.50 per month. They were a fine looking lot of able bodied men. We expect that Mr. Berube's services in this line will be in urgent demand in consequence of this successful mission. The men were immediately after dinner despatched to the shanties in the Harvey limits. All going contentedly and peaceably to their winter's work.

ACCIDENT.

Mr. McCauly, of this village, on Saturday last drove a fine horse belonging to Mr. George Berube, to Peterborough, and having some business to attend to, hitched the animal to a post on the street. In the meantime the horse by some means became frightened, and as it reared, it was brought by the tie down with its breast upon the post. The poor beast was fearfully lacerated. Under the able treatment of Mr. George McIlmoyl, V.S., of Lakefield, the horse is getting along all right.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Thursday, Oct. 20th, being thanksgiving day, was observed in Lakefield as a general holiday. The principal stores and business places were closed. Of course some small affairs, as the saying goes, kept one eye opened for business, but the day was generally observed in a becoming manner. A union thanksgiving service was held in the forenoon in the P. C. A. Hall, which was well attended.

HARVEY.

THE HARVEY COUNCIL met at the Clerk's office on call of the Reeve, on the 15th Oct., 1881. Members all present; minutes read and confirmed. A petition from the ratepayers was received and adopted, requesting the Council to make application to the Ontario Legislature at the next session to pass a bill to establish and confirm the bearings on the Harvey map. The Reeve was instructed to employ a surveyor to get the true bearings of the nineteenth concession. The Council accepted the names of G. H. Howson and Wm. McCamus, Esqs., as sureties for Wm. Ventress, collector of rates for 1881. The Clerk was instructed to notify the County Treasurer to remove certain taxes charged on his books against the east half of lot twenty-one, concession fourteen, Harvey. Mr. Robert Tedford was appointed road commissioner on the south side of Pigeon Lake, in Harvey. The Reeve was instructed to draw orders on the Treasurer to pay for contracts completed on roads as follows:—

James Pettifer	$15 30
John Newton	15 08
Seth Ward, sr.	2 00
John McGuire	2 00
Quinton Moore	3 00
John Tate	17 07
Ab. J. Ward	6 15
Richard Gerrard	2 00

On motion passed the Council adjourned to meet at the town hall on the 19th December next.

Wood for Fuel.

The United States Bureau has been gathering some facts upon the consumption of wood for fuel. After taking the figures in the last report for the coal output, the superintendent says:—"Even with the large increase in the coal production during the last half century wood still keeps in the van as fuel, the consumption in this country being in favor of wood against coal in the proportion of four to one. In Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont wood is almost the only fuel. In many counties of Massachusetts coal is ahead of wood, while in the state generally, as Connecticut, the percentage is about equal. Thickly populated cities, like New York and Hudson and Essex counties New Jersey, containing the cities of Jersey City and Newark, are put down entirely as coal. In Pennsylvania, the great coal state, there are many entirely coal counties, while in others, as Crawford, in the western part of the state, not over three per cent of coal is used. The same difference holds good in different parts of New York."

Spontaneous Forests.

A writer in a West Virginia paper combats the opinion, held by many arboriculturists, that an open county is never converted into a forest, through the operation of natural causes, and as establishing the fact that such change does sometimes occur, brings forward the case of the Shenandoah Valley. When first settled, about 160 years ago, it was an open prairie-like region covered with long grass, on which fed herds of deer, buffalo, elk, etc., and having no timber, except on rigy portions of it; but in consequence of its settlement, the annual fires were prevented, and trees sprang up almost as thickly and regularly as if seed had been planted. These forests, having been preserved by the farmers, cover now a large part of the surface with hard wood trees of superior excellence. These facts would also seem to substantiate the theory that the treeless character of the prairies of the West is due to the annual burning of the grass by the Indians.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM; a few doses relieves the most distressing cough, and a twenty-five cent bottle has cured many a sufferer from Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Influenza, Hoarseness and Soreness of the Chest. It is the grand specific for all throat and lung complaints leading to Consumption.

Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters are in every sense of the word a worthy family medicine, and we are glad to learn that they are rapidly taking the place of those nauseous little Pills. J. D. TULLY is agent for the Bitters here.

A Favorable Notoriety—the good reputation of "Brown's Bronchial Troches" for the relief of Coughs, Colds, and Throat Diseases, has given them a favorable notoriety.

SHE MANAGES WELL THE FARM.

She manages well the farm
This girl that is gently bred,
Though scarce a score of happy years
Have passed o'er her bonny head,
Fatherless, motherless, young,
Left with a tender brood
Of brothers and sisters small,
She works for the children's good.

So, up in the early morn,
She's out with a steadfast will;
She visits the garden field and farm,
And the orchard upon the hill.
The butter from yellow cream
Is made with her own fair hands;
She works with a hearty will to keep
This home with its fertile lands.

Show me a lovelier rose
Than the flush of this maidens cheek.
As she gathers the apples rosy and ripe
Or rides the black horse sleek;
Show me a fairer sight
Than the same woman's hands
Busied at daily household tasks,
As well as at tilling lands.

What though no father's eyes
See that the work's well done;
Is not this woman brave and true
Faithful as shines the sun?
Dressed in her homespun gown,
Living a healthful life,
Sowing good seed for aye,
When ended is this world's strife.

She manages well the farm,
The maid with the deep blue eyes;
With voice that charms like music rare
In her low and soft replies
Well will those children say
In the distant years to come:
Sister, you have done well,
You have saved us the dear old home.

"HAIL, beauteous, bounteous, gladsome Spring,"—this was Mark Twain's prize poem—but the dire diseases incident to Spring, spoil the romance. Burdock Blood Bitters is the prize remedy, the remedy prized by all who have tried it as the best Blood Purifying Tonic and System Regulator in the market. It cures all Blood Humors from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple. Sample bottles ten cents, for sale by all dealers in medicine.

The Hairpin.

To the ingenious girl the hairpin is a perfect tool chest. She is rarely at a loss while provided with this little instrument. It is an excellent button hook. The man who is in reach of a convenient girl can always button his gaiters and fasten his gloves with the aid of a hairpin, and is thus freed from that slavish dependence on button hooks, which is otherwise the inevitable fate of the man who wears buttoned gaiters. Women also use the hairpin as a substitute for a gimlet. When a woman wishes to make a hole through a piece of cloth or pasteboard she always disinters a hairpin, and with it quickly accomplishes her purpose. Two hairpins properly bent form an admirable substitute for a clasp or buckle. What can be better for the purpose of stirring lemonade or medicine? Two or three hairpins held closely together may be used as an egg-beater. When palm leaf fans are in use the hairpin is mightier than the lead pencil. An intelligent young lady can write a beautiful note on the surface of a palm leaf fan with the point of a hairpin, and can carry on an important correspondence with the young man in the next pew by handing him her fan while the sermon is in progress. There are cases on record of letters having been hoisted up to the second and third stories of a female seminary by cords furnished with extemporized hooks made of hairpins. As a pick-look the hairpin is invaluable. No man who smokes a pipe can dispense with it. All pipes will at times become choked, and when this is the case the hairpin is the only thing that will remove the obstruction. But it would require too much space to detail the many uses of this little instrument; we sum up by saying that no well regulated man should be without them or their legitimate owners.

Table Adornments.

Thin slices of toast, cut into triangles, make a good garnish for many dishes.

When sauce is poured around meat or fish, the dish must be quite hot, or the sauce will cool quickly.

Potato balls and thin fried potatoes make a nice garnish for all kinds of fried and broiled meats and fish.

Whipped cream is a delicate garnish for all Bavarian creams, blanc-manges, frozen puddings and ice cream.

It is well to pour the sauce for cold puddings around the pudding, especially if there will be a contrast in color.

Melons, cantaloupes, cucumbers, radishes and tomatoes when served in slices, should all be chilled in the ice chest.

Cold boiled beets, carrots, and turnips, and the whites of hard boiled eggs stamped out with a fancy vegetable cutter, make a pretty garnish for hot and cold meats.

The dishes on which fish, jellies and creams are placed should be large enough to leave a margin of an inch or so between the food and the lower edge of the border of the dish.

It is a great improvement to have the sauce poured around the article instead of over it, and to have the border of the dish garnished with bits of parsley, celery tops or carrot leaves.

Be particular not to overdo the work decorating. Even the single garnish adds to the appearance of the dish, but too much decoration only injures it. Garnishes should be so arranged as not to interfere with serving.

Prof. Macoun in the North-West.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 8.—Professor Macoun and party returned last night from their exploratory tour of Lakes Manitoba and Winnepegoosis, and their tributary streams, together with the section of the North-West around the Porcupine Hills and Duck Mountains. In the latter direction there were found fine streams. The Swan and Red Deer Rivers were carefully explored. The result was satisfactory, and salt was found at many points on the land around Lake Winnepegoosis. A member of the party reports fine spruce and poplar timber on the mountains, as well as on the banks of the Swan and Red Deer Rivers. Poplar as well as spruce trees have been seen that measured about fifteen inches in circumference, and the former has been found to have an altitude in some places of seventy-five feet. Game is abundant, particularly duck, and they look upon it as a paradise for sportsmen. They spent some time at the Pelly Indian Reserve farm, where fine crops were raised this year. The land in this vicinity is pronounced the finest in the North-West. The crops of all kinds, cereals and root, are not excelled in any part of the country. The land is described as undulating prairie, with exceedingly fertile soil, easy of drainage into the Assiniboine and its tributary, the Still River.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM is composed of the most healing balsams and gums. The Balsams, which enter into its composition, were used by the natives when America was first discovered, and are combined with other vegetable tonics, so blended together, that it is a specific for all affections of the throat and lungs. Thousands of bottles are used annually, and it is considered one of the standard preparations of the day.

Have You Tried It?

If so you can testify to its marvellous powers of healing and recommend it to your friends. We refer to Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, the grand specific for all summer complaints, diarrhœa, cholera morbus, dysentery, cramps, cholic, sickness of the stomach and bowel complaints of infants or adults. Let its merits be known to all who have not used it.

Why will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's German prescription, and it is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced their has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced. 2d1w1y

Consumption Can be Cured.

In this changeable climate of ours, every one should remember that DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY has proven itself to be a positive cure for consumption, asthma, bronchitis, and all lung diseases. It has saved the lives of many even after all hope had fled. Many of the most intelligent families would as soon be without woolen clothing in winter, as to not have WISTAR'S BALSAM always on hand, for it never fails to immediately relieve all soreness of the throat and lungs. A single dose taken at bed time will gently warm the blood, cause refreshing slumber, and by morning an ordinary cough or cold will be gone. Ask your druggist and your friends concerning the merit of WISTAR'S BALSAM, and be wise. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. Brown's Bronchial Troches do not disorder the stomach like cough syrup and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c. a box everywhere. d52w9

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

A Wise Deacon.

"Deacon Wildes, I want you to tell me how you kept yourself and family well the past season, when all the rest of us have been sick so much, and have had the doctors visiting us so often." Bro. Taylor, the answer is very easy, I used Hop Bitters in time; kept my family well and saved the doctor bills. Three dollars worth of it kept us well and able to work all the time, I'll warrant it has cost you and the neighbors one to two hundred dollars apiece to keep sick the same time." "Deacon, I'll use your medicine hereafter."

6—Worthy of Praise.

As a rule we do not recommend Patent Medicines, but when we know of one that really is a public benefactor and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric Bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure Biliousness, Fever and Ague, Stomach, Liver and Kidney Complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend them to all.—Exch.—Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald. d5w27

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For e'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Or write the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man,"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard:
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The sublest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide,
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Faultless fit, splendid style, vast variety, good work and a very great saving in price will be found in M. & A's. Mantles and Ulsters.

BUILDING BY-LAW.

To the Editor of the Review:

DEAR SIR,—Will you kindly permit me through the columns of your valuable paper to correct some erroneous ideas "A Citizen" appears to entertain in respect to the enforcement of the building by-law. He says:—

"I wish you, Mr. Editor, would insist upon our fire inspectors doing their duty; they take no notice of complaints made to them or the Mayor. Their attention has time and again been called to the breach of the fire by-law by Mr. George McComb."

Now sir, I wish to know who "Citizen" calls fire inspectors, and what has the fire by-law to do with the erection of wooden buildings, as it is solely for the government of the fire brigade? I think fire inspectors must be those citizens who so often interfere with the firemen while in the discharge of their duty, and insist upon their pulling down wooden buildings, not because they are on fire, but because they are in close proximity to their own buildings, as he says by and by there will be another great fire and perhaps then the rain will not come to our relief as it did before.

Now, what do we want rain for when we have a fire prophet who knows we are going to have a great fire, when half the central part of the town will be burnt up? I think our prophet would be very unworthy the name if he did not just drop a post card to the chief engineer of the fire department a day in advance, when I am sure that officer would have the engine placed on the bridge and everything in readiness, and at the first sound of the alarm, throw such streams of rain upon his buildings as have not been heard of since McComb's sheds were struck with lightning.

It appears to me, Mr. Editor, that "Citizen" wishes to have every one compelled to do just as he directs, and at the same time do just as he pleases himself, and no one daring to make him afraid; but I wish to remind him that while he continues to live in a glass house he should not throw stones.

He finds fault with the building inspectors, or fire inspectors, as he calls them, for allowing Mr. Geo. McComb to erect a wooden shed within the fire limits, while he himself, (unless I am greatly mistaken as to his identity) is guilty of the very same offence, and two or three times the extent that McComb is, which every one knows. He seems to have forgotton that a few years ago he was convicted, fined and ordered to take down a wooden building erected by himself, which order has not been carried out to this day, nor did he so much as pay the fine then inflicted, but the building is maintained there still by him in contravention of the building by-law which he has also violated several times since. I will venture to say that Mr. McComb did not run to the inspector or the Mayor, or to you, Mr. Editor, two or three times a day to complain of his neighbor. Still I dont think Mr. McComb or "Citizen" or anyone else should be allowed to erect wooden structures within the fire limits. But how is this by-law to be enforced? If the inspector complains that the law has been broken the accused will apply to the Council, when his communication will be referred to a committe, who will allow him to proceed with his building and tell the inspector to stay proceedings or to withdraw the charge, as has been done in several cases, and which I am informed is also being done in this instance. Now, how are the officals of the town to blame when this work is taken out of their hands by the very men that employ them? Thanking you for so much space.

I remain yours truly,
JUSTICE.

FENELON FALLS.

MILL ACCIDENT.—In Smith and Fell's shingle mill, last Monday, a pulley suddenly burst and a fragment of it struck Mr. Ronald Mackay, one of the employees, on the back, inflicting a long—but fortunately not a deep—gash near his shoulder. About two seconds before the accident Mr. Mackay had moved a few steps, and by so doing probably saved his life, for a large piece of the pulley passed over the spot where he had just been standing and went through the side of the mill. The wound was not sufficiently serious to keep Mr. Mackay from work for more than two or three days.

It is stated that the Empress of Austria will hunt in county Meath, Ireland, in the spring.

THE municipal council of Dublin has passed appropriate resolutiont on the death of Garfield.

A LARGE STONE was placed between the metals on the Enniskillen and Bunderan Railway on Sept. 12. It was not high enough to throw off the train, which passed over it, but smashed the guard and fire-box of the engine, and tore the flooring of the carriages.

Kindling Wood.

In New York there are 41 different establishments devoted to the kindling wood trade alone. The largest of these concerns is C. W. Alcott & Co., who have a capital of $300,000 invested in their business, and employ in the busy season from 600 to 700 hands. They cut and prepare most of their wood in the forests of Virginia, employing in that department a force of from 500 to 600 men. Last year they handled 25,000 cords of wood. They are interested in seven vessels, and charter others in order to keep up with the demand. Two steam engines of 60 horse power each, drive the machinery that is used for sawing and splitting.

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

They cured me of Ague, Bilousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had half a bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough.—B., Rochester, N. Y.—American Rural Home.

LEGAL OR NOT.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—A. M. Sullivan, M. P., is reported as saying that the Government proclamation against the Land League is perfectly legal at common law. There are ample precedents in Ireland for the suppression of associations upon much less illegal justification. The Government said practically in the House of Commons last session that the Land League was perfectly legal, and so it was in May and June, but that does not touch the question of what it has become since by the issue of no rent.

A BAD SHEET.

DUBLIN, Oct. 22.—It is stated that a hundred thousand copies of United Ireland have been distributed in bogus wrappers of the Express and Freeman. Every preparation has been made at the office of United Ireland for an anticipated seizure.

EGAN'S STATEMENTS.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—Egan is reported as saying that we can rely on the devotion of the Irish farmers to relieve Ireland. He had allowed a farm, in which he had an interest to the extent of £30,000, to go to the emergency committee. We could quote hundreds of similar cases. Egan did not think that three quarters of the cases had been submitted to the Land Court. There was a large number for all Ireland. Some cases had been prepared by the League. The League had intended to present 1,500 cases to the court when stopped by the arrest of Parnell. Egan said by declaring the League illegal the Government cut constitutional ground for agitation from under our feet. We will now be compelled to have recourse to union. Egan was questioned unsuccessfully as to how the signatures to the manifesto were obtained. He said the document was signed prior to the arrest.

NOT CORRECT.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—In reference to the report from Copenhagen on the 18th inst., that fears were entertained of the loss of the Thingvalla from that city to New York, with 800 emigrants on board, a note was received at Lloyd's stating that the rumours are destitute of foundation and that nothing whatever has occured to give rize to the supposition that the steamer was lost.

SPANISH POLITICS.

MADRID, Oct. 21.—Seldom has there been witnessed such antimation in political circles. The Minister of Justice read to-day in the Senate the new code reforming the marriage laws, re-establishing civil marriage, and enforcing the inscription of all religious marriages on the civil register to make them valid. The code contains also new rules for judicial separation and for the legitimization of natural children, fixing the legal capacity of both sexes at twenty-three years instead of twenty-five, increasing the paternal liberty of wills and legacies, improving the condition of married women, and preparing the way to re-establish trial by jury by decreeing the public and oral trial of criminal cases in the presence of the accused. In fact, it is the most sweeping legal, civil, and law reform since the revolution of 1868. The Council of Ministers met four times yesterday to determine the line of debate in Congress, and to hear the budget plans of Senor Camacho.

WORK FOR THE POLICE.

"No rent" posters were posted in every town and village of Ireland during the last few nights. The police are pulling them down, but they will be posted again. To-night Dublin is quiet but the police are patrolling every part of the city in large bodies. They can be met in bye streets and fashionable squares walking in squads slowly, as mourners at a funeral. The houses of every judge and Government official in Dublin are guarded by police.

HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE.

ADEN, Oct. 21.—The Dutch steamer Koenig der Nederlanden, from Batavia for Amsterdam, broke her shaft and foundered in latitude 50 south, longitude 65 east. Six boats containing 175 persons, are missing.

LATER.—The missing boats of the Koenig der Nederlanden are reported making for Chagos island, in the Indian Ocean. The day after the Koenig der Nederlanden's stern broke the water gained the upper hand, and the captain abandoned his vessel. Three weeks' provisions were taken in the boats. The authorities of Ceylon have been requested by telegraph to despatch a steamer in search of the missing boats.

FRENCH PROCLAMATION.

TUNIS, Oct. 21.—Gen. Saussier has issued a proclamation to all Arabs, saying that he will respect the religion and property of peaceable inhabitants, but severely punish all who are guilty of fomenting disorder and plundering.

EFFECTS OF THE GALE.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Accounts of shipping disasters continue to come from all around the coast. A brigantine was wrecked near Falmouth and all hands drowned.

THE AUSTRO-GERMAN ALLIANCE.

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—It is openly stated in Government circles at Berlin that the sole object of King Humbert's visit to the Emperor of Austria is to join the Austro-German alliance.

THE POPE DISSATISFIED.

ROME, Oct. 21.—Great pressure is being exerted by the English Roman Catholics to obtain a strong condemnation of the Land League manifesto from the Pope. It is said the Papal Secretary of State informed enquirers that the Pope is sorely afflicted by the conduct of a portion of the Irish clergy, but can only interfere to a certain degree in questions more especially concerning the local ecclesiastical autorities.

TO BE SUPPRESSED.

BELFAST, Oct. 21.—Despite the Government's proclamation, Rev. Mr. Rylett, who was Mr. Parnell's candidate in the recent election in Tyrone, left Belfast this morning to attend an indignation meeting under the auspices of the Pomeroy branch of the Land League. A detective took the same train. A telegram from Pomeroy states that this meeting will be suppressed, if necessary, by force.

THE WRECK OF THE LEAGUE.

DUBLIN, Oct, 21.—I visited the League rooms to-day. They presented a spectacle almost sad. Where eight days ago a dozen clerks and members of the executive were busy among books and a flood of correspondence, now the place is bare and everything is in confusion. Clerks are moving about dejected and frightened at the appearance of every stranger. An enormous luggage van was before the door, and men were moving out the furniture. By nightfall it was deserted, two or three reporters were present gathering up some sheets of official note paper as souvenirs, these being the only remains of the fallen majesty of the central executive.

ATTEMPT ON A MAGAZINE.

DUBLIN, Oct. 21.—A canister which recently contained powder and burnt paper has been found close to the magazine in Castle Athlone. Double sentries have been placed around the magazine.

PRECAUTIONS AT LIVERPOOL.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 21.—At Liverpool extra precaution are being taken at the docks to prevent strangers boarding the steamers of the American lines.

RIOTING IN ROSCOMMON.

DUBLIN, Oct. 21.—Notices have been posted in the neighbourhood of Boyle, County Roscommon, threatening death to tenants paying rents. The military and police evicted several of Col. King Harman's tenants in Boyle to-day. The mob afterwards held an indignation meeting, and wrecked property belonging to non-Leaguers.

AMERICAN.

CIVILIZED INDIANS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Kirkwood has suggested that it would be good for the Government to give to the wild tribes of Indians, herds of cattle, and when the herds become large enough, to withdraw the Government support. He also thinks it would be a good idea to erect the reservation of the tribes, who have advanced considerably towards civilization, into counties of the States, or territories in which they are situated.

The following telegraph from the Governor-General, to the Secretary of State, Washington, and reply are published:—

FORT SHAW, Montana, Sept. 1881.

On reaching Montana we hear with deep sorrow that our hopes are ended by the death which all Canada will have deplored with you.

Signed, LORNE.

DEPT. STATE, Washington, September 29.

His Excellency the Marquis of Lorne, Governor-General of Canada:

MY LORD,—In the temporary absence of the Secretary of State, I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your Excellency's telegram dated at Fort Shaw, Montana Terr., expressing on your own behalf, and in the name of the Canadian people, the deep sorrow with which the Canadian people received the news of the death of President Garfield. The sorrowing family of our beloved Chief Magistrate, and the whole American people have seen with over-flowing hearts the fraternal sympathy with which the people and authorities of Canada have shared in the anxious promise of the President's weary illness, and now, in this hour of common anguish, the countless tributes of affection which came to us, and then from all parts of the Dominion, bear eloquent witness to the brotherhood of sorrow awakened by his death. In the name of the bereaved family, and of the people of the United States, I venture to return our heartfelt thanks to all, and especially for your Excellency's touching message of condolence. I have, etc., etc.

(Signed.)

MADOC, Ont., Feb. 16, 1880.—Horace Seymour writes:—Perry-Davis' Pain-Killer as a family cure all has been in constant use in my household for a long term of years, and I would never desire to have a better one. It never fails me. I call it the "Old Reliable."

MR. MOODY is a shrewd man at answering questions. "What do you think of the present system of training in our theological seminaries?" asked somebody at one of his meetings. "I have no opinion about it," was the sensible reply. I never went through a theological seminary, and I never talk about anything I know nothing about."

ALTHOUGH the Queen has had the royal apartments of Holyrood rehabilitated for her reception, the chapel remains roofless. THE MISSING TOOL CHEST.

To the Editor of the Review.

I notice in your issue of this date an extract from the Globe, entitled a "Baggageman's Blunder," which I trust you will allow me space to contradict, as the circumstances are incorrect in every particular.

In the first place, we check no baggage to Emerson, Manitoba; in the second place, there was no tool chest on the platform on Tuesday evening, but one, and that was claimed by a man, not a lady, at whose request it was checked to Toronto, with check No. 2110. This is impressed on my mind from the fact that the tool box, which afterwards proved to belong to Mr. Walters, exceeded the prescribed weight allowed ordinary passengers, and was only allowed to pass without an extra baggage ticket on the declaration of the person claiming that he was an emigrant and therefore entitled to the additional weight, that that particular check may have been handed to some other person, is quite possible, but was not placed in the hands of a lady by me, and I would further state that no telegrams were either received or sent, which would indicate that I had in mistake checked the wrong piece of baggage.

I am, yours truly,
JAMES BULLER,
Baggageman.

Matches.

In the United States and Canada there are 22 match factories, turning out 25,000 gross—3,600,000 boxes—of matches every day. The average is about 100 matches to the box, and the daily consumption is therefore 360,000,000 matches, a yearly average of 131,580,000,000 matches.

CHARACTER OF THE COMING WINTER.

Mr. Vennor writes as follows:—Were we to judge of this by our migratory birds this autumn, many of which have arrived unusually early, we should be inclined to suspect the approach of a very severe winter. On the other hand, and judging skyward, if we are to believe what English and American scientists tell us about the activity on the sun's surface and the number and magnitude of "sun spots," we feel disposed to announce the probability of a continuance of heat or warmth and periods of considerable disturbances for the winter of 1882.

The early arrival of northern birds, such as shore larks, Lapland longspurs and pinegrosbeaks, was this fall followed almost immediately with a frosty wave during the first week of October; but this was of but brief duration, and had the birds known more, they need not have fled with such precipitancy from their northern haunts.

In my own experience I have never yet found the movements of birds worthy of consideration in a weather point of view, except, indeed, as fortelling the approach of such a temporary "cold snap" as that we have recently experienced, and which of itself indicates the very reverse of an early and severe setting in of winter; for early cold and bluster, in general, is not lasting, and is almost invariably followed by an open term.

As to the activity of the sun spots, and the great magnitude of some of these at the present time, there can be no manner of doubt, but that such conditions should affect the weather around our earth must be as yet a matter of conjecture. If it could be proved that the sun spots had any connection with the heat and drought of last summer on the American continent, we might naturally infer, from the increasing activity of these and their increasing proportions, a high average temperature for the winter months. Disregarding, however, these sun signs and commotions, I would here state that there were other signs, and from very different sources than those just mentioned, of the approach of the "hot and dry summer" of 1881. These may or may not yet be generally accepted by meteorologists, but, notwithstanding they were sufficient to enable me to give a very early notice of what proved to be "a very hot and dry season." I refer to weather cycles, or the recurrence of similar weather conditions at irregular but ascertainable intervals of time. Into this oft-mooted subject it is not my intention at present to enter, having devoted considerable space to it in my almanac for the coming year.

This hot and dry season has now passed, and a winter of some sort has got to be experienced. Some say it will be this, and others that, but none can give any clear reasons for their statements—it is all vague conjecture. Perhaps the majority of prognosticators hug to the severe view of the winter on the very reliable principle of opposites, or—which is the same thing—the law of general compensation, as regards heat and cold, drought and precipitation; forgetting that in this very principle the past summer was linked more closely to the winter of 1881 than it can possibly be to to the winter of 1882. For, in order to fulfil this law of compensation, a great deal of both heat and dryness was required to make up for the cold and precipitation of last winter. The year 1881 gives us a very marked example of annual compensation. It closes with accounts well squared, and leaves no balance to be brought forward into the books of 1882. Consequently, we must turn to some other source for our "probabilities" for the approaching year. And, here comes in the value of a good array of past records of the weather and weather charts. By means of such we see that periods of unusual cold or heat have in the past usually extended over more than a single season. We may note a great number of couplets and even triads of years of similar weather, and but very few, driven and these widely separated, in which intense cold or great heat was confined to a single year. By closely following the action of the weather generally of the present time, and at the same time possessing a thorough knowledge of its general behaviour in the past, the observer intuitively conceives what is required for the fulfillment of Nature's laws for an approaching period or seasons. Distinct and definite reasons for his conclusions he may not be able to give, if suddenly called upon, but he, notwithstanding, adheres firmly to his impressions concerning the course of nature, and is generally correct. Supported by such records of by-gone years and carrying in my mind a clear view of the ups and downs of the twelve months just passing away, I look still to a further continuance of the warm weather on our continent during the approaching winter. Broken, this may and will be, by waves of low temperature, but these will be but of brief duration as compared with the protracted periods of mildness and warmth. As usually happens in such winters there may be an adstore to hand and severe term of cold and snow as boy, whilerly as October or November. If so, look out an open "Christmastide."

Thus, though disregarding the sun and sunchurn, but theory, I am compelled to predict an open butter pointer.

BELLEVILLE.

SERIOUS FIRE.—The Intelligencer says that shortly before 7 o'clock on Thursday evening, whilst two girls employed in Mrs. Horne's millinery store on Hotel street, were dressing a fire in the shop, a coal oil lamp was accidentally knocked over by one of them. It fell behind the counter, and breaking, the oil scattered widely and the flames at once communicated with the goods. These being of a light and highly inflamable character, the fire spread with almost inconceivable rapidity, and although an alarm was at once given, the fire had full possession of the building before the firemen could get to work. The flames also extended to the stone dwelling adjoining, in which Mrs. Horne resided, and, owing to the inordinate zeal of those who were endeavoring to save property which was not in any pressing danger, a great deal of valuable furniture was broken. The building in which was the store was completely gutted, very little being saved, but the firemen were able to save the front part of the stone dwelling. Both buildings were owned by Mrs. Horne, whose loss on them will probably reach about $1,000. The insurances are as follows: On stone building $1,000 in the Northern; on brick building in the Western $600. On furniture in the dwelling $500 in the Western and $400 in the Northern. The stock which had lately been received for the fall and winter trade, was worth $1,800, on which there was an insurance of $900, and $100 on fixtures, in the Western. About $100 worth of stock was saved. There was a quantity of furniture over the shop, which was insured for $200 in the Western. Mrs. Horne has of late suffered considerable losses by fires in adjoining premises, and in this crowning misfortune she has general sympathy.

LARGE SHIPMENT.—Mr. R. Purdy, Customs Broker of this city, sent forward on Friday for the Campbellford Woollen Mills, a special train consisting of thirteen cars of Cape Wool, value $41,311.70.

HASTINGS.

THE HASTINGS WOOLLEN MILL.—The Star says during the past week a change has taken place in the proprietorship of this concern, a couple of our prominent business men purchasing an interest therein. Extensive additions to the machinery is contemplated, and manufacturing flannels will be a prominent feature under the new regime and who, we have no doubt, will in a very short time engage in the manufacture of other lines of woollen goods, including cloths and tweeds. The business will be carried on under the name of Beamish & Co.

PORT HOPE.

INCENDIARY FIRE.—The Guide says that about one o'clock on Friday morning the alarm bells were sounded, when a light was noticed in the direction of the Grand Trunk station. Our reporter, on arriving at the scene of conflagration, found it to be a dwelling owned by Capt. James Robertson, now of Toronto. The fire was no doubt the work of and incendiary, for the building had been without an occupant for several months. It was completely enveloped in flames before the alarm was given, so that when the firemen arrived at the place the roof had fallen in. The house was a neat frame, one and a half stories high, and valued at about $1,000; insured in the North British for $600 in favor of the Midland Loan Association, which had a mortgage on it for $450.

PEAS FOR LONDON, ENG.—Mr. R. E. Sculthorp shipped on Friday four cars of fancy peas direct to London, Eng. They were all put up in large, strong sacks sent out from England for that purpose. The lot was a very valuable one, worth about $8,000 here. Mr. Sculthorp is doing an immense business in raising and shipping fancy peas both for the English and American markets. He has his premises in connection with his elevator very conveniently arranged. The new addition has given him much more room.

From our own Correspondent.

CHURCH MATTERS.—After public worship on Thanksgiving day, at Springville, a congregational meeting was held in the new church. Reports were received from the Building Committee entrusted with the management of the general affairs of the congregation. Parties were appointed to audit the accounts, and instructed to report at an adjourned congregational meeting to be held on the 22nd November, at 2 o'clock, in the afternoon. A subscription list was opened, to remove the debt on the church. The contributions ranged from $20 down to $2. Sufficient was not only subscribed, but actually paid, on the spot, to wipe out the entire indebtedness. It was evident from the way in which the bills accumulated on the table that the congregation had come to the meeting prepared to do business. The collection at the conclusion of the thanksgiving service amounted to $18.60. This contribution has been appropriated to the Home Mission Scheme of the church. Liberty was given, without one dissenting voice, to use the organ, in the conducting of the service of praise in the congregation. Many said on leaving the church, "We never had such a nice congregational meeting." The meeting was presided over by the pastor, Mr. Bennett—Mr. Hugh Waddell, acting as Secretary. The allocation of the pews in the new church is a matter still in the future.

CIRCULAR.

While it is pleasing to the Business Man to know that his efforts to satisfy the public are being appreciated, it can be no less satisfactory to the citizens of any locality to know that among their merchants are those whose goods have not only a local fame but are sought for by those in other parts. The advantage of this is two-fold. Not only does it direct trade from a distance and build up the reputation of the place, but it has the advantage of assisting the artizan and workman in thus bringing both labor and money among them which otherwise would be spent elsewhere.

Peterborough, we are proud to say, has many such business men in her midst, some of them old established houses and others of comparatively younger years. In the latter may be classed Mr. Johnston Carey, a gentleman who but a little over seven months ago cast his fortune among the residents of Peterborough, succeeding Mr. W. J. Larmour in the manufacture of Boots and Shoes. That he is establishing a reputation for satisfactory fulfilment of orders may be judged from the following letter, one among the many he is constantly receiving. It speaks for itself and needs no explanation:—

LINDSAY, Oct. 13, 1881.

Mr. J. Carey, Peterborough.

DEAR SIR,—I send you a pair of shoes for repairs. Will you kindly re-sole and heel them with the best of material? Sew the half-soles. I am very much pleased with the lace boots and feel like ordering another pair like them, but I can hardly afford it. Please put these boots in hand at once, as I may call for them tomorrow evening. Make a good job of them for sure and leave the bill ready. What was cost of lace boots?

WAIFS AND STRAYS.

GOLD mining seems to be flourishing in the Tangier and Salmon river districts in Nova Scotia.

BLACKSTONE, the name of England's greatest lawyer, and the name of a well known lawyer's pen of Esterbrook's make. The stationers have them.

"THE overcrowded east" is the expression used in the North-West to designate the Provinces east of Lake Superior. How given is the Western minds to hyperbole!

COUGHS AND COLDS are often overlooked. A continuance for any length of time causes irritation of the lungs or some chronic Throat Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches are an effectual Cough Remedy.

MULTITUDES of people who have been in mortal dread of rheumatism, neuralgy and other painful diseases, now rest perfectly easy, knowing full well that St. Jacob's Oil will cure those troublesome ailments without possibility of failure.

DRYING potatoes is a Rochester industry. The potatoes are sliced, put into a steam box for a few minutes to keep the starch in, and then dried. When desired for use they are soaked before cooking.

MADOC, Ont., Feb. 16, 1880.—Horace Seymour writes:—Perry-Davis' Pain-Killer as a family cure all has been in constant use in my household for a long term of years, and I would never desire to have a better one. It never fails me. I call it the "Old Reliable."

MR. MOODY is a shrewd man at answering questions. "What do you think of the present system of training in our theological seminaries?" asked somebody at one of his meetings. "I have no opinion about it," was the sensible reply. I never went through a theological seminary, and I never talk about anything I know nothing about."

ALTHOUGH the Queen has had the royal apartments of Holyrood rehabilitated for her reception, the chapel remains roofless. It is a beautiful structure, and its vaults are still the burial place of many historic Scotch families. In these days of restoration, it is somewhat remarkable that it should be permitted to remain thus dilapidated.

SIR SAMUEL BAKER, who has just been hunting in the west, with his wife, says that deer are to become as rare as elk there, unless something is done, and the buffalo is on the road to destruction. The skin hunters, he says, are doing a thriving business, and for miles and miles the country is strewn with the carcases of elk and deer killed for their hides.

SUMMER COMPLAINT.—This wasting and troublesome complaint, which, when neglected, becomes dangerous, is removed gradually and without the slighest pain, by Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills, which overcome all internal ailments and purge the system of all impurities. They never fail, and are sold everywhere.

OUT in Tascoma, Washington Territory, "necessity is the mother of invention." The inhabitants felt a yearning for antiquity. They desired, like the people of Europe, to worship in a fane with a flavor of the antique about it. So they cut the top of a great fir-tree, forty feet from the ground, fixed a cross and bell on it, turned it into a steeple, around which they built their log church. The rings of the tree show that it is 300 years old.

THE corporation of London is going to give Mr. Gladstone a gold box containing an address asking him to sit for a marble bust to be placed in Guildhall. The compliment is altogether apart from political or party considerations, the majority of the members of the corporation being conservatives. Among the few public men to whom a somewhat similar honor has been accorded have been William Pitt, Earl Grey, Sir Robert Peel, Palmerston, Canning, Earl Russell, Cobden, and Beaconsfield.

TELEGRAPHIC blundering and rash emendation brought about a scare at Accrington, in England, recently. A despatch was received at the Mechanics' Institute saying the Earl of Edinburgh was dead. As no such title was known, somebody in charge altered "earl" to "duke," and the news spread far and wide that Her Majesty had lost her second son. The death intended to be announced was that of the Earl of Gainsbourgh

Two women have been made Doctors of Natural History in the University of Rome. One of them, Caroline Magistrelli, is said to be a brunette, pretty and 23 years of age. She draws a moderate stipend specially contributed by the Province of Mantua. The other lady, Evangelica Botters, is also 23, of modest but self-possessed appearance, and the owner of charming eyes and chestnut hair. The Ministry of Interior has granted a stipend of 600 lire (about $120) to each of the ladies to encourage them in the prosecution of their studies.

No preparation of Hypophosphites I have used can compare with Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for restoring strength to the nervous system. I think it is the best medicine I ever used. W. J. HORNER, Buffalo, N. Y.

Soft Enough.

"There, Mary Ann," said a gentleman, from the interior, to his spouse as they were standing in front of a Woodward avenue hardware store, examining into the intricacies of a five gallon ice-cream freezer that works with a crank and rachet wheels, "there's a churn made on 'zactly the right plan. I swow, I'll bet you could fetch butter in one of them ere churns in five minutes. 'Taint big enough, for more than two cows. Say, mister" to a clerk who at that moment came to the door yawning, "hev you got any bigger churns 'n that?"

That clerk had been to a dance the night before and could have gone to sleep in a quartz mill, but the enquiry made him wake up in an instant. He turned and winked knowingly to his fellow salesmen, as if to say, "Here's fun, boys!" The boys gathered around and grinned with delight as the clerk placed his thumbs in the arm-holes of his vest, played a tattoo with his fingers upon his manly chest, and in his most grandiloquent and impressive manner replied:

"Your eyes deceive you, sir. That is not a churn. That, sir, is the greatest labour saving invention of the age. That, sir, is the snow washing machine; so-called because every article washed in it comes out as white as the driven snow, no matter how soiled it may be. Ran a pair of my dirty blue overalls through it the other day, and they came out white duck. Jim, here, washed his conscience in it the night before last, and is going to join the church next Sunday. Wash a yellow cur dog in that machine and he will come out a milk white Spitz with his license paid and a collar round his neck!"

"Sho! you don't say so! How does it work, and how much be they?"

"To a gallon of water you add a teaspoonful of our patent liquid soaporific. It has wonderful penetrative powers; removes every particle of foreign matter instantly, leaving the garments perfectly clean, and remarkably soft to the touch."

"Leaves 'em soft, eh?"

"Soft as butter."

"Then I reckon you must have washed yourself with some of that 'ere stuff, mister."

And as the others clerks roared with laughter, the funny youth went to the rear end of the store to hunt up a skate strap for a very small boy, while the stranger remarked, "Come along, Mary Ann, I kinder reckon that ere fellow has changed his mind and don't want to sell that ere churn, but it does look as if it 'ud bring the butter powerful quick."

Startling Waste.

One reason why the cabinet woods of the country are scarcer and dearer yearly is given in the editorial correspondence of the Industrial World. The gentleman has been spying out the land, and in the course of much interesting information says:—"The unaccountable waste of timber is startling, if not appalling. While economists, and all thoughtful men in the older states, are gravely discussing the problem of the coming timber famine, the good natured, easy going farmers of Henry county (and all Missouri) are splitting magnificent walnut, butternut, cherry and mulberry trees into common rails for the enclosure of $8, $12 and $20 lands, cutting them into logs for cabins, hovels, and pig troughs, and even into common cord-wood, to sell on the market in competition with cheap coals. Still worse, many a woodland farmer girdles scores of valuable trees (even the stumps of which will be gathered for the coming markets), burns them in the new clearings side by side with the baser woods, and wonders the while that he must pay enormous prices for solid walnut furniture from factories a thousand miles away." Where are all the timber buyers?

FOR DYSPEPSIA, WEAKNESS AND DEBILITY.—From Geo. S. Bixby, of Epsom, N. H.—Having received great benefit from the use of Peruvian Syrup, I am willing to add my testimony to the thousands of others constantly sounding its praise. During the war I was in the army, and had the misfortune to be taken prisoner, and be confined in Salisbury and other Southern prisons several months. I became so much reduced in health and strength as to be a mere skeleton of my former self. On being released, I was a fit subject for a Northern hospital, where I remained two months and then came home. My physician recommended and procured for me several bottles of Peruvian Syrup, which I continued to use for several weeks, and found my health restored and my weight increased from ninety pounds to one hundred and fifty, my usual weight, and I have been in my usual good health ever since. I can cheerfully recommend it in all cases of weakness and debility of the system, whether rising from an impure state of the blood, dyspepsia, or almost any other cause, believing it will in most cases give entire satisfaction. Sold by all druggists.

DURING the attendance of Mr. Thos. Brady, Drumgoney, as delegate from Laragh, Co. Cavan at the great Land League Convention, 650 men collected and cut the harvest for him. His female admirers pulled the flax.

ON Sept. 28th, the Rev. Father Hardy, P.P., Upper Killeavy, reported at the Canal Street Police Station, Newry, that a stack of corn, his property, and valued at £6, had been burned down at Mountain Lodge, on the previous night. The burning is supposed to have been malicious.

ON Sept. 30th, a railway porter named Patrick Culloty was accidently shot near Goetallea Railway Station. It appears that a young lad named Daniel McQuinn was showing a revolver to him, and while the latter was examing it it suddenly went off, and the bullet lodged in Culloty's mouth, smashing [illegible] tooth in his head, and cutting away a great portion of his mouth. Culloty was immediately conveyed to Tralee, and brought to the County Infirmary where he lies in a rather precarious state. McQuinn has been remanded to the next Tralee Petty Sessions.

Why will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's German prescription, and it is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced their has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced. 2d1w1y

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. Brown's Bronchial Troches do not disorder the stomach like cough syrup and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c. a box everywhere. d52w9

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

A Wise Deacon.

"Deacon Wildes, I want you to tell me how you kept yourself and family well the past season, when all the rest of us have been sick so much, and have had the doctors visiting us so often." Bro. Taylor, the answer is very easy, I used Hop Bitters in time; kept my family well and saved the doctor bills. Three dollars worth of it kept us well and able to work all the time. I'll warrant it has cost you and the neighbors one to two hundred dollars apiece to keep sick the same time." "Deacon, I'll use your medicine hereafter.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

LINES ON A LADY'S ULSTER.

Now, let the "Ulster" be the theme,
For e'en the muses fain confess
That men and goddesses may dream
Or write the "Poetry of Dress."

"The apparel oft proclaims the man,"
Thus truly saith the immortal bard;
And who shall say that woman may
From fashion's influence be debarr'd.

Tis true she adds a charm to dress,
And dress too oft her beauty blurs,
But when she's graced with faultless taste
Her garments oft add charms to her.

The dress in which are best allied
The subtlest art and perfect skill,
Adds to the charm 'twas meant to hide,
And makes them more bewitching still.

No careless folds the Ulster shows,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

The autumn chill, the winter snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frosts that bite, the winds that blow,
Invade the Ulster all in vain.

Thus use and elegance combine—
That shields the form, that charms the eye;
And art is shown in each design
That M. & A. so well supply.

And to crown all, each rare device
In Ulsters, M. & A's. display
Is sold at such a wond'rous price,
We feel amazed—and well we may.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1881.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

C. O. F.

The following is the list of officers of Court Peterborough No. 29 C. O. F., for the ensuing half year:—

D. D. H. C. R.....H. Nesbitt.
Chief Ranger.....J. Byrne.
Vice-Chief Ranger.....F. J. Jameson.
Recording Secretary.....R. Wright.
Financial Secretary.....W. Strain.
Treasurer.....G. Kingdon.
Senior Woodward.....F. Perry.
Junior Woodward.....R. McWhinnie.
Senior Beadle.....J. Fuller.
Junior Beadle.....J. Duncan.
Chaplain.....R. Robinson.

The order in this town is rapidly coming to the front, and now has a very large membership. At the last meeting four new members were initiated, three ballotted for and eleven proposed.

Lacrosse.

A gentleman who witnessed the lacrosse match at Toronto the other day, between the St. Michael's College club and the Maitlands, says that the playing of P. Rudkins, a member of our club, for the college, was commented on by every one of the large number of spectators present, and the opinion of all was that if Peterborough can produce twelve men like Rudkins, that they need fear no junior club in the Dominion. Cobourg beat Belleville at the former town on Thursday, taking three straight games in 28, 32 and 11 minutes.

Exactly So.

The Campbellford Herald remarks thusly "All along the line (of the Grand Junction) improvements in the form of new culverts, new rails, new ties, increased ballast, repairs to the burned fences, prove that the road is under thorough management. Better and more improvements, in fact, could not be expected upon any road during the short period the present managers have had control."

Complimentary Supper.

On Wednesday evening Mr. H. W. Watson tendered his employees an oyster supper at Mr. A. P. Morgan's Hotel. Everything was prepared in the best style, and reflected great credit on the house. After spending a very agreeable evening the party broke up at an early hour, all agreeing that Mr. Watson "is a jolly good fellow."

Incendiary Fires.

Port Hope, Cobourg and Belleville all had their Thanksgiving fires, those in the first two towns being of incendiary origin. This fact taken in connection with our two fire of Sunday morning would seem to point to the fact that incendiarism is on the increase in this district at least.

To Stammerers.

The stammerer's friend will be in Peterborough the coming week, where he will remain for a few days to treat those who may be troubled with any defects in speech. All are invited to call and consult him. Consultation free. Rich and poor welcomed. No cure no pay. d97

Subscription Books.

Agents are wanted to canvass for subscription books, bibles, albums, &c., for Messrs. Ham & Brown, who have opened their office in Henthorn's block. They require twenty agents for this purpose and to canvass for Raymond's sewing machines. d75

New Goods.

Use the Poland Metallic Hair Brush "for headache." British Plate Mirrors for ladies' toilet. Choice lot of those very desirable Gentlemens' Dressing Combs. TAYLOR & MACDONALD, Medical Hall, Corner of George and Hunter Streets.

Personal.

Mr. William Wood, formerly of Harvey, and, who has for the last two or three years been living in British Columbia, arrived in Peterboro' on Friday last. Mr. Wood does not intend to remain permanently here.

Sold.

The Leahy farms situated on the Otonabee River about six miles from Peterboro and four from Lakefield, and containing about 230 acres were sold en bloc on Saturday, by the Master in Chancery to Mr. A. P. Poussette, for $6,150.

THE MORE THE MERRIER.

Two Splendid New Dry Goods Stores in the Field, with Encouraging Prospects.

Peterborough has just had added to its business centre two more dry goods stores or rather, a dry goods store and a clothing store in connection with each other. The enterprising firm of T. Dolan & Co., have opened out in the splendid new building just erected by Wm. Cluxton, Esq., on the corner of George and Hunter Streets, and will enter into a lively race with the old established dry goods firms of Peterborough for a share of the business centering in this town.

Mr. Thomas Dolan who, although perhaps, the youngest tried dry goods merchant we have in the town, has become well known throughout the county of Peterborough; and has already given evidence of business experience, push and enterprise which many merchants of riper years fail to develop. For some years past he has carried on a successful business in Burnham's block, on the corner of George and Simcoe Streets; and being encouraged by the growing trade which he gradually attracted to himself in those premises, he pluckily secured the lease of the new and commodious premises which he now occupies before the block was half built.

The new building is a great ornament to the town, and must have been coveted by other merchants who knew how to value the importance of a busy corner, so central and so convenient to the principal thoroughfares of the town.

The best general impression of the interior of these two handsome stores, and of the extent and variety of the new goods which they contain, can only be gained by a personal visit,—suffice it to say that it can hardly be possible for the most fastidious purchaser to go away without making a satisfactory selection.

The rush of business and crowded condition of the stores since opening has prevented arranging a formal opening, but in place of this the firm extend a cordial invitation to the public to examine their materials and prices, and will deem it a pleasure to give them their best attention.

We have frequently heard it stated among the outside public at least, that too many dry goods firms have sprung up in Peterborough, and that the field is already too well covered. But Mr. Dolan evidently had no fears of that sort. The dry goods houses never had so much business in prospect as they have this fall; and we hope to see such a growth in the trade of Peterborough in the next year as will encourage more of our energetic merchants to follow the example of Messrs. T. Dolan & Co.

Vennor's Latest.

Vennor says that we will have severe gales between the 23rd and 26th of this month, and cold stormy weather with snow falls in the lower Provinces and lakes, with snow in the far west.

Fine Fresh Oysters,

Finnan Haddies, and the best American Canned Goods at Carton's Fruit Store. d90

Oysters! Oysters! Oysters!

Fresh oysters by the plate, raw, stewed or fried, at the St. James Hotel and Restaurant.

OMEMEE.

ACCIDENT.—The Herald says: we are sorry to have to chronicle a severe accident which happened to Rev. E. Barrass, M.A., of this village. He was about to enter the gate at his residence when he accidentally slipped and fell to the ground, his back coming in contact with the edge of a plank, rendered him very lame. The reverend gentleman informs us that he suffered the most excruciating pain for some time after the accident, we are glad to hear that he is rapidly recovering.

A MEAN ACT.—On Tuesday evening last some miscreant laid a rail across the road near Bethel Methodist church, as persons were assembling for service. An accident might easily have occurred as the Rev. E. Barrass' horse and that of Mr. Switzer took fright and leaped off the road, a firm grasp of the lines held the animals at bay. If the mischievous youths are ever caught in the performance of such a mean act again, they will be heard of in another place.

FOR THE SHANTIES.—On Saturday last a gang of eighty Frenchmen, under the command of Mr. M. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon, passed through here on the Midland railway. Our informant says that they were all dressed alike in grey full cloth and looked like an army of Zulus as they marched four deep up Kent street, Lindsay for the Victoria railroad station.

The Two P's.

In an article entitled "The Two P's—Protection and Prosperity," the Chicago Journal of Commerce, one of the leading industrial newspapers of the United States, thus refers to the case of Canada: "If we turn to Canada, we see another flat contradiction of the theory. Under a non-protective tariff there previous to March the 15th, 1879, industry was depressed, languishing, and despondent. The protective policy has been in operation scarcely two and a half years, yet the improvement is radical, increasing, and entirely satisfactory. Never before did the Canadians enjoy so much of solid prosperity. Never before was there so much of hope and enterprise among the people. Never before was there so much confidence in the future. These are facts beyond dispute, and they give the lie direct to the free trade theorists. In all the view there is no sign of coming disaster to industry and business in Canada; every indication is of the contrary kind."

Masonic.

Sir Knight Stavely Hill presented an address from the Prince of Wales, Supreme Grand Master of England, to the Richard Cœur de Lion Preceptory at Montreal on Wednesday night, and received a cordial welcome from the assembled Knights Templar. The Supreme Masonic Council of the Dominion assembled in Montreal on Thursday, Duputy Hutton, of Montreal, presiding. Representatives from Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and States of Vermont and New York were present.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S life at Balmoral is very simple and uniform. The piper plays under her window every morning at eight; she has breakfasted and is out of doors by ten, from which hour she spends till noon in walking and occasionally visiting at the cottages in the vicinity of the castle; from noon until five, with half an hour's interval for luncheon, she devotes herself to work which may be termed official, reading despatches, State papers, &c, and writing memoranda and letters in connection therewith; five she sets out for her daily drive, which lasts till seven, and occasionally later.

Fall of a Safe.

A six thousand pound safe was being hoisted into the third story window of a house on Broadway, New York, on Saturday, when the sustaining rope snapped, and the mass crashed down upon the pavement of a crowded street. The safe struck the sidewalk with a sound like an explosion. The house felt the shock, and the pavement cracked and crushed in beneath it. As for the metal and plaster of which it was composed, they were shattered to peices and strewn in masses over the walk. The startling sound alarmed the neighborhood. It invaded the buildings about and brought no end of frightened faces to the windows. It emptied the Mining Exchange, across the way, in a minute, and brought a flock of curious people from all directions, thronging about. The general impression at first was that a boiler had exploded, but the truck, the workmen, and the track of ruin the safe had made on its way to destruction told their own story. As the occupants of the building descended, up from the basement of Adams' Express Company, two doors off, which runs under the sidewalk where the safe struck, a group of startled employees hurried. They had been under the cracked pavement, and believed their escape from being crushed beneath it a narrow one. Where the safe had come down the great bulk of masonry, which is about fourteen inches thick, had cracked and crumbled away, and the men reported that it would be unsafe to pass over the place until uprights could be erected underneath to sustain it. Traffic over the spot was accordingly suspended for a time, and a set of men were put to work below to make the needed repairs.

Midland Harbour Buoyed.

The Mail says the recent impetus given to the carrying trade by the opening of the new through route for grain via Midland has rendered the buoying of the harbour necessary. Not waiting for the red-tapeism that characterizes the movements of every Government, the Midland Railway Company have had the work done at their own expense, and have gone out of the usual course in such matters by following the advice of practical vesselmen trading at the port. They accordingly gave notice that they have placed the following buoys, which captains visiting Midland for the first time will do well to bear in mind:—

A red buoy off Pine point.
A red buoy off Sawlog Bay point.
A black buoy off Boastly island, and a black buoy off Snake island.

These are placed in not less than 12 feet of water, and will not be removed until on or after the 15th of November.

THE first consignment of glass from the New Glasgow (Nova Scotia) glass works, consisting of forty cases of lamp chimneys, is announced as having arrived at Halifax on Monday. The Dominion imports of glass are over $950,000 worth per annum. Here is a good field. The chief ingredient in glass making may be said to be fire: ten tons of coal is used to one of sand; this makes glass a manufacture that flourishes best in na coal region. At present the sand used is obtained in Massachusetts, while the soda or potash comes from England. The demand for it will probably stimulate the search, and after a while some part of Canada will receive benefit from having the sort of sand needed. In the same way after a while Canada will manufacture the soda used in glass making. This illustrates the wide-reaching stimulus the N. P. gives to the people of Canada; one thing works in with another.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct, 21.—Reports as to the condition of the crops in the interior of the province could not be worse. The case is hopeless. Not one-fourth has been saved. Wheat and barley are frozen as they stand. No such a season has been known since the province was settled by white persons. The Chinese and white labourers are leaving the railway works in droves. The town is filled with them. It is alleged the Chinese leave because the head-tax is $5, and the pay better on the Oregon roads. If the exodus continues it will seriously cripple railway operations.

6—Worthy of Praise.

As a rule we do not recommend Patent Medicines, but when we know of one that really is a public benefactor and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric Bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure Biliousness, Fever and Ague, Stomach, Liver and Kidney Complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend them to all. Sold, price fifty cents a bottle, by Taylor & Mackenzie. d5w27

TULLY or T. RUSTON. d90w24

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had half a bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough.—B., Rochester, N. Y.—American Rural Home.

CARSON'S STOMACH AND CONSTIPATION BITTERS is the certain Remedy for this distressing complaint. In large bottles, at 50 cents. J. D. TULLY, agent for Peterborough.

SUNDRIES!

The attention of Housekeepers is called to the following variety of edibles, a trial of any of which will be an attraction to the table and a gratification to the palate of the purchaser.

CRUSHED WHEAT:—Made from selected Canadian White Wheat by the new process, and is much superior to the ordinary cracked wheat, as a pleasant, light and nourishing breakfast dish.

EVAPORATED SWEET CORN:—An excellent article for the dinner table, esteemed as a delicacy and imparting pleasant variety to the tea table also. Is quite equal to green corn, and superior in the opinion of many to the Canned Corn as usually prepared.

PEA FLOUR:—Prepared in England by an entirely new process, and put up in tin cans. Is a peculiar "handy thing to have about the house." For Soups and Gravies it is simply matchless.

MIXED PICKLES:—An extra fine quality which we sell by the quart or gallon. A convenient, and for the consumer the cheapest mode of supplying the table with this appetizing condiment.

Our motto:—"Good goods at fair prices." All parcels sent free to any part of the town.

Special to the Review, Oct. 24.

ABOUT TEN O'CLOCK on Sunday morning a fire broke out in a frame dwelling on Kent street, owned by R. Smith, Fenelon Falls, and occupied by W. Walshouse. The building was insured in the Western for $600. The loss on the building is about $300. The furniture, which was uninsured, sustained severe injury and loss, by fire and water. The loss on the latter is about $400. The cause of the fire is supposed to have been a defective chimney.

HAMILTON.

Special to the Review, Oct. 24.

CONSIDERABLE excitement has been created by the letter of Rev. Dr. Burns, principal of Wesleyan College, published in the daily papers here in which he endorses and expresses sympathy with Rev. Dr. Thomas, of Chicago, against whom charges of heresy have letely been made and sustained. It is said that the proceedings will be initiated against Dr. Burns.

6—Worthy of Praise.

As a rule we do not recommend Patent Medicines, but when we know of one that really is a public benefactor and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric Bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure Biliousness, Fever and Ague, Stomach, Liver and Kidney Complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend them to all.—Exch.—Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald. d5w27

In the month of October Typhoid, Bilious, and Malarial Fevers are very prevalent. For a sure preventative take, according to directions, DR. CARSON'S STOMACH BITTERS. They purify the System and cool the Blood. They are used to great advantage in Fever and Ague districts. In large 8 oz. bottles, at 50 cents. J. D. TULLY, special agent for Peterborough.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

A HEAVY LOSS.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Yesterday the new sea wall, at East Bourne, gave way. The damage is £400,000. Eight fishing boats belonging to Yarmouth were lost with all hands, also several smacks, with six hands each. All hands belonging to five were lost. A schooner belonging to Peterhead was sunk, and the crew lost.

IN KILMAINHAM GAOL.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—The prisoners in Kilmainham are not harshly treated, they have comfortable rooms, books and the Dublin newspapers. They can smoke and have each day six hours of mutual interest. They can have food sent in and their imprisonment would be a farce if they could meet, and through visitors or the doctors communicate directions to those without, or explain their views to every visitor for publication. When the Government found that communications were going out as the manifesto with the persons' signatures, it was necessary to adopt severe rules.

A NEW ISSUE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—It is intimated that the assistant consel may raise the question of malpractice as an issue in the defence of Guiteau.

A PEELER'S BODY FOUND.

LANSINGBURG, N. Y., Oct. 24.—The dead body of policeman Moshu Burnham was found in the river here yesterday.

TELEGRAPH SUPERVISION.

DUBLIN, Oct. 22.—Considerable delay in the transmission of telegrams from Dublin this week was caused by the supervision exercised by the officials, who are carefully examining every despatch for the information and use of the Government.

A SUDDEN DEPARTURE.

DUBLIN, Oct. 22.—The Duke of Teck's sudden departure from Dublin the day before Mr. Parnell's arrest was the result of the Queen's special command. He did not know the reason, or it is surmised he would not have obeyed, as he is a manly, independent fellow.

MR. O'CONNOR'S ESCAPE.

DUBLIN, Oct. 22.—The police are ridiculed for the escape of Mr. Arthur O'Connor, but the fact is that the detectives knew his every movement, and were instructed not to try very hard to catch him, because a certain official said:—"He sold his Government once, and may sell his friends next time." This refers to Mr. O'Connor's record when a clerk in the Navy Department.

DESTROYING RAILWAYS.

TUNIS, Oct. 22.—The railway authorities state that the repairs to the railway are destroyed nightly by the Arabs. The insurgenss are reported to be massed near Oued Zergha station. Ali Bey's troops were induced to march to Zaghouan only by the officers threatening to shoot the mutineers.

MUTINOUS TROOPS.

The French have occupted Mehdia. A column from Susa started for Kairouan to-day. Ali Bey reports that a mutiny of his troops is imminent owing to the French occupation of Tunis. There has been a week's continued fighting in the mountains near Zaghouan.

THE LEAGUE DISSOLVED.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—In answer to a question to-day Mr. Sullivian said, I consider the Land League now at an end. The meaning of what happened at the last meeting is that it is dissolved. Mr. Parnell and those who issued the "no rent" manifesto knew very well that that must necessarily be the last act of the organization, and they were determined to fire a deadly shot as their ship went down. The Government will effectually suppress the Land League as an organization.

A QUIET MARRIAGE.

The marriage of Mlle. Grevy and M. Wilson was celebrated to-day in the quietest manner. During the religious ceremony, as the law requires, the doors of the palace of the Elysee were thrown open to the public so as to give free access to the chapel. Only two outsiders, both journalistis, availed themselves of the opportunity.

WORSE THAN EVER.

MARSEIBLES, Oct. 23.—The condition of the French troops in Africa is worse than ever. The number of sick is increasing, and French troops are continually needed to fill vacancies. The hospitals in Algiers are overfilled.

VESSELS WIND-BOUND.

DUNDEE, Oct. 23.—Among the two hundred vessels wind-bound in the Firth of Forth are twelve large sea-going steamers. Many vessels lost all their canvas, and some were partially dismasted. Much wreckage is coming ashore.

LIST OF LOSSES.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Lloyd's publish a list of 238 vessels reported on their "loss" book between the 12th and 19th inst. The list includes nothing less serious than vessels dismasted.

"UNITED IRELAND."

DUBLIN Oct, 22.—"The Government have decided that they cannot seize the plant of the paper United Ireland unless they believe a treasonable conspiracy exists. They have decided to arrest anyone taking Mr. O'Brien's place as editor A warrant is out for James O'Connor, who conducted the paper last week.

A FAILUE.

DUBLIN, Oct. 23.—The meeting in Trafalgar square last evening to express indignation at Mr. Parnell's arrest was a failure owing to the rain. About a thousand men and boys were present, and most of them seemed rather opposed to the object of the meeting. After considerable hustling, resolutions condemning the Government were declared carried.

OUR GOVERNOR GENERAL.

The Whitehall Review says:—"The Marquis of Lorne comes home from Canada by express command of her Majesty." I have reason to beleive that the noble Marquis has given complete satisfaction to the Queen and to the Imperial Government in the performance of his duties as Governor-General of Canada, and that his unexpected visit to England is not altogether connected with his official position. Hon. Mr. Macpherson, Speaker of Canadian Senate, in an interview published here says:—"The Marquis has highly commended himself to Canadians. He has always shown a sincere desire to advance the prosperity of the country, and his recent tour was most politic, and will bring immense advantages to Manitoba and the North-West." Mr. Macpherson praises the movement in favor of "fair trade," which has proved so beneficia to Canada.

COLD-BLOODED MURDER.

TUNIS, Oct. 24.—A cold-blooded murder was committed at Rathcloony last night. The victim was a respectacle tenant farmer named Michael Maloney. Between 6 and 7 o'clock he was sitting in the parlour at his dwelling house after supper, when two shots were fired through the window. He received the contents of both charges in his breast and neck, killing him instantly.

PARNELL'S PLATFORM.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—Parnell is reported as saying that the training which the people have had during the past two years in the modified storm, in the strike against rent, prepared them for the great exertions now required. If the farmers stand firm in this strike for one short year, they must bring the Government and landlords to their knees. This fight is nothing more than a question of money and courage as Gladstone intended in any case to dragoon the country. It is just as well that the country should get some additional results in return in the shape of free lands. Parnell also said, "I was always very careful to avoid anything which could be constructed into acts of intimidation or violence. According to the warrants the offenses charged against me must have been contained in speeches delivered by me at the weekly meetings of the League. These speeches were by far the most moderate I delivered since the commencement. The way in which the Government are now putting coercion into force is a most absolute abrogation of the right of freedom of speech, discussion and meeting which was ever obtained in any country. The Government has practically rendered it impossible for farmers either to test or with safety use the Land Act. I had always been one of these who believed it possible to use the Act in such a way as to secure substantial benefits for the agricultural classes of Ireland. I opposed the extreme League party who desired to reject it entirely at the recent convention, but I was firmly convinced that the Act could only be used solely in an organized and systematic fashion, and that if the farmers were left without organization or assistance in advance the result would be as it was in the case of the Act of 1880—disappointment.

MORE TROOPS.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Pressing orders have been received at Woolwich for waggons and stores for the use of the military encamped in Ireland, half to be sent to Cork and the other half to Dublin.

A DIABOLICAL ATTEMPT.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—A jar containing powder was thrown into the house of the manager of Lord Erne's estate at Ballendrat, county Donegal. The fuse became detached and no explosion occurred.

A MEETING DISPERSED.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—An indignation meeting under the auspices of Pomoroy, county Tyrone, branch League yesterday, dispersed quietly upon the summons of a magistrate who was accompanied by a large force of police.

MORE LEAGUE REPRESSION.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—The Emergent Committee has written to Mr. Forster, urging that affective measures be taken to preserve law and order. Mr. Forster replied that the Government is taking and will continue to take such measures as it thinks necessary for quelling disorder and enforcing the law. The League rooms in Cork and Limerick are occupied by police, and no member are allowed to enter. Sixteen arrests were made to-day in various places in Ire

TO BE REMOVED.

LONDON, Oct 24.—It is said that it is probable that Parnell will be removed from Kilmainhan to Belfast or Lyford gaol, and Monaghan, Dillon, O'Kelly, Brennan, and if his eye-sight permits, Boynton will be removed with the others.

A POPULAR DEMONSTRATION.

ROME, Oct. 24.—Sunday being the anniversary of the engagement of Garibaldi and the Pontifical service in 1867, there was a popular demonstration on the spot where it occurred.

AMERICAN.

GRAVEYARD INSURANCE.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 24.—Henry Stewart, negro, aged 80, at one time insured for $125,000 died on Saturday. His illness was due to drinking whiskey adulterated with strychnine. It is said that persons who held policies on his life ordered the liquor vendor to give him all the whiskey he wanted.

LEAGUE MEETING.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—There were several enthusiastic Land League meetings here yesterday.

FATAL PRIZE FIGHT.

Frank McGowan and Denny Lyons had a prize fight at Ferry, Jersey, yesterday. The fight lasted 1 hour and 27 minutes, 19 rounds were fought. Both men were badly hurt. Lyons' condition is fatal.

A CLOSE CALL.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 24.—While the Canada Southern express, which arrives in this city about 8 o'clock in the evening, was dashing along two miles west of Hagersville station, a miserable miscreant fired a gun at the passing train. Conductor Macomber, who was in charge of the train, says it was about a quarter after six o'clock when the train passed Hagersville, sixty-five miles west of this city. He was sitting with a passenger on the north side of the train about the centre of the second coach from the head, and was engaged in conversation. When about two miles west of Hagersville, and while the wheels were counting off the rails at about fifty miles per hour, he heard a loud, sharp report which sounded like a rifle, about a second before a bullet crashed through the sash of one of the windows, slivering the glass to atoms. The broken window was exactly opposite where Mr. Macomber and his friend were sitting, but the seat at the window where the bullet entered was vacant. The bullet made a large and ragged hole.

BURNED TO A CRISP.

BUFFALO, Oct. 24.—While Abraham Frust was engaged in charging a furnace at the Fletcher blast Black Rock he accidentally fell in and was burned to a crisp.

FATAL FAMILY ROW.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Oct. 24.—Jas. Weir fatally struck his father, General Weir, because the latter refused to sign a paper giving the guardianship of his daughter to a certain lady.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1881.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Draughts.

The Globe says that Mr. Robert McLaurin, champion draught player of Peterborough, having challenged any member of the Toronto Draught Club to play for $40 a side and the championship of Ontario, Mr. George Fletcher, of the last named club, accepted the challenge, and the match accordingly came off on Thursday in their club rooms, in the Mechanics' In stitute. The conditions of the match were that the player scoring the highest number out of twelve be declared the winner. The play to be played according to Anderson's rules. An umpire on each side was chosen, with J. Campbell, the president of the Toronto Draught Club, as referee. After five hours' play Mr. Fletcher was declared the winner, having won the first, second, third, fifth, sixth, and seventh, the fourth being a draw. The contest was witnessed by a number of the admirers of the scientific game, and the utmost harmony prevailed throughout.

Personal.

The Orillia Packet says that Mr. Brundrett, has returned from the Old Country and removed to Peterborough, he having been appointed to a position in the Midland Railway offices there. Though here but a short time, Mr. Brundrett had won considerable popularity, and the Methodist Sunday School particularly will miss him. Mr. Geddes has been placed permanently in charge of the Midland Station here. Mr. Brundrett took leave of the Methodist Sunday school, last Sunday. A committee was appointed to prepare and present a farewell address. In connection with the above, we beg to congratulate our old friend Mr. Geddes on his promotion. The people of Orillia will find him an obliging, efficient officer, always attentive to his business and ready at any time to do all in his power to further the business of the company, and look after the interests of his customers.

Midland and Grand Junction Railways.

The traffic returns of the above railways for the week ending Oct. 14th, 1881, were as follows:—

MIDLAND RAILWAY.—Passengers and mails, $2852.55; freight, $11538.54; total, $14391.09, as compared with $10454.34 for the corresponding week of 1880, being an increase of $3936.75; and the aggregate traffic to date is $315979.78, being an increase of $46606.76 over 1880.

GRAND JUNCTION RAILWAY.—Passengers and mails, $644.32; freight, $2113.83; total, $2758.15, as compared with $1670.47 for the corresponding week of 1880, being an increase of $1087.68; and the aggregate traffic from 1st June to date is $46773.59, being an increase of $28319.65 over 1880.

Lacrosse Club Meeting.

A meeting of the Lacrosse Club takes place this evening at the Oriental at 8 o'clock. A full attendance of members is requested, as the affairs of the past season will be wound up. A proposition to have a club room, gymnasism, etc., during the winter months, will be among the matters brought up.

Venison.

Although a large number of hunters are up north, not much venison has reached town yet. Along the front the case is different and almost every dealer displays venison. Perhaps our sports only secure enough for private consumption.

Voters' Lists.

The town voters' lists for the present year have been placed in the hands of the persons entitled to receive them, according to the statute. The number of voters shows an increase over the preceding year.

The Pay List.

The regular fortnightly pay list for street and bridge work, presented to the Treasurer on Friday last amounted to $367.18 of which sum $212.90 was for lumber.

Saturday.

Notwithstanding the uninviting weather, a large number of farmers were in town on Saturday. The high prices received for produce, probably acts as a magnet and draws them in.

Oysters! Oysters! Oysters!

Fresh oysters by the plate, raw, stewed or fried, at the St. James Hotel and Restaurant.

POLICE COURT.

THE BROKEN BUILDING BY-LAW.

MONDAY, Oct. 24.—The adjourned case of P. C. McGhee, Building Inspector, against Mr. George McCombe, charging him with a controvention of the building by-law, by erecting a wooden shed, within the fire limits, was called.

COUN. YELLAND, chairman of the Building Committee of the council, was present. He said that he had not seen the erection complained of, but upon hearing explanations from Mr. McCombe, and upon the understanding that the Building Committee had power to act, Mr. McCombe was told to go ahead with the work but as soon as it turned out that the matter was only referred to the committee to report, work was stopped.

MR. MCCOMBE complained bitterly that he was not allowed to erect a simple "platform" while his neighbor systematically broke the law.

The MAGISTRATE said he had seen the erection complained of and considered that it was a breach of the by-law to allow it to be constructed. He commented rather sharply on the Council for passing by-laws and then by their own action protecting people who broke them.

Councillor YELLAND said he knew that the by-law was being broken every day, and instanced an erection that was being put up in his neighborhood at the present time. He thought that sheds were not as bad as those "fire traps, known as mansard roofs."

The case was enlarged until the 8th of November, in order to await the action of the Council, it being understood that no more work was to be done in the meantime.

As there has been so much talk about this particular shed, a REVIEW representative called around and had a look at it. It consists of a high board fence, with a roof on one side, the roof being composed of inch boards without any battens or shingles. The roof does not slant very much and serves as a platform to stand on while hanging clothes on a line that runs along the top of the roof. If used as a shed, the roof is not wide enough to shelter both horses and waggon, but at the same time it would serve as a shelter for the horses alone. As it is at present, there is not the slightest doubt but that it is an infraction of the building by-law of the town.

A Good Beginning.

The police were on the alert on Saturday night and Sunday, hotel bars closed, rowdies "moved off," and the quiet and order of the town generally looked after. As a consequence three summonses were issued at the police court this morning, and three delinquents will make their bows before the magistrate to-morrow morning, one drunk and disorderly, one disorderly, and one for keeping a disorderly house.

Waterworks.

We notice that Mr. Gamble, who has undertaken to construct our waterworks, is in negotiation with the Belleville authorities, respecting the construction of waterworks in that city, which is even worse off than we are as regards a water supply for either fire or domestic purposes. The persons interested here are pushing operations and we expect to be able to announce at an early date that work has been commenced.

Action Taken.

At last, after repeated warnings, the civic authorities have taken action and intend to put down the Saturday night rowdyism, that has disgraced our town about long enough, with a firm hand. A number of specials and the regulars, did good work on Saturday night, and very little rowdyism was noticeable. We understand that the specials are to be continued.

Pro Tem.

P. C. McGhee is acting as License Inspector, until the Ontario Government appointed a successor to Mr. A Cox, resigned. The Inspector, pro tem. returns his thanks to the hotel keepers, who without exception, closed their bars on Saturday night and Sunday, and he hopes that they will continue to do so and save further trouble.

To Stammerers.

The stammerer's friend will be in Peterborough the coming week, where he will remain for a few days to treat those who may be troubled with any defects in speech. All are invited to call and consult him. Consultation free. Rich and poor welcomed. No cure no pay. d97

Subscription Books.

Agents are wanted to canvass for subscription books, bibles, albums, &c., for Messrs. Ham & Brown, who have opened their office in Henthorn's block. They require twenty agents for this purpose and to canvass for Raymond's sewing machines. d75

New Goods.

Use the Poland Metallic Hair Brush "for headache." British Plate Mirrors for ladies' toilet. Choice lot of those very desirable Gentlemens' Dressing Combs. TAYLOR & MACDONALD, Medical Hall, Corner of George and Hunter Streets.

Bible Society Meetings.

Seven meetings in aid of the funds of the Bible Society take place this evening as previously announced in the REVIEW. We hope that there will be large attendance and liberal contributions at each meeting.

Football.

Negotiations are now pending for matches with Port Hope and Toronto, but no date has yet been fixed upon. Both matches will probably take place at Port Hope during the early part of next month.

A Councillorlic Tumble.

On Saturday evening one of our civic fathers took a tumble on Brock street, near Lundy's bridge. Fortunately he was not injured. Cause a broken plank. We understand that the break is to be repaired at once.

Fire Water and Gas.

A meeting of the Fire Water and Gas Committee is called for this evening at 7.30 o'clock,

Fine Fresh Oysters,

Finnan Haddies, and the best American Canned Goods at Carton's Fruit Store. d90

An Old Maid's Life.

Sweet 16—Builds castles and dwells on love n a cottage.

18—Joins an archery club. Affects intellectual repasts, such as "Reading Clubs." Dances every set and rejects all love proposals.

19—Drops love in a cottage and thinks of a brown stone or pressed brick front.

20, 21, 22—Modesty begins to take its departure. Abhors simplicity.

23—Laces tighter and wishes to marry for rank—a Colonel, Congressman or a Senator would do.

24, 25, 26—Astonished not a little at remaining single. Why don't the men propose?

27, 28, 29—Takes the lead in charades and tableaux. Begins to tease her pa about the Springs, subscribes to Home Journal for Society news. Uses cosmetics glaringly.

30, 31 32, 33—Wouldn't mind a widower if not too old. Willing to manage charades and tableaux, but won't take a prominent part. Begins to turn charitable and hunt out the poor. Joins the church.

34, 35, 36—As a general thing despises men. "They are so silly; but, of course, there are exceptions to all rules." Elected President of the Children's Aid Society.

37, 38, 39—Allows boys of 18 or 20 to take her to prayer meeting, as "intellectuality defies all considerations of age."

40 to 50—Would accept a preacher of her own denomination without responsibility. Takes a large interest in the Sabbath School, and in cats and canary birds.

40 to 50—Sees no harm in a little more rouge—particularly at night. "Scraggy, fretful and desperate." A preacher with half a dozen responsibilities—all boys—she would not object to.

50 to 55—Thanks heaven she was never married. All men are brutes. More rouge. Terribly startled by a remark from her widowed pastor that "it is the duty of all Christians to marry." More startled next day to hear of the good fortune of "that horrid old maid," Miss Snips, who is to marry her pastor. Makes her will and cuts off all her relatives by leaving her entire fortune to the heathen.

IRELAND.

REPORTS from Ireland show that the harvest will this year be, on the whole, very successful.

A NEW and very spacious hall has been erected on High street, Belfast. It was opened on the 5th inst. with a grand Masonic concert.

A FARMER named Leary, residing near Rathmore, was on the night of the 3rd inst. visited by forty disguised men, and warned not to pay rent. Several of their number fired at him, and he died next morning.

THERE is good reason to belive that the oppressive tyranny of boycotting is giving rise to a revulsion of feeling in Ireland. Even at a Land League convention at Ennis on the 1st inst. indiscrimiuate boycotting was condemned as a "national ulcer," and in County Wicklow a meeting has been held to aid boycotted farmers.

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

They cured me of Ague, Bilousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had half a bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough.—B., Rochester, N. Y.—Advertiser Journal Rome.

SUNDRIES!

The attention of Housekeepers is called to the following variety of edibles, a trial of any of which will be an attraction to the table and a gratification to the palate of the purchaser.

CRUSHED WHEAT:—Made from selected Canadian White Wheat by the new process, and is much superior to the ordinary cracked wheat, as a pleasant, light and nourishing breakfast dish.

EVAPORATED SWEET CORN:—An excellent article for the dinner table, esteemed as a delicacy and imparting pleasant variety to the tea table also. Is quite equal to green corn, and superior in the opinion of many to the Canned Corn as usually prepared.

PEA FLOUR:—Prepared in England by an entirely new process, and put up in tin cans. Is a peculiar "handy thing to have about the house." For Soups and Gravies it is simply matchless.

MIXED PICKLES:—An extra fine quality which we sell by the quart or gallon. A convenient, and for the consumer the cheapest mode of supplying the table with this appetizing condiment.

Our motto:—"Good goods at fair prices." All parcels sent free to any part of the town.

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

CABLE.

FOXHALL WINS AGAIN.

NEWMARKET, Oct. 25.—The race for the Cambridgeshire stakes, a mile and 240 yards was won by J. R. Keene's Foxhall, the winner of the Grand Prix DeParis, of the Czarewitch stakes, and two other races at Newmarket this fall, Glitters 2nd, Retreat 3rd. Retreat was scratched before the race.

AMERICAN.

SHORT SIGHTED PREACHERS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Yesterday Miss Henrettia Freiligh was fined $250 for keeping a disorderly house, notwithstanding that two clergymen who had known her for 20 years testified that they frequently made pastoral visits to her house and never observed any improper conduct.

APPROVED OF.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Business men here highly approve of the appointment of Morgan as Secretary of the Treasury.

MORGAN ACCEPTS.

A Washington special to the Sun says Morgan has accepted the Secretary of Treasury on conditions that if he finds the duties too hard, he will resign.

IT WAS LOADED,

PATERSON, N. J. Oct. 25.—John Wolf, a wholesale shoe dealer of New York, while visiting Melinda Jacobs, the daughter of a prominent resident of Pacific Bridge on Sunday, playfully pointed a shot-gun at her. The gun was discharged, fatally wounding Melinda.

PRIEST AND PARISHONER.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 25.—A man named Chagnon sues the Rev. Bedard, a catholic, for $200,000, because, as alleged, the latter from his pulpit denounced Chagnon, and forbade his parishoners to patronize him. The cause of Bedard's action is said to be the fact that Chagnon joined a secret society.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

"ALL QUIET."

LONDON, Oct. 24.—A Dublin correspondent says that reports from different parts of the country, since the proclamation against the League, state, that there have been no disturbance. Business and the people are much relieved.

A MISSING VESSEL.

MALMAR, Sweeden, Oct. 24.—A steamer from Newcastle, with crew of twenty men and six adult passengers, and four children, all Swedes, returning from America on a visit to friends are now a week over due. It is feared that she has been lost in the recent gale.

ALL SETTLED.

BUENOS AYRES, Oct. 24.—The boundary treaty has been approved by both the Argentine and Chilian Congresses.

ANOTHER ARREST.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Dr. Kenny, a member of the Executive Land League, well known as the medical attendant of several imprisoned "suspects" has been arrested and confined in Kilmainham gaol.

NO EMIGRANTS TO GO.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Last week the police of Frankfort-on-the-Main seized and confiscated all the posters and bills in the restaurants which gave information to those intending to emigrate to America.

MORTALITY IN TUNIS.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—Statistics show that since the commencement of the Tunisian expedition the French troops, varying in number from 25,000 to 35,000, had from 12,000 to 15,000 on the sick list. The deaths from disease have been nine hundred, typhoid fever being the cause of 85 per cent. of the mortality.

FRANCE TO AMERICA.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—A number of prominent Frenchmen and Americans assembled this afternoon in response to an invitation at the workshops of M. Gaget Gauthier, to witness the interesting ceremony of rivetting the first of the plates which is to join M. Bartholdi's still incomplete statute of liberty to the pedestal. Short and felicitous speeches were made by Minister Morton, who drove in the first rivet, and M. Laboulaye. M. Bartholdi informs me that he hopes to have the statute in New York in July, 1883, in order to be erected by September of the same year. A great deal is yet to be done. Only the head and shoulders are quite ready. All the plaster casts are complete, however, and steady progress is being made with the bronze.

CONTINUED STORM.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The storm still continues. The rain has ceased for a time, but the winds are very high. At Holyhead there is quite a gale, wind west, barometer 29.9. At Stornoway the barometer stands at 29.9 inches, and at Valentia 29.3, the wind being east. At Brest, on the contrary, the wind is west, showing the prevalence of a circular storm, borometer 29.5.

ANOTHER SHIPPING DISASTER.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—A barque, name unknown, foundered to-day in Carlingford Bay. The gale moderated a little to-night, and the barometer is rising rapidly over the British Islands and France, but a decrease is reported in the north of Scandinavia.

PARNELL CLOSELY GUARDED.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—Parnell continues to be closely guarded in Kilmainham. Permission for him to see a lawyer has been refused. The prison board are now endeavouring to ascertain how the signatures of the prisoners to the League manifesto were obtained. Parnell, Kettle, Dillon, and Brennan refuse to answer the interrogatories of the board.

MALE AND FEMALE ARRESTS.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Several more arrests under the Coercion Act were made in Ireland to-day, including that of Miss Hobnett, of Ballydehob, for persistently exhibiting a "No Rent," manifesto in a window of her house. Patrick Smyth, Home Rule member of Parliament for Tipperary, agrees with Archbishop Croke in deprecation of the "No Rent" policy.

OTHER ARRESTS.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—The following additional arrests have been made: Mr. Griffin at Loughres, Messrs. Kelly and O'Toole at Baltingass, and Mr. Brennan at Sligo, who are all active organizers of the League.

THE DUBLIN CORPORATION.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—At a meeting of the corporation of Dublin to-day in reference to Dwyer Gray's motion to confer the freedom of the city on Parnell and Dillon, the Lord Mayor said it would be indecorous for him to accede to the motion, as it would be a kind of defiance of the Goverment.

NOT SO BAD.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Only between twenty and thirty persons were drowned by the foundering of the steamer Clan Macduff, some passengers belonging to a theatrical company having been rescued. The disaster was caused by a leak, the water extinguishing the fires in the furnace.

SPAIN WANTS GIBRALTER.

MADRID, Oct. 24.—A national subscription has been put afloat for the purpose of buying Gibralter from the English. If England refuses to sell, the money will be devoted to the erection of fortifications on the straits which divide Africa from Spain.

TROUBLE WITH THE BOERS.

DURBAN, Oct. 24.—Great preparations are proceeding for the immediate advance of the British. It is evident it is intended to make a serious demonstration in order to compel the signature of the convention or that more fighting is expected. The Boers are reported to be massing near the frontier.

RENEWED FENIAN PLOTTING.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—An extraordinary story showing the activity of the Fenians in Great Britian, Paris, and America is published. It says that the names and residence of several conspirators are known, and warrants are already in the hands of the police for their arrests. For several months, and until a few weeks ago, what is known as the Fenian mail has been conveyed to London by a storekeeper, on a National Line steamer, who forwarded the mail to Liverpool, and Dublin. An important mail was received this way just before the attempt to destroy Liverpool town hall. The storekeeper, finding he was watched, joined another steamer which arrives in Liverpool. It is asserted Parnell and several other leaders of the League including members of Parliament, visited James Stephens in Paris. The story concludes with the rumour that the Fenians have plotted the assassination of Mr. Forster, Sir Wm. Harcourt, Gladstone, and members of the Royal family.

ALEXANDER THE SECOND

IT IS REPORTED THAT HE HAS SHARED HIS FATHER'S FATE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The Graphic says that despatches from Canadian sources state that the Czar of Russia has been assassinated. No particulars are given.

LATER.—The first news of the assassination of Alexander the II came from the south. The Graphic says that enquiries from the Russian Counsul General in this city gives credit to the report.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, WEAKNESS AND DEBILITY.—From Geo. S. Bixby, of Epsom, N. H.—Having received great benefit from the use of Peruvian Syrup, I am willing to add my testimony to the thousands of others constantly sounding its praise. During the war I was in the army, and had the misfortune to be taken prisoner, and be confined in Salisbury and other Southern prisons several months. I became so much reduced in health and strength as to be a mere skeleton of my former self. On being released, I was a fit subject for a Northern hospital, where I remained two months and then came home. My physician recommended and procured for me several bottles of Peruvian Syrup, which I continued to use for several weeks, and found my health restored and my weight increased from ninety pounds to one hundred and fifty, my usual weight, and I have been in my usual good health ever since. I can cheerfully recommend it in all cases of weakness and debility of the system, whether rising from an impure state of the blood, dyspepsia, or almost any other cause, believing it will in most cases give entire satisfaction. Sold by all druggists.

THE BUILDING BY-LAW.

There has been a lively discussion lately as to some asserted cases of violation of the building by-law. Into the merits of these cases, we will not enter, as the court may be called upon to decide them. We publish, however, the by-law, under which the building committee of the Town Council is annually appointed, so that our readers may understand its duties and powers:—

By-law No. ccccviii.—

A By-law to amend By-laws 279 and 281. Passed 2nd August, 1875.

Whereas it is considered expedient to amend By-laws 279 and 281, so as to afford relief to persons now building or about building in some of the more remote portions of the fire limits in the town of Peterborough and for other purposes.

The Corporation of the Town of Peterborough by the Municipal Council thereof enacts as follows:—

That By-laws 279 and 281 be amended so as to include the following:—

That a standing committee be appointed annually to be known as the Building Committee, to whom all parties about to build within the fire limits shall submit their plans and specifications, in order that such committee may decide as to what is or what is not in accordance with the By-law.

And also to decide all points of difference between the Inspector and the parties building.

(Sg.) J. Edwards, Town Clerk. (Sg.) Wm. Tdole, Mayor.

Peterborough, 2nd August, 1875.

It will be seen that it is the duty of the committee to enforce the By-law in the case of new buildings, by making sure that the plans and specifications are in accordance with its provisions. Unfortunately, however, the committee for many years past, had interpreted this duty as if it were rather their privelege to dispense with the observance of the By-law, which they ought to make respected. Of course they have no such power of setting a law aside at their own pleasure.

IMPROVING THE OTTAWA.

A proposition having been submitted to the Minister of Public Works for damming the Ottawa on the upper waters with the purpose of securing a more uniform level at all seasons of the year, we have enquired concerning the feasibility of the project and learn from a lumberman acquainted with the river some interesting facts. The proposed site of the dam is below Lake Temiscamingue. This lake is 70 miles long from its head to the head of the Long Sault Rapids at its foot. These rapids are six miles long and about a quarter of a mile wide at the head, and about 250 wide at the foot in low water. The banks here are flat and sandy on the south side and pretty much the same on the north bank. It would, therefore, be difficult to construct a dam at this place and make it substantial. The mountain rapids, seventeen miles below the Long Sault, are about 300 feet wide. The banks on both sides are good and high, and the water is not deep. This would be an advantageous place to construct a dam with back water to drown out the Long Sault. The Arables rapids, situated three miles below Mountain rapids, are from 300 to 400 yards long, the average width being 125 yards, with good banks at the head. A properly constructed dam at the Mountain Rapids would make the river navigable to the head of Lake Temiscamingue, and a good land road can be found from there to Mattawa railway station, say ten miles. The land at the head of the lake is good for farming and well adapted for settlement. It is said that the Minister of Public Works intends to send two engineers to examine these points and report on the project of the dam. Certainly the experience of the past season would indicate the necessity of an improvement of the kind proposed, and we shall await further investigations with interest.—Ottawa Free Press.

The Refugees.

London, Oct. 24.—The Telegram correspondent saw Messrs. Healy, Egan, Biggar, Sheehy at the Hotel Normandy, Paris, yesterday. Messrs. Biggar and Healy had just arrived on the continent with two other leaguers. As to the future movements of the League, nothing is yet decided in regard to the reported transfer of the League office to this city or Boulogne.

THE ONTARIO BANK.

A Shareholder Sues the Directors for His Loss—An Interview.

A reporter found Mr. A. Darling, of Montreal, at the Queen's Hotel on Sunday, and questioned him with reference to the report of his having brought a suit against the Ontario Bank.

"Is it true, Mr. Darling, that you have entered an action against the Directors of the Ontario Bank?"

"Yes, I have given a case against the Directors into the hands of Mr. S. H. Blake."

"What were your reasons for taking this course, Mr. Darling?"

"Well, on the first of June a statement of the affairs of the Bank was inserted, in which it was pretended that the capital of the Bank is intact, and a half-yearly dividend of three per cent declared. They also passed a very large sum to the credit of profit and loss. On the 10th of June I purchased 200 shares of Ontario Bank, paying therefore 99 per cent, believing that the dividend then declared had been earned and that the Bank's capital was intact. Within four months the Directors issue a circular stating that they intended applying for permission to reduce the capital of the Bank to $1,500,000, which sweeps away the whole rest and one-half of the original capital. I allege now that the statement issued about the end of May last, was false and untrue, I acting as trustee for certian heirs in Scotland, bought this stock in trust, and it is in their behalf and to exonerate myself in their eyes, that I bring this action."

"Of what value were those shares, Mr. Darling?"

"They were equal to a sum of nearly $8,000, and it is for the difference in their value now and when purchased that I bring the action."

"Will you proceed at once?"

"My instructions are to proceed immediately. I am more in favour of having them proceeded against criminally than in a civil action."

Mr. Darling is not here in connection with the above matter at the present time.

Montreal, Oct. 22.—Your correspondent, having met Mr. Adam Darling just before he left for Toronto, asked that gentleman some questions concerning his intentions in the Ontario Bank matter.

"It is rumoured you intend prosecuting the Bank of Ontario Managers for having published misleading statements?"

"The rumour is quite correct. I wrote to Mr. Bethune, of Toronto, about the matter, but the latter is the solicitor of the bank and cannot take the case. I then wrote to Mr. Blake, sending him full particulars by mail last night."

"Do you expect to make anything of a case against them?"

"I think I have a very good case. I am told so at least. In any event I have to clear myself. I purchased the shares in June last, after a half-yearly dividend of three per cent. had been declared in May, and on the faith that the bank had fairly earned the dividend, and that its capital was intact, inasmuch as the law requires that no dividends shall be paid if the capital is in any manner impaired."

An effort is to be made to hold a meeting of Montreal shareholders to take action against the directors of the bank. Thus far it has not been done.

ANOTHER COMPLAINANT INTERVIEWED.

Your correspondent, in an interview with Mr. Wm. O'Brien this evening, learned that that gentleman is very largely a sufferer by the fall in Ontario Bank stock.

"Do you intend prosecuting the Directors, Mr. O'Brien?"

"I would rather say nothing about that just now. I am very much annoyed at the manner in which we were led to believe that the bank was all right when really the case required a reduction of capital. I purchased a large number of shares before the last dividend was declared, and again after it had been declared. I never for a moment believed that people could have been so greatly deceived by the misrepresentation of the bank. I am in communication with my solicitor at present, and will let you know at some future time the result. Meantime Mr. Darling's case is a test one, and we will see how it comes out."—Globe.

SPAULDING'S BAY.

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—The numerous letters respecting the state of that portion of the property of the town known as Spaulding's Bay, which have appeared, show that at last the citizens are becoming aware of the fact that this malaria breeding spot requires action on the part of the Town Council. While it is true that this place is bad as bad can be, it is also true that the whole river from the bridge on Hunter street to the Locks is equally bad—notably that portion opposite Messrs. Denne & Sperry's mill. This latter is occasioned by the quantity of saw dust and mill refuse thrown or allowed by the saw mill owners up the river to escape into the river. Now, it appears to me two things are needed, first that the town authorities should take the steps provided by law to prevent this refuse getting into the river. There is no difficulty in preventing it, but it is so much cheaper for the mill men to allow the saw dust and refuse to escape into the river than to take the precaution needed to have it kept out, that they go on as they have bene doing for years, taking very little or no precaution at all, and thus ruining our river and creating fever breeding sinks, which, as has often been pointed out, would render life near the river banks unsafe. The Council should at once take action and stop it. The Boat Club at one time took the matter up and all the mill men were convicted and made to pay the penalty imposed by the statute. For some years now nothing further has been done, and the nuisance has been so intensified that many of the people in Peterborough and Ashburnham are now down with malarial fever. The step now needed is in my opinion one that would obviate the difficulty, that is, get a competent engineer to map out the portion of Spaulding's Bay owned by the town, and the portion of the river that is at low water, dry or composed of the refuse that has accumulated, and offer the same to some person who would undertake to fill it up with earth according to the plan or map, to be approved of by them upon such terms as might be agreed on by tender, confining the water of the creek to a proper channel, and with the sanction of the Government offering the portion of the river so that it too might be confined within a given space. The property is of sufficient value to pay for doing this, and I believe a tender would be given to do the work for the land that would thereby be reclaimed. The town would thus be benefited, and the porperty that is now a nuisance would be brought into use. Any one who will take the trouble to go and see what Mr. Edward Green has done by filling up the low place east of his property will see the advantage to be gained at once. The trouble is only commencing now, for year by year, as the sawdust and refuse now in the river decay, the malaria will increase. I believe our present Mayor has already brought the matter before the Government with the hope of getting the river drudged out, but this in my opinion could only be partially effective. The bay ought to be filled up so as to prevent the creek in spring flooding the low lands on its margin. The property at Point St. Charles, McDonald's mill, is being filled up with saw-dust, this should not be allowed, as it soaks up and holds the water and does not make land. The Council have a responsibility in the matter which it cannot shirk, and the only way, I think, to get rid of the difficulty is to stop more refuse being put into the river, and to fill up above high water mark the portions of the bay and river in which the refuse has now collected.

A STORMY PASSAGE.

The Allan Steamer "Hibernian's" Experience Crossing the Atlantic.

St. John's, N.F., Oct. 22.—The mail steamer Hibernian arrived yesterday after having experienced one of the severest storms ever encountered on the Atlantic by a ship of the Allan line. The passage from Liverpool occupied eleven days, during which time the steamer constantly encountered adverse gales and had her decks swept by the waves. The hurricane reached its maximum violence on Tuesday last, the barometer standing 28 degree 40 seconds. From noon Thursday until the corresponding time next day the Hibernian was driven back nine miles. Her two midship boats, one on the port and the other on the starboard side, were broken into staves and washed away, and one of the quarter life-boats was demolished. A heavy sea broke in over the port quarter, and made a complete breach through the companion-way over the saloon, sending drenching spray into the cabin. While the captain and second officer were watching the ship's behaviour from the bridge three tremendous seas broke over the starboard bow, rising high above the steamer's bridge, and sweeping clean over the funnel. Captain Wylie and the officer in charge had a narrow escape with their lives, having been swept down to leeward with great violence. The bridge was all unsettled, and the iron stanchions, cramps and bolts were twisted and broken in every direction. The Hibernian left for Baltimore via Halifax to-day.

Her Majesty's war-ship Phantom arrived yesterday from Twillingate, Notre Dame Bay. She left that port Tuesday morning with the English schooner Flamingo in tow. On Wednesday she encountered a fierce gale of wind from the east-north-east, accompanied by a furious snow storm that lasted till Tuesday morning. During the height of the gale the man-of-war parted the towing gable and lost the Flamingo. The fog was very thick at the time, and accordingly no attempt was made to re-connect with the schonner. The Phantom was immediately put head to eastward and steamed out to sea, three days being occupied in making 175 miles through the heavy snow storm and east wind.

A SAD CASE OF SUICIDE.

A Young Man Ends His Life by Taking a Dose of Paris Green.

Some time on Saturday last a young man named George Cruickshank, living on a farm some twelve miles from Trenton, committed suicide by taking a dose of Paris Green. No cause can be assigned for the rash act, other than that he was possessed of an ungovernable appetite for strong drink, and he had been drinking very heavily for some time previous to his death. Deceased was a son of Mr. Lewis Cruickshank, bailiff, of this town, and was universally liked by all. His numerous acquaintances were horrified to hear of his untimely end. He was about twenty-eight years of age, and had only been married some eighteen months. No inquest was held.—Advocate.

SOLOMON PHILANDER SMITH.

Lakefield, Oct. 19th, 1881.

THE FARM AND GARDEN.

Take in the Implements.

From what we have seen in our recent journeying among the farmers, it is clear that all have not heeded the injuction so often repeated in our columns, that it is cheaper to house the various implements, than to leave them where last used in the open field. The reaper, horse-rake, and even the harrow, will last many years longer, and run easier if kept under cover and from the rottening and corroding influence of the elements.

The Flower Garden and Lawn.

The grass of the lawn should be left uncut for some time before the ground freezes, that it may have a sufficient coat for winter protection. The fallen leaves and all litter should be raked up and used in the stable, or as protection to tender plants; it both improves the look of the grounds and furnishes a valuable litter, or covering. Evergreens show now to the best advantage, and a diversity of form and shades of green are very pleasing. These trees and shrubs should be selected and planted in groups, etc., largely for their winter effect. New beds and paths may be laid out now, and much work of this kind done that will add to the permanent value of the grounds, and also aid in the busy days of spring.

Greenhouse and Window Plants.

Plants that come in from the garden should have a period of rest. Pots of bulbs should be placed in a dark cool cellar for several weeks to form good strong roots. If there is no suitable cellar, place the pots in a cold-frame or pit, and cover them with coal ashes. The object is to keep the bulb warm enough to emit roots, and not so warm that the leaves and flower buds will start. Watering is one of the most important labors for the Greenhouse. A good thorough wetting is better than keeping the surface, and that only, moist by frequent pouring over of a little water. The water should not be much colder than the air of the room, at best not almost ice cold, as is too often the case. Hanging baskets require a plenty of light and air. They need abundant water, and frequent turning if the light comes strongly from one side. No one with house plants should be without some good climbers, such as the English and the so-called Parlor or German Ivy. Look out for insects, and kill them before they have done any serious harm.

Look to the Manure.

There is a great deal of manure that goes entirely to waste; but it is of that which is more than half wasted that we wish to speak. Many farmers know the full value of their manure heap, and yet do not realize that that their method of feeding is a very extravagant one. Open-yard feeding, especially if the yard is a large one, and much exposed to winds and storms, is too expensive to be pratised by any one who loves to see his stock comfortable or desires to make money by the operation. In the single point of manure, it does not pay. Not only should the animals be well fed under cover for their own sakes, but also for the manure. It must be protected from drenching rains and hot sun, and have a large amount of litter incorporated with it, as well as trodden down completely, that the largest amount of its soluble fertilizing elements may be held. The best barn-yard manure of any kind is made under cover.

Farm Stock.

It is nearly time to consider the winter feeding of farm stock, at least this is the month to make all the plans and get everything in order for the cold season that will soon be at hand. The question of winter feeding in all its bearings is an important one. There is a constant outgo of fodder, and the problem is to so govern the expenditure that the best returns may be obtained. Not only must the animals be "kept," they must be kept well, that the opening of the new year of pasturage may not find them run down, or as it is termed "spring poor." Aside from bringing the stock through in a healthy and vigorous condition, there is the manure to be considered. This should be a good dividend upon the winter's outlay, and therefore it should have a place in the plans for winter feeding. It cannot be too strongly urged, that the best manure is made under cover. The same system which gives the best protection and care to the animals will insure the most satisfactory returns in the manure from them. Feeding for manure is more and more to be a leading factor in the winter keeping of farm animals. A plenty of the best feed, a free supply of pure water, and warm quarters, are three essentials in profitable winter farming. This does not mean that the animals shall be in the stalls and stables all the time, but it does preclude that out-of-door, straw stack feeding when the animals must stand in unprotected, shivering groups the whole night through. Sheds—and good ones—will pay for themselves in the better manure that will be made in them—not to mention the economy in food for the animals thus protected.

A NATIONAL BLESSING.

Philadelphia Record.

The Nineteenth Century, above all other ages, has been noted for its many inventions. It is has given us the steam power in its thousand-fold applications, the telegraph, the telephone, the electric light, and innumerable other discoveries, all blessings to humanity; each day bringing us new surprises until we have become so accustomed to the exhibitions of the genius of our century that any new development is at once received as a matter of natural consequence, and most people will simply remark: "I told you so." As an instance of this fact we would only call attention to that wonderful discovery St. Jacobs Oil. A few years ago this Great German Remedy had never been heard of before in this country; to-day you can hardly find a man, women or child in the United States who has not used the remedy for some pain or ache, or, at least has witnessed its use and seen its wonderful effects on a fellow-being. St. Jacobs Oil has become a national remedy, for it is known in every city, town, village and hamlet in the country. It is a cosmopolitan preparation, for it is praised by the Americans, Germans, Italians, Bohemians, Danes, Swedes, Portugese, Spaniards, French—yes, even by the "Heathen Chinee." It may be termed the universal blessing, for it is endorsed by the rich and poor, the clergyman, the physician, the merchant and the laborer, in fact by all classes of the community. St. Jacobs Oil, by its almost marvelous properties, can be employed for a simple cut or sprain or the worst case of inflammatory rheumatism. Persons who have been confined to their bed for years with that terrible disease, rheumatism, have been completely cured by the use of a single bottle. Such cases have been quoted by the leading journals of our country; for instance, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch says: Under the title of Old Probabilities, one of the most useful and valuable officers of the United States Government is most widely known. But quite as well known is Prof. J. H. Tice, the metrologist of the Mississippi Valley, whose contributions to his favorite study have given him an almost national reputation. On a recent tour through the Northwest the Professor had a narrow escape from the serious consequences of a sudden and very dangerous illness, the particulars of which he thus refers: "The day after concluding my course of lectures at Burlington, Iowa, on the 21st of December last, I was seized with a sudden attack of neuralgia in the chest, almost preventing breathing. My pulse, usually eighty, fell to thirty-five; intense nausea of the stomach succeeded, and a cold clammy sweat covered my entire body. The attending physician could do nothing to relieve me; after suffering for three years, I thought, as I had been using St. Jacobs Oil with good effect for rheumatic pains, I would try it. I saturated a piece of flannel, large enough to cover my chest, with the Oil and applied it. The relief was almost instantaneous. In one hour I was entirely free from pain, and would have taken the train to fill an appointment that night in a neighboring town had my friends not dissuaded me. As it was, I took the night train for my home, St. Louis, and have not been troubled since."

The Boston Globe says; Charles S. Strictland, Esq., builder, No. 9 Boylston street and 106 Harrison avenue, Boston, thus speaks: "The pleasure which I hereby attempt to express can only be half conveyed by words. Physicians of very high character and notoriety have heretofore declared my rheumatism incurable. Specifics, almost numberless, have failed to cure or even alleviate the intensity of the pain, which has frequently confined me to my room for three months at a time. One week ago I was seized with an attack of acute rheumatism of the knee. In a few hours the entire knee joint became swollen to enormous proportions and walking rendered impossible. Nothing remained for me, and I intended to resign myself, as best I might, to another month's agonies. By chance I learned of the wonderful curative properties of St. Jacobs Oil. I clutched it as a straw, and in a few hours was free from pain in the knee, arm and shoulder. As before stated, I cannot find words to convey my praise and gratitude to the discoverer of this king of rheumatism."

The Chicago Times says: "Everybody on the South Side knows J. D. L. Harvey, Esq., who has been a resident of Chicago for over twenty years. Mr. Harvey expressed himself on the "Oil subject" as follows: "I have spent over $2,000 to cure my wife of rheumatism. Two bottles of St. Jacobs Oil accomplished what all the medical treatment failed to bring about. I regard it as a greater discovery than electricity. It is a boon to the human race, and I am very glad to have this opportunity of testifying as to its remarkable efficacy. I cannot speak too highly of it, and I would be recreant to my duty to those afflicted did not I lift my voice in its praise."

The Philadelphia Ledger says: Mr. George I. Graham, 820 Nineteenth street, Philadelphia, is a journalist of many years' experience, and is actively connected with the Philadelphia Sunday Mirror, a leading thearical and musical journal. During the "late unpleasantness" Mr. Graham was Captain of Company K, One Hundred and Eighty-third Pennsylvania regiment, and through exposure in the field he contracted a variety of ills, and he says a very troublesome case of rheumatism in the right leg, and foot was a war inheritance that he had in vain tried to get rid of, until he was recommended to try St. Jacobs Oil. He states that he felt a slight relief, even on the first application of the Oil. Before the first bottle he purchased had been used up he had but few traces of his rheumatism, and at this this time he says the disease has entirely left him, which he attributes entirely to the use of St. Jocobs Oil. He remarks; "No person need suffer with rheumatism if St. Jacobs Oil can be obtained; to those who are afflicted with that complaint it is worth its weight in gold."

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says:—Captain Paul Boyton, the world-renowned swimmer, thus speaks of the old German Remedy:—"From constant exposure I am somewhat subject to rheumatic pains, and nothing would ever benefit me until I got hold of this old German Remedy. Why, on my travels I have met people who had been suffering with rheumatism for years; by my advice they tried the Oil, and it cured them. I would sooner do without food for days than be without this remedy for one hour. In fact I would not attempt a trip without St. Jacob's Oil, as I do not see how I can get along without it."

St. Jacob's Oil has been endorsed by persons of national reputation, who would not lend their names if they were not convinced that it was a duty they owed to suffering humanity; they have experienced the wonderful effect of the Great German Remedy, and they want their fellow creatures to know the result. We would only mention in this connection the Rt. Rev. Bishop Gilmour, of Cleveland, Ohio: "Excellent for rheumatism and kindred diseases; It has benefited me greatly." Mme. Marie Salvotti, prima donna, Wilhelmj Concert Troupe: "Nothing can compare with it as a prompt, reliable cure for the ailment named." William H. Wareing, Esq., Assistant General Superintendent, New York Post Office: "Proved all that is claimed for the Oil, and found efficacious; ready relief for rheumatic complaints." Hon. Thomas L. James, Postmaster, New York, referring to Superintendent Wareing's report concerning St. Jacob's Oil: "I concur." Prof. C. O. Duplessis, Manager Chicago Gymnasium, Chicago, Ill: "Our professionals and amateurs use it in preference to everything they have ever tried." George W. Walling, Esq., Superintendent Police, New York city: "Members of this department relieved of rheumatism by its use." Stacey Hill, Esq., Mount Auburn Inclined Plane Railroad, Cincinnati, Ohio: "Undoubtedly it is a remarkable medicine." Captain Henry M. Holzwarth, Chief Detective Force, Cleveland, Ohio: "Surprising relief; a world of good." Prof. Edward Holst, pianist and composer, Chicago, Ill.: "Its effects are in harmony with its claims." In conclusion we would say that it is the imperative duty of every family to have a bottle of St. Jacob's Oil on hand for all emergencies; for the remedy is a true friend in need, and the occasion for its immediate use may come when it is least expected. Follow this advice and it will not be long before you will join us in calling St. Jacob's Oil "a National Blessing."

Pink gums and mouth and dazzling teeth
And breath of balm and lips of rose

Who ever wisely, while they may,
Use Sozodont by night and day.

A Wise Deacon.

"Deacon Wildes, I want you to tell me how you kept yourself and family well the past season, when all the rest of us have been sick so much, and have had the doctors visiting us so often." Bro. Taylor, the answer is very easy, I used Hop Bitters in time; kept my family well and saved the doctor bills. Three dollars worth of it kept us well and able to work all the time. I'll warrant it has cost you and the neighbors one to two hundred dollars apiece to keep sick the same time." "Deacon, I'll use your medicine hereafter.

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

They cured me of Ague, Bilousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had half a bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough.—B., Rochester, N. Y.—American Rural Home.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1881.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

A Good Shot.

At the recent annual shooting matches of the East Durham Rifle Association, our old friend, Lieutenant E. Sanderson, of the Durham Field Battery, formerly Sergeant of the Peterborough Cavalry, carried of all the honors. In the All Comers' match, 200 yards, 5 rounds, he stood second with 21 points. In the Association match, 200 and 400 yards, five rounds each range, he took first place with 37 points. In the Military match, 200 and 500 yards, five rounds each range, he again "topped the heap" with 42 points. He also won a cup for the highest score in the Association match, and another prize for the highest scores in the All Comers' and Association matches, thus winning four firsts and one second prize out of five firsts offered. That's the way to show the frontiersmen "how to shoot."

The Weather.

Thinking probably that we have had enough rain for a time, the clerk of the weather has ordered a slight stoppage, and for the first day for some time we have clear sunshining weather, a great relief after the miserable drizzling rain that has pestered us of late. Vennor and Moses Oates are both out with weather predictions, but in spite of what they say, we guess we will just have to take whatever kind of weather comes along, and grin and bear it. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours as reported from Toronto by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, at 10.30 a. m., are as follows:—Lakes—Fresh to strong westerly to north-westerly winds; fair mild weather.

A Homeless Youth.

There has been wandering around town for the last two weeks, a boy aged about 14 years, who has given his name as Hugh McCormick. He says he hails from Trenton and has no home. When questioned as to his relatives, he said that his father lived in Trenton, but was unable to work as he was paralyzed on both sides. He sleeps anywhere that he can find room enough, and as to how he lives, it is a mystery. If he has any relatives or friends they should look after him, or in a few years he will become one of that class that now fill our gaols and other penal institutions. Any information regarding him will be thankfully received by the police officers.

Toronto & Ottawa Railway.

An Embrun correspondent, under date of the 22nd of October, informs the REVIEW that the Toronto and Ottawa Railway engineers are now at Embrun, within ten miles of Castlemain. They expect to finish the work this week, if the weather proves fine. They have had a lot of rain lately, which has greatly interfered with the work. A first class line has been secured all the way from Perth.

Another Mansard Roof.

We notice that a mansard roof is being put on the carriage shop of Messrs. Lockhart & Chown. While this style of roof no doubt improves the appearance of the building, at the same time, it adds greatly to the fire risk, unless covered with some non-combustable material which unfortunately is not the case in a great many instances.

For the Woods.

Mr. T. Cavanaugh has just returned from Kinmount, to which place he accompanied eighteen men, whom he hired to work in one of the Dickson estate shanties. The wages paid were from $15 to $20 per month, for ordinary hands, a considerable advance on last year's rates.

Waterworks.

We have been shown a telegram from Mr. Gamble, of New York, stating that Mr. Ferris, a hydraulic engineer, will arrive here this week, and proceed to work at once, with the preliminary work on our waterworks.

A New Wire.

The men who have been engaged in running a telegraph wire from Madoc to Belleville, have about completed their work. The line on the main line is working very satisfactorily.

Oysters! Oysters! Oysters!

Fresh oysters by the plate, raw, stewed or fried, at the St. James Hotel and Restaurant.

POLICE COURT.

DISORDERLY.

TUESDAY, Oct. 28.—Bernard Corcoran, a young and hard looking case, aged only 13 years, was charged by P. C. McGhee with acting in a disorderly manner on the streets on Saturday night last.

The boy pleaded guilty, but stated that others in the crowd made just as much noise as he did.

P. C. MCGHEE said the youth was acting in a very disorderly manner on Charlotte street on Saturday night, along with a number of other boys.

The MAGISTRAE administrated a severe lecture, entered guilty to the charge on the book, but reserved sentence.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.

James Armstrong, a rather respectable looking man, was charged with being drunk and disorderly on a public street on Saturday night.

P.C. MCGHEE, sworn,—He saw defendant going down Charlotte street on Saturday night. Defendant was cursing and swearing and yelling in a loud tone of voice. Defendant was drunk and staggering and refused to tell his name when he was asked. A special officer came along, who knew defendant, and they allowed him to go as he lived in town.

DEFENDANT said he was not drunk, as he had only drank four glasses of beer. He denied the officer's statements as to the staggering etc.

Chief JOHNSTON, sworn,—He saw defendent on Saturday night last, and if he was not drunk, he was acting as he should not have done. Defendant was disorderly. Witness followed him down street and met the other two officers talking to him. Defendant was not arrested, as he was known, but was allowed to go upon promising to appear at the court on Monday morning.

P. C. MCGHEE said defendent threatened officer Pidgeon, and threatened "to lick" him.

The MAGISTRATE remarked that if any "licking" took place, it would cost some person something. Judgment fine, $5, to be paid within 21 days.

A DISORDERLY HOUSE.

Dennis Bouche, residing on Bethune street, near McDonnel, was charged by P. C. McGhee with keeping a disorderly house on Sunday night last.

Defendant, who was unable to speak English, appeared in court with a friend, who interpreted for him.

P. C. MCGHEE said he went to the house twice on Saturday night and Sunday morning. Six or seven men and two women were in the house singing, dancing and making all kinds of noises. All in the house were intoxicated. He called at the house on Monday to serve the summons, and found four men and two women in the house. Everything was in disorder.

DEFENDANT, through the interpreter, denied that any person was drunk.

The case was enlarged until Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in order to allow defendant to procure witnesses.

On Her Wedding Day.

Among the many elegant and costly presents received by Miss Emma Cox, daughter of our esteemed citizen, Geo. A. Cox, Esq., President and Managing Director of the Midland Railway, on the occasion of her wedding, were several that are well worthy of mention, as showing in an unmistakable manner, the harmony and good feeling existing between the President of the railway, and the officers and employees under him. The employees, unknown to either the President or any of the officers, held a meeting and determined to show on the happy occasion in a tangible manner the esteem and respect in which Mr. Cox is held by every one of them, from the highest to the lowest. On the day of the wedding Mr. Cox received a heavy package accompanied by a polite note, asking him to present to Miss Cox, in the name of the employees of the Midland Railway, the present they had sent, and at the same time wishing himself and family long life and prosperity. The gift consisted of a magnificent solid silver tea service of four pieces and a server. All the pieces were handsomely chased and engraved, and the salver bore an inscription, stating the occasion of the presentation and by whom made. The officers of the road also presented a handsome silver tea service of four pieces. The employees of Mr. Cox's office, Insurance and Telegraph departments, not to be behind the others in showing esteem for their chief, presented a solid silver Ice Pitcher and Goblet, finely engraved and chased. Among the other presents were many from private and personal friends, not only in Peterborough and neighboring towns, but numbers were sent from a distance.

Personal.

We are pleased to observe that Mr. W. G. Thomson has returned to Peterborough, and assumed a position in W. Fairweather & Co's. dry goods store. Mr. Thomson is so well known in both town and county, and has been so long identified with the dry goods interests of this place, that all his old friends will be glad to meet him again and do business with him. It is also gratifying to learn that business at W. Fairweather's is in such a flourishing condition that it was found necessary to obtain the services of a man of Mr. Thomson's experience.

The New Railway.

The Mail says until the engineers of the Ontario and Quebec railway report as to the result of their survey on Yonge street, it will not be known where the actual terminus of the road will be located. It may happen that the depot will be built in Yorkville, and several lines run into the village. If this place is not selected the line will likely run into the city from the east, near the Grand Trunk. It will be seen from this extract that the road is going ahead.

New Goods.

Use the Poland Metallic Hair Brush "for headache." British Plate Mirrors for ladies' toilet. Choice lot of those very desirable Gentlemens' Dressing Combs. TAYLOR & MACDONALD, Medical Hall, Corner of George and Hunter Streets.

Fisk Jubilee Singers.

The above celebrated company sing in Port Hope on Thursday evening next. Owing to prior engagements they were enable to sing here. However, some of the music loving community have made arrangements, whereby those who wish to hear them can leave here on the 6.45 train in the evening, and by means of a special train, reach home the same evening. The railway company offer return tickets at one fare, if a stipulated number are guaranteed. We are pleased to learn that quite a number have already promised and more are expected. Those who go down will enjoy a rich treat.

To Stammerers.

The stammerer's friend will be in Peterborough the coming week, where he will remain for a few days to treat those who may be troubled with any defects in speech. All are invited to call and consult him. Consultation free. Rich and poor welcomed. No cure no pay. d97

MADOC, Ont., Feb. 16, 1880.—Horace Seymour writes:—Perry-Davis' Pain-Killer as a family cure all has been in constant use in my household for a long term of years, and I would never desire to have a better one. It never fails me. I call it the "Old Reliable."

UPWARDS of 40,000 people were present at the meeting held at Hyde park, London, on Sunday, to protest against the Government's action in Ireland. Most of those present were spectators, and took no active part in the meeting. Mr. O'Donnell, who was the leading speaker, denounced Mr. Gladstone as a seditionmonger and a Judas.

As a rule we do not recommend Patent Medicines, but when we know of one that really is a public benefactor and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric Bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure Biliousness, Fever and Ague, Stomach, Liver and Kidney Complaints, even where all other remedies fail. SUNDRIES!

The attention of Housekeepers is called to the following variety of edibles, a trial of any of which will be an attraction to the table and a gratification to the palate of the purchaser.

CRUSHED WHEAT:—Made from selected Canadian White Wheat by the new process, and is much superior to the ordinary cracked wheat, as a pleasant, light and nourishing breakfast dish.

EVAPORATED SWEET CORN:—An excellent article for the dinner table, esteemed as a delicacy and imparting pleasant variety to the tea table also. Is quite equal to green corn, and superior in the opinion of many to the Canned Corn as usually prepared.

PEA FLOUR:—Prepared in England by an entirely new process, and put up in tin cans. Is a peculiar "handy thing to have about the house." For Soups and Gravies it is simply matchless.

MIXED PICKLES:—An extra fine quality which we sell by the quart or gallon. A convenient, and for the consumer the cheapest mode of supplying the table with this appetizing condiment.

Our motto:—"Good goods at fair prices." All parcels sent free to any part of the town.

CANADIAN TELEGRAMS.

MONTREAL.

Special to the Review, Oct. 26.

THE SENECAL-LAURIER criminal libel suit was commenced in the assize bureau to-day.

THE FIRST HEAVY FROST of the season occurred here last night.

THE STOCK MARKET was dull and lower to-day.

OTTAWA.

Special to the Review, Oct. 26.

MR. PEW, Manager of the Manitoba and South Western Railway, is in the city en route for New York. He says 57 miles south-west of Winnipeg has been graded, and will be in running order by the 1st of January next.

IT IS UNDERSTOOD that the Government have granted to the widow of the late Mr. McEbberts, $3,025. Deceased was an engineer on the Canada Pacific Railway in British Columbia, and was killed by falling from a cliff while surveying a route through one of the difficult passes. $2,000 of the sum represents an increase in salary he was entitled to, and the balance is an appropriation.

MR. MUNSON, M. P., and Messrs. Hall and Fullerton, of Cowansville, Quebec, are in the city. They have had an interview with the Minister of Customs in relation to some desirable changes in the Customs' service on the South Eastern Railway.

TWO ACCIDENTS occurred at Rochester's mill representing a somewhat strange coincidence, as the following facts show:—Patrick Hurley, an employee in the mill, had one of his legs broken by a log falling on him, he was removed to his home where his injuries received medical attention. Shortly after this occurrence, a son of the injured man, who is employed in the edging department, was caught in a shaft and was whirled around until his clothes were completely torn from his person. He was badly bruised, and is supposed to have suffered internal injuries.

A MOST DARING AND FOOL HARDY deed was done by a drunken man at the Union Depot on Thursday afternoon. Wishing to get across the track on the Canada Pacific Railway, he foolishly crawled under a passenger car which was backed up along side of the station platform, the wooden work of which connects with the track. The cars started, knocking the man down on the rail and to those who saw his perilous position there appeared to be no posibility of escape, however the rear car at this moment struck the piece of wood which is placed at the end of the track to prevent the cars from going beyond, and this unforseen result saved the life of the idiot, who was, however, too intoxicated to apprehend his narrow escape, and appeared unmindful of the terrible fate which had seemed certain to befall him.

On Thirty Days' Trial.

We will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and other Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to young men and older persons who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality, etc., guaranteeing speedy relief and complete restoration of vigor and manhood. "HAIL, beauteous, bounteous, gladsome Spring,"—this was Mark Twain's prize poem—but the dire diseases incident to Spring, spoil the romance. Burdock Blood Bitters is the prize remedy, the remedy prized by all who have tried it as the best Blood Purifying Tonic and System Regulator in the market. It cures all Blood Humors from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple. Sample bottles ten cents, for sale by all dealers in medicine.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

THEY'RE NOT CITIZENS.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The proposal to confer the freedom of the city of Dublin upon Parnell and Dillon was defeated to-day in spite of the most strenous efforts on the part of the Home Rule members, led by Messrs. Grey and Dawson, two of Parnell's parliamentary followers. The debate was hot and protracted, and the supporters of the proposal certainly had the best of the speaking. Forty-six members of the corporation out of the sixty attended. The Lord Mayor presided. The voting was equal, 23 for, 23 against. The Lord Mayor gave the casting vote against the motion. In the majority against the proposal were ten Conservatives and thirteen Liberals, and of these eight were Roman Catholics, and several deputy-lieutenants and justices of the peace. Unqualified delight was expressed among the officials at Dublin Castle when the result was conveyed to them as a precautionary measure against any popular demonstration. The Mansion House is to-night guarded by a strong force of police.

KING HUMBERT'S VISIT.

VIENNA, Oct. 25.—King Humbert's visit to Berlin is postponed because of the unwillingness of Bismark to rouse the susceptibilities of France.

A FAMILY MURDERED.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—A despatch from Varpalauka, Hungary, says that on Sunday night burglars entered a house there and murdered the family of nine persons, including an infant and a man aged ninety, while they were asleep No arrests have been made.

FOERSTER'S FUNERAL.

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—The police authorities having informed the promoters of the procession at Breslau, on the occasion of the removal of the remains of Bishop Foerster, that the ceremony must be confined to the cathedral, the Catholics appealed to the Emperor, who replied, approving the action of the police, but later reconsidered their request, and telegraphed permission for them to carry out the ceremonies as proposed.

AMERICAN PORK.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—M. Gatineau, member of the Chamber of Deputies, presided over a meeting yesterday which unanimously adopted a proposal to demand the abrogation of the decrees against the importation of American pork. Representations have been made to Gambetta in the same sense.

ARABS AND FRENCH.

TUNIS, Oct. 25.—The Arab allies of the French are employing purely Arab methods of warfare against their opponents. According to last reports from Tunis two Bedouins of the desert were caught in the act of attempting to destroy the French railroad communications, and were shot. Their heads were cut from their bodies, and by order of the Bey were publicly displayed over the gates of the Tunisian capital.

GOLDWIN SMITH.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—At a meeting of the National Liberal Federation a letter from Goldwin Smith was received commenting on the action of the Government in Ireland, and declaring the Land League movement is akin to Fenianism, and if not checked would lead to revolution.

EVASION OF THE LAW.

DUBLIN, Oct. 25.—A Priest near Clanmorris evaded police interference by holding a Land League meeting in a chapel. It is thought the plan hereafter will be generally adopted.

AGAINST FORSTER.

DUBLIN, Oct. 25.—The chief of the detectives confirms the report that there was a plot to assassinate Forster. He knew the names of two men told of to commit the crime. The chief denies there was any plot against Gladstone or Harcourt.

REPUDIATED.

BOYLE, Oct. 15.—At a meeting convened by the Catholic clergy at Boyle, to consider the course to be pursued in view of recent events, many Land Leaguers were present and urged a refusal to pay rent until Parnell was released. The meeting, following the advice of the clergy, resolved to discontinue their connection with the League and to pay rents.

DWYER GRAY REPUDIATES.

DUBLIN, Oct. 25.—Dwyer Gray, speaking at a meeting of the corporation to-day, repudiates the no rent manifesto and separation from England, but contended the moment when all England was verifying Parnell and Dillon, was the time for Irishmen to offer their consolation.

THE LEAGER'S POLICY.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 25.—Mr. Chamberlain, president of the Board of Trade, speaking at Liverpool to-night, asserted that the objects of the Land League as first avowed were praiseworthy, but have developed since the Land Act was passed into a new policy, which was the independence of Ireland.

BRUTAL MURDER.

DUBLIN, Oct. 25.—Intelligence has been received of another brutal murder perpetrated last night at Kilnamona, four miles from Ennis. The victim, a farmer named Thomas McMahon was a tenant on the estate of Captain O'Callaghan. The deceased left his house on a visit to a neighbor's house and did not return home. This morning his dead body was found in an outhouse two miles distant. His head was smashed in and so frightfully mutilated that he could hardly be identified. No reason is assigned for the horrible deed. The deceased was an active member of the Kilnamona branch of the Land League. It is believed that the extreme manner in which he carried out the principles of the League led to his death. It would appear that after being murdered, his lifeless body was brought a considerable distance and thrown into the outhouse of a farmer named McDonnel at Leekham, where it was discovered this morning

FUNERAL SERVICE.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—A funeral service in memory of Garfield under the auspices of the municipality will be held in Berlin on Sunday night. The eminent sculptor, Leuressen, has been instructed to produce a colossal bust of the late President.

AFFAIRS IN AFGHANISTAN.

CALCUTTA, Oct. 25.—The troops of the Ameer of Afghanistan on the 3rd of this month fought a hotly contested but decisive battle, and afterwards occupied Herat. The report that Ayoob Khan has sought refuge in Persia is confirmed.

THE CAMPAIGN IN TUNIS.

TUNIS, Oct. 25.—Thirty thousand troops under five generals are now marching on Kairouan. The array of this disproportionate force against the defenceless city can only be explained by the supposition that other operations will follow. It is reported that as Kirouan is occupied the main body will advance on Gofsa in Djerid via Sbeitla. This movement has been decided on at Paris. Saussier's column successfully crossed the Karoulia pass, which was considered a critical point in the advance on Kairouan. The insurgents under Ben Amar in consequence of their defeats have retreated southward. Hostages have been taken from each tribe for the safety of the railways.

AMERICAN.

ALEXANDER STILL LIVES.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Enquiries at the Russian legation fail to elicit any information as to the rumoured assassination of the Czar. The story is generally regarded as a canard.

THE AGITATION COLLAPSING.

WATERFORD, Oct. 25.—A large number of farmers, formerly connected with the dissolved League, met here to-day. Mr. Fisher, president of the League of Waterford, was president. The object was to devise a plan for protecting tenants' interests. It was resolved to form a tenants' emergency association, but reports from the country give evidence of weakening all along the line.

PAYING JUST RENTS.

BOYLE, Oct. 25.—The tenants of Colonel King Hairman, met at Boyle to-day, and discovered for the first time in two years that the public morality demanded the immediate payment of just rents.

NO SURRENDER.

GLASGOW, Oct. 26.—Sir Wm. Harcourt, after receiving visitors here yesterday said that the last and present Governments were reluctant to proceed of an early stage against the Land League, because it was not desirable to supress what pretended to be constitutional agitation purely, but if it was illegal no Government would fail to be supported in any and all measures it might take by all classes of society. The task he said was a difficult and painful one, but the Government having "set its hands to plough" they might rely on its not leaving the track.

A SHOOTING COMP.

IS GUITEAU INSANE?

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Those who watched Guiteau since the preparations for his defence began, are thoroughly convinced that the insanity plea is a sham. As far as ascertained there are no symptoms of any physical derangements, which usually attend insanity.

THE RAILROAD KING.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Vanderbilt is reported as saying that he is now aware that the New York Central made large freight contracts recently at low rates for months. The advance in rates has nothing to do with the settlement of the Trunk differences. It is natural under the pressure of business that higher rates should be imposed. It is just as easy to get 15 cents as it is to get 10 cents. As the lake rates increase the rail rates will be higher. When business is light the rail rates will go down. So far as a settlement with the Trunk line is concerned, he knew nothing about it.

GUITEAU'S TRIAL PUT OFF.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—After arguments this morning the court postponed the Guiteau trial from November 7th, to November 14. Scoville intimated that he would raise the question of the court's jurisdiction over the case.

COUGHS AND COLDS are often overlooked. A continuance for any length of time causes irritation of the lungs or some chronic Throat Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches are an effectual Cough Remedy.

MADOC, Ont., Feb. 16, 1880.—Horace Seymour writes:—Perry Davis' Pain-Killer as a family cure all has been in constant use in my household for a long term of years, and I would never desire to have a better one. It never fails me. I call it the "Old Reliable."

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

A Wise Deacon.

"Deacon Wildes, I want you to tell me how you kept yourself and family well the past season, when all the rest of us have been sick so much, and have had the doctors visiting us so often." Bro. Taylor, the answer is very easy, I used Hop Bitters in time; kept my family well and saved the doctor bills. Three dollars worth of it kept us well and able to work all the time. I'll warrant it has cost you and the neighbors one to two hundred dollars apiece to keep sick the same time." "Deacon, I'll use your medicine hereafter.

In the month of October Typhoid, Bilious, and Malarial Fevers are very prevalent. For a sure preventative take, according to directions, DR. CARSON'S STOMACH BITTERS. THE FAIR TRADE AGITATION.

An Outspoken Declaration by Mr. Lowther, M.P.

The following extract is from the speech of Mr. J. Lowther, the newly-elected member for North Lincolnshire, to the Conservatives at Louth, on October 6th:—

Mr. Lowther, on rising to respond, was received with loud and prolonged cheers. After acknowledging the heartiness and cordiality of his reception, the right hon. gentleman observed—There is one question which, notwithstanding the determined, not to say unprincipled, attempts which have been made in certain quarters to prevent it being publicly considered and discussed, is forcing itself at the present moment in a most prominent manner on the attention of the public. That is the question of "Fair Trade." Notwithstanding the coarse outburst of senile petulance with which it has been constantly assailed by the sinecurist denouncer of sinecures—notwithstanding the efforts of the myrmidons of the caucus to prevent the subject being brought under the consideration of the representatives of the working classes, and the preversion of trade organizations from their legitimate purposes to that of mere party electoral machines—this subject has during the last few months commanded in no slight degree the attention of the public gentry in particular. (Cheers.) Attempts are being made to represent this movement as a device to advance the interests of the agricultural community. Although the agricultural interest, being, as it is, the greatest interest of the country, has been fatally affected by the present one-sided system of so-called free trade, it is by no means the only interest, or even the interest mainly affected by the present state of things. (Cheers.) You have seen during the last few days, that the workingmen in some of the large centres of industry, notwithstanding the efforts which have been made to muzzle them, have spoken out on the question, and the time is not far distant when it will be equally demonstrated that it is not from the plough-tail or from the brick-yard that this cry for fair trade is originating, but that the voice which will make itself heard throughout the length and breadth of the land will eminate from the toiling millions of our large centres of population. (Loud cheers.) I have never myself concealed my opinion that a reasonable duty upon imported corn would, in the long run, conduce to the advantage of the community at large. (Cheers.) I am aware that at the present moment many are hardly prepared to endorse this opinion of mine, although I feel equally certain that the time is not far distant when this opinion will commend itself to many who have not heitherto approaced that subject from my point of view. (Cheers.)

MONTREAL ALDERMEN.

Peterborough's City Fathers Eclipsed as Vendors of Abuse—A Scrimmage.

Montreal, Oct. 24.—The session of the city council to-day was the most peculiar that has ever been held by that body. From the first it gave promise of warlike scenes, and evidently more than one alderman was on his muscle. The meeting opened with a quarrel between Alderman Allard and Mayor Beaudry, because the latter had refused to sign a by-law fixing the abbettoir tariff. He called the Mayor an autocrat, and asked the Aldermen if they were cowards to permit His Worship's childish caprice to veto their dignified resolutions. The council requested the Mayor to sign. Soon after Ald. Allard asked Ald. McCord if he were drunk, and Ald. McCord wanted him to withdraw the offensive remarks, but he would not. Then the question came up of the City Passenger Railway matter, and Ald. Gilman having moved to notify the Company that the city did not intend to take over the railway and rolling stock, as they had already notified them they would do so. Ald. Gilman replied that it was none of his business, and no one but a blackguard would make such a remark. Ald. Stephens challenged him to deny the statement. Ald. Kennedy advised them to take their coats off and settle it in the next room. A few minutes afterwards the council adjourned, and Ald. Gilman having again alluded to Ald. Stephens as a blackguard, the latter jumped at him, took him by the throat, struck him on the face several times, and then had his head in chancery before the other half-frightened aldermen could separate them. The scene was an inspiring one from a P. R. point of view, but was not dignified by any means. Ald. Gilman is Chairman of the Police Committee, and a lawyer of no little public reputation, while Ald. Stephens is among the most wealthy citizens, and a very energetic man.

WAS IT MURDER!

John J. Vlier Shot by his Stepson while he was Choking him to Death.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—John J. Vlier, a Detroit butcher, began to abuse his wife the other day when in a drunken fury. Her son, his stepson, interfering, the husband pitched her over the stove, on which she rose up and hit him over the head with a poker, cutting his temple badly. The stepson, DeFoe, interfering, was seized by Vlier by the throat, thrown down on the floor, and held down there by his stepfather's knee pressed on his mouth. DeFoe managed to get a six-shooter revolver out of his pocket and gasped out a warning to Vlier that he would shoot him if he did not let him up. The latter removed his knee only to grip his stepson by the throat, which, with an oath, he began to compress most savagely. Then on which Vlier loosened his hold and the lad staggered up. His stepfather tottered to a chair the blood pouring from his abdomen. DeFoe left the room, but came back and asked him if he would behave himself. With another oath the dying man said he would not. A few minutes afterwards, feeling himself growing weak from loss of blood, he said that he would, and threw himself down on the dining-room floor on his stomach. DeFoe then called in a doctor, while Vlier got up and walked round the floor, and said he was going to die. His wife undressed him and got him to bed, where he presently died.

DEFOE FIRED,

A DARK RECORD.

The young man, who chiefly supported the house, and bears a good character, gave himself up. He said the family quarrels had been going on for five years, and were all caused by Vlier's drunken habits. The mother says that on the fatal night her husband had cursed her and refused to carry home her marketings in his waggon; that when she came back she found the door of the house kicked in and the glass out of it shattered in fragments on the floor. Vlier came in and again swore at her for drawing money without his consent, and for spending so much. He then treated her as above, with the already mentioned result. Singularly enough the pistol which inflicted the death wound on her second husband also killed her first husband DeFoe. He was shooting sea-gulls when the weapon hung fire, and DeFoe was engaged in examining it. It went off, inflicting a wound from which he died a short time afterward.—Globe.

A PITIFUL TALE.

Another Young Woman Falls a Victim to a Human Fiend.

Halifax, Oct. 22.—Last Thursday the body of a young girl was buried in this city, who it is believed came to her death through a foul crime committed by a young man, who persisted in forcing his unwelcome attentions upon her. The deceased lady, Miss Josephene Henton, formerly belonged to this city, but a year ago last June went to Providence R.I. While in Halifax she formed the acquaintance of a young man. He, in opposition to the wishes of her friends and without much encouragement from the girl herself, endeavoured to be more intimately acquainted and persisted in seeking her company. Soon after Miss Henton went to Providence the young man went too, and renewed his attentions. Miss Henton's brother, who was at the time in Providence, warned him to desist, but to no purpose. Nothing unusual, however, occured until the 27th of last month, when Miss H. was taken very ill. The young man first callad in a doctor, but as she got no better the people with whom she was living summoned other physicians, and they pronounced it a case of poison. The girl then told how he had threatened her life if she continued to reject his addresses, and it also came to light that he had at one time asked a young man to whom Miss Henton was engaged if he knew of any drug that would act as lover potion. Receiving no satisfaction from that source, he wrote his brother, who was here in Halifax, asking the same question, but it is not known whether his brother sent him anything or not. As soon as these things became known Miss Henton's friends had the man arrested, and he is still in custody awaiting trial. When searched some of the same poison was found on his person as that found in the stomach of the unfortunate girl. Just one week intervened between the time of her being taken sick and her death. The body was embalmed, and, as before noticed, was brought to this city for interment. Miss Henton is said to have been of very amiable disposition, and was esteemed and beloved by those who knew her.

A MINISTER'S FALL.

From a Church of England Pulpit to a Police Cell.

Montreal, Oct. 24.—A man named James Thornloe, a deposed minister of the Church of England, was arrested here to-day for stealing several canaries from the store of Messrs. Shaw & Gowdey, auctioneers. The bird fancier was noticed carrying away the cage under his coat and Mr. Shaw followed him down street, arrested him, and gave him in charge. When brought back to the store the ex-minister stoutly maintained that he had given $6.50 to a clerk, but the latter said he had sold only some preparation for curing a disease on canaries. When brought before the Magistrate the prisoner reiterated that he had purchased the canaries. Meantime a search warrant was procured and Thornloe's lodgings were searched. These were at 35 Latour street, and the police found there about $100 worth of articles, which are identified as having been taken from Shaw & Gowdery's store. Five canary birds, some marble statuettes, a quantity of stationery, several nice vases, a silver butter cooler, a silver teapot, and a variety of other knick-nacks, as well as other articles, supposed to belong to other parties, were seized.

CAMPBELLFORD.

Killed By a Fall.—The Herald says that another sad occurrence marked the day's duties at the Trent Valley Woollen mills, here on Wednesday morning at about half past nine o'clock, the victim being George Dunk, son of Mr. William Dunk, builder, of this village. The unfortunate young man was working on the second floor of the dye-house of the buildings, part of which was laid, a large opening still remaing near the centre. While he was in the act of carrying one end of a heavy plank near the open space, he lost his balance by setting his foot upon a block, and fell head foremost between the joists to the floor below, a distance of 15 feet 6 inches, striking upon his head. Death was almost instantaneous. Dr. Bogart was immediately summoned, and applied restoratives, but he quickly found that the cause was hopeless, as the neck had been broken. Mr. Wm. Hall who was near the scene of the accident, saw him breathe a few times after he fell. The body was laid upon a stretcher and borne to the home of his father who was absent at the time. Young Dunk had nearly reached the 19th year of his age. He had been away from home for some time, and had not worked on the buildings where death called him more than about a week. He was an industrious young man, kind in his disposition, and was held in esteem by his fellow-workmen. The sorrowing relatives followed the remains to the grave the day following, the funeral being largely attended. Mr. Dunk's sudden and irreparable loss, we are sure, calls out the heart's sympathy of all.

A Good thing from the States.

[Montreal (Canada) Post.]

In this age of quackery, it is consoling to discover that there is something solid in existence, and that, though there are vendors who lie most cheerfully about their wares, there are others who tell the truth and allow time to test the merits of what they offer for sale. As year after year rolls over, the frauds and shams sink away out of sight in the pools and morassess of obscurity, while what is really good and true stands boldly forth all the grander for its age and solidity. Thus while within the present decade thousands of patent medicines, puffed at one time to inflation, have shrunk before the test of analysis, St. Jacob's Oil have bravely borne the strain, and is to-day renowned all over the world for its famous curative powers. It is truly one of the phenomena of the age we live in. The sale of this article is incredible. It is to be found all over the civilized world and in a good many places that are not civilized—for, unfortunately, the bones of sorrowing man are racked and ache with pain no matter what region he inhabits—and we believed it is yet destined to be found in every house, and to supersede the many nostrums which will remain abroad to rob and defraud humanity of its money and its health. The firm of A. Vogeler & Co., Baltimore, spend half a million dollars yearly in advertising St. Jacob's Oil, and hence we may guess at the full extent of this enormous business. It is truly marvelous, or would be, did we know the circulation of this inestimable blessing.

The Feeheleys.

London, Oct. 24.—Martin Dorsey, Patrick Dorsey, Ed. McLaughlin, and Wm. Thompson arrived in the city to-day, and proceeded to the Crown Attorney's office, where they presented themselves as bailsmen for the Feeheleys. They agreed to enter into recognizances for the forthcoming of the Feeheleys in the sum of one thousand each, the Feeheleys themselves being bound in the sum of one thousand each, making a total of six thousand. The farmers above mentioned are all freeholders, and the proprietors in their own names of at least a hundred acres of land each in the township of Biddulph. The Messrs. Dorseys and Thompson are married respectively to three cousins of the Feeheleys.

Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters are in every sense of the word a worthy family medicine, and we are glad to learn that they are rapidly taking the place of those nauseous little Pills. J. D. Tully is agent for the Bitters here.

THE MISSISSIPPI FRESHET.

Whole Counties Turned into a Watery Waste Farmers Deserting their Homes.

QUINCY, Oct. 22.—About 35,000 acres of land have been overflowed by a break in the Warsaw and Indian Grove levees. There is imminent danger of the crevasse at East Hannibal, which would cut out several railroad bridges.

LATER.—The only means of communication now remaining between Quincy and the west is by the Louisville branch of the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy road. This link is also in danger, being broken just below the city. The track is covered with twelve to fourteen inches of water for two miles. Yesterday the passenger train and fourteen cars with two engines were sent from Hannibal to Quincy over this track. As the train passed slowly over the treacherous track there was such a thrilling that the fire in the front engine was put out, but the engine in the rear pushed it through. Trains on the Quincy, Missouri, Wabash, etc., have all been discontinued. All the roads on the Missouri side will suffer severely, the water being so high that the road-beds will be washed out and bridges carried away.

HANNIBAL, Oct. 22.—The Mississippi rose six inches in the last twenty-four hours. The levee in the way places is only a few inches above the water, but still stands firm. The break near Rockport is constantly growing wider, and the water has already covered the greater part of the land subject to overflow in that vicinity. Refugees from Illinois continue to arrive with great numbers of moving stock and household goods. Gangs of labourers continue to work on all the weak places in the levee, and the Wabash Railroad pluckily keeps up a continuous effort to prevent an overflow. The water is eighteen inches below high water mark and twenty feet six inches above low water mark.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 23.—Another break occurred in the Suy levee, eleven miles below Hannibal, and it is said only about six of the sixty miles of land protected by the levee are now above water. The river below the break is now about seven miles wide, dotted here and there by farm houses, many of which are particularly submerged and all deserted. The corn crop on Suy Island and the adjacent bottom is nearly all lost, and a large part of the wheat and oat crops is destroyed.

Imaginary Diseases.

A medical writer believes that two persons in three who consider themselves invalids have no serious ailments, and that their diseases exist to a great extent the imagination only. "Hardly a day passes that I do not see the opinion verified. There is often some disturbance of the system with those who ask advice, but they are not usually afflicted in the manner they had supposed, and most frequently not seriously ill in every respect except as to the imagination. I have never suffered an hour from any sort of illness, since acquiring the knowledge and experience which enables me to account for many of the seeming phenomena incident to human life; previous to that the monotony of my life would occasionally be interrupted by a scare, from which I would suffer during the time it required to reach the nearest competent physician. My imagination has thus presented me at various times with heart disease, kidney troubles, and liver complaint, each of which I left behind me when I came away from the doctor's, and have never heard from since. Few people have any idea of the aggregate of suffering and misery that is silently endured by thousands of our fellow-beings, under the supposition that they are victims of incurable diseases, when, in fact, there is nothing serious the matter with them. Every physician of experience is able to refer to many cases where he has been able to lift a terrible weight from the crushed spirit of some suffering mortal, by explaining away his fears. It should be more satisfactory to a humane physician to quiet the fears of one imaginary invalid, than to have a hundred rich patients who required his services. And yet as to imaginary diseases, let it not be thought that I would advise any person to quietly convince himself that there was nothing the matter, and thus silence his fears; there might be some serious trouble, and then the advantage of early treatment would be lost. A skillful physician should be consulted in every doubtful case. The probability is he would find the patient suffering in most cases from dyspepsia instead of heart disease, or from malaria instead of Bright's disease of the kidneys—that is from a curable instead of an incurable disease."

NEARLY fourteen thousand dollars in cash has been received by the Garfield Monument Committee. An appeal from the Executive Committee of the national Garfield memorial hospital has been addressed to pastors throughout the United States, asking that days be set apart for discourses and collections in all places of worship in aid of the fund.

FROM ALL OVER.

YELLOW fever is increasing at Havana.

Mme. Patti has sailed for the United States.

AN insurrection has been crushed as San Domingo.

MALARIAL fever is very prevalent at Belleville.

THE HON. LIONEL SACKVILLE WEST, the newly appointed British Minister to the States, sailed on Saturday.

A MEETING has been held in the Eastern Townships and a society formed for promoting immigration from England and Scotland.

MCLEAN township boasts of a ghost which is given to various kinds of pranks, including incendiarism. That ghost evidently hails from the infernal regions.

AN almost naked woman boarded the eastern express at Belleville Friday morning, and requested to be carried to Brighton. It was with difficulty the conductor put her off the train.

No preparation of Hypophosphites I have used can compare with Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for restoring strength to the nervous system. I think it is the best medicine I ever used. W. J. HORNER, Buffalo, N. Y.

AN uncommon murderer was hanged in the Adirondacks the other day. He would not on trial allow of the plea of insanity; expressed his conviction on the scaffold of speedy transit to heaven; forgive nobody, and said he was served just right for killing his wife.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM; a few doses relieves the most distressing cough, and a twenty-five cent bottle has cured many a sufferer from Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Influenza, Hoarseness and Soreness of the Chest. It is the grand specific for all throat and lung complaints leading to Consumption.

WHEN it was known that Iroquois had won the Derby, proud America swong the hat; and when it was further known that his breeder—Aristides Welch, Esq., of Erdenheim, near Philadelphia, Pa., indorsed St. Jacobs Oil as a remedy for fine stock, America admired the judgment displayed.

SUMMER COMPLAINT.—This wasting and troublesome complaint, which, when neglected, becomes dangerous, is removed gradually and without the slighest pain, by Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills, which overcome all internal ailments and purge the system of all impurities. They never fail, and are sold everywhere.

YOUNG OTTO, a Nez Perce chief, is the best rifle shot in the world. He is exhibiting his marksmanship in San Francisco, and one of his feats is described as follows:—"A pistol barrel is placed in a small steel frame; behind this a razor with the edge facing the audience. On each side of the razor is a glass ball, securely placed for the object of this feat. The pistol-barrel, razor, and balls are masked with a covering of white cloth. The boy is then blindfolded, his back turned to the objects, the 'About—face!' is given, when he fires down through the pistol-barrel, splits the single rifle ball upon the razer edge, and breaks both glass balls on the right and left."

FOR DYSPEPSIA, WEAKNESS AND DEBILITY.—From Geo. S. Bixby, of Epsom, N. H.—Having received great benefit from the use of Peruvian Syrup, I am willing to add my testimony to the thousands of others constantly sounding its praise. During the war I was in the army, and had the misfortune to be taken prisoner, and be confined in Salisbury and other Southern prisons several months. I became so much reduced in health and strength as to be a mere skeleton of my former self. On being released, I was a fit subject for a Northern hospital, where I remained two months and then came home. My physician recommended and procured for me several bottles of Peruvian Syrup, which I continued to use for several weeks, and found my health restored and my weight increased from ninety pounds to one hundred and fifty, my usual weight, and I have been in my usual good health ever since. I can cheerfully recommend it in all cases of weakness and debility of the system, whether rising from an impure state of the blood, dyspepsia, or almost any other cause, believing it will in most cases give entire satisfaction. Sold by all druggists.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. Brown's Bronchial Troches do not disorder the stomach like cough syrup and balsams, but act directly on the Inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c. a box everywhere. d52w9

Pink gums and mouth and dazzling teeth

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

An Open Winter.

Moses Oates, the weather prophet, (his predictions this year have proved much more accurate than Vennor's) says that the present cold weather will last well up to the end of this month. The first half of November will be exceptionally fine, clear, warm weather, as beautiful as spring, the regular Indian summer. The weather will then turn cold, and by the beginning of December the weather will have every appearance of winter. The cold snaps will, however, only last a few days at a time, and the winter will be the most open that has been experienced for a score of years. Navigation will scarcely close, and the winter, such as it is, will be extremely short.

Railway Note.

Hon. Peter Mitchell said in a recent Montreal interview that the Quebec and Ontario Railway is to be built within two years as an air line from Toronto to Montreal, instead of being deflected via Ottawa as first proposed. Mr. Mitchell says the C.P.R. Co. will not buy the Quebec, Montreal and Occidental Railway. An offer was made by the C. P. R. Co. for the road, but the Quebec Government refused to sell except at such figures as would pay for the road, and give a couple of millions towards wiping out the debt of Quebec.

Lacrosse.

The meeting of the Lacrosse Club on Monday night, was well attended. The affairs of the past season were wound up, showing that the club is in a very healthy condition in every way. The ball committee reported a surplus of $40 from the recent ball, after all expenses had been paid. A committee was appointed to see about procuring club rooms, a gymnasium, etc., for the use of the members during the coming winter.

A New Bridge.

The old bridge on the Grand Junction, across a creek, on the other side of Stirling, is about to be replaced by a new and substantial structure. The timbers are about ready and the work will be finished in a short time.

POLICE COURT.

AN ADJOURNED CASE.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 26.—The adjourned case of P. C. McGhee against Denis Bouche, charged with keeping a disorderly house, was called.

JOHN IRWIN, sworn,—He believed that defendant lives in a house on Bethune street, owned by Mr. W. Toole. On Friday and Saturday nights there was a great row in the house. He lives about one hundred yards from defendant. The noise was so great on Friday night or Saturday morning that he got out of bed. There was a loud noise as if some person was smashing boards. There was also loud talk and swearing. On Saturday night the same thing was repeated. He was unable to sleep owing to the noise. The two nights referred to were worse than any of the previous nights.

GEO. HALL, sworn,—He lives opposite the house occupied by defendant. He heard a noise in the house on Saturday night, but he did not pay much attention to it. He had heard noises there before. On Sunday evening he saw three men coming out of the house, two of them were fighting.

P. C. MCGHEE, sworn,—On Saturday night he stopped in front of defendant's house. He heard loud talk and blasphemous language in both English and French, used by the inmates of the house. Inside several men and two women were jostling each other around the room. Two of the men were apparently trying to quarrel and the women were trying to prevent it. He took a horse and buggy standing in front of the door and took them to a livery stable. He entered the house between 12 o'clock and one, and found seven men and two women in the room. All were drunk; some of them so stupidly that they did not observe his entrance. Defendant wanted to know witness' business, and when told gave his name and the names of some of those present. The women were defendant's wife and sister. Witness told them to cease making a noise, when a young man present said he would not stop, as he did not think there was any harm in singing. The swearing could be heard on the street. His attention was drawn to the house by some of the neighbors. He considered the house to be of a disorderly character.

As the defendant wanted to have some witnesses present who would not attend without subpœnas, the case was again enlarged until Thursday at 10 a.m.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

People are already on the qui vive over the promised apperance of Anthony & Ellis' Famous Ideal Uncle Tom's Cabin Co., which appears in Bradburn's hall, on next Monday evening, October 31st, and an overflowing house seems a sure thing. This company has established a national reputation, won by the immense success of past seasons. In all our large cities last season people were turned away from the doors. This season the enterprising managers offer fresh attractions, making the presentation more magnificant than ever, The company is a magnificent one, and Miss Kittie Lougee, as Topsy, with songs, dances and banjo solos is a marvelous impersonation. The finest colored singers in the world, the famous Memphis University Students, will add reality to the plantation scenes, and the monster Siberian Bloodhounds and the trained Donkey Pruno, are features which call forth great applause. Popular low prices. Every one can go, and there is little doubt that every one will go.

Man and Horse.

On Tuesday afternoon horse and foot races took place at Scott's Corners, for prizes offered by the enterprizing proprietor of the hotel, Mr. John Newall. The horse race was won by Mr. Newall's horse, the others being considerably in the rear at the finish. In the foot race, R. Montgomery, took first, and John Hootin, second. Other races are to take place at an early date.

Letter Boxes.

His Worship the Mayor has received a communication from Mr. Gilbert Griffin, Kingston, Post Office Inspector for this district, stating that his recommendations as to placing letter boxes in Peterboro', had been approved of and further stating that the boxes would be placed in position in the course of a few days. Good.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM is composed of the most healing balsams and gums. The Balsams, which enter into its composition, were used by the natives when America was first discovered, and are combined with other vegetable tonics, so blended together, that it is a specific for all affections of the throat and lungs. Thousands of bottles are used annually, and it is considered one of the standard preparations of the day.

Why will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's German prescription, and it is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced their has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced. 9d1w1y

Are You?

Are you a Dyspeptic? Have you Indigestion? Is your Liver sluggish? Does your food trouble you? Does sleep fail to refresh you? Is your appetite and energy gone? ZOPESA (from Brazil) will cure you, tone you up, and invigorate your whole system. It is a gentle purgative, acts as a wonder upon, and gives strength and energy to the Digestive apparatus. It is strongly anti-billious, carries off all surplus bile, tones the Liver, gives sound Digestion and speedy health to the Dyspeptic and the Billious. Try a 10 cent sample at least of J. D. TULLY or T. RUSTON. d90w24

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had half a bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough.—B., Rochester, N. Y.—American Rural Home.

6—Worthy of Praise.

As a rule we do not recommend Patent Medicines, but when we know of one that really is a public benefactor and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric Bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure Biliousness, Fever and Ague, Stomach, Liver and Kidney Complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend them to all.—Exch.—Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald. d5w27

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1881.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

NEW STATION.

George A. Cox, Esq., the President of the Midland Railway, visited Lakefield on Saturday last, the 22nd instant for the purpose of examining the railway property and selecting a spot for a new station. The situation decided upon is an the west side of Rabbit about a hundred yards south of its intersection by Church street and almost directly opposite where the engine house formerly stood. There can be no question but that the site selected is not only an excellent one, but the most available for the public convenience. The land on which the station is to be built was purchased several years ago at considerable expense for the purpose. Some of our citizens owning property, adjoining the miserable pen at present honored by the name of the station, on Reid street, in the swamp, were very anxious to have the new station built near the same position. Mr. Cox seemed to take in the state of affairs at a glance, and with remarkable promptness decided upon the situation above mentioned. The new station grounds will be convenient to the docks and approached by one of the main thoroughfares of the village, instead of as previously by a street only forty feet in width. The selection made by Mr. Cox on Saturday gives general satisfaction.

RAILWAY SWAMP.

While Mr. Cox was in the village on Saturday, the condition of the railway lands or swamp, was brought to his notice. The matter was soon disposed of by Mr. Cox giving the use of the lands to a couple of parties for five years in consideration of having it cleared off. The clearing of those low lying lands will make a very great improvement in the appearance of the village.

ORANGE MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Canadian Orange Lodge of Lakefield, will be held in the Orange Hall on Caroline street, on Tuesday evening next, the 1st of November, at 7.30 o'clock.

MASONIC MEETING.

On Tuesday evening next, November the 1st, the regular communication of Clementi Lodge, of A. F. and A. M., will be held in the Masonic Hall, on Queen street, Lakefield. Time of meeting, 7.70 sharp.

MADOC, Ont., Feb. 16, 1880.—Horace Seymour writes:—Perry-Davis' Pain-Killer as a family cure all has been in constant use in my household for a long term of years, and I would never desire to have a better one. It never fails me. I call it the "Old Reliable."

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Times, discussing Blaine's letter to Lowell respecting the Panama canal says the weighty nature of the interests of Americans in the use of any inter-oceanic canal through the isthmus of Panama will be readily admitted, but Blaine pushes the point too far when he would have the world take it for granted that no Government except his own and that of Columbia has any claim to be consulted in regard to the neutrality of the work. The proposition is far from self-evident, and is unfortunately not supported by arguments which will make it acceptable to European powers, and least of all to England.

DARING ROBBERY.

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—A box containing several thousand pounds worth of cheques and notes were stolen from a messenger of the National Bank to-day in the post-office, Dublin.

ATTACK ON GAMBETTA.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—Berlin papers intimate very plainly that Gambetta is endeavouring to appear in false plumes if he wishes it to be understood that he has had an interview with Bismarck, and insinuate that he had not only had no such pretended interview, but tried unsuccessfully by every art of diplomacy to effect one.

ANOTHER FAILURE.

THE FENIAN PLOTS.

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—The report of the Fenian plots, which have reached New York, was considered as not worth serious attention. The Irish Times doubts the sanity of the writers. The Chilians are astonished and chagrined at the attitude of the government as shown by Minister Marbult, in opposition to Peru.

MOULTON'S MISFORTUNES.

Result of Investigation into the Township's Affairs—A Collector's Forged Bond.

In June last a petition was presented to the Ontario Government by the majority of the residents in the township of Moulton, County of Welland, praying for an investigation into the municipal and financial affairs of the township. In accordance with this request the Government commissioned Judge Senkler, County Judge of Welland to make the enquiry. The investigation was held, and the report has been received by the Government. It appears from the facts disclosed that the tax collector for 1880, Beverly Pool, absconded in March, 1881, after having collected the taxes for 1880, the amount represented in the roll being over $1,900. When appointed Poole had given a bond for $10,000 purporting to be executed by several good men besides his wife and others of his relatives. After Pool's departure Eli Springer, whose name was affixed to the bond, denied having signed the document and declared the signature to be a forgery, though he was not prepared to say who was the guilty party. The Commissioner closes his report in the following words:—"The irregularities brought to light sustain the conduct of the petitioners in asking for an enquiry, which I believe will result in some good to the township, as Mr. Upper, who acted as counsel for the officials, writes me that he advised the township to take new bonds from the treasurer (if possible) and supply him with a complete set of books of account and pay him a fair salary." The treasurer, Mr. Thomas J Galbrath, receives a salary of $19 per annum. He is also clerk of the council, for which he receives an additional $85.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From our own Correspondent.

THE LOCKS AND DAM.—Mr. Walters and staff were here last Monday surveying the Government works for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of work to be done. The dam is only to be put in repair this fall, and next summer a new one will be built, which I learn will be a credit to those waters. Mr. Walters, Jr., remains here for some time to repair the lock gates, &c., and also oversee some cutting to be done on banks of the canal, above Mr. P. Young's, Sr., residence, where there is a very sharp curve which makes it very difficultt for the steamers to navigate, especially when having anything to tow. Mr. Walters promised some time ago to have all those repairs done and he has been as good as his word.

THE "CRUISER."—Owing to the very low state of the water below this place the Cruiser has not made her appearance for the last three weeks; a great pity indeed, as there was lots of work to do for her until the close of navigation. More luck next year, captain so we must really say adieu for this season?

HORSE BUYING.—Mr. P. Coughlin, who had a sale of all his effects last week, Mr. Stapleton, auctioneer, and who intends removing to the Western States, where three of his sons reside, purchased a fine team of horses from Peter Preston last Saturday, and paid $235 cash for them. He is on the look out for another fine team to take to the other side with him. More power to your elbow Paddy, and good luck to you where you intend going.

ROAD MAKING.—Mr. Robert Graham has made a very fine job of the ditch for the outlet of the water that lodges in the pond here; he has made it about two or three feet deeper, which was very much required. The Township Council, for a wonder, granted a few dollars to have the job done. They will have to be a little more liberal next year, and have the roads in this section put in better repair. There is not enough statute labour on some beats even to have roads fit to travel on; for instance, the road from Richard Reed's farm to Burleigh bridge is a perfect disgrace to any township.

DEER HUNTING.—Some Yankee hunters passed this place with a load of deer on Monday last. They were very successful, I am told. Hunting for deer this fall has been only middling.

AN economical housewife will always buy her soap in large quantities, cut each bar in square pieces, and store in a dry place. It lasts better after shrinking.

A Wise Deacon.

"Deacon Wildes, I want you to tell me how you kept yourself and family well the past season, when all the rest of us have been sick so much, and have had the doctors visiting us so often." Bro. Taylor, the answer is very easy, I used Hop Bitters in time; kept my family well and saved the doctor bills. Three dollars worth of it kept us well and able to work all the time, I'll warrant it has cost you and the neighbors one to two hundred dollars apiece to keep sick the same time." "Deacon, I'll use your medicine hereafter.

Free of Cost.

All persons wishing to test the merits of a great remedy—one that will positively cure Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, or any affection of the Throat and Lungs—are requested to call at TAYLOR & MACDONALD'S Drug Store and get a Trial Bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, free of cost, which will show you what a regular dollar-size bottle will do. d5w27

In the month of October Typhoid, Bilious, and Malarial Fevers are very prevalent. For a sure preventative take, according to directions, DR. CARSON'S STOMACH BITTERS. They purify the System and cool the Blood. They are used to great advantage in Fever and Ague districts. In large 8 oz. bottles, at 50 cents. J. D. TULLY, special agent for Peterborough.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1881.

THE MIDLAND ROUTE.

Although it is only a few weeks since the Midland route was in a position to compete for the grain carrying trade from Chicago eastward, it is a most gratifying to note how in these few weeks "the excellent harbor" at Midland, and "the facilities," now afforded by the Midland Railway Company are "inducing vesselmen to seek freight to that point." We have now before us the Chicago Tribune of the 23rd inst., and from its marine news for the previous day (Saturday) we learn that "considerable grain is being shipped east via Midland, the excellent harbor there, and the facilities for unloading being the prime factors that induce vesselmen to seek freight to that point." We are also told that the engagements for the shipment of corn for the day consisted of.

	Bushels.
For Buffalo.
Two propellers and 3 schooners	307,000
For Midland.
One propeller and two schooners	56,000
For Collingwood.
One schooner	20,000
Total for these three points	383,000

Then we have a list of "actual sailings" during the same day, and from this we learn that six vessels loaded with corn sailed for Buffalo; three for Midland and none for Collingwood. Now, this we claim, is a record which under the circumstances proves conclusively, as we have always contended, that the quantity of western grain which will seek an eastern outlet by way of Midland, will be measured simply by the facilties afforded for its transport thnce eastward, and it only confirms our previous opinion that even if the Midland railway were double tracked, and the Trent valley route opened today they would almost immediately have all the business they could do.

In order to fully appreciate the lesson which the Midland route affords, it must be remember that vessel freights are unprecedentedly low at the present time, and that as a consequence, vessel men will give the long trip the preference at even proportionally much lower freights, in order to enable their men to earn their wages, and that such a state of affairs is seriously against their quoting relatively as low for the short trip to Midland, as the long trip to Buffalo, or the still longer trip to Kingston or Ogdensburg. When freights advance, as they must do, because the present railway war will not last forever, then, and not till then, will the unrivalled advantages of the Midland route come into full play, and then too will it be found that both the Midland and the T. V. C. are required, not only to carry east bound grain, but to ensure its being handled at reasonable rates when there is no railroad war raging as at present. That the Midland can touch grain at all, during such a war of rates between Chicago and the sea board as now exists, is, however, the best possible proof that it has got the inside track of all other routes to the sea, and that during ordinary times it will be able to command all it can do at, at least good paying rates—especially when it is in a position to transfer the grain to barges, which will take it direct to Montreal.

THE OKA INDIANS.

They Reach Their New Hunting Grounds in Muskoka—And Appear Happy.

Gravenhurst, Oct. 25.—The Oka Indians arrived here by the late train on Saturday night. All appear happy and contented, and so far, like their new hunting-ground well. Chief Louis Sanation denies the statement made by the public prints, that his people were compelled to leave their old home, but states that they came here to better their condition, and provide for the future of their families. While in transit on the Grand Trunk Railway a papoose was added to the number; mother and child are doing well. The Indians are a soberly and orderly lot of people. They attended church on Sunday, both morning and evening, and took part in the worship in a manner which showed that they have long since abandoned their aboriginal style of living.

AN AFFAIR EXAGGERATED.

The Truth About the Alleged Outrage at Kingston—Investigating the Matter.

Kingston, Oct. 25.—On Wednesday last an outrage was alleged to have occurred in this city. A young woman named Graham, of Bruce county, arrived here for the purpose of visiting her aunt, and she was said to have been made a victim of misplaced confidence, in the first place by a Grand Trunk news agent, and secondly, en route to the city. She was represented as having been outraged in a ruffianly manner by a man who got into the cab with her at the depot. A constable who suspected something crooked, is alleged to have heard a thud followed by the breaking of the glass of the vehicle and cries of murder, and on stopping to investigate found that the man had escaped from the other side, and that the woman was in a fainting condition. Detective Flynn, of the Grand Trunk Railway, came to Kingston to look into the case. He found that the young woman had gone to Hamilton, as stated, but that she was visiting friends in Sydenham village. He saw her, brought her to the city, and at police headquarters had her make her statement. By it the affair was seen to have been greatly exaggerated. She says that the news agent acted towards her in a gentlemanly manner, and that the other person did not attempt to outrage her, although his conduct, almost partook of the nature of indecent assault. She is young, being only seventeen years of age. Mr. Flynn had a warrant issued for the arrest of her too familiar passenger companion, who is said to be the baggageman of the Mighty Dollar Company, and left by the train bound west this afternoon.

A WHITBY MAN'S DEATH.

His Heart Discovered on His Right Side A Case of Interest.

The Rochester (New York) Express says:—"An autopsy on the body of George Vail, of Whitby, Ont., was held by Drs. Seely, Whitcombe, and Stone yesterday, which is of interest to the medical profession at least. Mr. Vail had been under treatment for abscess of the right lung for some months. Dr. Stone, noticed upon the first examination when the patient came for treatment, there was what is technically called juxtaposition of the heart, which is a very rare condition. He had called the attention of a score or more of people to it, and was gratified at the autopsy to have his diagnosis confirmed, the heart being found on the right side of the body instead of on the left. The human heart ordinarily is situated as follows:—The base is attached to the spinal column just back of the upper portion of the breast bone. It takes a direction, downward, forward, and a little to the left, the apex or points striking the walls of the chest near the left nipple. In the case of Mr. Vail the heart occupied the same position on the right side of the body.

CRUELLY DESERTED.

The Sad Fate of an Old Man in Halifax—Left to Die by His Family.

Halifax, Oct. 25.—A case of apparently most cruel desertion came to light today. An old and invalid man named Wm. Connors has for the last five years been nearly starved by his wife and family. They made way with his property, neglected his clothes, and frequently would not give him water to wash in, and last Saturday deserted him altogether. They sold or gave away all the furniture, and his wife, son and several daughters, bedecked in jewellry and fine clothes, started for Boston. The old man became nearly crazy when he found they were going, and clung to the cab, but they spat in his face, and pushed him off drove away, and soon were off to sea. They did not even leave him a change of clothes, and he has been living on the charity of others. Some one who pitied the poor old man has left a stove in the empty rooms. His wife was a washerwoman, and his daughters worked at tailoring. The old man will probably be sent to the poor-house.

WHOLESALE MURDER.

The Confessions of a Michigan Physician.—Extensive Poisoning.

Detroit, Oct. 25.—On Monday afternoon some new and startling developments were made in the "Hall" poisoning case at Pontiac. John Hickey, who is in gaol for the Clarkston safe burglary, was placed on the stand, sworn and testified as follows:—"I know Dr. Hall; he rooms with me in the gaol; one night recently he (Hall) talked in his sleep all about how he poisoned his wife; I told him in the morning how he had talked, and what the consequences might be to him if certain other persons had heard him; Hall told me at this and at subsequent conservations all about the poisioning of his wife and his connection with Mrs. Murgertroyd." This witness says that Hall told him in confidence that he had poisioned his own father, the husband of Mrs. Murgertroyd, also the daughter of the latter. The witness refused to tell of conversations he had with Hall concerning Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Murgertroyd, as they were unfit to repeat in open court.

Smuggled Horses.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The examination of Reinhardt Goetze, George Stade, William H. Barton and A. Bowdy, said to be the principals in the gang organized for the purpose of smuggling Canadian horses into the United States, who gave up eighteen horses to the Government officers Friday last, when their arrest was effected, took place yesterday before Commissioner Hoyne. The District Attorney represented the Government, and the defence was conducted by Judge Mark Bangs, ex-United States District Attorney, and Maj. Joseph Kirkland. The defence of guilt on the part of the defendants proved sufficiently clear to warrant the Commissioner in holding each of the prisoners to the grand jury under the bonds of $2,000. The Government officers are positive in the belief that they have unearthed in the present case a dangerous gang of smugglers, and they hope to bring others than those under arrest to justice at an early date.

SPORTING NEWS.

AQUATICS.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—Hanlan yesterday received a telegram from Trickett, asking him if he would row a three mile race for a thousand dollars a side. Last night the champion replied that he would row the Australian wherever his race with Ross was pulled, and two weeks after that race. Hanlan does not seem very favourable towards St. Louis, reports having reached him that Creve Coeur lake is not the healthiest place in the world; and, as regards Trickett, he does not see why he should put up his own good money against that furnished for his opponent by a railway company. Ross has his eyes turned towards Washington, and from what Hanlan can make out, is endeavouring to complete arrangements for rowing there. Meantime the days are going by, and November the 15th is drawing near. It is high time some location was pitched upon. In fact, it is getting so late that nobody would blame our representative if, without consulting the wishes of his rivals at all, he were to come out flat-footed and say, "here, I will row you at such and such a place, and nowhere else. If it doesn't suit you, why then there will be no race. There has been enough shilly-shallying." We repeat, Hanlan would not be blamed if he took such a step On the contrary, he would rather be praised. It is his prerogative to choose the course, and he would only be showing his wisdom by exercising it. This delay and beating about the bush is disgusting everyone. Let Ross come out and say where he will row, or let Hanlan name a place and stick to it, whether the New Brunswicker likes it or not. Up to the present the latter has had everything his own way, and now the Torontonian should have something to say. There is neither sport nor business in the present state of things, but it is only dragging boat racing more and more through the mud. There is something supremely absurd in the two premier oarsmen of the world, presumably anxious to get at each other, not being able to choose a battle ground out of the many offering. It is worse than prize-fighting, and Hanlan is getting heartily sick of it. In a conversation last night, he said if the weather continued open in Canada, he would name Toronto Bay for the race. He would really like to row here, but, of course, there were monetary considerations which had to be figured upon. He was a professional oarsman, and nobody could blame him for making the best terms he could. He would prefer his own waters, and if the present unsatisfactory dead-lock were not soon broken, he would send his ultimatum to Ross for a race here. Hanlan continues in the best of health, and does not miss a day at practice and exercise.

How a Small-Sized Fortune was Made.

Everybody in Winnipeg and a great many out of it have heard of the McWilliams estate—a valuable strip of land north of the city hall, and extending from Red river out beyond the city limits. There is not only the McWilliams estate, but also a McWilliams street; we doubt, however, if one person in five hundred has the slighest idea of who the McWilliams is who gives his name to such a valuable property. Some persons imagined, if they thought it all, that he was an old settler, who had either died or moved further west—but few suspected that he was no less a personage than the city solicitor of Toronto. Yet that is a fortunate individual. Mr. McWilliams is here now—for the first time—and in conversation with a Times representative the other night he related how he came to be possessor of his "estate" in Winnipeg. "One Sunday afternoon in the spring of 1869," said Mr. McWilliams, "a young friend named Heaton, then in a Toronto bank, and myself were indulging in a quiet smoke in my rooms, when James Ross—he, ahem, used to be Chief Justice here, I believe—dropped into the room, and mentioned that he was going to Garry—then a terra incognita. Ross was impressed with the idea that Garry would be a great place some day or other, and says he:—"Don't you want to get a farm up there?" We carelessly told him to buy us one, and no more was thought of the matter until some time after a draft for £100 sterling came from Garry, and was honoured; shortly afterwards another one came, and finally Ross himself. He told us he had bought a farm, part of his father's estate for $1,500, but that if we didn't care about taking it, he would keep it himself. We decided to keep the property—73 acres—and nothing was done with it till 72, when it was divided up into lots and a couple of thousand dollars worth sold. In the following year about $11,000 were disposed of by our agents—some lots, now worth $8,000 and $10,000, bringing only $200 or $300. Since then, a large number of lots have been sold, and there are fifty acres yet, which is worth the original amount paid for the whole—and $50,000 or $75,000 besides—and if our agents had only followed the instructions given, and retained every third and all corner lots, I don't know but that to-day I would have been a millionaire. The investment was the merest chance work in the world, and a most fortunate one, too."—Winnipeg Times.

Through the Furnace.

Kingston, Oct. 24.—An aged man named David Keeler, previously a farmer in this vicinity, lately a resident in the scourged district of Michigan, passed through the city to-day broken in health, and a pauper. He tells a lamentable story. Surprised by the fire at night, he and his wife started for a clearing. They suffered much by the way, and at length, weary, sick, and exhausted, the wife sat down. The husband tenderly took her in his arms to protect her from the cold, and while in his embrace she died. He did not wish to abandon the corpse, but carried it for half a mile to the house of friends, where arrangements were made for its burial.

A BIG FLOUR MILL.

A recent number of the Boston Journal of Commerce contains an account of the mammoth flouring mill now nearly completed, in the city of Minneapolis, Minn., from which we cull the following particulars. The owners are C. A. Pillsbury & Co., who also own the five principal mills of the city :—

Some two and a half years since Mr. Pillsbury visited Europe with a view of examining the various mill buildings and processes relating to the manufacture of flour in the various milling centres. After his return a site was selected on the east side of the river, about 500 feet below the falls of St. Anthony, the plans of the building agreed upon, and the drawings made. In the spring of 1880 ground was broken and the structure commenced. It is built from Trenton limestone, rock faced, and laid in courses. The building is 1,800 feet long, 115 feet wide, and 137 feet high, having seven stories and a cupola. The side walls at the foundation are 8½ feet thick and at each end the walls are 7½ feet thick. The walls of the building proper are 5½ feet thick below the grinding floor, and taper to a thickness of 2½ feet in the three highest stories. The basement is 20 feet in height, laid in Louisville cement, and the coping, window sills, and two bolting courses are of hammered granite. The outside of the building shows for itself elegance of design which is quite appropriate for the purposes to which it is applied. The masonry of this building alone required 125 men nearly six months to finish. The driving mechanism is found on the first or basement floor. There is also a wheat bin capable of holding 35,000 bushels of wheat, extending up through the grinding floor. The Hurst frames for the millstones are on this floor, but the millstones are on the floor above. The second story is the reducing floor, and when the machinery for the mill is completed, 400 sets of roller mills will be here, arranged in twelve lines. Only half of the machinery has been placed. One hundred and one Gray's mills have been furnished. All these machines are double roller, 18×9 inches in size. Sixty-four corrugated machines, 27 smooth roller machines, and 10 porcelain machines. There are 115 Stevens' roller mills, and there will be twenty pairs of millstones in the whole mill which will be used on middlings. The millstones are arranged in one line against the north wall of this story, and are elegantly fitted in black walnut and ash, and are all provided with Behrus' patent high pressure millstone ventilation. There is also a weighing hopper and scales upon this floor, the hopper holding 800 bushels. There is also a line shaft, 120 feet in length, from which the power to drive the flour packers on the floor above is taken. The third room is the packing room, where, on each side of the mill, will be placed, when the second half of the mill is finished, 12 Eureka flour packers, making 24 in all. One end of this floor is partitioned off for a cleaning room, and this is driven by a separate belt. A large part of the floor is taken up with storage bins, but plenty of room is left for handling the flour after it is packed. On the fourth floor the bolting chests begin and run up to the attic. In the eastern half of the mill, the half now running, there are eight double and four single chests, which on the three floors above contain 40 reels each, and on the fourth floor above 22 reels, making 142 reels in all, each 14 feet long. Twenty-three No. 2 Smith purifiers are also upon this floor. There are also bins over the flour packers on the floor below, made out of boiler iron six feet in diameter, extending through two stories. In the end of this story, set apart for wheat cleaning like the floor below, there are four Richmond brush machines, and two large sized Kurth-Coccle separators; also four Niagara bran dusters. The fifth floor is a continuation of the bolting chests, also four brush machines, four separators and two centrifugal flour bolters, bran dusters, smutter, brush machines, and dust catchers.

The mill has ample facilities for receiving grain and shipping flour, which facilities are absolutely necessary when the fact is stated that 25,000 bushels of wheat will be ground every day this mill runs when all the machinery is put in. The mill is supplied with an elevator for passengers and freight, and is lighted with the Brush electric light of 32,000 candle power. The steam for heating the building is supplied by two steel-boilers, placed in a fire-proof building, separate from the mill; electric call bells are on every floor, and the mill has telephonic connection with Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Stillwater. A central stairway, built of iron, which is spiral in form, is one of the noticeable features. The interior of the mill is painted white, with red trimmings, while the roll mills, stairways and scales are painted red.

The power for this mill is one of the noticeable features, as well as one of the absolute requirements. The forebay is in the basement, is 125 feet long, 15 feet wide, built of stone, and laid in hydraulic cement. The wheel-pits are dug out of a solid ledge, and are 57 feet deep, being walled in by solid masonry. Iron flumes, 12 feet in diameter, made of ¾ inch boiler iron, are used inside the pits. The motive power is two Victor wheels, 55 inches in diameter. The two wheels yield 2,400 horse-power, according to careful measurements, and it is said to be the largest power developed by any two wheels in the world. The water is brought to the mill by means of a canal 650 feet long, 16 feet wide, and 16 feet in depth, in solid rock. After the rock was blasted out the sides were built up with solid masonry laid in hydraulic cement and arched over with stone. The bulkhead is 30 feet wide, 30 feet high, and in it are two gates, one on each side of a central pier. A stone arch beneath the basement admits the water into the mill. The discharge from the wheels is through two tunnels, each 150 feet in length, running from the river to the mill directly under the wheels. The tunnels empty into a tail-race several hundred feet long, which empties into the river. Upon the top of each water-wheel shaft is a bevel gear which transmits the power to a horizontal shaft eight inches in diameter, 145 feet long, tapering to six inches at the end, which rests on a solid archwork of masonry inside the forebay. On this line of shaft are the driving pulleys, weighing each six and one-half tons, and upon which run two 48-inch belts, each 26 feet long and double. From the line of shaft the power is taken off by thirty-inch belts, to drive the various machines of the mill. The arrangement is such that if one wheel should break the other can run the mill, and the power of both wheels can be used together on each or both sides.

One-half of this mill is now built, and is considered capable of turning out 2,500 barrels of flour per day; but it has made, by actual record, 3,547 barrels in one day. The mill, when completed, will have a capacity of 5,000 barrels per day, making, it is claimed, the largest flour mill in the world. The amount of power yielded by the two mills in question is something which can hardly be measured, by the mind, at least; and that a water-wheel, 55 inches in diameter, should be enabled to transmit 1,200 horse-power, is applying a large amount of power, which, in this case, seems to be thoroughly utilized. We have never before heard of a water wheel transmitting 1,200 horse-power, let alone two working in the same pit actually yielding, or ready to yield, 2,400 horse-power.

Some conception of the capacity of this mill may be had when it is stated that 125 cars are required daily to take the total production of the mill away, and sometimes 200 cars arriving and departing to do the business of this mill.

IT is reported that a shantyman named Packhurst had a desperate fight with squirrels near Sharbot Lake. He seems to have come upon a nest of them and attacked one, whereupon several of them jumped upon him and bit and scratched him, especially on the face and neck. He made considerable effort to beat them off. Packhurst says the experience is new and remarkable.

MR. W. GALEN, of the Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch office, says: "If every medicine possessed the genuine curative properties of St. Jacobs Oil there would be a great diminution of medical graduates. My wife used it lately in a very severe attack of vertigo, and the result was very gratifying. Rankin, of the Journal, had something like the mumps a few days since. He bought a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil and it did him more good than all the doctors. It is a splendid thing."

IN Newcastle-on-Tyne the other day a bull suddenly rushed into the room of an invalid lady who was in bed. The brute jumped on to the large four-poster, and beat its head against the opposite wall; but finding no escape in that direction it turned round in the bed with it head to the foot, when the boarders give way with a crash, the sick woman sinking to the floor in a fainting condition, while the bull stood on the upright portion of the other end. The drover who followed the beast in immediately lifted the invalid from the broken bed and placed her in the care of some friends in a place of safety. He then succeeded in getting the animal into the street.

A CORRESPONDENT relates that the husband of a poor German woman who had suffered a relapse in her illness through the excitement caused in her by the passage of President Garfield's funeral cortege under her window, going to view the remains at the Capitol, brought back to his wife a bud that he caught as it loosened and fell from Queen Victoria's lovely wreath on the casket. It bloomed by her bedside, disclosing a dove in the centre, and the poor woman, calling in the Christ flower sent from the dead President to heal her, began to mend immediately. It was an orchid, the Espirito, Santo and as they are usually sold at the price of twenty dollars a blossom, it gives one an idea of the royal prodigality of the wreath.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, WEAKNESS AND DEBILITY.—From Geo. S. Bixby, of Epsom, N. H.—Having received great benefit from the use of Peruvian Syrup, I am willing to add my testimony to the thousands of others constantly sounding its praise. During the war I was in the army, and had the misfortune to be taken prisoner, and be confined in Salisbury and other Southern prisons several months. I became so much reduced in health and strength as to be a mere skeleton of my former self. On being released, I was a fit subject for a Northern hospital, where I remained two months and then came home. My physician recommended and procured for me several bottles of Peruvian Syrup, which I continued to use for several weeks, and found my health restored and my weight increased from ninety pounds to one hundred and fifty, my usual weight, and I have been in my usual good health ever since. I can cheerfully recommend it in all cases of weakness and debility of the system, whether rising from an impure state of the blood, dyspepsia, or almost any other cause, believing it will in most cases give entire satisfaction. Sold by all druggists.

A Brakeman's Dream.

"During the heavy rush of freight on the Erie railway last summer," said a brakeman, "I had been on duty three days and nights, and was completely jaded out. Between Deposit and Hancock our train broke in two, and running together again caused a wreck. I was sent back to flag the first approaching train. After going what I considered a proper distance I sat down on the outside of the rail to wait. I was soon asleep with my head leaning upon my hand and my face turned up the track. I dreamed that I was lying on the track, and that the Atlantic express ran me down, cutting off both my arms and mangling me so terribly that I could not possibly survive. I awoke with a start, and there, within forty feet of me, was the headlight of a locomotive, bearing down on me at the rate of forty miles an hour. I grabbed my red lantern and sprang from the track, and as I did so the engineer saw me, there was a whistle of down-brakes, and the train was saved. It was the Atlantic express that I saw in my dream."

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

They cured me of Ague, Bilousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had half a bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough.—B., Rochester, N. Y.—American Rural Home.

SUNDRIES!

The attention of Housekeepers is called to the following variety of edibles, a trial of any of which will be an attraction to the table and a gratification to the palate of the purchaser.

CRUSHED WHEAT:—Made from selected Canadian White Wheat by the new process, and is much superior to the ordinary cracked wheat, as a pleasant, light and nourishing breakfast dish.

EVAPORATED SWEET CORN:—An excellent article for the dinner table, esteemed as a delicacy and imparting pleasant variety to the tea table also. Is quite equal to green corn, and superior in the opinion of many to the Canned Corn as usually prepared.

PEA FLOUR:—Prepared in England by an entirely new process, and put up in tin cans. Is a peculiar "handy thing to have about the house." For Soups and Gravies it is simply matchless.

MIXED PICKLES:—An extra fine quality which we sell by the quart or gallon. A convenient, and for the consumer the cheapest mode of supplying the table with this appetizing condiment.

Our motto:—"Good goods at fair prices." All parcels sent free to any part of the town.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1881.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Matrimonial.

It would appear in the light of recent developments, that malarial fever is not the only thing that is catching in this neighborhood at the present time. During the past week quite a number of bachelors have deserted and joined the benedicts, most of them rather suddenly taking the notion, it is said. The latest deserter is Mr. Harry Rush, of the well-known firm of Rush & Elliott, who, on Wednesday evening, was married at St. Mark's church, Part Hope, by the Rev. Mr. Baker, to Miss Mary Bousefil, of the frontier town. The bride was supported by Miss Bletcher, of Port Hope, while Mr. Alex. Elliott assisted his partner through the trying ceremony. A large number of personal friends were present at the church. The bridal presents were numerous and costly, and the happy couple left on the evening train for the west. We join, with Harry's many friends, in wishing himself and wife long life and prosperity, and may happiness attend their union.

The Newspaper.

The New York Tribune says that a newspaper is a business enterprise, and must be conducted on business principles. Men are constantly asking favors of newspapers which mean a sacrifice of space representing money, who would never dream of asking lawyers to take cases without fees, or expect their doctor to take his pay in thanks. The dead-head is disappearing from other departments of business life, and the newspaper dead-head, distinguished though he may be, must follow. Newspapers being enterprises must live in a business way.

All Arranged.

The arrangements are now completed for the accommodation of the Peterborough contingent who will visit Port Hope this evening to hear the world renowned Fisk Jubilee Singers. The Midland authorities have kindly consented to issue return tickets at one fare for the return trip, and run a special train to leave Port Hope at the conclusion of the concert. We are glad to learn that quite a large number of tickets have been sold here.

Township of Monaghan vs. Dobbin.

Judgment was delivered in this case yesterday by the Chancellor, who reserved judgment after hearing the case here. The defendant, Dobbin, was declared not entitled to place his fence on the highway so as to occupy a greater space than his old fence did, and is to be perpetually restrained from so doing, but as the encroachment on the highway is less than claimed by the plaintiffs, each party is to pay their own costs.

A Night Bell.

Mr. J. D. Tully, of the City Pharmacy, George street, has along with other improvements he has been making, completed arrangements by which the public can in future be supplied with medicines at any hour of the night by ringing a night bell on the door of his drug store. This is a convenience which the public will, no doubt, properly appreciate. See advertisement in another column.

The Weather.

The weather continues fine during the day, but is cold during the mornings and evenings. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at a.m. to-day, by the Montreal Telegraph are as follows:—Lakes—Increasing easterly to south-easterly winds, fair weather to-day, rain to-morrow.

Taxes.

That rather unwelcome visitor, the tax collector, is now on his rounds, delivering tax bills. He should be received with open arms and smiles, but he asserts that he is not. Pay up and save costs.

Street Cleaning.

The Street Inspector has a number of men at work scraping the mud off George street. The work was badly needed.

THE PLOUGHING MATCH.

A Very Successful Affair in Every Respect—A Full List of the Prize Winners.

In accordance with previous announcement a ploughing match, open to residents of both Ridings of the county of Peterborough, was held last Wednesday on the farm of John Tully, Esq., in the Township of Smith, adjoining the boundary between that township and North Monaghan.

The day fortunately, although somewhat cold, was all that could otherwise be desired, while the previous rains had rendered the land sufficiently wet for good ploughing.

The entries were by no means as numerous as could be desired, but at the same time it would be wrong to conclude that ploughing matches are not appreciated in this county on this account. Indeed the attendance during the day was so large as to prove the contrary, and the correct conclusion to be drawn from the smallness of the number of entries, is that owing to the irregularity with which these matches are held in this county our ploughmen do not practice for them, and are too loth to enter as contestants. This conclusion was moreover justified on this occasion by the fact that the winners of the first and third prizes in the senior (first) class, were apprehensive that an injustice had been done them by the accidental wording of the rules excluding them from the second class, by reason of their having won money in the boys, class in 1878, while the result proved they were able to hold their own even with such an experienced prize taker as Mr. D. D. Henderson, of Otonabee.

The following is

THE PRIZE LIST.

Class No. 1 open to All Comers', five entries.

1st prize, E. Truscott, South Monaghan, Gang Plough, presented by P Hamilton, Esq., ($20) and cash ($10)	$30 00
2nd prize, D D Henderson, Otonabee, plough presented by J Whyte & Co., ($16) and cash ($4.00)	20 00
3rd prize, James France, Otonabee, cash	15 00
4th prize, T McDonald, Otonabee, neckyoke, presented by G Henderson ($2.00) and cash ($8.00)	10 00
5th prize, A R Kidd, Dummer, whip, presented by D Brennan, ($1.50) and cash ($3.50)	5 00

Class No 2, open only to those who had not won a prize since 1st January 1874, five entries.

1st prize, M Sullivan, Otonabee, Silver Pitcher presented by McKee and Davidson, ($16) and cash ($14)	$30 00
2nd prize, R Newton, Smith, Inkeepers Purse, presented by the hotel keepers of Peterborough	20 00
3rd prize, J Clancy, Otonabee, plough, presented by Mr Cope, Norwood	15 00
4th prize, Joseph Tully, North Monaghan, cash	10 00
5th prize, John Tully, North Monaghan, Set of Horse Shoes, presented by Mr McIlvaney ($1.00) and cash ($4.00)	5 00

Class No. 3, open only to boys under 18 years of age, six entries.

1st prize, Arthur Kidd, Dummer, Silver Pitcher presented by John Bertram, Esq., ($16) and cash ($14)	$30 00
2nd prize, W Cleghorn, Otonabee, suit of clothes presented by T Dolan & Co., ($16) and cash ($4.00)	20 00
3rd prize, Thos Godfrey—cash	15 00
4th prize, W McKee, North Monaghan, cash	10 00
5th prize, W Telford, Smith, cash	5 00

The ploughing in the boys class being all remarkably good, age and ground considered, a prize of $5.50 was collected on the ground for the sixth competitor, William Grant, Smith.

The duty of judging the work was performed by Messrs. E. Elford, of Clarke, and Stephen Benson, of Cavan, to, we believe, the entire satisfaction of those present. After the match was over the ploughmen and members of the committee were entertained at dinner by Mr. Tully. After dinner a couple of hours were spent very pleasantly, and probably by those present and the gathering, after the passing of a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Tully for their kindness was brought to a close by the singing of the national anthem.

POLICE COURT.

THAT DISORDERLY HOUSE.

THURSDAY, Oct. 27.—The enlarged case of Denis Bouche, for keeping a disorderly house, was again called.

ROSE BOUCHARD, sworn.—She is a sister of the defendant. She was at his house on Saturday night. There were seven persons there altogether. One of them remained in the house all night. Those present were quiet, with the exception of two, who were making a noise. They wanted to trade watches. They were not intoxicated, but had been drinking. Those in the house were all friends of her brother. When trading watches the two men got excited and used bad language. She saw P. C. McGhee there and showed him through the house. The other woman present was her sister-in-law. She saw another officer with P. C. McGhee, but did not know him. She was not at the house on Friday night. She does not reside in the house, but worked out, and only visited her brother occasionally. The house is kept decent. Boarders are not kept. She did know what took place outside.

Judgment, not guilty of keeping a disorderly house, but guilty of disorderly conduct. Fine, $2.00, and costs, $3.50, to be paid in 10 days, or 20 days in gaol.

MALCOLM MAITLAND.

Engineer at Baptie's Planing Mill Injured by the Large Fly Wheel.

This morning shortly before noon, the attention of the workmen in Baptie's planing mill, on Dublin Street, was directed to the engine room by a small boy, who said that a man was being killed. Some of the men who were working down stairs, at once hastened to the room and found the engineer, Malcolm Maitland by name, lying in the pit under the large fly wheel, which was revolving with lightning like rapidity, and striking his apparently lifeless body every instant. As quick as thought one of the men comprehended the situation and shut down the machinery. The immense wheel continued to revolve for some time after, while the men, almost breathless, stood around the pit, gazing at the form of their bleeding fellow employee, whom they were powerless to aid. As soon as the motion of the wheel ceased, Maitland apparently dead, was taken from the pit and laid on the floor, blood flowing from his nose, ears and mouth. Physicians were at once summoned and the man carried home on a shutter.

He was insensible and as no person was present but himself it is impossible to state how the accident occurred, but it is surmised that he was caught by one of the belts and thrown to the ground after being carried around by the wheel.

The boy who gave the alarm was attracted to the place by hearing loud cries.

An examination of the injuries disclosed the fact that several ribs and one leg were broken, his head badly jammed, and one of the physicians in attendance, avers that his spine is broken. At the time of writing he is still alive and may survive.

Curling.

An adjourned annual meeting of the Ontario branch of the Royal Caledonian Curling Club was held at Toronto on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. There was a large attendance of representatives from the various clubs. Lieut.-Col. Moffat, of London, 1st Vice-President, presided, in the absence of the President. After reading the minutes of the last session, and under the head of admission of clubs, the Granite Club of Galt, Clarksburg, Brussels and Brantford clubs, and the Moss Park Club of Toronto, were proposed and unanimously admitted. The Secretary announced that it would be necessary to procure 23 medals, on account of the introduction of new clubs. Peterborough is to play Brockville, and Port Hope the Scarboro "Heather," while Orillia is a bye.

Off The Turn-Table.

On Wednesday night last a Grand Junction engine while being turned, preparatory to being run into the engine house for the night, slipped off the turn table. The "cow catcher" caught a rail in front and further progress was stopped. After a short time the engine was placed in its proper position without any harm being done.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, obdurate skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Out of Doors.

Pure air and proper out-door exercise tend greatly to the prolonging of life. Live out of doors as much as possible, it will hurt no one where proper precautions are observed. A distinguished writer on health was in the habit of saying:—"However bad the air may be out of doors, it is always worse in the house." People shorten their lives by too close confinement indoors. To those whose daily employment necessitate being most of the day in-doors, we would say be sure and keep N. H. Down's Vegetable Balsamic Elixir at hand. You are extremely liable to be troubled with coughs, colds and lung disease, and no safer or more more reliable remedy can be taken. It costs but little to try it.

LANDLORDS AND TENANTS.

DUBLIN, Oct. 28.—There have been 2,250 applications to the land court to fix fair rents. 30,000 applications for farms have been sent out. The peasant proprietary clauses are likely to prove abortive for want of response from tenants. 400 landlords have expressed their willingness to sell their estates, but not a single tenant has expressed a wish to buy.

"UNITED IRELAND."

It is stated that every arrangement had been made to seize United Ireland yesterday, but the appearance of the paper without leading articles nonplussed the legal advisers of the chief Secretary and it was decided to postpone the matter.

CONTEMPLATED ARRESTS.

It is understood that the Government contemplates the arrest of 32 presidents of League branches.

ANOTHER STEAMBOAT DISASTER.

The Machinery Becomes Unmanageable and the Steamer is Carried on by the Flood.

DAVENPORT, Iowa, Oct. 28.—The steamer Gilchrist left here last night bound up the river, loaded with a large and valuable cargo and carrying twenty-three passengers, four of whom were females, and a crew of fifteen. When the steamer had passed under the Government bridge spanning the Mississippi and connecting the cities of Davenport and Rock Island, the entire machinery became unmanageable and useless. The river is now very high, and the flood carried the helpless vessel down stream at a rapid rate. The steamer was thrown with tremendous force against one of the abutments of the bridge, and she carreened, causing the weights on the safety valve of the steam chest to break from their fastenings and slide off. The steam in the boiler poured out in huge volumes, and enveloped the crew and passengers who were wildly endeavouring to secure life preservers in the main saloon, and scalded many in an awful manner. The steamer rebounded from the shock of the collision and began sinking, in which condition she was carried past this city. The cries for help by the frenzied victims were distinctly audible to large crowds on the banks. The other steamers lying at the bank were thronged by eager helpers and hastened to the scene of the disaster. Only eight persons have been saved so far, and these are very badly scalded. Three of the lady passengers are known to have been killed. There is great excitement here and everything possible is being done to relieve the unfortunates, but there is little hope that any more can be saved. The boat is said to have been in a bad condition.

FULLY WARNED.

DUBLIN, Oct. 27.—The police have intimated to Mr. Kelly, a spirit and grocery merchant, and proprietor of the Land League offices in Upper Sackville street, that he is in danger of losing his license if he allows his premises to be used any longer by the League. To-day Mr. Kelly caused the brass plate to be removed from the door, and gave notice to the officials of the Ladies' League that they must clear out at once.

"SQUELCHED."

This week's issue of the United Ireland, the organ of the Land League, appears to-day. It contains no leading articles upon current events, but in a prominent place there is left a black column surrounded by broad black mourning lines containing only the words "Freedom of Ireland in 1881."

THE LADIES' LEAGUE.

The first interference with the Ladies' League was made by the police to-day at Ballingtra, county Donegal, where a head constable stepped in at a meeting and turned the ladies out, cautioning them not to meet again. The Ladies' League met to-day in Dublin. It was reported that during the week seven new branches and five children's branches had been formed. Miss Parnell has given notice of a motion to form an association exclusively to attend the wants of the political prisoners and their families.

THE JEWS IN FRANCE.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 27.—The question of the Jewish emigration to America is still the subject of concern to the Russian Government. Another attempt will be made to turn the Jews into peasant farmers, and settle them in the provinces of Kherzon and Ekaterinoslay.

POLITICAL REFORM WANTED.

MADRID, Oct. 27.—Liberal deputies from the West Indies, among them Senors Portada, Labia, and others, presented to-day an amendment to the address to the throne that will be discused before the general debate in the Cortes. The amendment asks for freedom of labor, the abolition of corporal punishment, a strict application of constitutional rights to stop the arbitrary acts of the Colonial Government, tariff reforms to develop trade, and as much local self-goverment as may be consistant with the supremacy of the Mother Country.

THE JOURNALIST ELECTED.

FRANKFORT, Oct. 27.—At the election here to-day for a deputy to the Reichstag, the total number of votes polled was 17,000. Heer Sonneman, Democratic editor of the Frankfurter Zeitung, received 7,800 votes, and Herr Doell, Socialist, 4,700. A second ballot between these two candidates will be necessary.

GOVERNOR OF CUBA.

MADRID, Oct. 27.—General Prendergast, the newly appointed Governor of Cuba, will leave November 10. He expressed the hope that expenses can be diminished, and the tariff reformed in Cuba, and he is determined to do all in his power to conciliate the Creoles.

FORSTER NOT AFRAID.

Forster now walks the streets unattended.

IN IRELAND.

DUBLIN, Oct. 27.—O'Neill, organizer of the Cork branch of the Land League, has been arrested. Six arrests were made to-day under the Coercion Act, including the president of Kilkenny branch Land League. The suspects in Galway gaol passed a resolution approving the "no rent" manifesto.

NEWMARKET RACES.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—At Newmarket yesterday Mr. Walton, of New York, backed Medicus heavily for Bretby Nursery Stakes; after the race Sir John Astley insulted Mr. Walton, and a violent row was caused. General sympathy is with Mr. Walton, who has throughout conformed to the rules of the betting ring. Walton claimed his right to back horses immediately after the numbers of the runners were hoisted, and the book-maker took his bets. The Sportsman does not side with Mr. Walton's claim, but denounces the insult offered by Sir John Astley.

A RUSSIAN VIEW.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 27.—The St. Petersburg Novoe Vremya has a bitter article on the saluting of the British flag at Yorktown. It refuses to believe the token of amity is sincere.

THE REICHSTAG ELECTIONS.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—Although there was great excitement here to-day, the elections for members of the Reichstag passed off without disturbance. Anti-Semitics distributed large numbers of bills bearing the words "Elect no Jews." The social Democrats distributed electoral papers surreptitiously. The number of votes cast was unusually light.

WARNING TO P. O. OFFICIALS.

DUBLIN, Oct. 27.—The Postmaster-General to-day issued a notice to all postmasters, sub-postmasters, and post-office servants in Ireland, warning them against joining the Land League, which had been declared an illegal and unlawful association, and ordering all who may at present be members of the League to sever their connection at once on pain of dismissal.

GLADSTONE'S LATEST UTTERANCES.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Mr. Gladstone, in speaking of Knowaley yesterday, disavowed that the Land Act was the result of the Land League, or that the Irish difficulties were due to the present ministry. He denounced the "no rent" manifesto as sheer rapine, and for the future he was hopeful that the people would pay their rents. The Land Commissioner, he said, was working well.

THE YORKTOWN SALUTE.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 27.—Mr. Chamberlain at Liverpool yesterday said he could not reflect without gratification upon the fact that the deep sympathy for America, on the death of Garfield, felt through the country has been reciprocated by the grateful act of courtesy in saluting the British flag at Yorktown.

THE HUNGARIAN MASSACRE.

VIENNA, Oct. 27.—The principal perpetrator of the murder of the family of Narpalauka, Hungary, has been arrested. Another murderer was shot in a dispute about the booty, and the third is still at large.

GLADSTONE ON IRELAND.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Gladstone, at Knowleys yesterday, said the point was whether Ireland is to be ruled by Parliament or by laws know to nobody and written without brains, excepting few persons, and enforced by illegal, arbitrary and self appointed associations, which sought to over ride and by organized attempts to free herself of the burden.

Queer People.

These are some queer people in the Catskills. The other day I and a friend called at the "Rip Vas Winkle House," got two punches, two more ditto, and two cigars. I handed the elderly Granymeke behind the bar five dollars. After much thought he handed me back five dollars and forty cents. "You've made a mistake," said I. "That's so," said he, after more thought. Then he scooped in the five dollars and left me the forty cents. "That's another mistake," said I. After much deliberation he pushed over the five dollar bill to me and said, "Oh, pay when you come again. "But I'm not coming again," I persisted. That troubled him. With a great mental effort he figured up for a full minute. The compound arithmetical problem was too much for him. "Oh, take a drink and call it square." Queer people, the Catkillians. LOSSES BY FOREST FIRES.

Low Water Injures Business—The Waste of Material in Manufacturing Square Pine.

Some very interesting information regarding the lumber trade has been secured. It is upwards of thirty years since the water in the Ottawa river was so low as it is at the present time. Along the banks of the river and its tributaries large quantities of saw logs are tied up, which may only be estimated by hundreds of thousands. The little village of mills at the Chaudiere is almost deserted. The mills have shut down, and disappointed mill owners are forced to cancel remunerative contracts, owing to the scarcity of logs. All the prominent lumbering establishments have been obliged to suspend work, their yards having been cleared of logs, and the idea of getting any further supply down the river this season has been abandoned. It was estimated, during the early part of the present month, that this season's cut for the Ottawa Valley district would reach 367,000,000 feet. The present state of the water will make a material change in this calulation, which will probably fall short at least thirty per cent. of the actual quantity of lumber sawn.

LOSS FROM FORESS FIRES.

The want of water is not the only obstacle which the Ottawa lumbermen have been obliged to encounter of late. The destructive forest fires which have been raging over their extensive timber limits during the past few weeks have laid waste some of the most valuable timber property in the Dominion. The question of the timber supply of the Dominion has frequently received the attention of Parliament, and notwithstanding the precautions which have been taken to enforce the laws for the prevention of forest fires it has been found impossible to lessen the quantity of valuable property which is yearly destroyed in this way. The lowest estimate of the average annual loss through forest fires places it at $5,000,000 in the Ottawa Valley alone. It was suggested by an expert, who was examined before a committee of the House of Commons, that the appointment of a staff of inspectors of forests would largely reduce the annual loss from this cause. That the country should derive the fullest benefit from the services of such a corps, he said, it would be necessary that these inspectors should be practical foresters, men of education and ample experience in the best training schools of Europe. It would be comparatively easy to secure the services of such a class, who, when once established in this country, could train their assistants. When it is considered that it takes a pine tree 150 years to attain maturity the magnitude of the yearly national loss from this cause is more apparent.

VALUE OF TIMBER LANDS.

An idea may be formed of the value of the timber limits from which the Ottawa district is supplied from the following account of sales which were effected in this city by public auction and properties offered for sale on the 21st inst.:—The Campbell limit of thirty-nine square miles, situated on the Trout Lake branch of the Petewawa river, was first offered en bloc. It was started at $15,000 and was knocked down at $20,500. A limit of fifty square miles on the Desmoine and Conlonge rivers, owned by Sir Francis Hincks, was next offered. This limit was withdrawn, the highest offer being $110 per square mile.

The Fraser and McDougall limits were then offered, berths 164 and 169 being knocked down at $99,000; berths 165 and 168, 100 miles square, and berth 166, 50 square miles, for $59,000 and $36,000 respectively; berth 167, 50 square miles, for $15,000. An offer of $496 per square mile was refused for the Brannen limit, 50 miles square, on the Kippewa river. Lake Nipissing limits, berths 23, 43, and 51, 108 square miles, were offered, but withdrawn, the highest bid being $75,000 for the lot, or $50,000 for berth 23.

THE FORWARDING TRADE.

While the Millowners will be serious losers as the result of this season's operations, their misfortunes will be shared by the forwarders who carry their lumber to market. Although the volume of this season's business had, up to within a few weeks since, been fully up to the average, the forwarding trade, on the whole, has not proved remunerative. Encouraged by the high freights ruling last year from the Ottawa mills to the American ports, United States bargemen added nearly one hundred new boats to their fleet for this trade. A number of bargemen employed on the Erie Canal withdrew their boats from that route, expecting to find more profitable employmeet in the Ottawa lumber trade. Their expectations can hardly have been realized. Freights opened in the spring at $3.75 per thousand from Ottawa to New York and $3 to Albany. Two weeks later they dropped twenty-five cents per thousand, and about midsummer another decline of twenty-five cents took place. The low rates of coal freight to Montreal and other ports have also proved a serious loss to the boatmen, who last year found profitable employment in taking a cargo of coal on their return trip. There is still another and equally serious drawback against which they have been obliged to contend. The low state of the water in the rivers and canals will not admit of boats being loaded to anything over three feet draft. The small craft have been compelled to lay up for the season, and the larger boats, on account of the small loads they are able to carry, are only barely clearing running expenses. Local forwarders are looking for an advance in freights, yet there does not appear to be any reason at present why their anticipations should be realized. The barge stock was never so large as it has been the present season, in consequence of which the competition has been more active. Quebec freights remain about as they opened in the spring—$2 per thousand for dry and $2.10 for green lumber. Freights to Montreal range from $1.10 to $1.20 per thousand; to Whithall $2.25, and to Burlington $2 per thousand.

A NEW OUTLET.

The Commissioner of Crown Lands for the Province of Ontario some little time since called the attention of Canadian mill owners to the opening up of a new outlet for the product of their mills, by which they may escape the duty of $2 per thousand feet which meets them on shipments to the United States, and which, he says renders it almost, if not altogether impossible, for them to compete with lumber from Michigan. The outlet he refers to is the shipment of inch and inch and a quarter sawn lumber direct from the mills at Ottawa, viz., the North Shore Railway to Quebec, thence by vessel to Glasgow. The experiment was tried and proved fairly remunerative. Hitherto the produce of Canadian saw mills shipped to Europe has been in the form of deals only.

WASTE IN SQUARE PINE.

To the great loss annually sustained from the waste of valuable material in the manufacture of square and waney pine, the commissioner has given special attention. The suggestions he offers for its remedy are well worthy of its consideration. He estimates that one fourth of every tree cut into square or waney timber is lost to the wealth of the country. When the tree is cut down it is lined off for squaring, and the "round" outside the lines is beaten off on the four sides. From the portion of the tree thus thrown to waste the best class of clear lumber is obtained when taken in the round to a saw mill. There is also the upper portion of the tree, which is cast away when the tree is made into square timber, but which would be sawn into lumber (of lower grade) if the round log were taken to the mill.

The estimated loss to the Province of Ontario from waste in cutting square pine, from 1868 to 1877, both years inclusive, was placed at $3,577,500. The circulation is as follows:—Total quantity taken from public and private lands during the ten years, 119,259,420 cubic feet; waste, one-fourth of each tree, equal to one-third of the total mentioned, namely, 39,750,140 cubic feet, or say in round numbers 477,001,000 feet board measure, which may be valued one-half at $10 per thousand feet, and one-half at $5 per thousand, representing relatively the prime timber from the upper part of the tree, average value say $7.50 per thousand, which gives the total loss for ten years as mentioned above, or equal to an annual loss of $357,750.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ACCIDENT.

On Wednesday last the 26th inst. Mr. George Rowe, of this village, while engaged working at the foundation of the new saw mill now being erected by Messrs. R. C. and G. Strickland, fell from a scaffold with such force, that notwithstanding that the distance of the fall was small, his ancle was put out of joint. He was at once taken to his home, and Drs. Bell and Caldwell were called in and the damaged limb was speedily set, but we regret to learn that it is altogether likely that Mr. Rowe will be laid up for some considerable time. We notice that Mr. George Strickland, who was near the works at the time, not only sent after the doctors at once, but personally assisted Mr. Rowe to his house.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT.

On Saturday night last, the 22nd inst. about 10:30 o'clock, consideroble noise and some tall swearing was heard on King street, near the post office. The disturbance was caused by a couple of youngmen from the country quarreling about the right place to engage in a game of fisticuffs, one wanted to fight on the street, but neither evidently wanted to fight. One of our citizens passing along at the time with a cane in his hand, ordered the party to leave at once, at the same time raising his cane. The combatents did not require the second word, but one went south and the other north with rapid strides.

METHODIST MISSIONS.

Rev. J. Shaw, chairman, is to preach the annual sermons at Lakefield at 10.30 a. m., and Bridgenorth at 2.30 p. m., on Sunday next. The pastor at Robinson's 2.30 p. m., and Selwyn at 6.30 p. m. The meetings at Bridgenorth, Selwyn, Lakefield and Robinson's are to be held during the week. Deputation: Rev. T. Cleworth, Rev. T. Manning, B. A. and Rev. C. Harper, B. A.

WOOD SCARCE.

Hard wood seems to be remarkably scarce in Lakefield this fall. The Midland Railway has, during the last two years, bought all the wood offering at fair figures, consequently there is no overplus this year as formerly, to carry over. Good sawed wood would bring in Lakefield $3.25 at the present time, which price is unprecedented.

WATER RISING.

The water above Lakefield has begun to rise at last, having gained about 9 inches in the last 24 hours. If this continues for a short time the Cruiser will be on the move again on Monday next.

HASTINGS.

Nearly an Accident.—The Star says that on last Saturday evening when the evening train, going west, was about a mile from Campbellford the engineer on rounding a curve, observed a lorry filled with ballast on the track a short distance ahead, the brakes were at once applied but before the train could be stopped, the engine struck the lorry and hurled it from the track. Except demolishing the lorry and covering the works of the engine with ballast, no other damage was done. Before the train could proceed on its way it was necessary to wipe the sand and gravel from the machinery which was effectually done in about 15 minutes.

Contract Completed.—Mr. A. McCarthy, of Laing, completed his contract of moving the G.J.R. store house, on Thursday last, and although the building had to be taken across both tracks the work was accomplished without causing any detention to trains.

Happy Hunters.—John Burnham, Esq., M. P. for East Peterborough and a party of four came dow by train on Friday. They were fully equipped with canoes, tents and other hunting paraphernalia, and left here by wagon en route for the back lakes, on a ten days hunt.

N. P. Work.—We understand the Hastings woollen mills are going in full blast. Eight fresh hands are employed and more are coming. The productions of the mill have already been placed on the market in Montreal and Toronto, and meet with ready demand from wholesale houses.

PORT HOPE.

Wilson's Combination Car.—Regarding the combination car recently constructed and patented by T. L. Wilson, of Port Hope, the Times of that town says that the most sanguine expectations of the inventor have been fully met, will be seen from a casual glance at what has been accomplished by the car since its completion. On the 8th of this month, the car was despatched to Midland and took on a load of 800 bushels of wheat weighing 48,000 lbs.; this cargo was safely landed at Port Hope without any accident or irregularity occurring, although the car was run the entire 120 miles on express time. After undergoing a few slight alterations which had suggested themselves to Mr. Wilson in order to facilitate the unloading of the car, it was forwarded to Lindsay and there again loaded with 800 bushels of wheat; this cargo was also safely deposited in the elevator here, the unloading being accomplished in the remarkably quick time of one minute. Although these cargoes were double the quantity of that carried by ordinary cars now in use, and sufficient to fully test the strength and capacity of the car, yet a more severe test, and one which astonished even the inventor himself, took place on the 21st; the car was sent to Waubaushene and there took on 16,000 feet of green lumber, a weight not much short of 70,000 lbs., which was safely delivered in Port Hope for Mr. Jas. Leverich; notwithstanding that the car was burdened with this almost incredible weight, yet there was still a play of 2½ inches between the buckles of the springs. The car is now chartered by Mr. Howden, of Millbrook, to go to Chicago with 1,000 bushels of barley. These tests establish, beyond a doubt, the far superior qualities of this new invention over the ordinary rolling stock now in use, and with these facts before them, keen and enterprising railway managers cannot but see the utility of adopting the new system. It is gratifying to an inventor to see the work of his hands turn out successfully, and Mr. Wilson may well feel proud of the success which has attended his present efforts. Mr. Moody, the Government Inspector, was sent here by the Hon. the Minister of Railways, for the purpose of inspecting the Combination Car, and we understand his report is most favorable, the Government being likely to adopt it for the Intercolonial Railway.

CANADA PACIFIC RAILWAY.

The Syndicate Vigorously Pushing on the Work.

Winnipeg, Oct. 26.—The Syndicate have been rushing the construction of the Canadian Pacific railway. During the month of September was graded an average of over three miles per day, or an aggregate of ninety-three miles. From Oct. 19th to Oct. 34th, five days, nine miles of track were laid, on an average of nearly two miles per day. The Pacific railway will be graded to Gopher Creek, fifty miles west of Brandon, by Saturday night. The air line to Portage la Prairie will shortly be completed, and open for traffic. Grading on the Southern and Western branches is being pushed ahead rapidly, and will be ready for the first one hundred miles for ties and track laying early in the spring. The harvest in Southern Manitoba will be removed next year by rail.

Blake Befooled.

The Hon. Edward Blake, previous to the holding of his meeting in the Town Hall, Bowmanville, was the victim of a practical joke at the hands of some of the employees of the Dominion Organ Company. He was invited by one of the managers of that manufactory to drive over in company with two other prominent townsmen and view the works of that enterprising concern while the hands were engaged at night work. The manager had evidently the intention of trying to create a favourable impression on the Free Trade champion in showing how prosperous the business had grown under the policy of protection, but was amazed on arriving at the spot to discover every window in the factory emblazoned, as if aided by electricity, and illuminating placards covering the greater portion of each window, on each of which was printed in large type the letters N. P. As soon as the Liberal Leader discovered it, his indignation knew no bounds. He disguised it as best he could, and immediately returned to his constituents in the hall, who no doubt by this time were jealous of his absence.

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had half a bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough.—B., Rochester, N. Y.—American Rural Home.

Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters are in every sense of the word a worthy family medicine, and we are glad to learn that they are rapidly taking the place of those nauseous little Pills. J. D. Tully is agent for the Bitters here.

ROBERT BURNS.

AN ACROSTIC.

R obert Burns, our great natural poet, was a native of bonny Scotland ;
O n lofty pillars in Scottish cities, his marble image ought to stand ;
B urn's poems and cheery love-songs are read and sung by young and old ;
E very one that reads them loves them, and their merits cannot be told.
R obby's memory should be kept up on the yearly return of the day of his birth ;
T o all our bard was always cheery, filling all hearts with glee and mirth.
B ut he has left us and gone to heaven, and praising Him who died for all ;
U nto Him, who endowed him with a natural genius, and saves from Adam's woeful fall,
R esting from all his toil and labours, we hope in heaven our friend to greet ;
N ow while God blesses with His glorious gospel with Christ in glory we hope to meet,
S aviour assist us to work for Jesus, that we may praise thee around the Mercy-Seat.

Poeta nascitur, non fit, i.e., a poet must be born, not made. As such, was the great natural poet of Ayrshire in Scotland. His poems were often read to our sovereign lady, the Queen, at Balmoral Castle in Scotland, while on her visiting tour, and she took great delight in listening to "Tom o' Shanter," and the Cotter's Saturday Night." If his poems were not interesting, our wise and most gracious lady would not listen to them, but she was highly delighted with them, and so is every one who reads them.

UNDER THE BED

Was Where a Tramp was Found—Attacked in the Woods.

A couple of tramps, while meandering through North Yarmouth on Saturday, found the residence of Mr. Neil Dewar temporarily vacant, and one of them took possession while the other stood guard on the road. Mr. Neil Dewar, jr., happened to be near by, at the residence of Mr. Wm. Fowler, and noticed the actions of the vagrants. In company with Mr. James Fowler he hastened to the rescue of the movables, and when the sentinel tramp saw them coming, he walked on without waiting to give his comrade warning. The door was found open, and the room gave evidence of having been ransacked, the bureau drawers being opened and the contents scattered over the floor. The tramp, however, could not be found, and search for him was about to be abandoned when a disheveld head was thrust from under a bed, as if to reconnoitre, and the tramp-hunters caught sight of it. One armed himself with a huge club and the other with a big iron poker, and then they admonished that tourist to come out or else get jerked out. The perambulating rag-bag seemed to prefer being yanked out, and it only took a half a minute to get himself dished up just that way. He tried to escape, but the club and poker were swung around so loose that he remanded, and at the request of his captors, commenced to disgorge. A couple of pipes and several plugs of tobacco were shelled out first, and the tramp asserted that was all he had taken. He was given his choice between having his brains knocked into next summer or unload the rest of his plunder. This persuasion led to a search in the basement of his trousers where old Mrs. Dewar's wedding ring was discovered. The old gentleman's razor was next forthcoming, together with a small cargo of nicknacs. At this stage of the proceedings the tramp said he was done—that not another thing belonging to the house was on his person. Refusing to believe him, the boys made him take off one garment after another, till he was as bare (excepting the dirt) as when he was born. Nothing more was found, and his captors told the tramp to put on his clothes, as they were going to take him to St. Thomas jail. He wept and prayed to be let off, as he claimed that he had never done such a thing before. Finally, after they had swung their clubs around his head and threatened to kill him, they made him solemnly swear that he would lead a better life, and let him go his way. This was a mistake, as later developments seem to indicate.

Miss Mary Geary and Miss Lily Thomson, who reside in the same neighbourhood as Mr. Dewar, had been to St. Thomas, and on their horse taking fright at the top of Salt Creek hill, the buggy was almost overturned and the ladies were thrown out. Miss Geary dislocated her shoulder. The horse was caught before any further damage was done, and Miss Geary removed to her home. Mr. Henry Cole was dispatched after Dr. McLarty, and as a very dark night had come on, he was riding rapidly through a piece of woods on the 10th concession, when a noise was heard at one side of the road, immediately after which a missile was hurled at him, and came very near striking him. He further hastened his horse, and soon got out of the neighbourhood. There is very little doubt from the direction taken by the tramps that they were concealed in the woods and would have liked to play the part of highwaymen. Moral :—When you catch a tramp in mischief, don't let him go off till he is in jail.—St. Thomas Journal.

A TERRIBLE FALL.

A Young Man at Kingston Falls From a Scaffold Seventy Feet High.

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 26.—This morning a young man named Cridiford, an apprentice of Mr. E. Tossel, the contractor for the mason work on the new cotton factory, ascended to the top of the tour to resume work. He had not been there long until he was precipitated down through the scaffolding, striking on the ground with a dull thud. He was picked up in an apparently lifeless condition. Doctors were speedily summoned. He fell a distance of seventy-five feet. He was taken to his home at the Grand Trunk depot. But a short time ago another man died from injuries received by a falling brick at the same factory.

LATER.—The young man injured at the cotton mill has been taken to the hospital. After falling seventy feet he struck on his hands and face. His wrists were dislocated and both forearms broken. His face struck several sharp stones which penetrated the flesh. Both upper and lower jaws were smashed into numberless pieces. It is said that after striking the ground he rebounded several times. The doctors say he cannot live. He is aged 27. The cold air caused him to dance round to keep his feet warm. His heel struck a small piece of brick, which overbalanced him and he went down through an open space in the scaffold.
